

Chapter 2429

As Darryl's woman, Stella wanted to help him and do something for the Nine Continents.

Before Darryl could reply, Donoghue stood up quickly and smiled. "That's not necessary, Miss Scope. I have been to Carol Island, so I know the way. Besides, Sect Master Darby is powerful; we will be fine."

Darryl nodded in agreement when he heard what Donoghue said.

Darryl turned to Stella and said, "Young Master Vikara is right. We will be fine. It's better if you stay to fight the Raksasa Tribe."

"Alright then." Stella was a little disappointed as she nodded her head.

At that moment, everyone else did not notice anything unusual. However, Yvette stared closely at Donoghue with her beautiful brows locked tightly.

'Why didn't he allow Stella to follow them? He must know that Stella is the Ice Fire Island Eldest Young Miss and is familiar with the sea. With her around, she will be of great help if there is an emergency. Although Vikara looked upset, you can tell he isn't devastated about Rama's death.'

Yvette became more and more suspicious of Donoghue.

After Darryl and the others finished their discussions, they left the military camp. At the same time, Darryl and Donoghue started to prepare for their journey.

Once he returned to the tent, Darryl saw Yvette was following him with a conflicted expression on her face.

Darryl smiled and said, "What's wrong? Why are you looking for me out of the blue?"

When he said that, Darryl looked cheeky, but he felt ashamed in his heart.

All those years, he felt he owed Yvette too much. Not only to her but Yvonne, Irene, and the others as well.

"I can't see you if there's nothing wrong?" Yvette said impatiently, glaring at Darryl.

"Of course you can. Why can't you?" Darryl smiled, putting down the curtain and hugging Yvette. "Are you going to miss me? Don't worry; I'll return quickly once I retrieve the treasures that Emperor Xuan Yuan left at Coral Island."

Yvette wanted to break free at that moment, but when she felt Darryl's manly aura, she did not move.

"I will miss you." Yvette leaned into Darryl's arms. "Do you know, since Yang Jian started his attack on the continents until now, we have not had a proper conversation for a very long time. Although we see each other every day now, we have to fight against the Raksasa Tribe, and now, you're leaving for Coral Island."

When he heard that, a smile appeared on Darryl's face as he consoled her softly, "Don't worry. Everything will be over soon. Then, we can find a serene place and live-in seclusion there; have a bunch of children and let them manage a place on their own."

Seeing Darryl getting cheekier when he spoke, Yvette blushed further as she mumbled, "You're shameless! Who is having children with you?"

Although she said that, her eyes were shining with happiness, and she was looking forward to the future. Then, she remembered something and freed herself from Darryl's arms as she said seriously, "I have something I need to talk to you about."

"Tell me," Darryl replied with a smile.

Yvette turned her head to think and opened her mouth to speak, "Did you notice something wasn't right with Vikara?"

Darryl was stunned for a while and immediately replied with a smile, "What about him?"

Yvette sighed and told him all about her observations and the doubts in her heart.

When he heard that, Darryl squeezed his brows and thought. He then smiled as he said, "Are you overthinking? Young Master Vikara is Master Rama's disciple. So how can there be any problem?"

As they were talking, a courteous voice came from outside, "Sect Master Darby, are you there?"

It was Donoghue.

Chapter 2430

Darryl and Yvette looked at each other.

'Speak of the devil,' he thought.

Darryl cleared his throat and smiled as he said, "I'm here. Young Master Vikara, please enter."

Donoghue walked in slowly.

At that moment, outside the Nine Continents' base camp, troops of people were rushing over. There were tens of thousands of people, all wearing the same outfits and exuding powerful auras. They were pirates.

Leading them was a young man and two ladies.

The man was around 18 to 19-years-old; he looked cool and smart with an exceptional aura.

The two young ladies were incredibly sexy and alluring. They exuded a youthful and beautiful aura.

It was Ambrose, Eira and Heather.

When they almost arrived at the Nine Continents' base camp, a pair of patrolling soldiers could not help but shout, "Who are you?"

"It's us!" Ambrose replied loudly with the energy in his abdomen.

"Ambrose? Eira?" The soldiers were surprised and excited to see them when they got closer. They quickly brought Ambrose and Eira to the camp.

Soon, Chester, Dax, and the others came out after hearing the commotion.

They were incredibly surprised to see Ambrose and the rest.

Many people's eyes were locked on Heather. She wore a long, special fish scale dress that showed off her sexy figure. The long dress shone colorfully in the sun, looking beautiful.

Although the way she dressed was very different from the women in the Nine Continents, her aura was like a fairy.

Just at that moment, Dax regained his thoughts and smiled as he said to Eira, "Little girl, I am so relieved to see that you're ok. Ha-ha! Darryl will be delighted when he finds out you're here."

Eira was kind and beautiful. Everyone liked her, and Dax was no exception.

At that time, Dax still did not know Ambrose had repented and understood he was wrong earlier.

Eira greeted everyone politely as she asked Dax, her face full of worry, "Uncle Dax. Where is my father?"

