

Chapter 321 Mr. Ryan You're Out of My League (3)

It was the night before New Year's Day when Kenneth saw Eloise again.

Kenneth had a 12-hour meeting and was exhausted. On the way back to the hotel, he was resting with his eyes closed in the car.

There were two lavender bunny dolls next to him.

They were cute and cuddly, but they looked out of place.

Kaleb turned and said with a smile, "You'll be able to see Eloise tomorrow. It's been a long time. She may be no longer mad at you."

Kenneth stroked the bunny ears and said, "She's such a baby. I don't want to see her that much."

Kaleb laughed.

Kenneth laughed along with him...

In a good mood, Kenneth rolled the window down, looked out at the lights, and sighed, "A year has passed! I'm one year older!"

Kaleb said softly, "You're still in your prime!"

He was not wrong about that.

Given Kenneth's age and position, he was indeed in his prime.

Hearing this, Kenneth patted his pants leg and laughed, "I'm in my prime? Madelyn is going to be a mom next year, and I'm going to be a granduncle..."

There were only three of them in the car, so they talked freely.

Kaleb joked, "With your ability, it wouldn't be hard for you to have a baby!"

The driver laughed.

Kenneth lit a cigarette and laughed, "You're getting more out of line, dude!"

Kaleb made some more witty remarks.

But what could Kenneth give her?

The StellaLou he lined up to buy, or his true feelings that he bottled up?

It was ridiculous!

Kenneth had never felt so self-loathing in his life... Eloise looked up and saw him in his light-colored tweed suit that accentuated his good figure, grace, and dignity.

Kenneth was shinier than the whole night sky.

In front of Eloise was the young man who said he liked her...

Eloise unconsciously murmured, "Uncle Ryan!"

Kenneth looked at her silently.

After what seemed an eternity, Kenneth felt his eyes hurt. A faint smile curled his mouth as he nodded at Eloise. Then he got into the black RV.

Four black Audi drove away slowly.

Kenneth sat in the car, with two cute rabbit dolls beside him.

With his eyes closed, Kenneth leaned back and whispered to Kaleb in the front seat, "Book a flight for tomorrow morning."

Kaleb hesitated about saying his thoughts.

After a few moments, he summoned up the courage to say, "You were supposed to give her what you lined up for personally."

Kenneth held a hand over his eyes. His Adam's apple moved up and down in his throat. "Have someone send the dolls to Madelyn, and tell her that it's for her and Eloise. Don't say I bought them."

Kenneth was too proud to let anybody know that he fell in love with Eloise.

He gave her up again.

Kenneth sat silently in the car. He had never felt inferior before. But when the young man told Eloise he liked her, Kenneth felt less confident.

What he did was too insignificant compared to what that young man did...

Kenneth felt unworthy of Eloise.

The fireworks were all over the sky, and everywhere was bustling with life. But unbeknownst to Kenneth, the girl he loved was standing there all alone behind him...

As the bell rang at the stroke of midnight on New Year's Eve, Eloise mouthed Kenneth's name with red eyes, "Uncle Ryan..."

Chapter 322 He Also Called Her Name In His Dream

On New Year's Day, she received the rabbit.

Even if Madelyn didn't say it, Eloise still guessed that this rabbit was sent by Kenneth.

Recently, Mr. Ryan went to Esrand.

At night, she lay on the big white bed, hugging the rabbit.

She missed Uncle Ryan.

She thought that since she had received a gift, she needed to thank him by courtesy. Besides, it was New Year and she should say 'Happy New Year' to him...

Finally, she sent him a WhatsApp message.

[Happy New Year, Uncle Ryan!]

After waiting for a long time, he finally replied a [Happy New Year].

The simple three words made his little girl cry, burying her face in the blanket and secretly crying, crying for emotions she couldn't confide in.

Whenever she fell in love with a man, she could fearlessly confess it to him.

She could express frankly: I like you!

But this person was Kenneth, he was Mr. Ryan!

He was also Madelyn's uncle.

Eloise detested herself but couldn't help but like him. She, who usually didn't watch news, began to watch TV and read newspapers intentionally or unintentionally, and sometimes even secretly listened when her father and brother talked about that person.

But she knew clearly deep down that he didn't belong to her!

In Vadiff. It was night.

Kenneth, dressed in a well fitting formal attire, sat in the office quietly entranced by his phone.

Kaleb pushed the door in.

"Mr. Ryan, are you ready? Everyone outside is waiting for your thrill up!"

Kenneth did not move.

Kaleb walked over and spoke softly, "What's wrong, Mr. Ryan?"

Eloise trembled in her voice and called out to Uncle Ryan. Kenneth's originally more unpleasant words were stuck in his throat and he didn't say them again.

He went into the delivery room to check on Madelyn and came out in about 10 minutes.

The child was in a very bad situation and should actually be given up, but Madelyn insisted on giving birth.

Even if she broke two ribs.

The aisle outside the delivery room was quiet. Kenneth leaned against the wall and slightly raised his head. His eyes were hot, as if something was about to fall...

The waiting time was very long.

Madelyn suffered for 16 hours, and it wasn't until midnight that she struggled to give birth to her baby.

It was little Everest.

Everest's situation was very bad due to premature delivery, and she was immediately sent to the ICU by the nurse, even before the family could catch a glimpse of her.

The doctor came out to explain the situation and mildly instructed them to be mentally prepared and pay attention to the emotions of the mother.

The tears in Kenneth's eyes finally fell.

This was the first time Eloise had seen him shed tears. Her impression was that he was always strong, as if nothing could defeat him.

In the latter half of the night, he didn't sleep and smoked outside.

In the early morning.

Kenneth walked into the ward. Brianna went to the service desk. In the ward, Eloise was lying by Madelyn's bed, asleep, seemingly unable to stay awake any longer.

Kenneth lightly patted her shoulder.

