

Chapter 31

It was like Jenny had heard a joke.

She looked sarcastically at Rovell Mu, "You mean, it's only them who are wrong? You're not wrong?"

Rovell stiffened slightly.

He took a deep breath and explained, "I didn't know you were drugged last night, I did notice something was wrong with you at the time, but I didn't think about it that way, and I was going to help you then, but Maya suddenly had a stomach ache and I couldn't leave her alone."

Jenny Jing raised his eyebrows, "And then? Did she lose her baby?"

Rovell stalled for a moment, but in the end, he answered, "No."

"If she didn't drop it, then why does her flat stomach hurt for no reason? And didn't I just see her okay? And it's not like there's any sign of miscarriage!"

Rovell Mu's face was slightly cold.

"What do you mean?"

Jenny Jing absently laughed, "It's nothing interesting, I just think that such poor acting skills can fool you, Rovell Mu, it seems that I really overestimated you in the past!"

"Jenny!"

What Rovell couldn't stand the most was the way Jenny Jing looked down on him.

That would remind him of a lot...a lot...

He completely sank and gritted his teeth, "Would you please stop making your words so hard to hear? After all, Clara is your sister, if you don't like it, just don't see her again, why do you have to be so vicious to curse others? You clearly weren't like this before!"

Jenny Jing also looked cold.

She sneered and looked at Rovell Mu with cold eyes.

"They're so calculated to harm me, and you think I'm vicious when I say a miscarriage? Then why don't you think about what she's done to me?"

Rovell stalled slightly, still a bit underwhelmed in the end.

Eventually just coldly, "You don't end up being fine? Besides, it may not have anything to do with Maya!"

Jenny smiled sarcastically and shook his head, sort of really not even bothering to talk to him.

She turned in the direction of the Rolls Royce.

Behind him, however, there was a sudden, "Wait!"

Jenny paused in his tracks, his face cold.

Rovell came up and stopped a step away from her.

Drizzle drifted between the two like an invisible barrier separating them.

She snarled, "Say what you have to say! I don't have that much time to spend with you!"

Rovell tightened his grip, and in the end, he asked the question that he wanted to ask the most in his heart.

"You and him are...really together?"

Jenny naturally understood who the "he" he was asking about was.

She lifted her lips slightly, not looking back, but her head tilted slightly just enough for him to see the smile that lifted her lips.

"So what if it is?"

"When was that?"

"What do you care?"

Rovell: "..."

He paused and said in a deep voice, "Biden Lu is not as simple as you think, he has a complicated background and is not a good match for you, you will regret it sooner or later if you stay with him!"

Jenny laughed.

That smile, I can't tell you how sad and ironic it is.

"Some people used to say we were a match made in heaven, a perfect match, but what happened?"

Rovell: "..."

"Rovell, don't always think you're the one who understands everything, and in the end you'll find out that you know nothing and understand nothing!"

She said, no longer interested in getting involved with him, and strode away on her heels.

Someone had already greeted us with an umbrella.

An ebony umbrella was held over her head, respectfully.

Someone bent over to pull open the car door for her, Jenny sat in, that posture couldn't say cold and arrogant and reserved.

Rovell stood there and watched as the car door closed, drifting off.

He suddenly realized that he never seemed to understand this woman.

For six whole years, he remembered her as if he were still stuck in that summer six years ago.

The girl in a blue school uniform with a high ponytail and a pile of exercise books in her hands smiled sweetly at him.

At that moment, his heart was like spring snow, and it was wonderful.

And then later the memory is fuzzy.

Mo Caiwei is in trouble, the Jing family changes hands, and she leaves the country.

She didn't seem to smile at him much anymore, and those soft, delicate sounds were gradually replaced by cold, quiet ones.

Like a piece of ice that won't melt for a thousand years, you have no idea what she's thinking, much less how to cover the ice.

You stand in front of her and it seems like you're close, but you know that you're far away.

So far away that you can't touch her heart, so far away that you feel...if you can, don't even start that relationship six years ago.

And because of that, he had always felt that breaking up was the best option.