"Your father is in his tent. I suppose he is packing his stuff to prepare for his journey to Coral Island," Dax replied.

As he spoke, Chester smiled and explained the situation.

'What?' Eira and Ambrose looked at each other as their expressions changed. 'Father wanted to go to Coral Island with Vikara? Haven't they noticed that Vikara is Donoghue?'

Then, Eira pointed at Heather and said worriedly, "This is Heather, the Princess of the Sea Mackie Clan. Father does not need to go to Coral Island."

"All of you have been deceived. Vikara is not Master Rama's disciple and is instead Donoghue," Ambrose explained.

When they heard that, everyone's facial expression changed.

'Master Rama's disciple is Donoghue? How...how is that possible. Come to think of, traveling it, Donoghue, the devil, had not appeared for quite a long time,' everyone wondered.

Chapter 2431

"Where is Donoghue now?" Eira asked, worried.

Everyone looked at each other; then, a patrolling soldier said, "I saw Master Vikara had gone to Sect Master Darby's tent just now."

Everyone was shocked when they heard that. Then, they ran quickly together towards Darryl's tent.

Donoghue pretended to be Rama's disciple and came to the base camp; he must be up to something.

Meanwhile, Donoghue had just stepped into Darryl's tent and was stunned to see Yvette was there too.

"Young Master Vikara, is there something you need?" Darryl asked.

Donoghue regained his thoughts and smiled as he said, "Nothing much; I'm just here to see if you're done with your preparation. Also, when shall we embark on our journey?"

When he said that, Donoghue kept his attention on Yvette.

Meanwhile, Yvette was observing Donoghue as well. Although Darryl was not concerned, she was confident in her own instincts and was sure there was something wrong with Vikara.

Darryl laughed lightly and said to Donoghue, "I'm giving out some orders that I can leave anytime."

When he heard that, Donoghue nodded, but he did not leave immediately.

'Yvette was the previous Princess of the New World; she is intelligent and resourceful. And now she's looking at me suspiciously. Did she already figure out my identity?' he wondered before an idea came to him.

"Sect Master Darby, you are bearing such a huge responsibility. Naturally, there are many orders you need to set aside. I shall wait for you at the camp's entrance," he said.

Donoghue pretended to think of something and continued to say, "Sect Master Darby, can I take a look at your dragon ball? Since Emperor Xuan Yuan left it behind, it must be extraordinary."

Donoghue was a cunning person. When he realized Yvette was suspicious of him, he decided to trick Darryl into giving him the dragon ball. Then, he would not need to plan to rob it from him.

Instinctually, Darryl was not willing to give Donoghue the dragon ball, so he stayed silent. Donoghue's actions made Yvette even more suspicious of him.

'Darryl will be leaving with him soon to Coral Island. There will be plenty of opportunities during the journey for Donoghue to admire the dragon ball. Why would he want to look at it now?' she wondered.

Donoghue cursed in his heart when he saw Darryl and Yvette's reaction. 'This Darryl and Yvette are quite cautious.'

He smiled and said softly, "It's fine if you don't want to show me. I heard from the Head of Sea Mackie Clan earlier at Coral Island before about the two items left behind by Emperor Xuan Yuan. One of them is with the Sea Mackie Clan, and the other at the Chaotic Mountain range. I just wish to see if the dragon ball that you're holding is just like how the Head of Sea Mackie Clan described."

Donoghue was lying. He did not know the Head of Sea Mackie Clan at all. At that time, he was only hanging out somewhere near Coral Island, and he did not really enter Coral Island.

'I see...' Darryl nodded, letting his guard down as he took out the dragon ball. "If that's the case, please take a look."

He handed the dragon ball to Donoghue. Donoghue became unimaginably excited as he was handed the dragon ball.

"Sect Master Darby, I'll wait for you at the camp's entrance. Once I'm done examining the dragon ball, I shall return it to you," he said with a smile.

'Ha-ha! Darryl, you fool. You handed me the dragon ball just like that. The treasure box from the Sea Mackie Clan is still in the cave in the forest a few kilometers away. Now that I have the dragon ball, the treasure of Emperor Xuan Yuan will be mine soon,' he snickered to himself.

Donoghue planned to leave the camp and head to the cave in the forest to retrieve the treasure once he bid Darryl farewell. Then, he would use the dragon ball to open the treasure box and get the treasure inside. He would finally be able to return to his old identity and would not need to pretend to be a monk anymore.

He became more emotional with that thought as he said goodbye to Darryl and left.

"Father!" Suddenly, the sound of footsteps came from outside the tent. A desperate voice shouted, "Father! Vikara is Donoghue. Don't let him fool you!"

It was Eira, Chester, and the others.

Chapter 2432

Donoghue had just taken the dragon ball from Darryl when he suddenly heard the shouting from outside. He had the shock of his life.

'That young man Ambrose and Eira arrived so fast? But I have the dragon ball now, so what do I have to worry about?' he thought.

Darryl and Yvette heard the shouting outside too, and their facial expressions changed instantly.

'Young Master Vikara is Donoghue? How can that be possible?' Darryl heard it clearly. The voice from outside was Eira.