The little girl woke up immediately, opened her red eyes and greeted Uncle Ryan in a daze.

"You still know that I'm your Uncle Ryan?"

He had a hoarse voice and said something ambiguous and confusing.

But Eloise had no time to think about, because in the current situation, her little feelings were insignificant. She only hoped that Madelyn could recover and little Everest would be okay.

She asked Kenneth to talk with Madelyn.

She ran to the door of the ICU ward and looked inside through a glass door, but she couldn't see anything... She leaned against the glass door and silently shed tears.

Little Everest, god bless you!

She didn't know if her brother and sister-in-law's relationship could be as good as before, but she wanted Everest to live well. Everest was so young and cute.

Not far away, Kenneth stood quietly.

He heard the little girl say silly words...

Kaleb gently advised on the side, "You should eat something. How can you feel good without eating and drinking in a whole day and night?"

Kenneth turned around and whispered, "Send her a breakfast."

Chapter 323 Mr. Ryan, We Just Had a One Night Stand

Although Kenneth was very busy, he still stayed in Gredax to accompany Madelyn.

Kaleb obtained a small office with the help of connections.

Although its size was small, it was full featured.

Kenneth usually worked here, with bodyguards guarding outside, while Kaleb came in and out, traveling from places to places.

The next day, Benjamin rushed back from Monatiz!

Travel-worn, weary and full of guilt!

At the entrance of the ICU ward, Kenneth fought with him. Even if Benjamin didn't fight back, Kenneth's hands were still slightly red and swollen...

Kaleb intentionally made fun of Kenneth while applying medicine to him.

"As you get older and older, you should try to hold back your bad temper!"

Kenneth's suppressed anger came back again, "I still feel like it's not enough! This bastard, I'll beat him to death!"

The two were talking when there was a commotion at the door.

Kaleb went over to take a look and in a moment, he led someone in. It was Eloise.

Kaleb was very witty and went out on her own.

Eloise took a few steps forward, afraid to approach.

Kenneth took out a cigarette with one hand, lowered his head and took a puff before asking softly, "Why are you here?"

She raised the ointment on her hand and said, "I'm here help you apply the medicine!"

Actually, Kenneth had already applied the medicine, but he didn't mind applying it again.

On the narrow sofa, she sat next to him, holding one of his hands and carefully applying medicine to him. Kenneth slowly smoked a cigarette and looked down at her...

Her small face was bright and white and her eyelashes were very long in her sockets.

Kenneth asked as if nothing had happened, "That boy is good, why aren't you in a relationship?"

She was stunned for a moment before she understood what he was saying.

She breathed in lightly and said, 'I don't really like him!'

As she spoke, she released his hand and said in a voice as low as a kitten, "I've wrapped it up!"

She intended to leave but her body was caught.

She was forced to sit back beside him. Not knowing if it was her illusion, she felt so close to him that she could smell the faint smell of tobacco on him.

Kenneth's gaze was slightly more meaningful.

His beautiful fingers caressed her lips.

She trembled uncontrollably and helplessly called him Uncle Ryan...

Kenneth lowered his head and whispered softly, his forehead against hers, "What are you doing here? Is it to atone for your brother, or are you unable to control your own thoughts, or do you like a man who is more than ten years older than you? Tell me, what do you want from me?"

He asked bluntly, and she felt ashamed.

She trembled and couldn't answer, but what Kenneth wanted was not her answer either.

Eloise opened her mouth first, with a light and trembling voice: "Mr. Ryan, don't worry, last night was just a one night stand."

Mr. Ryan...

One night stand...

Kenneth laughed in his exasperation, tugging at her ear and asking, "Who called Uncle Ryan all night last night? It made my heart melt, and after you get comfortable, I turned back to Mr. Ryan? If everyone takes advantage of me like this, Mr. Ryan will have to be busy and die in women's arms sooner or later."

He didn't speak in a gentle way, and her eyes were a bit red.

Kenneth actually felt uneasy deep down. He loved her dearly, but because of Madelyn's situation, he couldn't be happy.

Finally, he hugged her and gently said a few words: "Did you receive the rabbit? Do you like it?"

Eloise's eyes turned red and she obediently grunted assent, "I like it!"

Kenneth didn't speak again, just hugged her.

It took a long time before he stick to her ear and say, "As long as you like it!"

He started getting dressed and said to her, "You can have more sleep! I'll be back at noon..."

He knew how to flirt with women.

But at this moment, he was not so effortless, his little girl was different.

He dressed neatly and sat by the bed, pinching her face.

"I have to go now! Otherwise I'll be late for the meeting. Take a look at your Uncle Ryan's neck. Did the little wild cat scratch a few marks on it?"

Eloise wrapped herself in the quilt and looked at him with tears in her eyes.

They had sex.

But the key was that he didn't say anything, and she didn't dare to ask him for a future because at such a time, it was not suitable...

She suffered a lot and didn't wait for him to come back.

She avoided him and deliberately didn't see him, but at night she would always be unable to sleep because of him.

Kenneth was very busy...

Four days later, she received his call. He had a gentle and tired voice, saying, "I'm going back to Vadiff tomorrow. Can we meet?"

When he told her this, she realized how much she hoped.

Their identity between them destined her not to dare to demand anything from him.

She liked him in an extremely humble way...

Finally, they met at a private restaurant. Kaleb picked her up at the door to enter a private box.

The vast box was only occupied by Kenneth.

He was wearing a light blue shirt and black pants.

The navy blue coat was casually taken off and placed on the back of the chair, while he was reading a document.

Kaleb opened the door and said with a smile, "Miss Eloise has come!"

He remained considerate outside, guarding for the two.

Eloise leaned her back against the door and looked at Kenneth blankly. Dating this old man was a bit troublesome, because she never knew what he was thinking

Kenneth put down the document in his hand and stared at her. After a long time, he smiled and said, "What are you doing there? I don't need a little doorkeeper here. Come to me, my good girl."

