

Chapter 279

Jenny asked Xiao Chen to inform him of this result, and He Chengjun was naturally unhappy after hearing it.

But no matter how reluctant he is, it's useless. The good thing is that he only signed the original contract with Anning International for five years, and now there's less than a year left, he can consider this as a cooling-off period, and when the contract expires, he can choose where to go.

This matter was considered over here at Jenny.

As for how he and Guan Xuefei were doing, that was not her concern.

In the blink of an eye, a week passed.

Seeing that Nina Hua's birthday was coming up, Jenny Jing pinched his fingers and counted for half a day, and no matter how he counted, he realized that he couldn't personally go over to spend it with her.

Since Nina Hua had left the country, he seemed disconnected from everything at home except for occasional contact with her.

Including Hua Jingze and her own brother Hua Yu.

As a bystander, Jenny Jing could not say much, but could only care about her as much as possible, lest she was pregnant and inevitably lonely in a foreign country by herself.

On the day of Nina Hua's birthday, Jenny Jing pinpointed the time, exactly midnight exactly, and even called her over.

The other side was quickly connected, and Nina Hua's happy voice came out, "Jenny!"

"Happy birthday, dear."

"Thanks."

I could tell that Nina Hua was very happy, and Jenny Jing could not help but be infected by her laughter and asked, "Hua Da, have you missed me all this time?"

"Tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk."

"Don't worry, in half a month, when my godson is born, his godfather and I will come together."

"And what if it's a goddaughter?"

"That's even better, you can keep Ann company and your sister can take care of her, how perfect."

Nina Hua tsked and shook his head, "You've picked up a mother, I don't know where you're so lucky, seriously, it's really too hard to conceive a child, if you hadn't conceived yourself, you really couldn't appreciate the hardship."

The smile on Jenny's face gradually settled down.

"So will you be okay over there by yourself? How about I come over early?"

Nina Hua even refused.

"No, I hired a maid, it's okay."

Jenny sighed.

The desire to speak has stopped several times, but I have not been able to say what I want to say.

Nina Hua probably knew what she wanted to say and smiled, "Jenny, don't worry about me, I'm not that strong, but I'm still a little bit stronger than you guys think, I can do it."

Jenny had to nod and think about talking to her about the gossip she had heard and seen during this time.

"Do you remember your man-god, Seasonal Advent?"

"Well?What?"

"I just found out that he and that Guan Yue Wan, the Guan family, still have an affair, and it's the kind that crosses the line, you said we came out, so you wouldn't have been allowed to worship him as a god in the first place ha."

On the other side, Nina Hua's spine stiffened.

The fingers that squeezed the phone trembled a little.

A moment later, she managed a smile.

"Yeah?Not much."

"Yeah, if it wasn't for this time when Biden Lu and I were dragged to the bar by Fu Yuan Hang for a drink and accidentally found out that he liked Guan Yue Wan, I really wouldn't have known about this."

Across the room, Nina Hua didn't speak.

Jenny Jing's eyes swiveled and asked tentatively, "Yao Yao, this child... has nothing to do with Kepler, right?"

"Where were you thinking?Of course it's okay."

"That's good that's good."

Jenny put on a celebratory tone and patted his chest.

Nina Hua didn't seem to want to talk about it anymore.

Turning to him, he asked, "Have you been back to Visterdem in the meantime?"

"No. Why?"

"Nothing, I just wanted to ask how my dad and my brother are doing."

Jenny Jing thought about it and said: "Your brother and your sister-in-law are fine, but your father, I heard a while ago that he is not very well, but it should be no big problem, Yao Yao, father and daughter do not have overnight feud, if you really care about him, try to communicate with him properly, okay?"

Now the child is also so big, and soon to be born in a full moon, raw rice cooked rice he can no longer oppose, at most a little angry, in the end will still forgive you, and why do you really go so far, obviously a family but old and dead?"

Nina Hua was silent for a moment and said softly, "I know, I'll think about it."

Jenny nodded, and they chatted some more, just as the door on Nina Hua's side was knocked on.

"Is anyone coming?" Jenny asked.

Nina Hua frowned.

She lives in an upscale flat, where she usually lives deep in her home and rarely has visitors.

And there weren't any friends over here to begin with, and I just couldn't figure out who would be coming over so late at night.

After thinking about it, she said into the phone, "Well, it must be the landlord or the Filipino maid I hired, she just went out to buy groceries and hasn't come back yet, I guess she forgot her keys, I'll go out and check."

"Okay, I'll hang up then ah, you be careful."

"Good."

Hanging up the phone, Nina Hua headed for the door.