Eira was his own daughter; she was intelligent and kind, so she would not make up such a thing.

Then, his expression changed as he looked directly at Donoghue, "You...."

Donoghue saw Darryl was beginning to doubt him. He rolled his eyes and decided not to hide anymore.

"Go to hell!" he roared as he shot out a strong aura and punched Darryl on the chest.

Donoghue knew that with Ambrose and Eira's arrival, he would not be able to hide his identity anymore. However, there was no point in him to keep hiding it as he already had the dragon ball in his hands.

'Darryl isn't weak. Instead of being controlled by him, I might as well take the offensive and attack first. When I've injured Darryl, the Nine Continents' camp will be in chaos. This will give me the opportunity to flee,' he thought, feeling confident.

Although Darryl was powerful, he believed Darryl would still not be able to avoid his punch.

Darryl was incredibly furious and did not expect Donoghue would ambush him out of desperation. However, it was obvious that he was indeed Donoghue; there was no doubt about that.

"Darryl, watch out!" Yvette shouted when she saw Donoghue try to punch him. She wanted to rush over to help him, but it was too late.

Darryl tried to avoid Donoghue's punch, but Donoghue was too close to him. Darryl tried to act fast, but there was no way to hide. In desperation, he quickly activated his internal energy to shield himself from the attack.

Bang!

That punch carried Donoghue's entire energy, and the air in the entire camp became twisted. It was terrifying. Following the howling of the strong winds, the punch landed fiercely on Darryl's body.

At that instant, Darryl's shield form from his internal energy broke. Darryl moaned as he was sent crashing out of the tent and into the ground, forming a big hole. He had landed on the ground tens of meters away.

Once he landed, Darryl vomited a mouthful of blood. He was incredibly weak as he glared at Donoghue and said fiercely, "Donoghue, it's really you!"

Donoghue looked up into the sky and laughed loudly. He was not hiding his identity anymore as he floated in midair. He looked coldly at Darryl and taunted, "Darryl, you did not expect that, right?"

Donoghue's eyes were shining with incredible anger and hatred. "I am indeed Master Rama's disciple. Vikara is my Buddhist name. However, I never recognized myself as a Buddhist. You bunch of idiots did not notice anything wrong at all. Ha-ha! How stupid you all are. I was kind not to kill you instantly with my punch. However, the end of your life is not far."

When he said that last sentence, Donoghue was incredibly delighted when he looked at the dragon ball in his hand. Very soon, he would be able to obtain the treasure Emperor Xuan Yuan left behind. Then, it would be easy for him to return and kill Darryl.

Darryl struggled to stand up when he heard that; his eyes were incredibly blood red as he glared at Donoghue.

'Young Master Vikara is Donoghue. How did I not notice?' he thought.

Yvette was stricken with fear as she dashed in front of Darryl. She helped him stand up and was almost in tears. "Darryl, are you ok? Are you alright?"

Then, he turned his gaze to Donoghue once again when he thought of something.

"How did Master Rama die?" he said, emphasizing each word clearly.

As the Commander-in-chief of the Nine Continents, Darryl was really alert. At that point, when Donoghue identified himself, he could easily guess that Master Rama's death was not so simple.

Donoghue laughed coldly. "You don't have to guess—no harm in telling you. The stinky monk, Rama, was killed from an attack by the Raksasa Tribe and me. That old, bald man forced me to adopt Buddhism; he deserved to die."

Chapter 2433

'It's really him!' Darryl was furious, and anger burned his chest that he almost fainted.

Yvette was also enraged that her face was blushing as she pointed at Donoghue. "Donoghue, are you still a human? Rama took you in as his disciple, hoping that you would repent for your sins. You lied to your Master and helped the Raksasa Tribe attack him. Aren't you worried about karma?!"

'Karma?' Donoghue looked hideous as he grinned. "I've never believed in karma. What about you, Yvette? You were the supreme Princess of the New World, but you'd rather degrade yourself as Darryl's woman. You won't end up well either!"

When they were talking, Eira, Chester, Dax, and the others arrived. Everyone was stunned to see what happened. Yvette was holding Darryl, and his face was pale, and he looked weak.

There was a figure floating in the air quietly, holding a two-meter-long giant ax.

It was Donoghue!

On his other hand, there was a colorful and bright ball. The giant ax he held was as bright as the sun as it shone everywhere. In his other hand was a colorful, bright ball—the dragon ball.

Everyone was incredibly furious when they saw that.

'Who else would have the Sky Breaking Axe, if not Donoghue? This guy became Rama's disciple and went undercover, but no one noticed him. How despicable!'

'Besides, what is the ball that he's holding?' they wondered.

Apart from Chester and the others who had seen the dragon ball before, Ambrose, Eira, and Heather felt doubtful.

"Uncle Dax, what is that?" Eira could not hide her doubts and ask.

Dax took a deep breath and replied quickly, "My eldest niece, the one in his hand, is the second item Emperor Xuan Yuan left behind—the dragon's essence, the dragon ball."