He loved Clara, and Clara loved him, and Jenny was nothing more than a brief but beautiful dream of his youth.

He had already woken up for this dream, but he hadn't been able to wake her up because he couldn't bear it.

Now this is just right.

But why do you feel a little sad?

When watching her get into another man's car, when watching the men treat her with respect, like the most noble princess in the world.

Why did he actually feel a little panicked?

It's like, a piece of something that had been occupied for a long time was suddenly taken away.

The place had a hole broken in it, empty, and the cold breeze coming in chilled the spine a bit.

Rovell lost his mind and walked back, and his phone rang just then.

He picked up mechanically, across from the angry voice of Miron.

"What the hell is going on? Is Clara's family really that shameless? How dare you do such a shameless thing?!"

Only then did Rovell come back to his senses and slowed down, "Dad, it's a long story, I'll come back and explain it to you."

.....

The black Rolls-Royce sped down the early morning highway.

Inside the car, Jenny pursed her lips and smiled at the man sitting next to her.

Biden Lu was a little uncomfortable by her look and coughed out.

Then, suddenly, he reached out and pushed her face away.

Jenny stifled a laugh.

"Mr. Lu, I'll remember your great kindness today! I'll definitely repay you later on."

In the meantime, Biden Lu's eyebrows were slightly furrowed and he looked at her off to the side, "What did you call me?"

Jenny's smile stiffened.

A touch of coldness crossed the bottom of Biden Lu's eyes, "Mrs. Lu, do you need me to teach you how to address your own husband?"

Jenny: "....."

She shook her head evenly, "No."

"Let's hear the scream first."

Jenny was in a difficult position, "This, now ah?Would it be...not good?"

Ahead, Vicky said immediately, "Young lady, I'm deaf and can't hear."

Jenny: "....."

A cold eye from Biden Lu swept over, and Vicky immediately shut his mouth, incidentally raising the middle flap up.

Jennyton was even more speechless.

I'm just saying a few words, that's all.

As if they were doing something shady back there!

She suddenly blushed at the thought.

Yuck!What are you thinking about?

Chapter 32

Biden Lu looked at her with a smile like a smile, "How is it?Can I call now?"

Jenny awkwardly heaves twice.

Seeing that he had been waiting, she was reluctant to do anything else.

It took an effort to hold out the words, "Honey."

It's so quiet that it's unlikely a mosquito could hear it.

Biden Lu raised his eyebrows and put his ear over, "What did you call me?"

Jenny gritted his teeth.

Raising his voice a little higher, "Honey."

"I didn't hear you."

Jenny:

Forget it. You've made it this far, why do you need a face?

She simply hugged his neck and suddenly leaned into his ear and yelled, "Honey!"

After yelling, the very beguiling fire loosened and shrank to the other side.

Biden Lu was startled.

Turning his head, he stared at her incredulously.

Jenny turned his face to the side, so he was calm.

Actually a lot of panic inside.

Suddenly, a pleasant chuckle sounded in my ears.

She was a little startled and wondered if the man was being silly by yelling at her. How dare you laugh!

Turning his eyes and looking over curiously, he saw Biden Lu holding back a smile and said, "I just wanted you to call me Mr. Lu, I didn't expect you to be so enthusiastic and directly call me husband, hmm... In that case, I'll follow the custom and call you wife."

Afterwards, he also pulled out a small box from his pocket and placed an exquisite diamond ring on her ring finger.

Jennyton was stunned.

It's like rubbing my brain like a ball of mush, completely confused!

What's this, what's this, what's this...what's going on?

Without waiting for her to respond, the man took her ringed hand again and placed it on his lips for a k*ss.

"Happy Newlywed, wife!"

Jenny: "....."

In hindsight, she finally reacted to the fact that she had been played by this man!

A clear face burned red for a moment, incredibly freaked out!

He just did it on purpose!

She was so angry that she tried to take the ring off, but he held it down.

"Honey, you can't just pick this stuff, it's a mark, hit the mark you're mine, for life, no turning back!"

