

Chapter 261

And this child will be the only memento he will give her.

Nina Hua didn't say these words out loud, she smiled faintly, her delicate face shining with a soft and serene glow.

"I've thought about it, I'll give birth to him and raise him well, and I won't regret today's decision in the future, no matter how difficult it is, and even if it's difficult, I still have you, don't I? The child's godmother isn't so easy to be, to back up our mother and son isn't it?"

Jenny was really so angry with him that he couldn't speak.

She couldn't help but roll her eyes.

"Yes, yes, I'll give you guys a backing, but how do you explain that to Uncle Walt? I heard you moved out of the house because you had a falling out, so I don't think he'll allow you to have the baby."

Nina Hua was silent.

Then, in a soft voice, "There's no way I can compromise on this, and since he won't forgive me, he'll just have to pretend that he never had me as a daughter...anyway...I have nothing for him to be proud of."

Jenny heard a heartache.

"Distant."

Nina Hua barely smiled and raised his head.

"I'm fine, no need to comfort me, really, I've thought everything through in the meantime, the most important thing for me now is to get well, the domestic environment is not quiet, and although I've decided on this matter, I don't want the outside world to know about it yet, so I'll be out of the country in general, just for a few days, and if you miss me, you can fly over to see me, and when all the dust settles, I'll be just come back."

Jenny's heart was indescribably sour.

But since Nina Hua had already decided, she had no choice but to support it.

She got up, went to sit down across the room, and took Nina Hua's hand.

"Distant, wherever you are, don't forget that you have me."

Nina Hua nodded with a smile.

Three days later, Nina Hua left.

That day, Jenny went to the airport to see her off, and gave her a few numbers of people she used to know well in F, so that if there was a real emergency, she would have someone to contact.

Nina Hua quips that five years ago it was her who sent Jenny Jing away, and now Jenny Jing sends her away, how it feels like reincarnation.

Jenny can only helplessly smile, in the heart of the end there is some reluctance, although even in the F country, when you want to meet can also meet.

But after all, it wasn't as convenient as being in Visterdem, and the secret that Nina Hua had been refusing to tell her worried her a little.

But Jenny didn't even say any of this out loud, and only returned to the office after sending her away.

In the past two days, Biden Lu went back to Kyoto, which is also considered to send the old lady and An'an back.

Ann is not well and has to have regular checkups, and every time she does, Biden Lu will be there.

Jenny would have wanted to go, but the case about Mo Caiwei on the Visterdem side needed her cooperation at any time, and she really couldn't leave, so she could only go back next time.

Lu Yanzhi and Yan Sihua and the others were happy to learn that she had returned safely.

They hadn't believed what Clara had said before, but now that they were confirmed that their belief was not wrong, they just heard about Jenny Jing's mother and couldn't help but all sob a little.

But sobbing is sobbing, and normal work still needs to be done.

That night, Lu Yanzhi saved up a game at the Immortal Water Pavilion and invited Jenny Jing to go with him.

Those who came to the party were all the big execs of the entertainment industry and since it was a private party, there weren't many people who came, so it wasn't considered a social gathering.

Since Jenny was in this circle, he inevitably had to deal with these people.

Lu Yanzhi threw this party and invited her...

Showing kindness, she naturally couldn't brush off someone's good intentions.

At 8pm, the Sensui Pavilion is already filled with the scent of Penang and a mingling of wine.

Lu Yanzhi booked a box on the third floor of the Jinser Box, where there is a party room inside and a small garden outside with a great view.

Naturally, drinking is inevitable at such parties.

Fortunately, Jenny's drinking capacity was already good, so he had no worries.

Those present were all seniors in the circle, most of whom were very close to Lu Yanzhi.

Everyone didn't know Jenny's identity at first, not much yet, but after this incident, learning that she was actually Biden Lu's wife, naturally they were all willing to show favor with her.

The evening was also quite pleasant and enjoyable.

By about eleven o'clock, everyone was pretty much drunk.

Jenny went to use the restroom, and when she came out, she suddenly received a call from Biden Lu.

The man's voice was as low and clear as ever as he asked, "What are you doing?"

Jenny walked to one side of the balcony and said, "Drink." as the wind blew, "Drink."

"Well?"

Without looking, you could tell just from the voice that he seemed to be frowning.

Biden Lu didn't like her socializing, and his status was enough for her not to have to participate in any socializing.

Jenny Jing couldn't help but laugh, not wanting to let him worry about it any longer, and smiled, "Lu Yanzhi has formed a bureau, all the big names in the circle, so let me come and say hello."

The man's voice softened at this point, "How much did you drink?"