Reaching the door, she peered out over the cat's eyes and snapped.

Instantly straighten up and go pale.

Immediately afterwards, he turned and walked quickly to the house.

Nina Hua's steps were extremely fast, and he soon entered the bedroom and locked the door.

She walked back and forth twice in restlessness, only to feel as if a drum had been placed on her heart, beating rapidly and intensely, causing her to feel only a heart that was almost ready to jump out of her throat.

How could it be him?

What's he doing here?

No. No way!

It must have been my own eyes, yes, it must have been my eyes.

Nina Hua swallowed his saliva, suddenly remembering something and laughing at himself again.

What are you so excited about?

Even if he comes, what can he do?

It's impossible to take back those words that were spoken, and he....

The heart was suddenly a little sore and the eyes were swollen.

She was sitting on her bed, staring, when there was a sudden click outside, followed by a loud bang.

It was the sound of a door being pushed down.

Nina Hua was shocked, she stood up from the bed, startled for two seconds, then ran out in a hurry.

Upon entering the living room, I saw my door fall to the floor and be pried open.

And the tall man at the door stood there with a calm, serious face.

Nina Hua: "....."

She stared at him with wide eyes, her eyes filled with anger, "Kepler! Who gave you permission to break down my door?"

This is the fu*king house she's renting!

How are we going to explain this to the landlord if someone sees us later?

The money is secondary, but how bad is the impact?

Looking at the door panel that had fallen to the ground and been completely removed, Nina Hua became furious.

As if Kepler did not see the anger on her face, he walked in with a blank expression.

A quick glance at her, and a glance at her belly, which was as big as a bucket, and her face grew darker and darker.

"If you're home, why don't you open the door?"

Chapter 280

Rightfully so tone of voice.

Nina Hua stagnated, only to feel angry that his stomach hurt.

Only after a half a dozen chimes did she sneer, "This is my house, I can open the door if I want to, if I don't want to, I won't, what's it to you? Instead, you're not afraid that I'll sue you for trespassing."

Kepler raised his eyebrows, unmoved.

"You could have tried it."

That look was clearly taken to mean that she was afraid to sue.

Nina Hua choked, only to feel like a fire was festering in his chest, wishing he could throw the man in front of him off the balcony.

After half a moment, she hated it and said, "What are you doing here?"

Kepler sneered, that cold and wild face looked more than a little cruel with such a smile.

He stepped forward one step at a time, the cold compelling air on his body causing Nina Hua to retreat step by step until he finally retreated to the wall, no more retreat.

Kepler reached out and pinned her against the wall.

A pair of cold, wild eyebrows stared at her, their lips curved in mockery.

"Pregnant?Whose?"

Nina Hua clenched his teeth in a death grip, using a lot of strength to control himself from scolding the man in front of him.

"None of your business."

"Heh!"

He suddenly pulled some paper out of his pocket and threw it in her face with a pop.

"Stealing my seed and coming alone to hide in this hellhole is an opportunity to stage a deep love scene with no return?Or do you already know I'm back at Ken's and what the hell are you up to?"

Nina Hua stiffened.

The harsh edges of the paper cut through the delicate skin of her face, sending hot pain through her.

Yet the pain of it all was not as great as the pain that was torn and gnawed deep in the heart.

She looked up, gazing at him coldly.

The eyes were icy, but red underneath the ice, with an endless amount of reticence and aggravation.

"It's none of my business whether you go back to Ken's or not, and it's none of your business that this child is here."

"He has my blood in his veins, and don't you dare say I had nothing to do with it!"

Kepler suddenly became angry.

One grip lifted her hand up with such force that it seemed to crush her wrist.

Nina Hua was about to cry from the pain.

The first time I saw him was when he was in the middle of the night, he was in the middle of the night and he was in the middle of the night.

The pain was unbearable, and then the grieving, and the tears fell uncontrollably all at once.

"You let go! It hurts~~"

The man looked slightly stiff.

The woman in front of her had a delicate face, and since she had plumped up a lot because of her pregnancy, she still couldn't stop her charm and style.

When she cried, her glistening tears were like beads with broken strings, pitiful and fragile, making you want to rub her in your arms and love her at first sight.

She was beautiful.

He knew this from the beginning.

If he wasn't beautiful enough, why did he let him fall so deep and hurt so badly in the first place?

The memories of the past came up like a tidal wave, pushing down the little pity that had just risen in his heart.

He smirked, "Why are you crying? I'm here now, aren't I? I haven't cried after looking for you for so long, but you're hiding in this hellhole, causing me to search so hard, so who are you to cry?"

The words he spoke were completely at odds with his tone.