Jenny was about to cry with anger.

"Biden Lu, what if I want to go back on my word right now?"

"Take your thoughts back!"

Biden Lu said overbearingly.

Jenny wanted to cry.

Just at that moment, the phone suddenly dinged.

She had to stop hating it, for the sake of the man who had helped her tonight, and to put it on the books first.

I touched my phone and saw that it was a WeChat from Nina Hua.

The WeChat message also had a link attached to it, the same video link that Biden Lu had sent out.

[Jenny, I just got off work and saw the news. Are you okay?]

Nina Hua was filming night scenes these days, and apart from the occasional day off, he started work in the afternoon almost every day and didn't finish until five or six in the morning.

Because of this, she didn't go to Clara's birthday party.

Jenny quickly returned a message.

I'm fine, don't worry.

[It's good that you're okay. The Jing family has gone too far! It's infuriating!

They'll get what they deserve.

[Well, if there's anything I can do to help, just let me know. I'll have my assistant keep an eye on the phone for the next few days.]

Jenny quirked the corner of his lips, a warmth dripping through his heart.

She quickly returned [Okay, thank you, Faraway].

Followed by a string of k*sses and love.

Nina Hua also replied with the same k*sses and love.

Between girlfriends, it's customary to carry this charm in conversation.

No. Even through the screen, you can feel each other's care and love.

Next to it, some guy was not looking good.

He hadn't intended to peek at someone's phone, but it was because of the limited space in the car and he was too good at eye contact.

Accidentally glancing over, I caught sight of their chat.

That string of k*sses and love hearts, when it really stung.

He snorted coldly and said in a deep voice, "Nina Hua? You're close to her?"

Jenny nodded, "Well, we went to high school together, and she's my best friend since we were kids."

"Heh! How can there be any real friends in the entertainment industry? Beware of being sold and helping to count the money."

Jenny frowned.

She turned to look at him and said seriously, "No matter which circle, there will be false feelings and true intentions, you can't generalize, and you can't just stick it out, not to mention that when I was playing well with Yao Yao, she wasn't even in the entertainment industry yet!"

Biden Lu snorted softly.

"Naive!"

Jenny: "....."

Some anger!

Simply ignoring him, I took a pillow in my arms and turned around.

After an all-night toss, she was already tired.

Leaning against the window of the car, I was just going to squint for a bit, but I fell asleep before I knew it.

It was quiet inside the car, and outside the windows, a line of white light had risen in the sky, and the dawn was slowly blooming in the hazy mist.

The number of cars on the road began to pick up, interspersed with the noise of street commuters on bikes and morning runners.

Biden Lu whispered to Vicky to slow down the speed of the car, and then took off his jacket and put it on Jenny Jing, before closing his eyes and leaning on the back seat for a nap.

Jenny woke up in a warm embrace.

When I opened my eyes, it was still the same outside, it would be bright and unlit, with a line of white morning light in the sky.

The surroundings were somewhat unfamiliar, and she rubbed her eyes, looking closely only to find that this place looked familiar, having been here before, as if it were a land garden.

Looking up again, a fierce shock to the face that was so handsome above his head.

"Ah-!"

With a gasp of surprise, it came to me that I was being held across his arms and heading into the house.

"Biden Lu, put me down!"

Biden Lu looked down at her with a thin smile in his eyes.

"Awake?"

Jenny's face flushed slightly as she quietly scanned the surroundings and found a row of servants standing at the door, Vicky standing on their far right, all with a pleased smile on their faces.

She covered her face for a moment, wanting to die.

"Put me down! I can walk on my own!"

Jenny gritted his teeth to muffle the sound.

Biden Lu chuckled lightly, finally respecting her thoughts and bending down to put her down.

"Hello, sir! Ma'am! Welcome home!"

Qi Qi's voice was incomparably loud, startling Jenny.

Then the sound of a cannon salute was heard.

"Pop-!"

"Pop-!"

"Pop-!"

"Pop-!"

"....."

It rang for a full five or six minutes before the party stopped.