"It's not much, they're all seniors who are too embarrassed to let me drink more, and with you around somewhat they'll give a few points of respect, so I'm picking up a bargain."

Biden Lu also laughed after hearing this, "What kind of a bargain is this? If you don't want to socialize them, you don't have to socialize them, and no one will dare bully you if I'm here."

His words, casually exported, yet falling into one's ears, were incredibly warm.

Jenny's lips curved up in a gentle line and nodded, "Yeah, got it."

Seeing that she was so obedient, Biden Lu's mood couldn't help but feel a little better, saying in a deep voice, "I'll be back tomorrow morning, come pick me up at the airport?"

Jenny was stunned, but didn't think it would be so fast this time, so he nodded.

They talked some more before hanging up the phone.

After hanging up the phone, Jenny blew the wind again for a while, feeling that the wine had dissipated, before stepping forward to go back.

But unexpectedly, when I looked up, I saw a young man coming this way.

"Snap Shea? What are you doing here?"

Xie Snap, still with his hangry good looks, raised the glass on his hand.

"There's a bureau, come and sit down, little sister-in-law, what are you doing in this place without accompanying my brother back to Kyoto?"

Jenny laughed, "Just allow you to have a social life and not me?"

Xie Snap stroked his nose, "Isn't that why you don't have to socialize at all with my brother here?"

Well, these two brothers really aren't a family.

Jenny looked at the time and realized it was already late, so he had no intention of exchanging words with him again.

"Okay, I'm going in, so you drink less, okay?"

Snap Shea nodded.

Only then did Jenny step forward into the box.

Just then, the door to the next compartment was flung open from the inside, and a drunken man fell out of it, covering his mouth.

Jenny was so shocked that she died of shock, she just happened to reach the door of the box and the man fell out and hit her right on top of her.

Chapter 262

„Excuse me, where’s the bathroom?“

Jenny was stunned.

Does that sound familiar?

She tilted her head to look over at the man, who also happened to look up, and they were both startled.

“Muyenze?“

“Jenny?“

“Why are you here?“

“Why are you here?“

Same words, exported at the same time.

After that, both of them didn’t look too good.

Jenny is depressed.

That’s why there’s a proverb that says the wrong way is the right way!

Ever since that day on the island after the distinct, I thought I would never see him again, but I never thought I would be so unlucky as to not only see him here, but his compartment was also right next door to my own.

Rovell's face changed colour for a moment, but he quickly calmed down.

He looked Jenny up and down.

I have to say that nowadays, Jenny is getting more and more beautiful.

A nude dress, outlining her slender and graceful figure, sandals of the same colour on her feet, and jet-black hair like a waterfall on the back of her head, she looked delicate and pure.

He had only known her to be pretty before, but had never been much interested in her because she lacked the kind of femininity he liked.

But now it seemed that as long as she was willing to dress up, she was no less attractive than Clara.

Even more than that.

Rovell's eyes flashed a dark colour, pressed down the wine, straightened up and smiled, "I'm here to meet some friends, what a coincidence, I didn't expect to meet you."

Jenny didn't give him a good look.

"I'm not interested in what you're doing here, so get out of my way if you're okay, I'm going to go to my room."

Rovell raised his eyebrows slightly and looked at the next compartment.

"You're right next door?"

Jenny rolled his eyes.

I thought to myself, what a bad luck to be next door to you.

"Next door seems to be full of people from the entertainment industry, and I just saw several famous directors...oh, I forgot, you're considered a famous actor now."

In the past two days, Cannon Fodder Raiders has officially launched on the web, and although it's only a small production web series, the response has been very positive and the hits have been high.

He smiled and his smile was a bit lonely, "Jenny, I saw your performance in that TV series, it was wonderful, I loved it."

Jenny Jing sneered, "Is it any of your business how well I perform? Do you like it? Your own wife is still sitting in jail, and you're in the mood for a drink, what? Is Mr. Mu ready for a new recruit? This true love is really plastic too!"

Rovell looked stiff.

After Clara's accident, he went to see her once, he used to think that Clara was gentle and virtuous, but now when he saw her like that, she was like a crazy woman, not saying anything else except for forcing him to find a way to save her, which made people look annoyed.

In his heart, he somehow regretted the thought.

Especially after seeing her performance in the play, the aura and acting skills that were in no way inferior to Clara's would never have been shown without a certain amount of talent.

Such a woman was only worthy of being his Rovell's woman.

And Clara....

She had changed since she had started over six months ago, and now she was not at all the same Maya he had come to know because of it.

At first, he thought she had a change of heart because she couldn't take the shock.

But after all this time together, he realized that she was actually nothing like what he had seen before.