Recognizing the meaning of his words, Eloise couldn't help but judge him in her heart.

He still treated her like a child!

But she couldn't help but yearn, moved over and sat next to him.

Kenneth personally poured her a cup of coffee, and when he put it down, he asked her in a gentle tone, "Does it still hurt there?"

Chapter 324 Tonight, Stay in My Room 1

Eloise's face suddenly turned red.

'It's been several days now, how come it still hurts?'

Kenneth smiled a smile of dry amusement.

That night, he might have been too rude. She kept saying that it hurt... The little girls were always more delicate.

At this moment, the waiter pushed the door in and served the dishes one after another.

Although there were only two people, the table was fully spread with food. Eloise couldn't help but say, "We can't finish these and we will waste it."

Kenneth gave her a flickering smile, "You are about to save me money now?"

He served her dishes and said airily, "When you learn to save your Uncle Ryan's effort, that's the true consideration."

Eloise's face turned even redder, he was really shameless!

Kenneth looked at her expression and lightly skipped it.

He specially filled her with a bowl of chicken soup and spoke softly, "This kind of free-range chicken is suitable for women to nourish."

She took soup silently.

Anyway, she was a bit restrained.

She didn't know how he was going to arrange for her...

After the meal, Kenneth fed his little girl full, and in the end, he looked at her with satisfaction. Then he took out something from his briefcase.

It was a protective talisman.

Kenneth gently helped her wear it and placed it in her collar with a meaningful gaze. "When I bought this Madelyn, I bought you one. It's not allowed to be taken off this month, got it?"

Eloise couldn't help but pull it out and gently touched it.

Kenneth touched her small head and whispered, "I hope you and Madelyn are both safe and sound."

Eloise whispered, "I want to give it to Little Everest."

The person who needed the blessing most was Everest.

Upon hearing this, Kenneth felt a bit sad. He didn't know if the child was safe or not. Anyway, Benjamin was now a bit crazy and must save Everest regardless of the cost. That crazy guy didn't care about transforming Little Everest into an alien.

Kenneth took out a secondary card from his wallet and placed it in her palm.

Eloise was stunned.

Madelyn was immersed in pain and didn't think much.

At the Ryans' mansion in Vadiff, Athena felt heartbroken when she looked at Madelyn. She hugged her obedient granddaughter and scolded Benjamin fiercely.

Eloise was quite embarrassed.

Kenneth glanced at her and then said to the butler, "Ms. Green will live in the same room as before. Please tidy up the guest room across on the east and prepare it for Miss Eloise."

The butler was taken aback.

The guest room across on the east? Wasn't that one across Mr. Ryan's bedroom?

He hesitated for a moment and said, "Would that bother you?"

Kenneth gently waved his hand and said, "Do as I say!"

The butler left, and at this moment, Athena came through her sadness and whispered to Kenneth, "Is this girl called Lucy?"

Despite her old age, the last time her son called "Lucy", she caught it very clearly.

She was called Lucy.

Kenneth couldn't laugh or cry, but at the same time, his face was a bit red. For a person of his age, dating with such a little girl would not only discredit him but also made him be laughed at by others.

They should consider their identity and status.

Kenneth responded to his mother casually and calmly, avoiding addressing the real problem, "Mom, you're wrong. This is Ben's sister Eloise, not Lucy!"

Athena looked at her son and believed it.

He sounded right. Ben's sister was about the same age as Madelyn. How could it be possible for Kenneth to be so heartless and rob the cradle.

But she was somewhat disappointed.

Eloise was such a beautiful girl. She was so chubby and elegant that Athena knew her could give birth to a son at a glance.

The trip was strenuous and after the meal, everyone returned to their room to rest.

Eloise would stay here for a week.

She didn't bring much clothes, only three or four sets in total. At this moment, she was packing up and preparing to visit her sister-in-law later.

Someone came in silently and locked the door.

Her slender waist was hugged, and then the man's cold breath drifted around her neck and his kiss making her feel numb. She couldn't help but call out Uncle Ryan.

Kenneth touched her slender waist.

After kissing and touching her like this for a long time, she was picked up and placed on the big bed.

She was a bit scared, after all, this was the Ryans' mansion.

Was he going to have sex with her here?

She was somewhat afraid, after all, their relationship had just started. Thinking about it carefully, they didn't get really timid and close before having sex. What's more... did he have condom? Would she accidentally get pregnant?

Kenneth supported himself with one hand and began to unbutton her with the other.

Adult men and women's bodies were burning with desire, and after they fell in love with each other, they had been suppressed the desire for most of the year.

At this moment, he seemed a bit impatient...

Chapter 325 Tonight, Stay in My Room 2

When she woke up, it was already at dusk.

The autumn sunset sprinkled a layer of light gold color on the bed through the french window.

Kenneth had long been awake and watched her open her eyes. He leaned over and kissed her gently, saying, "You can sleep a little longer, I'll call you at dinner time!"

He got up and got dressed while talking.

He had a lot of things to do and Kaleb had been waiting for him in the study for a long time. But he still couldn't bear to leave her, afraid that she might wake up feeling uncomfortable.

He cherished his little girl, even if he couldn't always accompany her, he tried his best to do what he should.

Eloise was a bit shy.

She pulled the quilt and leaned against the pillow to stare at him.

Kenneth put on his clothes, bent down to kiss her, and then smiled lightly.

After he left, she dared not sleep again.

Instead, she got up and checked on Madelyn and then went to chat with Athena for a while. Athena was an open-minded old lady who didn't take offense at her. In addition, since there were few girls in the Ryan family, she cherished Eloise.

In the evening, when Kenneth finished his work and returned, he saw his little girl accompanying his mother in picking vegetables.

Athena was muttering, "This is my own plant and there are no pesticides on it."