If a different person had said that, it would have come across as him complaining or caring.

But he said it all, but it was only a deep, heavy cold.

Like an endless expanse of cold ice, it radiates coldness from the bones.

Nina Hua trembled, and for a moment, in the end, he wiped his tears.

Eye glanced at the pile of information about her scattered on the floor and smiled pale.

"Season has just returned to the Jin family to acknowledge his ancestors, so why are you looking for me if you're not going to stay home and enjoy yourself? Gee, it's not because of that night that you fell in love with me all over again!"

"Nina Hua!"

Kepler raged.

Nina Hua was holding his wrist and drew a cold breath of pain.

You're still hard-headed.

"Are you only allowed to talk about me and not me about you? What kind of man are you if you use violence at every turn? Let go of me, ah, it hurts."

Kepler gritted his teeth, but in the end his hands loosened up.

Nina Hua knew that he couldn't be defeated by fighting courage.

She took a deep breath, her eyes red and her voice lowered, "Okay, go ahead! What do you want?"

Kepler looked serious and said in a deep voice, "That night, what happened?"

Nina Hua smiled miserably, "What else could it be? Didn't you see it all? I've been thinking about you ever since we parted four years ago, and I've even coveted you all these years.

Is it hard to understand that you were drugged and seduced that night, and then you had a baby in your belly?"

Kepler narrowed his eyes, "I remember that's not what you said in the first place."

Nina Hua snorted, "Haven't you heard? Women are good at lying, and the reason I didn't tell you in the first place was that I didn't want you to think I was just too light."

She paused and added, "Isn't it always said that if a woman is more aggressive, the more a man will despise her, and we were already having s*x, so naturally I couldn't admit that I seduced you, and naturally you had to take the blame for all the mistakes."

Kepler didn't comment on her words, but instead asked, "Then why did you sneak off to a foreign country by yourself again? Everyone who tried to find you couldn't."

Nina Hua sneered, the coldness in his eyes even more, "Because I regret ah, I suddenly don't want to like you again, I don't think you're as good as I thought you were, what, not allowed?"

Her words caused the man's gaze to grow steeply colder, taking a step forward and pressing closer to her.

Nina Hua subconsciously took a step back and looked at him warily, "What do you want? I'm warning you, this is my house."

Kepler looked at her with a wary look and curled his lips in a cold way.

The eyes swept over her, "Where were you thinking? With the way you're looking right now, I'm not hungry enough to get to that point."

His words made Nina Hua choke, furious that he wanted to kick him out.

She got a little irritated and growled low, "Then what are you doing here?"

"I naturally watch my son."

Nina Hua roared low in anger, "Who is your son?"

Kepler's gaze fell on her bulging belly, and the meaning was self-evident.

Nina Hua looked cold and took a step back, "I'm warning you, Kepler, he's my child and has nothing to do with your Ji family or the Jin family."

"But he has my blood in his body."

"So what?" Nina Hua's appearance grew colder and colder, "Other than a rice green seed, you have no other contribution to make to him."

"I'm warning you, don't even think of hitting him, or I'd rather die a fish than make it easy on anyone in your Ji or Jin families."

Chapter 281

Kepler quirked his eyebrows, "I'm looking for my son, what's it to do with the Ji and Jin families?"

Nina Hua stagnated, his eyes flickered slightly and sneered, "Who doesn't know that you are now the darling of both families, and that old lady of the Jin family, didn't she just find you back, precious as hell?Heh, if anything happens to you, I'm afraid they'll even think of jumping off a building."

Kepler looked slightly cold, "Is that so?Since you know, how dare you hide from me?"

"Kepler, they treat you like a treasure, I won't, I'm warning you, don't make me, or else..."

"Or else what?"

"I..."

Nina Hua was momentarily furious, how could this person be so annoying?

Why do you push her so hard when you know there's nothing she can do, when you know she's got nothing left to lose?

Kepler sneered.

"If I prefer this child, what are you going to fight me with?With your three-legged Kung Fu?Or tell your dad so he can beat me up again like he did four years ago?"

Nina Hua stalled.

The cold was like being plucked from the ice.

Her gaze was cold as she looked at him, "You could have given it a shot."

Kepler paused for a moment and suddenly said, "But your father shouldn't treat me like this now, right?After all, four years ago I was just a poor boy with nothing to lose, not worthy of his good girl.

It's different now, I'm the heir of the Jin family, do you think if he knew that his daughter was pregnant with my Kepler's seed, would he be so happy that he would send you to my house in an eight-bearing palanquin?"

"Kepler, don't go too far!"

"I'm just stating the facts, aren't I?"

