

PUNISHED BY HIS LOVE

I'm Sorry My Love Novel Aternative

Chapter 2640

Don't be afraid, the company is still looking for people, and there are three more recruits.

Don't worry, don't worry. "

Galia raised her head and smiled: "It's alright, I'll take a look at it first. The security guard shook his head and went out. As he went out, he shook his head and sighed: "Hey, I'm looking at the little girl, don't work too long, how can such a young girl be willing to suffer this hardship, I should hurry up with the personnel The ministry said, let them recruit a few more aunties.

Don't delay work in those departments. "

He left after saying this.

Galia worked hard all the time. There are really many couriers . It's more than a bigger package.

It's reasonable to say that this pile of mountains is true . It's hard to tell the difference, but Galia has already seen the clues. Remember the website.

She is a girl who is good at thinking.

She found that some express numbers and colors, two of which are red on the express order. There are also some colors on the Hurry up numbers. Two of the numbers are marked with green codes. Later, I can see that there are yellow codes, purple codes, all kinds.

She specially looked at the Hurry up codes on these barcodes, but, It turned out that they were all from the same company.

She specifically looked for another express company, and found that these express companies also have different barcodes.

Galia thought about it for a while, and then picked up the first time to sort out some The two numbers are the express delivery with the yellow bar code, so ask the doorman one by one.

"Brother, what department does this Zhou Hualiang belong to?" Galia asked.

"What about Su Jie?" Galia asked again.

"It's a coincidence, it's also from the Personnel Department."

"And, Mao Chenxi?"

"It's the Personnel Department again!"

"Where's Du Qiang?"

"The Personnel Department!"

"The Personnel Department!"

"The Personnel Department!"

In the end, the security guard All stunned.

After a while, he asked: "Girl, why is it such a coincidence?"

Galia smiled and said, "This is not very conspicuous, you can't tell if you don't look carefully, I guess it is when a certain company of the other party sends the express again, in order to distinguish ours. The marks specially made for business dealings are for their work. The marks made by the other party are not obvious, but they can be seen if you look closely.

I can distinguish a small part of them based on these marks.

I thought, We are a large company, and those who have business contacts are definitely not retail investors. They are all connected. For example, the fashion department of our company, they send out express delivery, and they must also send out the fashion companies that they often cooperate with. Then they go out. When sending express, it must have been distinguished in advance. For example, red is company A, blue is company B."

Hearing Galia's analysis, the security guard immediately said: "Yes, yes, you are right. , every company above sends out express delivery like this, they are convenient for them to distinguish themselves, I can see it every time."

"So, the express delivery we take back, the other company will also mark it, we just rely on it. With these inconspicuous marks, first classify them by yourself, so that you can save some time."

Security: "..."

After a long while, the security guard said as if he had just woken up from a dream: "Okay, little girl, it's not bad, college students are college students, and the way of thinking is really different from ordinary people."

Galia: "That... no Sorry uncle, I...I didn't graduate from junior high school."

Chapter 2641

The

security guard's pity tone: "I said this girl is so young, why do you do this job, look at you It's hot all over with sweat, and my face is covered with dust. I'm going to take a break. I don't want to work like you, kid. It

's okay, I haven't graduated from junior high school, and there are many children who are not doing their jobs properly. It's rare to see you as down-to-earth as you are . The child is really good."

Galia's heart suddenly warmed, and she actually gave birth to an unprecedented sense of honor.

Suddenly I realized that in fact, the real raising of eyebrows was not something that I could hide and hide, but that I won it back with my hard work as I am now.

Even if you are a junior high school student, as long as you do well, there are still people who admire you!

She smiled humbly: "Uncle, no, big brother, that...you are an old employee here, see if you can help me apply for a computer that has been eliminated in the company. If there is a computer, I may be divided. It is easier to enter the file, so we may save more time.

It can also save more manpower." The security guard immediately asked: "Do you still use a computer?"

Galia shrugged: "Now is the Internet age, Even if you don't go to university, you must be able to use a computer, otherwise you will not be able to walk in society."

"Okay, okay! That's great! Leave this to me, my uncle will help you apply, I think you're only twenty at most. I'm almost fifty years old, you should call me uncle. Call me uncle." The security guard said cheerfully.

As he said that, he entered the elevator, and the moment the elevator closed, he was still sighing to himself: "Hey, this child is very painful. If my daughter can be so down-to-earth and improve, this child is really good."

Standing in the elevator Galia, who was outside, felt like she was filled with honey when she heard this.

She feels that life from this moment is hard but beautiful. This feeling is very good.

Since then, she has worked harder in her work. The first thing she does when she comes to work every morning is to turn on the computer and contact various departments. What kind of courier do you have today, how much, and so on.

After getting in touch, she began to distinguish herself.

Although it is not a one-person job, she is working harder, but it is obviously much more efficient than before.

Three days later, the company found another three tallies, a total of four, and the other three were aunts.

Only Galia is a little girl, and the four of them are very tacit understanding. The three aunts are also very worry-free when they are working. They are all subcontracted by Galia.

After Galia completes the subcontracting, she will join the delivery team together.

She thinks this job is really stable. Apart from being a little harder, you don't have to work overtime after work. The company offers you such good treatment. The lunch meals are also very rich every day, which is something she has never had in the office before.

Since then, Galia is in a better mood.

People often become open-minded and broad-minded when they are in a good mood. Galia herself is also a girl with a good heart. After she finishes dividing up on the computer every day, she will ask another question in the group by the way: "I will In the grocery room on the first floor, turn left five meters from the door is a large convenience store, if any of you are hungry and need me to bring you a meal, please tell me, free service."

This kind gesture , so that Galia won a lot of goodwill in the company.

In addition, she delivered the courier package in a very timely manner, and she rarely made mistakes, and the distinction was very clear, so every time she went to a department, the people in the department gave her a good evaluation.

"Young girls do this job faster and better than aunties. It's really not easy for such a young girl to be willing to do such hard and tiring work."

"I think Galia is a good girl. " It

's pretty solid."

"Don't look at people coming from the countryside, but she's clean and neat, her brain is flexible, she's good looking, what a good girl."

"Galia, I asked you to call me just now. Two copies of sago, right?"

Galia was stunned for a moment: "Yes, what's the matter, Director Wang? Is it that I called you wrong, I called you less? I'm sorry, I'll go downstairs later. When the other part of the courier is delivered, can I bring another one for you?"