He brushed aside the vines above his head and walked over, deliberately teasing, "The old lady is so careful with these environmentally friendly things in her daily life and almost never allows others to eat them."

Athena sneered.

She said to the little girl, "Don't believe in your Uncle Ryan's nonsense! If he's serious, he would bring his "Lucy" home. At that time, I'll dig out everything in the field."

"Lucy?" Eloise was clearly stunned.

So Athena airily told her about the Kenneth's drunken dream talk.

Eloise understood and blushed.

Kenneth looked at her quietly, gave a flickering smile, making her even more uncomfortable. But she felt sweet deep down. It turned out that Uncle Ryan should call her name when he was drunk.

It was getting darker and darker.

The old lady personally cooked, surrounded by the little girl. Kenneth, who rarely touched the housework, actually stayed in the kitchen

After dinner, they returned to their room all the way.

At the door, Kenneth led her into his bedroom.

Kenneth's bedroom had a large layout, and when they entered, there was a somewhat magnificent atmosphere. The accompanying study had an antique flavor. And near the window, there was a place for coffee.

Eloise's expression was stunned.

Kenneth scratched her little nose and said, "Are you stunned?"

She said with some embarrassment, "I never thought before that my boyfriend's room would be like this..."

She spoke very tactfully.

Actually, it meant she thought he was old and always acted old school.

How could Kenneth not notice it? He smiled and made coffee with great elegance. He kindly handed her a cup.

When she picked it up, he said calmly, "Shall we continue tonight?"

But Eloise guessed his thoughts. When she slept at night, she lay soft in his arms and whispered, "I won't

Kenneth lowered his head and looked at her silently.

Eloise hugged his neck and whispered, "I like to stay here

The main point was, they had rare opportunities to get along.

He was not always able to go to Gredax. They had known each other for over a year, but they had only been able to be together for a few days.

Kenneth's heart softened.

He lowered his head, searched for her lips and kissed her.

His slender hand gently pulled open her bathrobe under the quilt, and the delicate touch immediately burst the man's desire... She didn't know if it was her illusion that, tonight, he was a bit aggressive.

After the end, she clung to him softly.

The sweat slowly cooled down...

Kenneth gently patted her body, as if treating a baby gently.

They were all reluctant to sleep.

She raised her hand to touch his facial features and asked in a low voice, "Uncle Ryan, why haven't you got married yet?"

Kenneth smiled lightly and said, "What do you think?"

After speaking, he pulled her into his arms...

She pressed against his heart, her heart beating a bit fast, and said shamelessly, "I think you're waiting for me to grow up! When I grow up, you'll get married with me!"

She mentioned marriage several times. It seemed like she really wanted to.

Kenneth suddenly became a bit excited. He reached into the quilt and flirting with her while muttering, "Let me see if you've grown up, don't lie to Uncle Ryan!"

When he was in high spirits, he was simply a civic scumbag.

Eloise was carried onto him and he played her body slowly for a long time. She cried and thought about getting down, but he refused and bullied her in various ways.

...

Everest's situation were uncertain, and their relationship was still secretive.

After Thanksgiving, Eloise was going back.

The night before leaving, she was in tears.

Kenneth touched her head and said, "Kiddo, don't worry about these things!"

But he himself was also a bit sad and he wanted her to be with him all the time.

With her here, the air in the house was much happier.

In the past, Athena always felt not well. Now, every day, she carried a basket to the vegetable market with her family servants and bought the dishes that the little girl liked. Kenneth knew that his mother had noticed their relationship, but she didn't mention it.

That night, he sat in his study for a long time.

He thought about the future, about the promise he gave to his little girl him for a lifetime.

Athena brought coffee and sat down for a while, as if she wanted to ask something, but in the end she didn't speak. She was convinced that the little girl who could be brought home by her son was recognized by his son.

She also quite liked his little girl.

Lucy, was actually Eloise!

Athena thought, perhaps his son was about to get married soon. The two of them were slightly different in age and they were not in the same generation but it was acceptable if her son liked her.

Finally, Athena only said one sentence: "It's great!"

Kenneth thought on it repeatedly and smiled lightly. His mom was really interesting!

He thought that when Everest's situation became more stable, he would propose marriage to the Clark family.

He wanted to keep the little girl by his side and have her accompany him and his mom. Every day when he came back from work, he could see the warm lights and the scene that she picks vegetables with Athena.

He was not young anymore, maybe they could have children after marriage...

Chapter 326: He Bought Their Home in Gredax 1

Eloise returned to Gredax.

She thought they wouldn't be able to meet for a long time, but after only a week, Kenneth came over.

That night, she received his call: "Come to the door!"

What!

Her heart was beating a bit fast. 'Is he in Gredax?'

She held her phone and couldn't bear to hang up. She quickly changed into a dress and ran downstairs. Downstairs, Alexander was still awake, reading the newspaper. Seeing her little daughter, he casually asked, "It's so late, you are still going out?"

"Chloe asked me to have a night snack." She replied and ran out.

Alexander shook his head, this child was too willful!

On the side of the Clarks' mansion, a black Lotus Car was parked.

Kenneth leaned against the car door in black and smoked, his body blending with the night. When he saw Eloise running out, he gently opened his arms. Eloise naturally threw herself in. She lay on his shoulder and smelled the pleasant smell of him.

After a while, she asked like a spoiled child, "You almost burned me!"

Kenneth smiled and pinched out the cigarette, then lowered his head and kissed her lips.

She was a bit afraid, after all, she was at her own doorstep.

Obviously, Kenneth was also hesitant. He only kissed her for a while before stuffing her into the car.

Eloise slowly fastened her seat belt, her eyes bright as she said, "Where are we going?"

She actually wanted to ask if they were going to the hotel, but asking like this seemed too proactive and sounded like she couldn't wait to think about it.

Kenneth tilted his head to look at her.