'Dragon ball?' Ambrose and Eira were shocked and furious as they stared at Donoghue.

'This is bad. Earlier in the sea, Donoghue used Watson to steal the stone chest from the Sea Mackie Clan. He has the dragon ball now. In other words, both the items leftover by Emperor Xuan Yuan are in his hands now.'

Chester felt something was not right when he saw Ambrose and Eira's expression. He could not help but ask, "My niece, what's wrong?"

Sigh!

Eira took a deep breath as she glared at Donoghue. "Uncle Chester, do you know, we brought the treasure that the Sea Mackie Clan was guarding. However, in the middle of our journey, Donoghue stole it from us. Now that he has the dragon ball, it means he has both of Emperor Xuan Yuan's treasures."

Everyone was in shock and furious when they heard that.

Both the items leftover by Emperor Xuan Yuan are in his hands now. This Donoghue was so despicable. It seemed like he went undercover in the camp, mainly to obtain the dragon ball from Darryl.

'From the looks of it now, he succeeded. Not only did he succeed, but he also seized the opportunity to harm Darryl too,' they thought, feeling furious.

At that moment, Dax could not control himself anymore. He glared at Donoghue, who was floating in the air, and roared, "Charge! Kill that bastard!"

As he spoke, the internal energy in Dax's body exploded. He took the lead and leaped into the air towards Donoghue.

Chapter 2434

Wosh! Wosh! Wosh!

Chester, Quincy, Ambrose, and the others leaped into the air and charged at Donoghue too!

They were the top warriors on all of the continents. Every single one of them was famous and shocked the world. As they joined forces, the intimidating aura they exuded twisted the sky instantly.

"Ha-ha! You wish to kill me? Bring it on!" Donoghue looked crazy when he saw Dax and the others were attacking him. He gripped the Sky Breaking Axe as his eyes shone with a murderous gaze.

Honestly, Donoghue had originally planned just to leave. However, when he remembered he had to belittle himself and go undercover in the nine continents base camp, his anger started to boil, and he could not stand it anymore.

'Since the dragon ball is in my hands, there is nothing else for me to worry about. Why not mess the place up and cause the entire nine continents base camp to be in chaos?! Of course, the more people I can kill, the better,' Donoghue thought.

He roared loudly, "All of you must die!"

After a loud roar, he swung the ax fiercely!

Roar!

A loud dragon roar came from the giant ax. The next second, a golden ray that almost broke the sky and earth shone brightly and charged towards everyone!

Feeling the power from the golden ray, Chester and the others' expressions changed immediately. They activated their internal energy to form a protective shield in front of them.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The golden ray crashed onto the protective shield. Many of their bodies trembled, and their energy twisted, almost causing them to fall from the sky.

"Ah!" the soldiers screamed.

Many of the Nine Continents' soldiers did not have a strong defense. They let out painful shouts in an instant, and many of them were flung away, lying in pools of blood.

Everyone's expression changed when they saw that as anger boiled in their hearts.

'Donoghue, the bastard. His power has increased substantially since the last time we've seen him. None of us can defeat him despite there being so many of us.'

'This kind of person will be a disaster if he continues to stay on the Nine Continents. We can't let him leave easily! Most importantly, he has the stone chest from the Sea Mackie Clan, and he tricked Darryl for the dragon ball.'

Darryl's eyes turned blood-red from rage as he roared, "Be careful, everyone. Don't let him escape!"

'Yvette's suspicion was right. There was something wrong with Vikara, and he was Donoghue. If I had known earlier and been more careful, I would not have given the dragon ball to him so recklessly.'

Bang! Bang! Bang!

When they heard Darryl's angry roar, Chester and the others ignited their internal energy again and leaped into the air to battle Donoghue.

After battling for over ten minutes, they still could not take him down.

After cultivating for half a month, Donoghue had become more powerful. Then, when Rama passed him the Buddhism technique, his level improved significantly too. His new power combined with his godly weapon, how would Chester and the others be a match for him?

Just at that moment, the six fairies from Fuyao Palace arrived when they heard the commotion.

"Everyone, let's tackle him!" they shouted, then they leaped into the air, charging at Donoghue.

"Six palace masters, let me assist you all." Megan trembled as she pulled out her long sword and leaped into the air too.

At that moment, the internal energy exploding from Megan and the six palace masters almost cracked the sky!

Cindy White and the other palace masters of Fuyao Place were famous goddesses of the World Universe community. Their power was exceptional.

Megan was the previous Sect Master of Emei Sect and the past alliance master, so she was incredibly powerful too.

With everyone joining forces, terrifying energy shot out into the air, turning the peaceful sky into a hurricane.

Chapter 2435

Sigh!

At that moment, everyone from the Nine Continents were sweating for the six fairies and Megan.

The six fairies and Megan were really powerful, but they were no match for such a strong warrior like Donoghue. Donoghue had the Sky Breaking Axe after all.

However, the six fairies and Megan were not panicking at all. They saw Cindy take a step forward and said coldly, "Get in formation."

