

Super Rich Dad Chapter 261-263

Chapter 261 - You have a traitor

Gao Shun was so rich, in case he was happy and gave himself some more money in addition to the 50,000 yuan, it was possible.

Thinking of this, Feng Pingping once again became complacent, despisingly whitened her eyes at Jiang Hao and that little head of staff and said, 'Hmph, you guys wait for me, I'll see what else you can say later!'

Having said that, Feng Pingping hurriedly greeted the security team leader in the direction of that security team.

'Hey, hey, hey, do you guys want to take credit for something!' The first thing Feng Pingping said when she walked up was this.

In fact, when he saw Feng Pingping from afar, the security chief already had a face of anger, after all, he was scolded and almost cleaned up by Gao Shun before, a large part of the reason was also because of Feng Pingping.

So this time, this security chief brought someone with him, just to settle the score with Feng Pingping, and to make amends to Jiang Hao.

But he didn't arrive, before he could go to the door, this Feng Pingping unexpectedly came over by herself, and she even had a playful smile on her face.

What, have you not realised that you are about to die?

The security chief sneered, wanting to see what Feng Pingping was going to do again, so he asked with a smile, 'Oh? Making merit? What merit? Of course I want to!'

Although the security captain said so, but in his heart, he had the heart to eat Feng Pingping alive.

How can you take credit? If I get you today, that's a big merit, and you're still here, you're a f*cking brainiac!

Feng Pingping didn't even realise that the other party had something to say, and laughed foolishly, turning her head and pointing at Jiang Hao and the small head of staff.

Feng Pingping said: 'Did you see that man? Didn't he try to muddle through at your place just now? But then you uncovered it, only this idiot actually came back in, do you know how he got in?'

The security captain laughed playfully with his men and shook his head pretending not to know anything: 'No, why, you know?'

Feng Ping Ping nodded smugly, 'Of course I know, why else would I have just asked you if you wanted to take credit? Did you see the guy next to that idiot? That's the guy from your company!'

The head of security nodded, 'What's wrong with him?'

'What else? Let me tell you, that guy and that idiot, Jiang Hao, are in cahoots, and that idiot snuck in through that mole of yours!' As if she was very proud of herself, Feng Pingping continued, 'Tell yourself, if this kind of thing of eating inside out was known to your boss, how would he handle this matter?'

The security captain couldn't really hold back his laughter when he heard that.

Of course he understood exactly how Jiang Hao had come in, except that according to Feng Pingping, it was just ridiculous as hell.

What the hell was she thinking to come up with such a thing?

And Jiang Hao was in cahoots with the little head of that company? Jiang Hao got in through someone else.

This Feng Pingping's brain was really big.

'Oh, so haha,' the security chief said as he dealt with Feng Pingping, but he still couldn't help but laugh a little.

'Yes, yes, look, if you stir this up to your old boss, isn't it a big credit? Maybe your husband will give you a promotion and a pay rise!' Feng Pingping leapt up and down.

The security chief nodded, 'Right, right, you're so right, so what do you think I should do?'

'What else should I do? How did you become a captain? Pig brain?' Feng Pingping looked at Jiang Hao and Xue Yuning with contempt and said, 'You, you'll just go over and hold those two poor bastards down, then you'll hold that mole of yours, then you'll call your boss over directly, then whether you get a promotion or a pay rise, it's just a matter of your boss's words?'

The security chief pondered for a moment and then suddenly laughed out loud, 'Right, right, you say you are so clever, how can you be so clever, right, let's do what you said.'

As he spoke, the security chief let Feng Pingping walk in front of him, while a smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

He really felt that this Feng Pingping was a bit ridiculous, what kind of head did she have that she could think of such a solution?

He knew very well that since Jiang Hao hadn't done anything to her before, he obviously wanted to see how long she, a clown, could dance.

If that was the case, he might as well play along with her and see what kind of joke this Feng Pingping could make.

And later on, I can also punish Feng Pingping in front of Jiang Hao, so that I can also save some impression in front of Jiang Hao.

After all, just because you've offended Jiang Hao so much before, just because he's not pursuing you doesn't mean you're not doing anything.

If he really wanted people to forgive him, he would have to do something first and show his heart with practical actions.

Thinking of this, the security chief smiled faintly and hurriedly followed Feng Pingping's footsteps as well.

Chapter 262 - Teach a lesson

This time, Feng Pingping finally had the courage to walk with a high spirit.

She thought to herself, 'Let's see what you have to say this time, just wait to be cleaned up.'