They hadn't seen you for a week. He missed her so much that he squeezed this time today.

He held her hand and his voice was slightly hoarse, "You 'll know when you get there!"

Eloise agreed obediently.

The black sports car sped down the road for about an hour and stopped at the foot of a high-end apartment building on Rasta Road.

This place was quite famous for its high housing prices and excellent privacy.

It was said that the affordable ones were all business leaders and celebrities.

Kenneth took her upstairs.

Pushing open the door, it was an apartment of about 120 square meters with luxurious decoration. At this moment, a black film was playing in the hall and the black singing style was quite stylish.

Eloise took off her coat and looked around.

Kenneth let her watch as he went to the kitchen to prepare milk for her.

Then he lowered his tall nose and gently rubbed it against her belly. After a while, he laughed.

There was no smell at all.

Eloise's face turned slightly red and she tugged at his hair, whispering, "Let's just hold onto each other and talk! We don't necessarily have to do that."

Kenneth did not force her.

When he came back to hold her, he pretended to complain, "Don't pull my hair again in the future. If I go bald, Uncle Ryan won't look good!"

After all, he always cared about his age.

Eloise smiled lightly and hugged his waist, asking softly, "How long can you stay?"

Kenneth touched her head and said, "I have to leave tomorrow afternoon!"

Tomorrow will be another day of meetings.

They only had one night to stay with each other, so he cherished it immensely.

She was somewhat disappointed.

But she was considerate of him, and she could feel Kenneth's cherish for her. He had already given her everything he could. She knew that all his free time was spent on her.

When she was about to fall asleep, she buried her little face in his neck.

Uncle Ryan

Actually, he was already acting a role of a husband...

Before dawn, Kenneth woke up. He waked her up and had twice sex with her.

When it finished, Eloise fell asleep tired.

However, Kenneth took a shower, full of energy. He cooked breakfast for her and easily prepared lunch. She just needed to heat it up when she need to have lunch.

After finishing everything, he walked into the bedroom and sat by the bed.

She was still sleeping.

Kenneth pinched her face and spoke softly in a low voice, "I'll accompany you to dinner tonight, and then go back to Vadiff. You can go back first if you want."

She grunted assent, half in sleep.

Kenneth gently kissed her again before leaving.

When getting into the car, Kaleb deliberately joked, "Are you still so happy about cooking and washing for the little girl?"

Kenneth patted his pants straight and pretended not to care, saying, "The little girl is just having a tantrum and I was just coxing her. There's nothing to be happy about."

Kaleb still smiled.

He was truly happy for Mr. Ryan. In his early 40s, he finally met a little girl he liked. How could this be an unhappy news?

Kaleb was making a fuss to ask for his souvenir.

After a moment of thought, Kenneth generously allocated a house in Vadiff to him, it was located where many people dared not even think about.

As for the driver, Kenneth arranged work for his child.

These actions were his protection to Eloise.

Only when the people around him were tight-lipped could she be safe...

Chapter 327: He Bought Their Home in Gredax 2

It was nearly noon when Eloise woke up.

Slowly opening her eyes, she found here was the home Uncle Ryan gave her.

She blinked lightly, held the rabbit by her pillow in her arms and rolled several times. She really liked Uncle Ryan.

When she got up, he had made her breakfast.

Fruits were all washed.

He treated her as a child, doting on her and with his identity as Kenneth, it was sweet for any woman.

Eloise wanted to cook him a dinner, but she couldn't cook. After cooking for a long time, even the rice was burnt and could only be poured out.

Finally, she ordered takeout.

At 4 pm, Kenneth returned from a meeting.

He looked at the dining table, took off his coat and casually threw it on the sofa, laughing at her: "You carefully ordered a table of takeout for your beloved Uncle Ryan!"

His little girl reached out her hand. She cut a little skin off her finger when she cut the vegetables.

Her tears welled up.

Kenneth's heart suddenly softened and scolded her, "Little fool!"

He bandaged her and had dinner together with her.

After dinner, he sat quietly smoking on the sofa, with a hint of self admiration. Coupled with his elegant and beautiful appearance, his sitting there was like an oil painting.

He had a mind.

At today's meeting, he refused an appointment.

It was about a research and development of a new type of metal, which could be used in aviation and aerospace, and in larger cases, it could be used in various stealth fighter plane. If successful, it could accelerate this domestic technology for 30 years.

With sufficient funds and a strong voice, many people flock to it.

After four years of development, once he was successful, his future would be bright!

Kenneth refused and recommended a younger generation.

He didn't regret it, even though he lived for these things in the first half of his life. Now it was different. He had Eloise and wanted to give her a home...

Eloise snuggled up to his side.

Kenneth pinched out his cigarette and glared at her, "Will you cook next time?"

She crouched down and crawled into his arms, whispering that she wanted to learn how to cook for Uncle Ryan.

Kenneth smiled lightly.

Maybe they didn't have to sneak around anymore.

She fell asleep holding onto her phone...

Early in the morning, Kenneth dialed her phone and said he would arrive at the apartment in an hour.

His voice was a bit hoarse, obviously working overtime all night and coming over in the early morning. Eloise felt both joy and heartache deep down. She whispered, "I'll drive over by myself, don't come over to pick me up!"

Besides, her brother was at home and he had sharp eyes.

Kenneth chuckled and gently asked her to drive slowly.

They almost arrived at the apartment at the same time when they saw each other's car downstairs. Kaleb greeted Eloise with a smile and first carried some fruits and vegetables for daily use upstairs.

In the cold winter morning, Kenneth unbuttoned his coat.

She gently threw herself into his arms and bumped him into the car. Kenneth hugged her and lowered his head to kiss her... He was indeed not young, but at this moment he just wanted to do something irrational.

After kissing for a long time, he asked hoarsely, "Do you miss me?"

'Of course!'

Kaleb came down at this moment and said with a smile, "Everything is ready. I will pick you up at two o'clock in the afternoon."