Once she said that Irene, Megan, and the others started moving. They were floating, making people feel confused, and in a blink of an eye, Donoghue was surrounded by them.

'Ethereal Seven Fairies Formation?' Darryl, who was on the ground observing, was in shock.

He could see that Megan and the six fairies worked together with impeccable teamwork. Their movements made people confused. In fact, each of their steps was really unique. That was Fuyao Palace's Ethereal Seven Fairies Formation.

'Since when does Megan know about the Ethereal Seven Fairies Formation?' Darryl wondered, feeling surprised.

The Ethereal Seven Fairies Formation had been passed on at the Fuyao Palace for thousands of years. It had never been shared with outsiders. However, Darryl did not know that when Yang Jian led the North Moana grand army to attack Mid City, the Fuyao Palace had allowed Megan to join in their practices because of the circumstances.

Donoghue was temporarily subdued in less than ten minutes thanks to the power of the Ethereal Seven Fairies Formation.

At that moment, Donoghue was incredibly furious in his heart. 'I ventured the world my whole life; how can a few women control me?!'

Bang!

At that moment, Quincy took the opportunity and ignited her internal energy, which caused a sword to appear. Then, the sword charged at Donoghue as fast as lightning.

Everyone on the ground was incredibly excited when they saw that.

However, Donoghue was surprised. He immediately swung the Sky Breaking Axe to defend himself. At the same time, Chester and Dax joined forces to generate a huge fireball. The fireball made the temperature of the surrounding areas rise quickly.

Donoghue's body trembled as he vomited blood, and his body was flung far away.

Dax was the Sect Master of Eternal Life Palace Sect, and Chester was the Sect Master of Flower Mountain Sect. With their cultivations in the past few years, they have achieved Heaven Ascension level. Although Donoghue had the ax, he still could not defend himself against the joint attack of the two brothers.

"Brother Chester, Dax, well done!" Darryl shouted, feeling incredibly excited. "Take him down and get back the dragon ball."

When they heard that, Chester and Dax ignited their internal energy again and charged at Donoghue.

At that moment, Donoghue looked horrible and was starting to panic as he faced Chester, Dax, the six fairies, and Megan's attack.

Bang!

The belt landed on Donoghue as he could not avoid it; he roared in terrible pain. A bleeding wound appeared instantly on his body, crushing his flesh!

"Just you wait; I shall torture you all one by one!" Donoghue looked hideous as he was sweating profusely from the extreme pain. He did not wait any longer, as he held the Sky Breaking Axe and swung a few times fiercely.

Bang! Bang!

Using the ax completely drained his internal energy. The power of the ax was terrifying that even the sky, earth, and air were cracking or crushed to pieces.

Feeling the terrible power, Chester, Dax, Megan, and the rest did not delay any further. All of them moved to avoid the ray from the ax.

Chapter 2436

"Darryl, you are lucky that I did not kill you today. You won't be so lucky next time." Donoghue roared. He took that opportunity to turn and fly far away.

In a blink of an eye, he was a few hundred meters away.

Darryl looked horrible when he saw Donoghue had managed to escape despite being surrounded by everyone.

"Go after him!" Dax did not hesitate to shout as he took the lead to chase after Donoghue.

Chester and the rest followed behind him closely.

The treasure box of the Sea Mackie Clan and Darryl's dragon ball were both with him. They could not let him escape so easily.

Donoghue was running and looking back. He was incredibly furious when he saw Dax chasing after him restlessly.

'This group of buggers just don't give up!' he thought.

Back at the Raksasa Tribe base camp, Amastan was sitting there with a dark look on his face. Natalie and the other Raksasa warriors looked upset too.

'Sh*t!' Amastan slammed the table, enraged. He thought that he would taunt the Nine Continents using Rama's skull to make them lose their minds and feel defeated. He did not expect Darryl to have a weird ball that could transform into a dragon.

Not only did they not win the battle, but Darryl killed two of the Gigantic Monsters. Even the highly aggressive Wild Wolves Clan were injured or killed miserably.

Natalie walked over and bit her lips. "Second Brother, I think we really need to talk to the Nine Continents. You saw that Darryl has the ability to conjure a huge dragon, so that proves that he wasn't lying. During the battle today, Darryl was just trying to scare us. He was only showing the fake image of the dragon. If we continue to fight, I'm afraid he might call a real dragon."

Natalie's face was filled with worries. She was not afraid to die, but she had witnessed so many people in the tribe die during the battle. If they continued to fight, maybe the Raksasa Tribe might win, but there would be a terrible price to pay.

That was not the outcome that Natalie wanted to see.

Most importantly, her father had been missing, and she could not allow her second brother to continue to behave so recklessly.

When he heard that, Amastan was incredibly furious.

"Little Sister, I think Darryl has fooled you. Big Brother believed in the words of the two nine continents' women and ended up dying a horrible death. Do you want to end up like him?" he shouted.

Amastan's facial expression was horrifying. Natalie trembled, and she said immediately, "Second Brother, it isn't like what you think it is. I—"

Before waiting for her to finish, Amastan interrupted her coldly, "Don't speak anymore. I must seek revenge for my big brother's death. Also, the Nine Continents caused our father's disappearance. So I must make them pay with their blood."