She's jealous, incompetent, petty, manipulative and stupid and gets ripped apart every time.

What a loser!

If it weren't for the fact that he couldn't divorce them yet, he would have left them alone a long time ago.

Before, the idea existed only in the head, it wasn't strong enough.

And now, seeing how elegant and generous Jenny was, that kind of thought was like spring mushrooms that couldn't be suppressed any longer.

Rovell smiled faintly, "I didn't hear much about you acting before, I didn't expect you to act so well now, as a friend, I'm still very happy for you, no matter what, it's a success!"

Jenny couldn't help but roll her eyes again.

Not bothering to talk to him, I stepped forward to leave and was suddenly grabbed by his wrist.

"Hey, wait."

Jenny frowned.

If it weren't for the fact that this was a public place, I would have kicked him out.

She finally managed to be patient and impatient, "What else can I do?"

Rovell Mu paused and said softly, "Old Mrs. Yu and my father are inside, you've come all the way here, won't you go in and say hello to him?"

Jenny was stunned.

Is Mrs. Yu here too?

If you don't come, why are you still mixed up with the Mu family?

Although the heart is quite doubtful, but in any case, old lady Yu is still very good to her, if you do not know better, if you know but pass by the door, not even a greeting, it seems really unreasonable.

Jenny shook his hand away and said in a deep voice, "I got it!"

Finish and push the door in.

Rovell's appearance only softened a little this time, and a smile curved his lips as he followed suit.

And not far away, Snap Xie looked at the scene and frowned, his eyes flashing in contemplation.

The box was large and crowded.

Each of the private rooms in the Sensui Pavilion is equivalent to a three-bedroom apartment in an ordinary person's home, with a KTV, a chess and card room, a better one with a backyard and a swimming pool in the summer, and quite a lot of entertainment.

When they entered the box, they saw Old Lady Yu and Patrick Hong sitting on the sofa inside, while a middle-aged man in a suit sat across from them.

The middle-aged man was around forty years old and looked young, his hair was meticulously combed back, and he was dressed in a handmade suit, so he couldn't see his identity, but it was clear from the aura that he was no ordinary person.

The Yu and Mu families were even meeting with such a person in this place, who was he?

Jenny was confused, but didn't think much of it.

Walked over and called out, "Old Mrs. Yu."

Naturally, Old Lady Yu had already seen her, and although she was a little surprised, she still smiled and nodded.

"Jenny, you're here too? Partying with friends?"

Jenny nodded, "Well, a few friends from the entertainment industry."

"Oh, I understand, you're in the entertainment industry now as an actor, you must be careful ah, it's a complicated circle, but Granny Dry believes in you, you're a good boy, you'll keep your true heart."

The old man's kind words warmed Jenny's heart somewhat.

Regardless of what happened before and how many misunderstandings there were, Old Lady Yu was the only one here who was willing to care about her after her mother's death.

She and her grandfather had been bamboo horse friends, and they were as close as brother and sister when they were alive, and perhaps they really wanted their offspring to stay close as well, so that's why she made her mother the old lady's goddaughter and the old lady's goddaughter's granddaughter.

Chapter 263

It's just a shame that it wasn't meant to be.

Some relationships, after all, are slowly drifting apart.

Jenny didn't say anything else, and after greeting, he was ready to leave.

It was then that the middle-aged man sitting across from him spoke up.

"Is this Miss Jennyjing?"

Jenny was stunned and turned to look.

The middle-aged man had a gentle and calm smile on his face, the kind of tolerant smile that belonged to the upper echelon of those who looked at the commoners.

She nodded, "Yes."

"I've seen you perform, you're a great actor, and I heard you sang the theme song for your play? I especially like that song, would it be convenient to sing it again for me tonight?"

Jenny was a little surprised.

After all, Cannon Fodder Raiders is only a small production and small investment web drama, and Lin Shufan didn't hire any professional singers in order to save costs.

Once I accidentally discovered that Jenny could sing, I just let her sing the opening song.

Rather didn't think that the other side had heard of it.

Jenny was embarrassed and gathered the hair by his ears.

"It's...not good, you guys party here..."

"No, it's just that because it has something in common with a tune a late friend of mine once composed, I heard it at the time and was quite touched by it, which is why I wanted to hear it again live when I met you today, and I was actually abrupt to say the least."

The other smiled gently.

Honestly, the request was actually a bit abrupt when dealing with someone you're meeting for the first time.

But just because it's this guy, the ease of his demeanor, and the earnestness of his tone, it makes it seem like he really just wants to listen to the song, not try to take someone's amusement.

Jenny wasn't that stingy, she could tell that the identities of the people present were not simple.