Eloise was a bit embarrassed.

Kenneth took her hand and led her upstairs.

He was probably a bit urgent. As soon as he entered the door, he couldn't wait to take off her coat, touch her body with one hand and kiss her. They rarely do that kind of thing outside of bed, but today, unlike usual, he urgently picked her up on the sofa...

Just a few minutes before and after, they had sex.

Eloise had never experienced such a profound love affair before. She hugged his neck, her eyes sparkling, full of fascination with him.

Kenneth was sweating profusely and began to kiss her...

He had good physical strength and skills, easily defeating her every time and she cried uncontrollably.

He finally enjoyed himself and took a brief rest, taking a shower with her in his arms and lying down together to rest.

Eloise lay in his arms.

She was a bit uneasy. He didn't take any measures just now, but she thought these days were a safe period and there shouldn't be any problems

She leaned against Kenneth's shoulder, murmuring that he wanted too much.

Kenneth leaned over and kissed her again. After kissing her for a long time, he whispered, "Are you unhappy for this?"

She blinked lightly, vaguely understanding his meaning.

Everest's health had improved and their relationship could also be perfectly above board...

But it was better for a man to bring up matters like marriage, even if she was full of expectations, she was too embarrassed to say it first... Kenneth knew her caution!

He was in a good mood and in good spirits and couldn't help but had another sex.

Eloise fell asleep exhausted.

Kenneth, however, was filled with joy and got up to cook for her. He also cut a fruit plate... When he left, he touched the velvet box in his pocket.

Chapter 328 He Told Her That He Was Just Tired of Playing 1

At two o'clock in the afternoon, Kaleb came to pick him up.

After getting into the car, Kaleb couldn't help but joke, "You look so spirited and energetic today!"

Kenneth smiled restrainedly and said, "My little girl's so needy that I'm not energetic at all. It's just tiring!"

Kaleb smiled vaguely.

...

After the meeting, Kenneth came out with a very pale look.

Kaleb greeted him and whispered, "What's the matter?"

"Let's talk about it in the car!"

When he got into the car, Kenneth pulled up the window curtains before taking a light breath and saying, "Do you remember the project six months ago?"

Kaleb's gaze was burning.

Kenneth gently unbuttoned a button on his shirt and suppressed his voice, saying, "I recommended the Joshua! But today's meeting news showed that both Joshua and his wife have died in an unknown car accident!"

Kaleb remained in a daze for a long time without any response.

Kenneth lowered his head and lit a cigarette, but his fingers were trembling and it took him a long time to take a sip. What he didn't tell Kaleb was that the bodies of Joshua and his wife both had obvious bruises!

In the end, Joshua saved the data with the lives of him and his wife.

Projects always required someone to take over.

Kenneth was the designated person, and this time he was duty-bound and unable to refuse.

He held the cigarette with trembling fingers, slowly smoking it. With the other hand, he felt for the velvet box in his pocket. He was supposed to propose to Eloise today, but he would get married after the New Year...

But now, could he still propose?

The appearance of Joshua's wife's tragic death lingered in his mind and he couldn't forget it!

Although he did not explain, Kaleb had already guessed from his extensive knowledge.

He remained silent.

At this moment, the black Audi experienced a violent impact and Kenneth in the back seat collided forward...

The car stopped, and a man in black rode his bicycle in front of him, looking into the car with a light and ethereal gaze that seemed to have perspective function.

The driver cursed and wanted to get off.

Kenneth suppressed his headache and stopped him, "Don't get off the car!"

It would be even more dangerous!

Sure enough, seeing that people in the car didn't take any action, the man rode the bicycle away.

Kaleb climbed up to the back seat and checked Kenneth's injury, "Mr. Ryan, are you okay?"

Kenneth covered his waist and abdomen: A rib should be broken.

He didn't have a trace of expression on his face and said fiercely, "Just after we had a meeting, they received the news. This overseas company was really rampant!"

He wanted to find these people and avenge for Joshua and his wife, but at this moment he had to protect himself first.

His phone rang.

It was Eloise calling, and Kenneth hesitated to pick it up. He spoke softly, "Eloise, there's something urgent in Vadiff, I have to go back first!"

How disappointed was Eloise...

He gently placed her on the sofa and crouched down to caress her little head. His voice was gentle and he said, "Eloise, don't wait for me anymore."

She looked puzzled, as if she understood his meaning, but she also looked confused.

Kenneth was determined to be ruthless and continued to smile, saying, "Uncle Ryan is too old for a stable relationship and I'm not a good man."

Now, she completely understood.

But she didn't want to believe it.

She was once so loved by this handsome and mature man that he even took her back to Vadiff, met his mother, and they even did things that should only happened between husbands and wives in his bedroom.

She trembled her lips and whispered, "I don't believe it!"

Kenneth sat next to her, lit a cigarette and took a sip.

A thin mist rose, blurring the visions of the two.

He chuckled lightly and said, "It's been half a year now, I'm a bit bored! Eloise, you probably don't know about relationship between men and women, it's freshness only lasts most a few months. You said we're not going to separate, you mean we will get married? Take a look at our cultural background, our social network... is it suitable for us to get married?"

Eloise's face was as pale as paper.

She didn't know how much strength she had used to avoid fainting.

She only looked at him, at this man!

At this time, his expression was exactly the same as he was with Violet.

Originally, he just treated her like a toy! Just like Violet! No... she was not as good as her, at least he turned around and looked for Violet but she... only had a number that could never be reached.

Eloise sat there, motionless.

She was clumsy of speech and didn't know how to argue with people.

She loved him so much and couldn't do anything like a shrew.

She couldn't throw a hissy fit, saying that she would take three sleeping pills like before to force her uncle dote on her.

She couldn't do anything...

Kenneth stood up and walked to the window, silently smoking.