When she heard that, Natalie stomped her feet in anger, then turned and ran out of the tent.

'Second Brother is being unreasonable!' she thought.

Sigh!

A Raksasa warrior walked in quickly after she left and said to Amastan respectfully, "Honorable Son, there was a battle earlier at the Nine Continents' camp. We saw a group of people chasing after a monk, and they were headed towards the ruins."

When he heard that, Amastan was stunned, and a cold grin then appeared on his face.

'Ha-ha! There's a commotion in the Nine Continents' camp. This is great news!' he thought.

He raised his hand and waved. "Hurry, gather the Fierce Tiger Clan and head to the ruins with me to find out what's going on!"

"Yes, Honorable Son!"

Chapter 2437

Soon, a few hundred Fierce Tiger Clan warriors gathered together. Each of them was riding on multicolored tigers. The tigers were covered in dark brown stripes, and they were completely different from the fierce tigers of the Nine Continents. They were the Black Fierce Tigers from the Chaotic Mountain Range.

Amastan did not hesitate to lead the Fierce Tiger Clan on their journey immediately.

Meanwhile, Donoghue, Dax, and the others passed the Raksasa camp and arrived at the ruins near the Chaotic Mountain Range.

Donoghue's face changed when he saw a huge, deep cliff in front of him with boiling lava underneath. He was stunned.

'There's nowhere to run now? It isn't easy for me to trick them into giving me the dragon ball. I can get Emperor Xuan Yuan's treasure soon, so I can't just die now,' he thought as he stepped towards the cliff and looked underneath.

Then, he clenched his teeth and jumped down.

Everyone that was chasing after Donghue had a change in expression when they saw that. Then, they went to the side of the cliff and saw it was a few thousand meters deep, and heat waves continued to boil and hit their faces. Everyone looked at each other; their facial expressions looked terrible.

"That guy just jumped. Let me jump down to take a look!" Dax said and was about to jump.

"No!" Chester stopped Dax immediately as he furrowed his brows. "It's boiling lava down there. It's incredibly dangerous, and Donoghue is cunning. Don't act recklessly too!"

At that moment, Quincy stepped forward and took a look. She lifted her beautiful brows and said, "Sect Master Wilson is right. It is too dangerous down there. Donoghue might not survive his jump."

"It's too kind just to let him die like that."

"What a pity. Darryl's dragon ball is still in his hands."

"What shall we do now?"

At that moment, everyone was furious, but there was nothing they could do at the same time.

"Oh no, the Raksasa Tribe is here," someone shouted.

Everyone turned their heads immediately and saw a pair of Raksasa warriors running towards them quickly.

Chester was a careful person, so he made a decision immediately and said, "Let's go! We'll return to discuss with Darryl and plan what to do next!"

Chester headed in the direction of the Nine Continents' camp immediately. Although Quincy, Dax, and the others were unwilling to leave, they still followed behind Chester immediately.

All of them knew that they would be at a disadvantage in battle with the Raksasa Tribe at the Raksasa camp. It would be difficult for the Nine Continents' army to assist them if they started a fight. By then, everyone would be in danger. Hence, the best option was to return to the base camp and not give any chances to the Raksasa Tribe.

Meanwhile, deep under the cliff, Donoghue was falling.

Woo...Woo...Woo...

He could hear the howling of the wind as he gripped the Sky Breaking Axe tightly. It looked like he was almost close to dropping to the bottom of the cliff. He could feel the scorching hot lava underneath him. Darryl clenched his teeth as he waved his Sky Breaking Axe and chopped the side of the cliff, relying on the energy to slow down his falling!

Bang! Bang!

Finally, Donoghue landed on a steep platform. Although he had prepared himself mentally, the impact from the fall still forced him to fall a few steps behind. His back knocked the side of the cliff, and finally, he stopped falling.

At that same time, blood rushed up to his body, and he vomited a mouthful of blood. He looked horrible.

'Darryl and his people forced me to die. However, I was lucky I survived in the end. You shall wait for my return!' he mumbled to himself as he looked around and saw a cave a few meters away.

He was stunned immediately.

'Sh*t. There's someone here?' he thought.

Donoghue saw a huge figure at the entrance of the cave. His legs were both broken, and his black armor was really torn. His fierce, stern face was covered in a layer of grey dust. It was obvious he had been dead for a long time. However, his eyes were still shining with extreme anger as he stared in the direction above his head.

He was the Raksasa King!

Chapter 2438

When he realized the Raksasa King was not breathing, Donghue braced himself and walked over to check out the situation.

'The Raksasa Tribe are really like a group of wild people. Apart from the animal skin on his body, there was nothing else,' he thought.

At that moment, Donoghue still did not know that the person in front of his eyes was the Raksasa King. However, he saw there was a winding path in the cave, so he slowly walked inside.

