

PUNISHED BY HIS LOVE

I'm Sorry My Love Novel Alternative

Chapter 2588

Those are my own death. "

Don't talk about yourself like that, Galia." "Christopher comforted.

Galia shook her head: "It's really my unforgivable fault, I'm doing it myself.

I was originally thinking of raising my salary to ease my financial pressure.

My salary did go up and so did my position, but there was a three-month adjustment period.

In the past three months, if I am competent, my salary can really increase as much as the personnel department promised me, and my position can really be kept. This was originally in the opinion of the personnel department and my direct supervisor. It's not difficult, it's just a process.

Because the English on the foreign orders is very simple for a person who understands English, and for a person who has both professional knowledge and English, it is the easiest and most accurate job to translate, and there is almost no suspense at all. .

However, for me it was as difficult as the sky.

I read those English like reading a book from heaven.

But I don't dare to ask anyone in the company for help, I'm afraid of revealing the truth.

Later, I went out to find a professional translator at a high price. It was an external document, which was only a few pages long. I needed to spend thousands of dollars to find a professional translator to help me translate. "

God, isn't your salary..." Christopher has almost thought of the consequences.

"Yes, not only did my salary increase fail to relieve my pressure, but instead, I spent money looking for it outside ." The translation makes me even more unable to make ends meet.

Not only these, there are more troublesome things.

In fact, the external orders received by our company cannot be formed at one time. We have to communicate with customers many times. Each time, there will be different revision opinions. The number of revisions once or twice per order is very small.

Most are up to five or six times.

Although most of the content is the same, I still need professional translators to help me translate every time I have different revision opinions.

I paid for a professional translator, and they won't count the money for me just because most of the content is the same.

People count money by the number of times.

After a month of this situation, I was in debt as high as 5,000.

At that time, I was already in financial constraints, and I could save almost three meals a day, and this matter would become a big thought in my heart, and it would take my breath away.

This mental stress has seriously affected my work.

And the company has also found signs of it. Every time I place an order, I can't do translation processing in the company at any time, but I have to take it home.

A month before I was officially promoted, the leaders of the personnel department and the company began to notice me, and at first they just surreptitiously investigated me.

Later, they finally found the clue.

"Have they found out your fake degree?" Christopher asked.

Galia shook her head: "No, they traced that I sold the company's core content and the company's internal pricing to a peer company."

Christopher was shocked: "This, this is illegal, but you didn't do that. Yes, they misunderstood you, you just spent money to find a translator, right?"

Galia shook her head again: "No..."

Christopher looked at Galia incredulously, this time, his tone was a little bad: "Galia, don't tell me, in order to pay back the money you owe, you really took the core information of your company. Come out and buy a competing company? This...this is illegal!"

Galia looked up at Christopher: "Brother Christopher, do you think so too? I know, it's me. It's my fault, don't say it's you, everyone, everyone thinks so of me, I don't even have the qualifications to plead, because it's really really my fault.

At least it's caused by me."

Christopher was taken aback: "You didn't do that?"

Galia looked at Christopher with tears in her eyes: "Of course not, it was the translator from the professional translation company I hired who secretly sold our materials for a high price. , I also confirmed this later, the translator was investigated according to law, but..."

Chapter 2589

Christopher finally understands: "As a result, you have exposed in the company that you do not know English at all, and even more , the fact that you don't have a college degree at all, right?"

Galia tilted her head and raised her head without looking up, she asked in a low voice, "Brother Christopher, do you think that I am a very bad person? People?"

Christopher: "..."

At this moment, he didn't know what to say.

Galia went on to say: "Actually, there are many girls in this world who were wronged, excluded, and suppressed when they were growing up. However, many girls can also rely on their own perseverance to stand up slowly, Win the respect of others.

Moreover, even when such girls are suppressed and excluded, they still have a clear conscience in their hearts.

Because they have done nothing wrong.

They have always been righteous.

Therefore, their character They will usher in the favor of the real son in their lives.

Even if they have been suppressed and excluded, they can still reap love and meet girls who love them.