The two men stood there and suddenly fell silent, the atmosphere in a kind of stalemate.

Nina Hua stared at him with a deadly glare, his eyes filled with resentment.

Kepler sneered and released her.

He turned, lit a cigarette, took a drag, and then sat on the couch looking at the woman in front of him.

I saw her holding her arms and staring at him with a wary face, not at all the gentle person she used to be, like a hedgehog covered in thorns, who could light up her spikes and prick anyone who took a step closer.

He was suddenly a little bored.

The moment he was sure the baby in her belly was his, he was happy.

And the thought never crossed my mind to separate them mother and son.

But right now, looking at her like this, the way she looked, he suddenly felt very uncomfortable.

Who did she think he was? Flood Beast?

You were once so gentle and petty to please him, but now you want to elope with his child? Hide and never see him again?

What is this? Retaliation?

Thinking of this, Kepler's face darkened once again.

Nina Hua calmed down for a moment and finally composed his thoughts.

She straightened up, looked at him calmly and said in a deep voice, "I've already apologized to you for what happened four years ago, that night, I admit, it was wrong of me, but I didn't do it on purpose, so please let me go, okay?"

We're not right for each other. Isn't that what you said yourself in the first place? Why, then, are you still pestering me?

I just want to live a simple, quiet life, and the existence of this child will not affect you in any way as long as you pretend you don't know.

If you're still worried, I can leave again, far enough away that you'll never see him again for the rest of your life, and you won't have to worry about him posing any threat to you, is that bad?"

The man's eyes, swish completely cold.

He gazed coldly at the woman in front of him, his gaze like ice, as if he wanted to freeze people.

"There is no threat? Heh. You expect me to believe that?"

Nina Hua stalled.

Then suddenly I heard him say again, "Actually, you don't have to go to so much trouble to try to leave my seed behind and use him to blackmail me, I know what your Hua family is up to, at any rate, there was a period of time before, if you really want to, it's not like I can't fulfill you."

Nina Hua was so angry that his face was red.

"What are you talking about? Who's blackmailing you?"

"Didn't you try to have this baby just to leave a hold on me?"

He suddenly stood up, pressed closer to her and said in a cold voice: "You know, those bastards of the Jin family, can't tolerate me, but they can't do anything about me, I heard that you seem to be very close with one of them? Since when is it good? Before I slept with you? Or after?"

Nina Hua was so angry that he wanted to raise his hand to hit him, but he held him down.

She could only stare at him, her eyes dense with mist.

"Kepler, you can humiliate me, but don't involve my father! You don't get to talk about him like that!"

"I'm not qualified? Heh."

The light in his eyes was colder, and he held her wrist as if he wanted to crush her bones.

"Back then, he did everything he could to force me to leave. Wasn't it because he thought I was lowly and unworthy of his family? Now that I'm the heir to the Jin family, why am I not qualified to talk about him?"

Nina Hua looked at him, only to feel as if his heart had fallen into an endless abyss, and was so cold.

"Okay, even if this is something he did wrong, but it's been four years and you can't let it go?"

"Can't!"

The words came out as if they had only realized that certain subtle emotions of the heart were being leaked.

He changed his face, violently dropping her hand and turning his back.

"Don't think about it too much, I just won't let go of anyone who has humiliated me, and it's none of your business."

Nina Hua smiled sadly.

"You don't have to remind me, I know."

Naturally, it's irrelevant.

He hated her, and it had been a given from the time she had sided with her father and broken up with him.

Now it seems that time has gone round and round and back again, she may still be the same person she once was, but he is no longer.

Nina Hua suddenly felt inexplicably tired.

She said quietly, "It's getting late, I need to rest, and if there's nothing else, please leave and don't make me call the police."

Kepler sneered, "Call the police? You think I'm afraid?"

I said, and my eyes darted to her stomach as if it were nothing.

Nina Hua gritted his teeth in anger.

This scoundrel.

She said helplessly, "So what do you want? What will it take for you to leave?"

Kepler thought about it, but there was no hurry and walked to the sofa and sat down.

"I'm definitely going to take the child with me, after all, I, Kepler, haven't thought about leaving my seed out there, so during this time, I'll guard you, not an inch away, you don't want to run away, when the child is born, you can go wherever you want.

Oh, by the way, as a token of my appreciation, I will give you a sum of money to secure your future, and don't worry about that, I never treat a woman badly when it comes to money."

Nina Hua was so angry that his face was white.

“Get out!Who wants your stinking money!”

She shouted angrily and pushed him out.

She knew that Kepler was deliberately angry with her.

After all, who didn't know that she, Miss Hua, lacked everything, and the last thing she lacked was money.
