

Chapter 258

„She tilted her head slightly and looked at her with a seeming smile, “Is Mrs. Jing so sure now that she has cleaned up all traces and is winning?”

Kelly Wang’s face changed.

“What do you mean?I can’t understand what you’re saying!”

“You don’t need to be able to understand, just that they understand.”

Jenny said, suddenly opening his handbag and pulling out a recording pen.

Immediately afterwards, an extremely exciting recording flowed out of the recorder as if it were water.

The crowd held their breath.

Just listen to the snippet of the conversation between the four King family members.

King: “Who is really behind this?First pouring pig’s blood on the house, and now posting this kind of post on the internet, this is clearly an attempt to target our King family!”

Kelly Wang: “Who else could it be?There won’t be another person besides that damned girl who dares to send such news out there!”

King: “As long as we’re having a bad day, she’s happy, that damn girl!If I’d known, I shouldn’t have left her behind twenty years ago!Now that I’ve taken care of that woman so easily, she’s come out to give me a hard time!”

Kelly Wang: “It’s just as well that you say this to me in private, but you are not allowed to mention it again in front of Yu Xiu Lian and Clara.”

King: “It’s all family, what’s the point of avoiding suspicion.”

The company's president and chief executive officer, Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak, said the company's strategy was to develop a new business in the country, which would help the company to grow and expand its business...."

Yu Xiu-lian: "Even if I ran the person over, so what?It's been five years, and she still wants to find out what's going on?"

Clara: "Mom, but I'm still afraid..."

Yu Xiulian: "Don't be afraid, if you really push it, I could have killed her mother five years ago, and I can still kill her five years from now!She had it all coming!"

Kevin Jing: "It was me who had a hard time climbing up to that woman surnamed Mo to earn the current family fortune for the Jing family, but she was good, she actually wanted to give all this much of the family fortune to that brat, not taking me into account at all, it's simply abominable!"

Yu Xiulian: "What is one Jing family?If this matter is really successful, then we Clara is flying up the branch to be a phoenix, then not to mention the Jing family, even if he Hua family Mu family, will also kneel down to the ground to befriend us, Kevin, the vision should be more long-term, always care about the immediate rope head small profit, will not have a good result."

King: "You're right, we've got to succeed at this!Never let anything go wrong!"

Clara: "Mom, I don't want to be a match for Jenny Jing."

Yu Xiu-lian: "Clara be good, think!Because of what happened before, everyone thought that you were a selfish and vicious person who would persecute your sister to get what she wanted.

But if you're in the drama as the second female, and Jenny is the female lead, then you can totally tell the outside world then that it's Jenny who wants to enter the entertainment industry, and you, her sister, are willing to surrender yourself to match her in order to hold her up as a sister.

By then, people will only think that you're affectionate and know that you can correct your mistakes, and that your acting must be better than Jenny's, and when the two of them are in the same drama, and it's clear that you're the better actor, but you can only play the second female, and she's a mess, but she takes the female lead, guess what those people will say?"

Clara: "They will definitely think that Jenny Jing's character is coming from the wrong place!"

Yu Xiu Lian: "Yes, that's right, we'll then give her a push behind the scenes and she'll just wait for her legacy to live on!"

The recording played for nearly ten full minutes.

What's in there, though edited and in scattered fragments, is shocking enough.

The car killings, forced the death of the original spouse, the third wife, the family fortune, the framing of the stepdaughter, and many other words to reveal the meaning of the conspiracy, it is unbearably creepy to hear.

Jesus!What kind of a family is this?

Taking a step back, Yu Xiulian and Clara had no feelings for Jenny Jing and her mother, but Kelly Wang and Kevin Jing were family members who had lived with them for over a decade.

How can you call yourself human if you do this to your flesh and blood?

Everyone's faces changed for a moment, and they all turned their attention to the four people of the Jing family who were standing to the side, already confused.

Everyone's eyes unabashedly revealed shock and contempt.

And the most shocked and incredulous of them all was Rovell.

He never thought the truth would be this!

Back then, Mo Caiwei was killed in a car accident and Jenny Jing left the country, so it was all manipulated by the Jing family?

Kelly Wang finally reacted, her face changed dramatically, and said hurriedly, "This, this recording is fake, it's all nonsense! You mustn't trust her!"

However, not many people would believe her words at this point.

What is of more interest is what the Jing family did than why Jenny Jing swindled his death.

Clara and Yu Xiu Lian and the others also panicked.

Clara's gaze shifted sharply, suddenly looking up at Jenny Jing who was standing on the high platform.