He said something, such as compensating her and thanking her for her company over the past six months.

She didn't respond, quietly shedding tears like a puppet doll. She sat there stubbornly, hoping that her Uncle Ryan would suddenly turn around, hug her and tell her it was all a lie.

Everything, was just a bad joke...

She waited for a long time, but instead of waiting for his embrace, the night became colder and colder.

It very cold, ice-cold...

Finally, she spoke softly, "Mr. Ryan, don't worry, I won't pester you... "

Kenneth slowly turned his head.

Under the light, their gaze met, without the sweetness of the past.

Not long ago, she was still lying in his arms, giving him small bite while calling out to her Uncle Ryan warmly. He grabbed her hair and didn't let her bite there...

She left.

She cried when she left, and due to her innocent nature, she was too lazy to hide.

She didn't ask for an explanation either, as if she accepted the outcome and the fact that Uncle Ryan didn't want her...

The door was closed gently.

Kenneth's eyes shone brightly, and he trembled his fingers as he fiercely smoked the cigarette between them.

Later, he sat in front of the dining table.

There was a bowl of noodles on top, which looked very unattractive and should be made by Eloise.

He picked up his chopsticks and calmly ate the noodles, and the bowl of noodles quickly bottomed out.

And then...

He didn't know what to do anymore!

Because if Eloise was no longer in this apartment, he didn't know why he came and what he could do...

After Eloise left.

Kenneth stayed in the apartment all night, lying in bed surrounded by her belongings.

They were small stuffs, most of which were bought by him.

Eloise didn't know how to do household chores, and the bedroom was also messy. It was often Uncle Ryan who helped her clean up. Even when she was in her period, he would wash her dirty little pants.

On the pillow, there was her smell.

How could Kenneth sleep? He just got up and sat on the sofa to smoke.

Holding his phone in his hand, he thought that if she called him, he would definitely answer, even if he couldn't say anything, it would be good to listen to her voice.

But all night long, the ashtray was full but she didn't call.

He knew in his heart that they were over.

She was the daughter of a great family, why should she bother him?

...

When the sky was slightly bright, Kaleb felt uneasy and pushed the door in.

As soon as he entered, he was choked by the smoke in the room and couldn't help but scold, "Mr. Ryan, you should also take care of your body. Smoking like this is not feasible."

Kenneth looked at him, pinched out his cigarette and slowly collapsed onto the sofa.

After a while, he slowly spoke up and said, "Run for me."

He knew that Eloise was not lacking in anything, but they had been together once, and after leaving her, his life would probably be like this. Money no longer mattered to him.

Kenneth finished his command slowly in a deep voice.

Kaleb was also quite surprised.

Mr. Ryan's love affair was truly earth shattering. The things he gave, let alone boyfriends and girlfriends, even divorced couples could dare to imagine.

He almost took out all personal belongings.

Kaleb had no objections and immediately went to handle it with great enthusiasm.

The next day, he arranged to meet Eloise at a nice coffee shop.

Kaleb arrived first. In early spring weather, he was wearing a dark brown woolen suit and sat quietly playing with the lighter, with a thick stack of documents to hand over.

After waiting for a quarter of an hour, Eloise came and sat quietly across from him.

slightly and she leaned her head against his brother's shoulder.

Benjamin looked down at her and gently asked, "Are you tired of standing?"

She let out a sigh and then hugged her brother's waist.

The siblings had a great relationship and were extremely close. Kenneth's eyelids couldn't help but jump while catching this scene, he never thought that one day he would be jealous of Benjamin, this bastard.

Violet glanced at him and felt somewhat refreshed.

She deliberately wiggled her hips and greeted her with a charming expression, "Mr. Clark, your relationship with your sister is really good. It makes me so envious."

Benjamin never restrained his words about women.

Violet was truly beautiful, but she exuded an extreme charming aura that he didn't really like.

He was very cold, and Violet didn't care either. Instead, she became more and more enthusiastic, staring at Eloise's pale face and saying, "I know a few young talents who, after my thinking about it, are also worthy of Ms. Clark. Why don't we arrange to have coffee together some other day?"

Kenneth happened to come over.

She took Kenneth's hand and asked affectionately, "Kenneth, do you think so?"

Kenneth stared at the Eloise.

She also looked at him, her eyes full of tears...

For a long time, Kenneth slowly smiled and said in a soft voice, "Everybody should find himself a mate when it is about the time. It's time for Eloise to carefully identify candidates. Ben, you should also let your parents introduce some boys to Eloise."

At this moment, Benjamin was very afraid of this uncle, since his future would be decided by him.

So he nodded and touched his sister's head, affectionately saying, "The boss is no small, it's time to start a relationship!"

Eloise's face turned extremely pale.

She stared at Kenneth, her teeth trembling with anger, but in the public, she restrained herself and instead smiled profusely, "I will listen to Uncle Ryan's words."

After she finished speaking, she excused herself and left first.

Kenneth looked at her back and gently clenched his fingers.

Violet had a myriad of emotions and says, "She looks angry, then coax her back. You drag me around all day long, and even I'm anxious for you. Oh... if you two get married, don't forget to give me a big gift for being the witness. I rarely have such generosity."

Kenneth shook her off and walked away lightly...

Eloise walked to an unmanned terrace and quietly looked at the river in the distance, which was colorful and extended for a long length... her eyes were imperceptibly wet.

Why was she here?

She wanted to go home!

She heard someone's footsteps behind her and then someone locked the door.

She guessed who it was. When she turned her head gently, she indeed saw Kenneth standing there...

She was full of tears, thin that she looked adorable.

He murmured her name softly, "Eloise."

Eloise's back pressed against the railing behind her, and she looked at him absentmindedly, whispering, "Don't come over! Kenneth... don't come over."

Chapter 330 He Told Her That He Was Just Tired of Playing 3

Kenneth still walked over.