And the other guy's eyes are very sincere, and it's not necessarily true to think that this song might actually mean something special to him.

She didn't want to go back to her social life that early anyway, so it wasn't like she couldn't sing a song if she really wanted to.

Thinking so, she looked at Old Lady Yu.

Old Mrs. Yu nodded imperceptibly.

She pursed her lips and finally, nodded, "Good."

There is ready-made sound equipment in the box, although not as professional as the one in the recording studio, but it can be configured in Xianshui Pavilion, the quality and sound is also very good.

Jenny had the song ordered, then picked up the microphone and began to sing.

She actually gets really into it every time she sings this song, and this time is no exception.

As soon as the first note sounded, Jenny's entire body and mind plunged into the world of music.

This song is heard to be written by a very famous composer and is about a lover he was once very much in love with, who died tragically due to a change in circumstances, and how he has been missing the other person, with whom he has an afterlife rendezvous.

Although it's about life and death, the whole song isn't really too sad, but there's a little bit of a light sadness sinking in, which is roughly the same thing as mourning without being sad.

Jenny sang with great intensity, and the middle-aged man, the moment she opened her mouth, his entire body had been shaken.

The face went from being easy and gentle at first to incredulous, and a deep shock.

There's a difference between listening live, and listening from a TV set.

From the TV, although feeling shocked, will quickly react that she is not her.

The scene is different.

that

The person is right in front of you, the eyebrows, the look, the tone....

It's like the old man is alive.

Once the song was finished, Jenny quickly snapped out of the music and turned around, smiling, "Sorry for the offering."

It was only after she finished that the middle-aged man didn't react, the whole thing was staring at her.

Jenny's heart thudded.

Is there something wrong with it?

Old Mrs. Yu had obviously noticed that something was wrong with the atmosphere and was busy clapping and laughing, "Jenny sang beautifully, Mr. Guan, don't you think so?"

The man who was called Mr. Kwan reacted and looked a little uncomfortable, nodding his head, "Yes, great."

Although Jenny felt that his reaction was too strange, he didn't think much of it and put down the microphone, saying, "Granny Dry, I should go back."

Old Lady Yu nodded and smiled, "Yes, go ahead! Let Mu send you off."

Jenny originally wanted to refuse, but Rovell Mu had already walked quickly to the door, so she didn't say anything as if it was a bit deliberate to refuse again.

Out the door, Rovell smiled, "You just sang so beautifully, even better than what you heard on TV."

Jenny Jing raised his eyebrows, "What about compared to Clara?"

You know, as an all-around entertainer in film, television and song, Clara used to sing quite a few songs too!

Rovell looked stiff.

Some accosted, "What are you mentioning her for?"

Jenny stopped, looked at him and sneered, "Rovell Mu, I know exactly what's in your heart, so there's no need to pretend in front of me.

If the prospect's family is ruled by Kelly Wang and Clara's mother and daughter, you will try to please Kelly Wang and Clara, just to make sure that the Mu family will eventually take over the Jing family.

Now that Kelly Wang is in trouble, and Clara and Yu Xiulian are involved in a lawsuit, you are afraid of bringing trouble to yourself or to the Mu family, so you want to kick her out to get me back, Rovell, do you think everyone is as brain-dead as she is? At your mercy, at your mercy?"

Rovell's face came down hard.

"What are you talking about? That's who you think I am? I'll admit that Maya and I do have a bad relationship right now, but that was bad before her accident, not that I have to take advantage of the situation now!"

Jenny was simply laughing at him.

"Not taking advantage of the situation? It's not a stoning of Muyenze! Do you believe that? I'm telling you, if you're going to take some responsibility and stand up to her now, I respect you as a man, but do you? You didn't!

In the end, you're just doing this for yourself, and you love only yourself, so will you stop playing games with me? I'm sick of your awkward acting.

And, if you chose her, then take up your responsibilities as a man, or I'll only hate and despise you more!"

After that, she turned to leave.

Rovell never expected that she would be so rude as to accuse herself.

A flash of blue and white.

Eventually, out of breath, he gritted his teeth and said, "Jenny! You'll regret what you said today!"

Jenny didn't look back.

Rovell was mad as hell.

With a twinkle in his eye, he suddenly strode forward and pulled her in, saying in a deep voice, "Wait, I have a secret, do you want to hear it?"

Jenny Jing sized him up and sneered, "You have a hundred secrets I don't want to hear! Let go!"

"I mean it! What does it take for you to believe me? Yes, I'll admit that I've made a lot of mistakes and done things I shouldn't have in the past, and I may have hurt you, but at least I really want to apologize to you now, so why won't you just give me a chance?"