"Sister, I know you hate me and would like me to die, but this is just between the two of us, mum, dad and grandma are innocent, do you have to frame them like that?"

Jenny smiled coldly.

"False accusations? Back then, you guys unintentionally broke up a woman's affair with my mum and bribed the garage to tamper with my mum's car just in case things got out of hand.

Fearing that my mum wouldn't die, and then deliberately driving into her, my mum's car was crashed right into a bridge, and the car was destroyed, and this is a false accusation?"

Yu Xiu Lian's face swished white.

"You, you're talking nonsense, I didn't do it, although I truly love Tsunade, I never wanted to take your mother's place!

I'm sorry about what happened to your mum, but you can't blame everything on me because of that! Jenny, Auntie Lian has not treated you badly these past few years, how can you do this to me?"

She said, bursting into tears.

Clara was busy supporting her and said sadly, "Mom, don't be too sad, I think sister must have been instigated by some female dryad to talk nonsense like this, let's not fall into someone's trap."

Kelly Wang heard her words and reacted.

Even changing colour, he said in a deep voice, "Okay, I can pretend I never heard those words today! It doesn't matter what messed up people you've been seeing lately or what you've heard them say, it's a no-no!

Now, you come back with me right now and give us an explanation about your sister!

As long as the explanation you give is justified enough, we're not that unforgiving, so naturally we won't do anything to you."

Chapter 259

„she said righteously, and gave a colour to the two bodyguards who were following her, and the bodyguards immediately came forward.

However, without waiting for them to get close, Mo Nan and a few other individual bodyguards also stepped forward and protected Jenny Jing behind them.

The atmosphere was frozen and touch and go.

Jenny Jing looked at Kelly Wang and sneered, "What? Is this an attempt to dodge the issue? Or do you think it's so far gone that you can really get away with a few words?"

She held up the recorder and faced the media and the camera and said in a deep voice, "What's in here, I can assure you with my character, is absolutely true, and if you still don't believe me, I can hand it over to the police for identification to see if there's a patchwork of cuts."

Afterwards, he actually handed the recorder to a police officer.

Kelly Wang was so anxious that her eyes were anguished.

"Jenny!"

King was also anxious and rushed forward to snatch the tape recorder off, but was stopped by a police officer.

"Mr. King, this is important evidence, please don't touch it."

Kevin Jing became furious and looked towards Jenny Jing with hatred, cursing, "Jenny Jing! Do you want to see the end of the King family so badly? You'd rather have all of us dead than be happy, wouldn't you?"

Jenny felt funny.

"Mr. King, wasn't it you who said before that you were innocent? In that case, what's your hurry?"

Wouldn't it be a perfect way to prove your innocence to have the police authenticate it, if it's a fake?"

King's voice trailed off.

Kelly Wang stared at her with cold eyes, and Jenny stared back with a generous amount of openness.

A reporter asked, "Miss Jing, then regarding this kidnapping incident, was it also manipulated by you to take revenge on the Jing family?"

"No."

"What? No?"

There was a low sound of surprise from the crowd.

After all, Clara had previously but verbally said that Jenny Jing had not been kidnapped at all, and that it was all a play she had directed herself to set herself up.

And now, it turned out that Jenny was indeed standing here intact as well.

Seeing everyone's confused faces, Jenny explained, "I was indeed kidnapped before, but I got lucky and grabbed an opportunity to escape midway through.

On the basis of the premise that the real culprit of my kidnapping was my own sister, I didn't dare to go home, and I just happened to learn the truth about my mother's car accident five years ago.

I then applied for the cooperation of the police in directing such a missing act, and although it was necessitated by circumstances, I apologize for the trouble and distress I have caused you all for some time now.

I also hope that you can understand my desperation as a daughter to know the truth about my mother's death."

Another reporter asked another question, "And did you do the same thing with the disappearance of Maya from Prospect?"

Jenny shook his head, "No."

The whole room was in an uproar when that was said.

"You mean that you did not kidnap her, much less imprison her?"

Jenny nodded.

"I can swear here in my mother's name that I have not seen her since I came to the island of Habitat, and that I do not know who is responsible for her disappearance.

But I think she's done a lot of domineering things in private, so maybe she's made other enemies, so if you really want to know, you can start looking into that."

After Jenny finished speaking, everyone couldn't help but look at each other for a moment.

Through these first six months.

With all of the various outbursts and scandals, everyone had heard slightly about Clara's private character, so it wasn't surprising to hear Jing Ming say so.