Jenny was so frightened that she almost fell, but luckily Biden Lu held her back so that she didn't lose this face.

After firing the salute, Vicky came up with a pleasing face.

"Ma'am, how about this elaborate welcome I've prepared for you? Like it?"

Jenny smiled stiffly, looked at him, and nodded with difficulty.

"Oh... like, very much."

"It's good that you like it."

After saying that, he even winked at Biden Lu with a rewarding expression.

Biden Lu was in a good mood, so naturally he wouldn't be stingy and waved his hand, "Double the bonus this month!"

"Thank you, President!"

Chapter 33

Biden Lu led Jenny Jing to the row of servants and said in a deep voice, "Introducing to everyone, this is my wife Jenny Jing, from now on she is the mistress of this place, you must respect her as much as you respect me, understand?"

The maids responded in unison, "Understood!"

Only then did Biden Lu nod his head in satisfaction, holding Jenny Jing's hand and walking inside.

Jenny's head was a little muddled.

Until now, she hadn't quite realized how she had followed this man to Land Park.

As she entered the bedroom, she finally reacted and rushed to hold him back.

"That, I, I came here..."

"From now on, you'll live here."

Biden Lu looked at her seriously.

Jenny's heart thudded.

It seemed like this was the moment to really believe that he wasn't joking about getting married, that he was serious.

Biden Lu raised his hand to summon a maid and said in a deep voice, "Aunt Liu, take your wife to familiarize herself with the environment."

The maid, who was called Aunt Liu, came forward happily in succession and responded, "Yes, Madam, please follow me."

Jenny looked at Biden Lu, the other was undoing his tie and seemed to be planning to go wash up.

She pursed her lips, didn't say anything, and turned to follow Aunt Liu.

The land garden is large, with a single house design and a large garden outside with a variety of exotic flowers and trees for viewing.

At the back is a lush green lawn, next to the garden is a swimming pool, the turquoise lawn blue water is blown in ripples by the wind in the golden dawn, it looks quite like a paradise.

Jenny strolled around outside, and Aunt Liu took her through the entire villa again.

She just realized that Biden Lu had actually prepared her room for her already.

The bedroom is naturally shared by two people, but the study as well as the cloakroom are separate.

Her study and cloakroom were both on the third floor, and there were so many books in the study that she was actually surprised to find that most of the books on there were ones she liked very much.

There were even a few lone copies of it that she had searched for a long time and never found!

There's also a cloakroom, over a hundred square feet, with all the latest clothes, bags and shoes of the season.

Her most faithfully designed items hang all over the wardrobe, pretty much every piece!

Jenny couldn't help but swallow her saliva.

Truly...the trenches are unrivaled!

But it was a side effect of the fact that the man had already made up his mind that he wanted her to move in.

She couldn't help but drop her eyes slightly, and wondered how long the man had been thinking about it.

Looking at the layout of the place, isn't three days a little too soon?

With questions in mind, Jenny returned to the first floor bedroom.

Biden Lu was taking a shower, and she strolled around the bedroom with her arms folded, finding that the bedroom was a bit simple compared to the extravagant style of the entire villa.

Simple black, white and grey tones, with a large expanse of floor-to-ceiling windows to the west and a large terrace with a neatly manicured green lawn beneath it.

Against one side of the wall was a black bookshelf with mostly financial and magazine books, but also some car magazines.

In addition to these, there were a few small ornaments or trophies or whatever, one of which had a picture on it.

It's a prize about blue ball competition category that Biden Lu took, the man with a head of hair cut above a lazy smile, a pair of dark eyes but seems to have knives and arrows, can feel sharp and compelling through the photo.

She couldn't help but smile and look closely at the name underneath the trophy.

The St. John's University Blue Jays championship?

Did he read there too?

Jenny was slightly surprised.

For no other reason, she first arrived abroad five years ago, when she was introduced by an old friend of her mother's, who was also studying at the same university.

I can't believe this.

It's fate!

Jenny didn't think much of it, and at that moment, the sound of the bathroom door opening behind him sounded.