Donoghue had used most of his internal energy when he fought everyone earlier. He suffered injuries too. He continued to find a place to cultivate and recoup. Most importantly, the cave entrance was just a few meters away from the lava beneath it, and it was too hot. Donoghue would not be able to stand the heat even if he was not injured.

Sigh!

As he walked deeper, the heat of the lava subsided. However, he still felt extremely nervous. There was a dead person from the Raksasa Tribe at the cave entrance; he was unsure if any other dangers were awaiting him inside.

He was unsure how long he had been walking before he finally arrived at a large space. Donoghue was shocked and could not help but take a deep cold breath.

He could see there was a molten cave. It was not too big and was of the size of a basketball court. The place was much cooler as compared to the scorching hot environment outside. He could see there were blood stains on the stone walls of the cave and it extended deep inside the cave.

Finally, in a deep dark corner, he saw someone sitting there completely still. Due to the dark lighting, he could not see if that person was still alive. However, he could clearly see that the armor on that person's body was completely different from the one on the Raksasa Tribe that he saw just now. It was obvious that person was from the Nine Continents.

From the looks of it, he must be a warrior from the Nine Continents, who ended up injured when he battled with the Raksasa Tribe.

Although he could not clearly see the person's face, Donoghue could feel the person's strong aura. His heart started to race involuntarily; he was extremely nervous.

After feeling stunned for a few seconds, Donoghue could not control his curiosity. He bravely walked over slowly.

When he was less than a few meters away from the body, he could finally see the person clearly. The man was wearing golden armor, but it was fully covered in blood. His hair was so long it reached his shoulders, and he was holding a special weapon. Donoghue was not sure if the man was dead or still alive.

He saw that the man's abdomen had two huge wounds as wide as his arm. His blood had dried up but still looked terrifying.

'Golden armor, strong aura; Could he be....' Donoghue wondered.

He almost figured out who this man was when, suddenly, the man lifted his head, and his intimidating eyes locked onto Donoghue.

"Who are you?" Yang Jian questioned while looking firmly at Donoghue.

That was right. The man was Yang Jian. Earlier, when he was battling the Raksasa King, they caused the Chaotic Mountain Range to collapse. In the end, both of them fell down to the ruins, where they continued to fight. Finally, they both dropped under the cliff one after another.

The Raksasa King's legs were broken, and Yang Jian had nowhere to go either. The Raksasa King had pierced his abdomen; then Yang Jian hid deep in the cave. He was cultivating with his eyes shut earlier; suddenly, he heard some movement, and instantly his eyes locked on Donoghue!

'He wasn't dead?' Donoghue was surprised when he saw the man speak.

He could feel goosebumps appear all over his body, and he subconsciously took a step backward. "I'm Donoghue; who are you?"

"Donoghue?!" Yang Jian furrowed his brows as he remembered something and smiled. "Oh, the previous Westrington Emperor. I am Grandmaster Erlang; have you heard about me?"

'H-he is Yang Jian?' Donoghue was shocked as he stared blankly at Yang Jian, speechless.

Chapter 2439

For the past two years, Yang Jian has been North Moana's Emperor. He ventured across the world and was famous. There was not a single person in the Nine Continents who did not know him. Besides, Yang Jian was famous for the past thousand years, and his power was unpredictable. Now that Donoghue met him, he was really just like how everyone described him.

Sigh!

Finally, Donoghue took a deep breath and regained his thoughts as he asked politely, "Your Majesty, how did you end up being trapped here?"

Donoghue had been at the Ruins sea since the intense battle between the Nine Continents and the Raksasa Tribe. Hence, he did not know about Yang Jian's battle with the Raksasa King.

"I was battling with the Raksasa King, and we both got injured!" Yang Jian said calmly. His tone was calm, but his eyes were burning with anger.

'I'm Grandmaster Erlang; I'm famous all over the world. I thought I could easily kill the Raksasa King but did not know he'd be so powerful,' he thought.

When he heard that, Donoghue nodded in silence. He was incredibly shocked in his heart.

'So, the person that died at the cave entrance was the Raksasa King,' Donoghue thought.

"Did you meet the Raksasa King on your way here?" Yang Jian asked, his eyes narrowing on Donoghue.

Donoghue did not lie and told him the truth. "He is dead."

Once he heard that, Yang Jian was stunned. He then looked up at the sky and laughed, "Raksasa King, oh Raksasa King. Even though you are the only great leader from the Raksasa Tribe for hundreds and thousands of years, you still died by my hand!"

Yang Jian still did not know that the Raksasa King's situation was just like his. Although he was severely injured, it was not life-threatening. Amastan should have rescued him, but Amastan decided to give up on him due to their power struggle.

As he heard Yang Jian's laughter, Donoghue rolled his eyes.

'I heard that Yang Jian's cultivation technique was top of the world. I wonder if I can take this opportunity to trick him into passing it to me,' Donoghue wondered.

The truth was after Donoghue cultivated the Buddhist technique, he had a new understanding of cultivation. However, the energy in the Sky Breaking Axe was terrifying; if he wanted to control it completely, he needed to be even stronger to be able to stand it.