Feng Pingping walked up to Jiang Hao and pointed at him and said to the security chief, 'See, I'm not wrong, this guy was just driven away by you, and now he's sneaking in again, right?'

As soon as the security captain saw Jiang Hao, he immediately became low-browed and nodded to Jiang Hao with a face full of accompanying smiles.

And Jiang Hao smiled back and pointed at the security captain, 'What, is this the helper you found? Are you going to take me away now?'

Jiang Hao stretched out his hands and made a face as if he was asking the other party to cuff him, but his face was completely devoid of any seriousness.

This expression on Jiang Hao's face really made Feng Pingping's teeth itch with anger.

She pointed at Jiang Hao and said furiously, 'Don't be so f*cking smug, just wait and see how they will deal with you later! Do you really think that because you have an accomplice, no one can do anything to you? Ridiculous, who do you think you are!'

After Feng Pingping finished speaking, she pointed at Jiang Hao and turned back to the security chief and said, 'You see how arrogant this bastard is, I think you should just break his legs later, otherwise he won't remember next time!'

After she finished speaking, Feng Pingping put her hands around her waist and waited to see how that security chief led his men to ravage Jiang Hao.

She even had a smug smile on the corner of her mouth, just waiting to see the joke.

However, she waited for a while, but the security chief behind herself did not move at all.

Feng Pingping couldn't help but feel a little surprised, frowned and turned around to question the security captain, 'What are you doing standing still? Hurry up and do something? Don't you want to take credit for it?'

When Feng Pingping finished speaking, she found that the security chief was still poking his head in the air like a wooden stake, but a playful smile gradually appeared on his face.

This smile could not help but make Feng Pingping feel a little hairy, and she questioned a little nervously, 'What are you laughing at? Hurry up and do something, huh?'

However, after she finished her sentence, the security chief was still indifferent, and the few security guards under him were also poking at the same spot.

Feng Pingping was even more baffled, she didn't know what to think, thinking, 'Didn't this guy just promise himself very well? How come he didn't respond when he got here?'

She turned her head and looked at Jiang Hao again, and couldn't help but be a little stunned, because she surprisingly found that Jiang Hao was also looking at herself with a smiling expression.

Everyone was smiling at herself, which really made Feng Pingping a little hairy.

'You what the hell are you all laughing at, is it ridiculous?' Feng Pingping said.

'Yeah, it's ridiculous.' Jiang Hao snorted out a laugh and said, 'It's really quite ridiculous.'

When Feng Pingping heard this, she became irritated and actually waved her hand directly at Jiang Hao, cursing under her breath, 'Ridiculous, your mother.'

But this time, before Feng Pingping could finish her sentence, the slap she waved out was not even far away when she felt an even greater force coming directly towards her care.

'The slap was crisp and loud.

This was followed by Feng Ping Ping's howl of pain once more.

'Try f*cking doing it, you f*cking b*tch!'

The one who spoke was the security chief, who usually seemed relatively civilised and polite, but at this moment he was looking at Feng Pingping with a fierce face.

He was also the one who had just slapped Feng Pingping.

When the security chief saw that Feng Pingping was about to make a move, he was quick with his eyes and hands, and directly slapped Feng Pingping, making her face go numb.

The slap was so hard that Feng Pingping was unable to slow down for a long time.

When she slowly gained a glimpse of consciousness, she was shocked to find that she had been set up by two security guards.

The security chief was still glaring at her with a fierce face, and seemed to be hurling abuse, but Feng Pingping's ears were buzzing, so she couldn't hear him clearly.

'Young Jiang, I'm really sorry to have frightened you.' The security captain bowed his head and said respectfully to Jiang Hao, 'What do you think about dealing with this person?'

Jiang Hao looked at the security captain and smiled, jokingly asking, 'What, now you know whose tickets were stolen?'

The security chief awkwardly wiped a handful of cold sweat and looked a little uncomfortable as he whispered, 'It was my dog's eyes that were unaware of the mountain just now, don't take it personally, don't worry, I'll definitely change my ways, I'll definitely'

'Forget it.' Jiang Hao waved his hand and looked at Feng Pingping, who was still half asleep, originally he wanted to give her a good pardon, but he didn't expect this guy to be blinded by the security chief's slap, which was no fun.

'Throw it out.' Jiang Hao said indifferently.

'Do you want me to give her a hard time? Either break one of her legs, or remove one of her armpits.'

Before the security chief could finish his sentence, Jiang Hao brushed aside his mouth and interrupted him directly.