Biden Lu stepped out.

He had no clothes on, just a towel around his waist, and the glistening droplets of water rolling down his chest were s*xy as hell.

Under the short, messy hair, a pair of deep eyebrows were even more like two whirlpools, as if they were trying to suck her in.

Jenny Jing's face stiffened, momentarily embarrassed.

It was as if even the air had pressed a little tighter.

Her eyes darted about, not knowing where to put them.

Biden Lu saw the situation and took a direct step towards her.

He had a towel in his hand, wiping his damp hair as he picked up the trophy she'd been staring at earlier.

"You're watching this?"

"Huh?Hmm."

Jenny echoed uncomfortably.

As if he didn't notice her nervousness, Biden Lu put the trophy down and said in a soft voice, "I won this when I was a part-time visiting professor at a school in F country, it's not a big prize, but it was an interesting experience."

Jenny was slightly surprised.

"Professor?"

Biden Lu raised his eyebrows, "What?"

"Oh, not much."

All right!She forgot that a big man is a big man, so how could he be going to school?

He was in his early twenties and had already taken over the Koo Group, and all the big names in the business world called him a genius.

Lu Jing gave her a deep glance and asked, "You know about this school too?"

Jenny nodded.

"I read here five years ago."

Biden Lu laughed.

"That's really fate."

His gaze was deep and dark, as if it contained something unknown and complex that Jenny couldn't quite understand.

But she didn't think much of it, and then she heard the man's deep voice.

"Want to take a shower?"

Jenny was still a little uncomfortable with her new surroundings, and felt uncomfortable when she thought about the fact that this man had also used the bathroom just now.

And too embarrassed to offer to use the guest bath, I had to shake my head.

"So help me with my hair?"

He handed over the towel.

Jenny was startled, but didn't refuse.

Take the towel and once he's sitting on the couch, press it up and gently wipe him for him.

The man's hair was short, but not particularly hard, and there was something odd about running your fingertips through it.

Jenny tried to restrain herself from thinking nonsensically, since she had accepted the fact that she was married to Biden Lu and had actually enjoyed the benefits he brought to her, she had to try to get used to living with him.

After a while, the hair rubbed until it was half dry.

Biden Lu took the hairdryer and saw her standing there the whole time, a little funny.

Walking over to her, he took her hand and sat her down on the bed.

Jenny was a little confused, and when he saw him lift his leg in the next second, he cringed in reflex.

"What are you doing?"and

Lu Jing deepened his gaze, seemingly smiling.

"Mrs. Lu, aren't you tired after a hard day and night?"

Not to mention, Jenny was a bit tired.

She nodded.

"Then why don't you go to bed?"

"Now?"

"Well, get some sleep and I'll wake you when it's time to get up."

Jenny was confused as he took off the slippers on his own feet, and when he came back to his senses, the person was already pushed down on the bed.

Chapter 34

She was tense and had the feeling of being rushed to the torture chamber.

However, the man didn't do anything more.

He changed into his pajamas and lay down next to her as well, then wrapped his arms around her body from behind and locked her in his arms.

Jenny's spine stiffened.

The air was filled with a faint scent of pine, and the pillows were full of the cool scent that belonged to this man.

Combined with the hot heat from behind, she felt, surrounded by the smell that belonged to him, and the self was like a bird caught in a tightly controlled area.

It was good that Biden Lu was still true to his word.

Although it would be a bit uncomfortable to circle her like that, there was no other action.

She was so sleepy that at first she managed to stay awake, but when she got to the back, and the sound of the man's even breathing came from behind her, she felt her eyelids getting heavy as well, and before long, she was asleep.

When I woke up, it was already sunset.

Jenny didn't think she would sleep this long and woke up with a shock, looking at her phone, it was already five in the afternoon.

She rubbed her face, snapping out of her hazy sleep.

Looking next to it, it was empty, and Biden Lu was long gone.

Downstairs, only to learn that there was a temporary emergency at the company, Biden Lu was called to the office.

She asked Aunt Liu, "What time did he leave?"