However, Clara was a little anxious beside her and said angrily, "Jenny Jing, you're talking nonsense! You're the one who kidnapped me on that boat!

You even threatened me, claiming to kill me to destroy my body, and if I hadn't escaped on my own, I might have been persecuted by you by now, and you still dare to stand here and open your eyes and tell lies?"

Jenny Jing lazily looked at her and sneered, "Oh? What proof do you have that you've testified so eloquently against me?"

Clara was lost for words and fidgeted for half a moment.

Jenny Jing said quietly, "It's actually not difficult to prove this, I've been staying on the island all this time, and the staff at the hotel and the rest of the island can testify for me."

When she said that, people naturally had no doubt.

The look at Clara became even more despicable for a moment.

You're the one who kidnapped her, but now you're framing her?

It's really shameless too.

Clara didn't expect things to come to this point, she looked at everyone hurriedly and found that no one was willing to believe her, so she couldn't help but panic even more.

She looked at Kelly Wang in sixes and sevens.

"Grandma, what are we going to do now?"

Kelly Wang's heart was actually lost.

But as the head of the Jing family, after so many years of trials and tribulations, his face is still taut in the end.

She said quietly, "Even if you didn't leave yourself, it doesn't mean you didn't order someone else to do it, but don't worry, we'll naturally investigate what's going on in this matter, and now, you yourself have admitted that this is your own show, which means that those attacks Clara received on the internet a few days ago were all false charges by Mo, and we just want to confirm that. The rest will be umpired when we get back."

After Kelly Wang said that, she wanted to leave with her people.

Unexpectedly, he was stopped by Jenny.

"Wait!"

She stepped forward and said in a quiet voice, "About this recording, Old Mrs. King hasn't explained it yet! That's what you want to go?"

Kelly Wang's face was taut and blue.

"I told you it was a lie! We did no such thing!"

"Well...it looks like you're sure you're not going to admit it?"

"Why should I admit to something I didn't do?"

"Fine."

Jenny Jing nodded thoughtfully, "Since you won't admit it up to this point, let's meet in open court! At that time, don't say that I didn't save face for your old lady Jing or didn't give your Jing family a way out."

Kelly Wang heard her threatening tone and became furious.

"Jenny, don't you forget that you're also a part of the Jing family!"

"I'm sorry, I'd forgotten, after all, I've seen exactly how you've treated me these past five years, and my old memories were buried long ago with my mother's death! So from now on, let's all just face our respective sides and behave ourselves!"

After she said that, she ignored Kelly Wang and turned around to walk inside.

Kelly Wang stared at her so hard that she just wanted to stare two holes in her back!

Clara still had that aggrieved and frightened expression and trembled, "Sister, do you really have to be so ruthless? Grandmother and father at least used to love you, don't you miss the old feelings at all?"

Jenny sneered.

"I have given you the opportunity to confess to me yourselves, and it is you who do not value it, is it not? Now you're blaming me for being heartless? Why didn't you think about how heartless you were when you were planning how to run over my mother?"

Chapter 260

„Throwing words that made everyone present shake hard!

Biden Lu stepped forward and held her hand.

A cold, stern gaze swept across the faces of everyone present and spoke in a deep voice.

"From today onwards, I officially declare that my wife Jenny's business is my business, and to offend her is to offend the entire Lu family! Regarding the murder of my mother-in-law, I will personally send someone to intervene in the investigation, and at that time, I also hope that the police will be fair and give justice to the truly good people!"

Also coming with the Jing family today was the police chief of Visterdem.

At this point, he said evenly, "That's natural! Don't worry Mr. Lu, I will personally supervise this matter and will never let any murderer go!"

Only then did Biden Lu nod his head in satisfaction, pulling Jenny Jing inside.

The King family's visit to the perching island to arrest people was like a farce that began and ended in a blaze of glory and a full house.

Kelly Wang and others were naturally taken away by the police on suspicion of murder.

With Biden Lu's name on the side of the town, the police side naturally didn't dare to release the water.

And regarding the previous incident of Jenny intentionally concealing his situation, it also ended with the beginning of this case.

After all, no one had expected that the reason why Jenny had done this was to uncover the real murderer behind the curtain who had killed his mother.

On the police side, though, a portion of the population was quite upset because they had helped Jenny spread false news online.

But the matter involved the case, and everyone didn't dare to say anything, instead they were all looking forward to the final results of the investigation to see if these people in the Jing family were really as vicious as Jenny Jing said they were.

All in all, the matter is, in a way, considered to be closed for the time being.

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu also returned to Visterdem.

The police side of the investigation took time, and Jenny wasn't in a hurry.