But what about me?

I really deserve it."

Christopher: "..."

"Brother Christopher, if I worked in the previous company for three years, I suffered humiliation for three years, then in the current company, no one really humiliated me, and everyone was very supportive of me. Friendly.

But myself, I ruined my own reputation and image."

At this moment, when Galia said this about herself, Christopher really wanted to say: "Isn't it! You really did it yourself! You dug the hole yourself, but you can't just jump into it yourself.

" Now Galia is so pitiful, Christopher can't say anything.

This is a girl who confesses her mistakes.

She is in such pain now that Christopher really can't bear to say anything about her.

Galia continued: "I originally thought that the humiliation I had suffered in the previous company was enough and big enough, but I never thought that compared with this company, the previous company was nothing.

The previous company at least I can quarrel with people, but in the current situation of this company, I have no room to refute at all.

When the company's leaders and the personnel department traced me to the point where I sold the company's core information to my peers, the company's

The personnel department has already controlled me, and then the next step is to call the police. In a hurry, I can only tell my university resume is fake.

I can't speak English at all.

I didn't sell these materials to my peers . , I just took out the money and hired an interpreter.

At that time, the personnel manager and my subject were surprised and speechless for a long time.

They didn't believe me at first.

, I didn't want to take the responsibility of legal self-confession.

Later, I went to the translation company myself, and then through that company, I found the staff who specialized in translation for me, and after checking some of his transaction records and some WeChat records, It turned out that I did not sell the core material.

It was the translator . But even so, I still couldn't get the company's forgiveness.

The company suffered huge losses because of me, and the boss was very angry because of it. He asked the personnel department and my supervisor to tell me that I should admit my mistake in front of the whole company and admit my fake degree.

If I don't want to, let me do it at my own risk.

In front of the whole company.

There are more than 1,000 people in that company.

There was an all-staff meeting in the cafeteria. At the meeting, I admitted that I had faked my academic qualifications and brought losses to the company. In that case, Christopher, do you know?

My heart to die at that time, all have. "

Christopher: "Galia, I...I don't know what to say, I even think again, why did things develop to this point?" Why? "

Galia smiled sadly: "The reason is very simple, I am vain, I am not pragmatic.

Chapter 2590

is really not someone else's fault, Christopher.

It's just that I'm vain, I'm not pragmatic.

The loss I caused to my company was really not something I could afford with money, and the boss was really furious at that time.

My boss wouldn't be so angry if the translator hadn't sold our core materials to his peers, and then his peers plundered the client.

The reason why he is most angry is that I have caused the company to suffer huge losses.

In the final analysis, the reason why there is such a bad result is my fake degree, so the boss asked me to apologize in front of all the employees.

I can't escape.

I stood in front of all the staff like a criminal sentenced to death.

I didn't say a word, my heart was like a knife, but I couldn't blame anyone, that feeling of self-inflicted pain, I really wanted to find a crack to dig into.

Really has no face at all.

I was criticized, abused, ridiculed, and voiced by all the staff.

It's much more uncomfortable than what I felt in the previous company.

Only then did I know that people who have grievances and grievances can be much more justified.

But that kind of feeling of being a sinner who is half aggrieved and not even half aggrieved, just straight up is a sinner, really shameless to live.

These are still tightly just shameless at work.

And my boyfriend.

When he saw me standing at the all-hands meeting, he was stunned.

There were still people joking with him below.

"Hey, this is your gentle and cute little girl?"

"You really found a treasure."

"Damn, she's famous, she became famous overnight."

All kinds of voices came into my boyfriend's ears, the whole conference, my boyfriend's eyes are red and red.

After the all-hands meeting was over, when I was fired, I packed up some of my personal belongings and escaped from the company like a rat crossing the street in front of all the staff.

As a result, as soon as I walked to the front desk holding some of my mess, I saw my boyfriend. "

"He's waiting for you at the front desk?" "Christopher asked inexplicably: "Do I want to say goodbye to you?" "

Galia shook her head: "He, like me, is also holding his own personal belongings. "

"He was implicated by you and was fired from the company?" This really surprised Christopher.