Aunt Liu smiled and replied, "She left at eleven in the morning, saying that you were tired, young lady, and asked us not to disturb you, so that you could rest more."

Jenny dropped his eyes slightly.

11:00 a.m. That means he didn't sleep much.

Thinking that last night, because of himself, toiling this man hard all night and no time to rest today, a whiff of guilt suddenly rose in his heart.

"Young lady, you must be hungry! Shall we start dinner now or wait for the gentleman to join us?"

"Wait for him to come along!"

Jenny said, heading upstairs.

Halfway to the door, I touched my stomach and said, "If you have any food, send me some up first, I'll pad my stomach."

Aunt Liu replied with a smiling face, "Good."

Aunt Liu brought her a bowl of delicious chicken soup and a stack of small crispy cakes.

Jenny Jing sat cross-legged on the sofa, eating beautifully while logging on to check the latest news from the Jing family.

The Jing family in Visterdem is also a big family no matter how you say it, plus the identity of Clara, last night made such a big commotion, whether it's financial reporters or entertainment reporters, won't let go of this piece of fat meat in front of you.

So, as soon as you open the network today, you'll immediately see the latest news they've published.

As she had expected, everyone in the King family had been bailed out.

After all, Kelly Wang wasn't really involved in the specific operation of murdering Jenny Jing.

Despite the fact that the crusade against her up there is still strong, the police can't find evidence and can't keep the person detained, so they have to release her.

But Chan Wing-tat wasn't so lucky.

Based on the clues provided by Jenny, the police found the cup where Chen Yongda had drugged the cup, which was confirmed by the waiter's testimony that Chen Yongda had drugged the cup himself.

The evidence for the murder is complete, and Chan Wing-tat will face criminal prosecution.

Jenny Jing hooked his lips slightly.

It didn't surprise her in the least that the King family would be bailed out.

Kelly Wang, that old fox, never leaves a handle on people when doing bad things.

Even if there was a video taken by Biden Lu as proof, that video, at most, could only cause public opinion to condemn her, and could not be used as evidence to convict.

Because she could have said that she was threatened and had no choice but to say that.

And in fact Biden Lu did use extraordinary means to threaten her.

Thinking of this, Jenny stroked his chin.

She knew that the reason Biden Lu recorded such a video and released it was only because last night there were many People have seen how involved she is with Chan Wing-tat.

Although he later shows up and saves her, most people are still in a fog about her relationship with Chen Yongda.

Because of what happened five years ago, Jenny's reputation in Visterdem hadn't been very good.

If we add this to the list, her reputation will be completely ruined!

Maybe not only a charge of stealing, but a charge of cheating and debauchery as well!

By then, even if she had ten mouths, she wouldn't be able to tell.

Throughout the ages, if you want to commit a crime, you have no excuse!

And Biden Lu had obviously already discerned Kelly Wang's thoughts.

So then she was forced to tell her herself the dirty deed she did, and then video-recorded it and threw the pot of dirty water back at her!

It has proven to be very effective.

Now the public opinion on it was almost entirely in favor of Jenny, although there were a few blind ones who had to feel that the Jing family was right.

But it's just a drop in the ocean and can be completely ignored!

And King's stock, even more so because of last night, is down across the board!

There are a couple of Ming Ming that have been rising well, and are old industries that have been going well for so many years, it's reasonable to say that something like last night is just a family scandal and shouldn't have so much impact.

But it still felt so hard that it went from all red to all green overnight.

With a little thought, Jenny realized whose handiwork it was.

She quirked her lips slightly, felt for her phone, and called out.

Meanwhile, Lu.

Biden Lu is in a meeting.

The atmosphere in the conference room was tense, with all the top executives of the branch all present, all staring nervously at the big man sitting on the throne.

Suddenly, someone's phone buzzed and vibrated twice.

Everyone changed their faces for a moment, and you looked at me and I looked at you with a dazed expression.

Immediately afterwards, it was evident that the CEO sitting at the head suddenly took out his mobile phone from his pocket, took a look at it, and then his taut face immediately became like a spring breeze, the corners of his mouth slightly curled up, announced that the meeting was suspended, got up and walked out.