On the other hand, Nina Hua, who had been out of the country for a trip and had only returned in the past two days, was a little worried when she heard that she was now living alone in Red Maple Ya Yuan, and she planned to go there to check it out.

On this day, Jenny took the time to go to the supermarket to buy some things and came to Nina Hua's place.

Although Hongfeng Yayuan is considered one of the most upscale neighborhoods in Visterdem, it's still a bit different than Xiang Songge, where Nina lived before.

Jenny arrived at the floor where Nina Hua was staying, found the room number, and rang the doorbell.

It didn't take long for the door to open.

After not seeing her for some time, Nina Hua had plumped up quite a bit, dressed in a light-colored housecoat, her hair loose, revealing a stunning face.

Seeing Jenny, her eyes lit up and she was busy hugging her happily.

"I'm glad you're okay, but I was worried sick."

Jenny's heart dripped with warmth and patted her back lightly. "I'm fine, don't worry."

It took several seconds before Nina Hua let go of her.

Then, pull her into the house.

"Feel free to sit down, what would you like to drink? I'll pour it for you."

Jenny looked around the room and casually said, "Anything goes."

She sat down on the sofa and was slightly relieved to find that although the apartment wasn't as good as Nina Hua's previous residence, it was still quite upscale and well-stocked.

Nina Hua brought a glass of water over to her and sat down across from her.

Jenny took a sip and looked at her.

Then there was a brief silence.

They've been best friends since high school, and they basically know what's on each other's minds.

There were just some times when neither of them wanted to speak first or break the peaceful atmosphere that was so hard to come by.

In the end, it was Jenny who spoke first.

"How many months?"

She lifted her chin, indicating Nina Hua's already bulging stomach.

Nina Hua quirked his lips and bowed his head slightly, his hand gently caressing his stomach and said, "Six months."

Jenny's heart tip shuddered.

It's been six months in a flash.

Pregnant in October and due to give birth in four months.

"Where is the father of the child? Hasn't he shown up yet?"

Nina Hua stalled slightly.

She forced a smile, "Jenny, I don't want to force it."

Jenny frowned.

"What do you mean? Don't tell me he's not going to be responsible!"

"No."

Nina Hua saw that she had a tendency to get angry and stopped her in her tracks.

"He...doesn't know about it yet."

"What?"

Jenny was simply stunned.

"The baby's six months old and he doesn't even know?What the hell were you thinking?You should tell him about this, it's not just about you you understand?"

Nina Hua wasn't in a hurry to explain, but waited for her to finish before saying slowly, "I know, but do you really think it makes sense to force someone who doesn't love you?"

Jennyton was speechless.

Only now, looking at the delicate but somewhat lost face in front of her, did she suddenly understand something.

My throat was a little scratchy and my chest felt like it was swollen and sore from something that had gotten stuck in it.

She took a deep breath and asked softly, "Who... is he?"

Nina Hua didn't say anything.

She sat there in silence, her head slightly bowed, not looking directly into her eyes.

Obviously, she didn't want to talk.

Jenny Jing slowly relieved his breath and said in a deep voice, "Okay, I respect your choice and your right to privacy, you can keep it to yourself and not tell that man, but have you thought about what it means?"

Do you know what it means for a female artist to be unmarried and pregnant and to have an unknown father?

Well, you could care less about your future, but what about yourself?Having a baby is not a decision to be made by a feverish brain, have you thought about how you are going to bring him up and how you are going to explain it all to him?

And Uncle Wallace, what would he think?He loves you so much, he would never allow you to do that, are you going to break with him?"

Jenny's concerns were not without merit.

She knows Nina Hua too well!

Who's Nina Hua? The eldest daughter of the Hua family, the daughter of the Hua family, who was raised in a honey pot since childhood, with mountains of gold and silver at her disposal, has never suffered or been wronged since she was a child.

And now, yet she was left to raise a child on her own, still facing such a dire situation!

Jenny was worried that she wouldn't be able to hold on and regret her choice today.

However, Nina Hua shook his head.

"Jenny, I understand everything you're worried about and have thought it through carefully."

"And you decided to give birth to him?"

Nina Hua suddenly looked at Jenny Jing.

There was no fear, no helplessness, no half of the vulnerability and uncertainty that an unwed mother should have.

There's just determination and confidence.

"Yes, he's a little life too, and he has a right to be in this world, and..."

Besides, it's his baby!

The one she couldn't keep, maybe in this life, the two were two straight lines that crossed from the beginning, and after the only night there was a crossover, the future only got further and further away.