'Come on, let's be merciful, if you make her miserable, her life will be over, give her a chance.' Jiang Hao looked at Xue Yuning and asked again, 'What do you think?'

Xue Yuning nodded at his words, 'Yes, we are all in the same bed after all, just give her a lesson.'

Chapter 263 - The Phone Rings

'Yes, yes, yes, it's because I didn't think it through.' The security captain grinned at his words and said, 'It's still you two who are kind-hearted, Jiang Shao, we really only have admiration for you'

After finishing his speech, the security chief waved his hand and instructed his men to take Feng Pingping away.

This time it was completely and utterly quiet, and Jiang Hao and Xue Yuning were able to watch the whole concert in peace.

What they didn't know was that the noise over here had actually attracted the attention of the whole crowd.

After all, the concert hadn't even started yet, so the argument over here was simply like a magnet, attracting the attention of many people.

And just in a corner far away from Jiang Hao and Xue Yuning's position, Wang Jiani also stood up and crossed her feet in looking over to this side, wondering what was going on.

Only the distance between them was so far that she could only see a blurred silhouette, and she didn't even know what was going on.

‘What’s going on over there?’ Wang Jiani asked one of the girls beside her.

The girl said truthfully, ‘I don’t know, it seems that a big shot has come, and there is a girl over there who seems to have had some conflict with that big shot and was finally thrown out by the security guards’

‘Tsk, tsk, tsk,’ Wang Jiani stammered, thinking to herself, ‘Big shots are big shots, and it’s true that rich people can really do whatever they want.’

The first ones to be thrown out when there was a conflict were ordinary people.

Wang Jiani crossed her feet again and looked, but could only shake her head resentfully, she then asked the girl in her body, ‘Beauty, do you know who that big man is?’

Wang Jiani was purely gossiping, she knew that it would not take long for this matter to become a hot topic on the streets of Chujiang, and if she could get some more information, she would be in the spotlight by then.

The girl shook her head, ‘I’m not sure, but I just heard someone say that this is a rich kid, and he seems to be from Chujiang University, and it is said that when he came, the president of the contractor company went out to greet him.’

‘From Chu Jiang University?’ Wang Jiani could not help but be amazed at her words, she in the heart of the entire Chujiang University, can be counted as the rich second generation of the guys all ranked once, but did not find a master can match today’s battle.

After all, even if the rich generation is more powerful, it is impossible for the concert organizer to give you a special venue, and the president personally greeted?

In Chujiang, to say that there are such a rich generation, there are indeed two, but definitely not in Chujiang University, to say that there are, they are also in the Jiangnan University of Commerce in Chujiang branch.

The school is not as famous as Chujiang University, but Jiangnan University of Commerce is the province’s famous ‘aristocratic school’, can study there, no one is an ordinary family, almost steeply second generation rich.

So in Wang Jiani’s opinion, perhaps the girl had misheard.

Wang Jiani hurriedly crossed her feet to look again, this time she tried very hard and used all her strength to finally see the first row, but what she saw were only two figures.

But Wang Jiani was stunned to find that the two figures sitting on the sofa were so familiar.

‘This is not, absolutely not possible, it must be my mistake!’ Wang Jiani muttered to herself

The concert soon began, and Feng Pingping, who had been thrown out of the stadium gates, took a full ten minutes to regain consciousness, and then she felt a mountain of pain coming from her head.

'Shit,' Feng Ping Ping hammered the ground with a fist, her heart filled with resentment.

She still couldn't figure out if the security chief had a puncture in his head. She was clearly helping him, he was crazy or was he just a bipolar, why did he give himself a slap on the backhand?

And Feng Pingping still remembered that after his slap had blinded her, the security chief seemed to have said something to Jiang Hao.

Feng Pingping couldn't help but fall into a puzzlement and muttered, 'Shit, is it possible that they are also in cahoots? That's a big deal, I'll have to look for their boss, and he hasn't given me the 50,000 he promised me yet!'

And she hadn't even seen the concert yet, Feng Pingping thought, 'I'll make sure the other party gives me an explanation, and then I'll add more fuel to the fire by talking about the relationship between Jiang Hao and the staff member and the security chief, and then see how these people will explain.'

'Damn it, today I don't even want 50,000 yuan, I still want to make things clear with you guys!'

After muttering her words, Feng Pingping patted the dust on her body, got up from the ground and walked directly to the ticket checkpoint at the entrance of the stadium.

However, the concert had already started and the staff at the ticket office had already withdrawn, leaving only a few security guards on duty there.

Just as Feng Pingping was about to walk over, suddenly her mobile phone rang