"Donoghue, what are you doing here?" Yang Jian smiled and asked.

Of course, Yang Jian had heard about the notorious Donoghue. As such, he had to pay attention to him. If Donoghue was there to attack the Nine Continents, he must be extra careful with him. On the other hand, if he was there to defend them against the Raksasa Tribe, then it would be a different matter.

Although Yang Jian had a strong urge for power, he had never hesitated in protecting the Nine Continents. He was a much bigger person than Donoghue.

Donoghue went silent when he was faced with Yang Jian's questions.

"I was attacked by the Raksasa Tribe and fell here. I did not expect to meet Your Majesty here," he replied slowly.

Donoghue was not an idiot; he knew what Yang Jian was trying to do immediately.

Yang Jian nodded his head silently. "My abdomen is severely injured. I will make you my General if you can rescue me and fight the Raksasa Tribe with me."

Yang Jian looked desperate at that moment. His abdomen had been pierced through, and his internal energy was completely drained. He was relying solely on his own determination and his own strength to be able to hang on.

'Ha-ha! At the end of the day, you wanted me to rescue you,' Donoghue laughed to himself.

"Your Majesty, as you can see, I am injured too. It's very difficult for me to bring you up there in a short period of time. Besides, you're asking me to rescue you despite the fact that we've just met. What benefit will I get from that?" he said, looking serious. Inside, he was laughing and felt excited.

'Ha-ha! I was just thinking about how I can trick Yang Jian into passing me his technique. Who knew Yang Jian would ask for my help instead. This is going to save me a lot of trouble,' Donoghue thought.

Chapter 2440

When he heard that, Yang Jian's face changed, and he stared at Donoghue angrily, "You want a benefit?"

'I am Grandmaster Erlang, Emperor of North Moana. Everyone respects me. However, this Donoghue wanted to take advantage of people in trouble and ask for benefits for himself?! I already promised to make him my general, and he's still not satisfied,' he thought.

As he spoke, Donoghue's face filled with anger. "I was genuinely supporting the Nine Continents, and what did I get in return? As such, I have decided I must change to be more powerful."

When he heard that, Yang Jian's face looked horrible. 'Darryl again? I am willing to have peace with him for the sake of the Nine Continents. However, due to his personal vengeance, he harmed Donoghue, who was there to help. How despicable!'

At that time, Yang Jian still did not know that Donoghue was tricking him.

Finally, Yang Jian gathered his thoughts and nodded. "Alright! Since you're here for the Nine Continents and were chased by the Raksasa Tribe till you ended up here, let me promise you one thing. I have a cultivation technique named the Ultimate Saint Heaven Earth Technique. It is with this technique that I managed to conquer the world and become famous over the years. So as long as you are willing to save me, I shall pass this technique to you."

When he heard that, Donoghue's heart trembled, his eyes shone, and he was incredibly excited in his heart.

'Just the name Ultimate Saint Heaven Earth Technique itself is already really impressive. If I were to cultivate it, I would not be afraid of Zhurong and Divine Farmer anymore. As for Darryl, I won't even be bothered,' he thought as he laughed.

He looked at Yang Jian and said, "Your Majesty, are you telling the truth?"

"Of course. I am supreme; I will always follow my word," Yang Jian nodded thoughtfully.

Donoghue thought about it, then nodded his head and said, "If that's the case, I will trust you. However, I am severely injured now. I need to meditate to cultivate and recover. How about this, you share the technique with me as I cultivate. Once I regain my strength and you finish sharing the technique with me, I will help you escape this place. This will save us both time. What do you think?"

Donoghue looked as if he was trying to impress Yang Jian, but in fact, he was cold as ice in his heart.

Yang Jian gave a thought and nodded. "Fine, we have a deal!"

Yang Jian's abdomen was pierced through. He desperately needed some spirit pills and treasures from all over the world to recover, so he wanted to return as soon as possible. The earlier he could return, the higher the hope for him to be able to recover his power.

Donoghue smiled. He then sat down and started to meditate for recovery.

As for Yang Jian, he did not go against his word. He started to share the Ultimate Saint Heaven Earth Technique without missing a word. Although Donoghue was a rare warrior of the Nine Continents, he was still from the younger generation. Donoghue would not dare trick him.

Sigh!

At that moment, Donoghue was meditating and, at the same time, memorizing the technique.

After two hours, Donoghue took a deep breath and stood up slowly. His weak face now looked rosy and energetic.

Yang Jian was really emotional as he said to Donoghue, "Donoghue, I have shared the technique with you. You have also recovered your power. Hurry, bring me out of here, and I will give you more rewards later."

"Don't worry, Your Majesty." Donoghue walked over slowly and smiled. "Let me take a look at your injury before I bring you out of here."

As he spoke, Donoghue stepped closer. Yang Jian nodded, his eyes shining with happiness. 'Finally, I can leave this horrible place,'

Donoghue stood in front of Yang Jian, and a sinister look appeared on his face.

"Ha-ha, still want to return to be the Emperor? Go to hell!" he shouted as he punched Yang Jian on the chest.

Bang!
