Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 30

Snapped!

The water glass fell to the ground and broke to the ground.

Liam Lu frowned and looked at the empty palm, his eyelids twitched for no apparent reason.

He glanced at the closed door with a deep expression, the woman hadn't returned yet.

Thinking of her abnormality today, Liam Lu felt more restless and uneasy, pulled out the charging cable sideways, took the phone and started making calls.

The familiar ringtone keeps ringing.

Just when Liam Lu lost his patience and was about to hang up the phone, Zoey Gu's light and fluttering voice suddenly rang.

"it's me."

She seemed to be driving, and Liam Lu could vaguely hear the sound of the wind passing by the half-open window.

For no reason, his heart was shaken.

"Zoey Gu, where are you? Where did you get the car?"

In response to him, the wind grew stronger.

A bad premonition came to his mind, Liam Lu's hand tightened, and the volume was raised subconsciously.

"Zoey Gu, I'm asking you something!"

The car roared into the driveway, passed through the dense forest, and stopped a hundred meters away from the cliff.

The wind stopped.

Zoey Gu's voice came from a distant and vain voice, "Liam Lu, do you know? Just now, my father and younger brother died."

"Zoey Gu, what are you playing? Your father and brother are not abroad…"

Liam Lu was halfway through, and he glanced over the TV inadvertently, pausing instantly when he saw the content above.

"The news I just got is that two men, one old and one young, are driving…"

He was taken aback.

That was… Zoey Gu's father and younger brother!

Liam Lu stood up suddenly, staring at the TV screen with shocked eyes, and gritted his teeth every word.

"Zoey Gu, what are you hiding from me? How many things I don't know?!"

At this moment, Liam Lu couldn't tell whether it was anger or panic. Before Zoey Gu could speak, he strode to the hallway, opened the door and rushed out.

"Zoey Gu, you said you would wait for me and tell me everything personally. I hate others not being punctual in my life. Now I am back. Give you half an hour and show me right away!"

He rushed to the elevator, and the hand that pressed the elevator trembled inexplicably.

"Or you wait for me and I come to find you. You want a chance, I'll give it to you!"

The next second, Zoey Gu's very soft voice rang.

"No need. My father and brother are gone, I don't want anything anymore." Including this life.

"you dare?!"

The black Bentley rushed out like a gust of wind. Liam Lu clasped the steering wheel firmly, his eyes were scarlet, and the veins on his forehead violently jumped.

"Zoey Gu, your life is mine! You used to owe me so much, and I have to get it back from you little by little. Without my permission…"

Zoey Gu smiled softly.

"Since I owe it, I will pay you my life, OK?"

She clenched the steering wheel, looked up at the distant cliff, imagined her father and brother rushing down here in despair, and closed her eyes.

"Liam, everything should be over. These years, I'm really tired."