Everyone was stunned.

Who doesn't know that the self-same Lord Boss hates to be disturbed in meetings.

Don't say a phone call, even a message can refute his anger.

But what's going on here today?

Not only did the president answer the phone, but he announced a pause in the meeting when it was at its most critical?

Everyone suddenly turned their curious gazes to Vicky.

Summers sat on the side and cleared his throat at the sight.

"Uh...well, there's been a big deal lately, and, well, the president's been talking business!"

The crowd dawned.

If you can be called a big business by the president's special assistant who handles tens of billions of dollars without changing his face, then this single business must be very big indeed.

No wonder the CEO is so flexible and willing to change his rule of not answering the phone for the other side of the meeting!

The president is great!

The executives silently raised a surging admiration for Biden Lu in their hearts.

On the other hand, Biden Lu, who was talking about "big business", stopped in the corridor and picked up the phone.

"Awake?"

Jenny was embarrassed, "Well, didn't you say you would call me? How did you let me sleep through this?"

Biden Lu smiled softly, his eyes gentle, "Sorry, I got busy and forgot."

Jenny paused for a moment and suddenly asked, "What time are you coming back?"

"Well?"

"I'm... waiting for you to eat!"

She spoke in an odd tone, like she was uncomfortable with the way she spoke, but still couldn't hide the concern in that tone.

It's time to eat and rest after a hard day's work.

Chapter 35

Biden Lu raised the corners of his lips, and even his always sparse eyebrows were tinged with a smile.

"Okay, I'll be back soon."

"So that's it?"

"Well, bye."

Hanging up, he looked at the phone and smiled pleasantly.

The sunset slanted down, the golden light spilling from the horizon to the earth, as if to give the world a warm glow, and even the heart was wrapped in a warmth.

He put the phone away, turned, and walked into the conference room.

The executives were waiting for him, and the marketing manager standing in front of the projector was about to continue his report on the next plan, but was interrupted by Biden Lu raising his hand.

"Alright, we are all tired today, the meeting is here for now, the few proposals I just pointed out that need to be revised you guys take them back and revise them all over again, and bring them to me for review tomorrow morning, that's it, meeting adjourned!"

He said, already striding away first.

The executives were stunned.

This, this, this, this....

Is this the end of the meeting?

In the past, whenever Biden Lu called for a meeting, which one didn't last until midnight?

Later in the day, 11 or 12 isn't unheard of!

You're early today?

It's only after 5pm, boss!

Not only the executives, but even Vicky was slightly shocked inside.

When Biden Lu went out to answer the phone just now, he accidentally glanced at the caller ID on his phone screen and knew that it was from Jenny Jing.

And yet, I didn't think she'd be so charming!

Can you get your own boss, who has always been known as a workaholic, to give up his job just to come home and have dinner with her?

Vicky silently decided in his mind, well, it looks like he'll have to change his strategy from now on!

It doesn't matter how well you serve the boss, you have to suck up to his wife first!

.....

After Jenny Jing finished calling Biden Lu, he went to call Kelly Wang.

The King family was in a depression at the moment.

Rovell Mu had been called back by Patrick Hong, so he wasn't here, and in the living room sat Kelly Wang and Clara, as well as Kevin Jing and his wife.

The atmosphere was very silent and no one spoke.

Therefore, when the phone rings, it becomes especially abrupt and jarring.

Kelly Wang impatiently looked at the housekeeper Wang Fu, and Wang Fu even walked over to pick it up.

A few seconds later, he trotted back and whispered, "Old lady, it's Missy."

Kelly Wang sneered.

"She has the nerve to call back!"

Wang Fu lowered his head and didn't dare to speak.

Clara said softly and timidly, "Grandmother, could it be that my sister realized that she had gone too far this time and called to apologize?"

Kevin Jing cursed angrily, "She thinks an apology is the end of it? Can she afford to pay for all the company's losses?"

Kelly Wang listened to Clara's words, but her eyes flickered.