Galia shook her head again: "He resigned by himself. He said that he was ashamed to stay in this company and could not stay for a day. He didn't even want his salary and resigned on the spot. "

Christopher: "..."

After a pause, he asked Galia, "You love him very much, don't you? Galia burst into tears: "

He really graduated from a book, and his family background is also very good. He is a local. He has a lot of knowledge since he was a child. Before elementary school, his father had taken him to travel around Europe. For four years, he traveled abroad every summer, self-help travel, not to mention domestic.

In China, his footprints have been traveled all over the country.

His family is not really rich, his mother is a high school teacher and his father is a lawyer.

In that city, it is a middle-class family, but in such a family, if I can marry him into such a family, I really have the greatest hope in my life.

You can't imagine how much I yearn for such a family. Christopher couldn't help asking: "

You will definitely think that if you can marry into such a family, you will definitely be more proud in your hometown. You should be a legendary existence in your three villages and five miles. ? Galia nodded .

Hit me hard in the face. "

Chapter 2591

Christopher's heart suddenly aches: "What? He hit you? Hit you on the spot?"

Galia shrugged and smiled He smiled: "Still hit me in the face."

Christopher: "Such a bas*!"

"Not only did he slap me, but also scolded me in front of so many people at the front desk, 'Why are you so shameless! Want to marry me? You want to be crazy! Shameless chasing girl! Go away! Let me see you next time, and I will disfigure you!"

Christopher sighed: "It is inevitable that he hates you."

Galia nodded . Head: "Yeah, he hates me. I know he hates me. In fact, his quality is quite good. When there is a pregnant woman on the bus, he will take the initiative to give up his seat.

When he gets off the bus, he will still Helping the pregnant woman to get out of the car.

He likes to play basketball. He is always powerful on the basketball court, and he is very manly.

But usually he is very gentle to me, and he is very kind to his girlfriend. There is no dark side.

In the company, I get along very well with my colleagues. Remember the website.

He is a very smart boy, especially appreciated by his boss.

Most importantly, he speaks fluent English.

I have many colleagues English is very good, but my colleagues all want to find a good job in the concept of learning English, and so on.

But he is different.

He has always told me that learning English is a matter of personal preference.

The reason why I learn English is not that I want to use English to find a good job, but the purpose of learning English at first is to like literature.

Many of the books and novels I like, especially those classics, sometimes read the translated version, and the words are a bit incomprehensible.

It is better to read the English version for a deeper understanding.

To put it bluntly, language is a tool for communication. Strictly speaking, it cannot be used as a skill for finding a job.

So, I never put English in my specialty, even though my English is extremely fluent.

My boyfriend, the only person I've ever met in that company, said that, and I listened to it and really adored him.

In my company with thousands of people, he is a leader, very different and approachable.

I often wonder, if I put my boyfriend in my previous company, wouldn't it kill all those dog-eyed things in seconds?

I often wake up laughing at night from dreams.

Such a good boy, such a sunshine, such a boy with no haze in his heart, turned out to be my boyfriend.

I am worth it.

The humiliation and suffering I had suffered before were all worth it.

In the future, when I bring such a boyfriend home, I will be enough for my relatives and friends to kneel down and worship me.

However, overnight, my story came to light, and so did my boyfriend.

No one in the company was going to fire him.

My affairs will not affect him at all, but he still feels ashamed to continue working in any company, so he quit his job because he didn't want the salary.

When he resigned, the boss felt a pity and kept him personally.

But he still decided to leave.

He didn't expect to see me at the front desk of the company. In a hurry, he raised his slap and slapped me twice, and then scolded me in front of so many people.

I don't blame him for this. "

Christopher could see that today, after so long, when Galia mentioned that boy, Galia still couldn't let go.

"You love him very much?" Christopher asked.

"How many girls don't like such a boy?" Galia asked with tears in her eyes.

"He's not that perfect, he hit you." "Christopher wanted to calm Galia's sad heart, so he said this.