I don't know what came to mind, but I got up and walked over to the phone.

"Something wrong?"

Across the room, Jenny hooked the corner of his lips.

"Mrs. King, has it been a good day and night?"

Kelly Wang looked gloomy and said coldly, "You don't have to call back to mock me, even though things have come to this, the Jing family has lost face, as a member of the Jing family, your face is nowhere to be seen!"

"Yeah? I'm a little surprised to find out that in your old lady's mind, I'm still considered a member of the Jing family!"

These words, obviously laced with sarcasm, caused Kelly Wang's throat to lag.

Something was close to spilling out.

But she pressed on in the end, sinking

Voice: "What are you trying to say?"

"It's nothing, it's just a legacy from my mother, the original condition was that I had to wait until I got married before I could inherit it, now that I'm married, shouldn't you give it back to me too?"

Kelly Wang's eyes flickered.

She didn't refuse, but said coldly, "When do you want it?"

"Naturally, the sooner the better."

"The day after tomorrow at the earliest, the notary's lawyer is not in Visterdem right now, I need time to inform him."

"No problem!"

The conversation broke off at this point and there was silence on the phone.

Just as Jenny Jing was about to hang up, across the street, Kelly Wang suddenly sighed.

"Jenny, I know that the resentment you've built up towards me and the Jing family over the past five years is deep, and I admit that I'm the one who's lacking in consideration on this matter.

But I'm your grandmother anyway, they're your father and sister too, you can hate us all you want, that's our own family, but how can you join forces with anyone outside to deal with us?"

Jenny laughed abruptly at the words.

"Old Lady Jing, when you were looking for Chen Yongda to discuss framing me together, did you ever think that we were family?"

Kelly Wang: "....."

"If you're trying to play the affectionate card with me so that I can persuade Biden Lu to leave you alone, I'm sorry, but I can't."

"You!"

Kelly Wang blushed with anger and gritted her teeth as she whispered, "This is also your mother's property! And you really can't bear to see them destroyed?"

Jenny's tone was suddenly cold.

"Since you also know that it belongs to my mother, it should be returned to me as well! Otherwise, even if the fish die, I won't make it easy for you!"

Finished, snapping off the phone.

Kelly Wang covered her chest, breathing so hard that her face was white with anger.

Clara saw the situation and hurried forward to help her, shouting in alarm, "Grandma, are you okay?"

Yu Xiu Lian also rushed forward, together with help her to sit down on the sofa, and took the medicine she gave to take.

Kelly Wang's face only got a little better this time.

She leaned hard on her crutches and looked pained, "This wretch!"

King had just heard the phone call and worriedly asked, "Mom, what do we do now?"

Kelly Wang shook her head, looking tired.

"Don't ask me, I don't know right now, just take it one step at a time!"

.....

On the other hand, Jenny was in a great mood after hanging up the phone.

Pinching his fingers to count the time, he estimated that Biden Lu was almost home, which was why he went downstairs.

It was now six o'clock in the afternoon, and as soon as she came downstairs, she literally saw a black Rolls Royce pull up in front of the courtyard.

Vicky opened the door for him, and the man stepped out of the car in the twilight, the setting sun spreading out behind him, covering his slender body with a thin layer of golden light, looking like a god.

Biden Lu had a jacket in his arm, and when he saw her standing in the doorway, wearing a housecoat and looking like a little daughter-in-law, he smiled slowly.

"Wait for me?"

He came over to her and reached out and rubbed her head.

Jenny stiffened slightly, somewhat unaccustomed to such an intimate and pampered way of dealing with him.

So ducking back slightly, that's when he said, "I came out to see the sunset."

Biden Lu smiled even deeper.

Didn't poke her upstairs terrace to watch the sunset as well and had a much better view of the full picture.

Just smiled and ruffled her hair again before bending over to change her shoes.

After changing into her slippers, she took her hand in passing and went inside.

Dinner had already been prepared in the kitchen, and since it was Jenny's first meal at Land Garden, it was extraordinarily well prepared.