The neon lights of the city enveloped them with a layer of colorful cover, making everything seem unreal.

Like a dream and an illusion.

It was like that he never left and never said those hurtful words.

It was like, he was still her Uncle Ryan, he would hug her in the middle of the night and call her Lucy in the morning, saying he was leaving first...

Her lips trembled as she watched him walk towards her.

If possible, she wished would never wake up from this dream, but her pride did not allow her to do that.

"Eloise." He stroked her face, full of dismay.

She avoided and slapped him in the face.

The strength was not really strong, but the sound seemed deafening, drawing a clear line between them.

After she slapped him, she felt a bit dazed herself.

She trembled her lips and said, "Mr. Ryan, you are really generous. You should arrange for the future of the woman you have slept, but whether I am single or not and whether someone wants me has nothing to do with you, Mr. Ryan!"

She forced herself to say these words and then walked to the door.

But no matter how hard she pulled, the door couldn't open.

She froze there with a nasal tone in her voice, "What is this for? Aren't you afraid that others will see it and affect Mr. Ryan's reputation?"

Kenneth slowly approached, holding her hand in his.

He was so close to her, so close that he could kiss her tender ear root with a bow of his head. Every time when they were together, he liked to kiss there and make her look ridiculous.

But now, he just held her hand and said in a low voice, "Could you listen to me? Marry someone and live a peaceful life."

Eloise fell into a daze again.

Peaceful...

She didn't know where she could find a peaceful life after this relationship was over!

She had never been a mean person, even if she was played with, she couldn't speak anything harsh. She just blindly wanted to escape from him and not see him again!

In the end, Kenneth let her go...

The footsteps behind him gradually drifted away and he watched the scenery she had seen alone.

Kaleb appeared silently and said softly, "She went back first."

Kenneth let out a sigh, slowly lit a cigarette, and then said quietly, "Meetings like today are probably very rare in the future, and child with tantrums will eventually figure it out... Kaleb, when she finds a good husband and has their children...If she had a daughter, the little girl would definitely be like her!"

Kaleb's eyes were welled up and he replied, "Please don't say anything!"

Maybe, maybe there would be a turning point!

Kenneth stood quietly, with no expression on his gentle and upright face.

He had too much to worry about...

If he were ten years younger and met Eloise at that age, he would surely marry early and make her happy every day. She would never know what troubles were!

After a while, he sighed lightly and said, "Prepare a special plane back to Vadiff!"

Kenneth also looked at her quietly for a while and sat down.

Athena patted him and said, "I ran into her on the street and brought her back! In such cold weather, a little girl was wandering on the road early in the morning and didn't have anything with her, so I couldn't bear it but bring her back to take care of her! Nobody has a heart of stone like you do!"

Hearing scolding and mockery, Kenneth was not angry at all.

He still looked at Eloise and slowly said after a while, "She will stay in the old room and I'll take her over!"

After he finished, he led Eloise away.

When they left, the old lady looked in the direction they were leaving and sighed softly.

...

In the eastern bedroom, ordinary servants dared not come over without Kenneth's permission.

Kenneth pushed open the bedroom door and pushed her in.

The door closed, and he pressed her against the door panel. His voice was severe and suppressed: "What are you doing here? After dinner, go back to Gredax, and I'll ask Kaleb book a flight for you."

"I'm not leaving!" She leaned her back against the door panel, tears welling up.

Kenneth took out his phone and called Kaleb, "Book a ticket for Eloise this afternoon, the faster..."

Before he could finish speaking, his phone was knocked down.

Kenneth's gaze was even harsher: "You must go!"

She had never seen him like this before. She was afraid and her lips trembled. But she boldly said, "I won't leave. Violet has told me that you have nothing to do with her."

Kenneth stared at her intently.

After a while, he chuckled softly and said, "Do you also believe the words of the actress?"

Her body was trembling uncontrollably. She had hardly ever argued with anyone or had any arguments, but she must figure it out today. He couldn't fool her.

Kenneth pinched out the cigarette and then roughly pressed her shoulder with one hand.

"Want to hear the truth?"

Eloise's lips trembled slightly and she was about to cry.

Kenneth's black hair drooped on his forehead, which made him look decadent and unfathomable as she had never seen before. He stared into her eyes and said in a very low voice that Eloise could hard caught, "Little girls can't accept the truth! If you must listen, I'll tell you! Before you, there was not only Ms. Harris, but also Ms. Young and Ms. Torres... They knew their identity. But a young and naive girl like you is not interested in my status and money and wholeheartedly likes me, which made me quite interested!"

"By the way, you haven't forgotten the first time when we had sex, have you? In the hospital... Think about what happened to Madelyn at that time, Everest's situation was so urgent that you didn't know how much pressure I had. You brought yourself to me in the evening and how could I resist the tempt? It has been half a year... I'm tired of your body and don't want to play with you, okay? You said I didn't touch Violet and it was true, I didn't touch her because I'm also bored of hers..."

Kenneth began to unbutton her, with a hint of detachment in his voice.

"Are you coming all the way here to ask me to have sex with you?"

"You're in such a need of men?"

"I'll satisfy you for the last time, then pick up your clothes and put them on, and immediately roll back to Gredax. I don't want to play with naive little girls anymore, do you understand?"

...

He pulled open her buttons and played with her body with humiliation.

A slap fell on his gentle face.

Eloise cried, "Kenneth, you like me!"

Kenneth sneered and hugged her to the bed, starting to kiss her: "When a man wants to play with a woman, of course he says he likes her. If he doesn't say it, why would you take the initiative to jump into my arms and call me Uncle Ryan so affectionately? It's really silly of you. We're adult men and women and it's a natural call. Only fools like you would take it seriously!"

At the moment of he took possession of her body, she cried.

There were also tears in the corners of Kenneth's eyes, but he continued to speak mercilessly, "I don't know how many girls like you I have slept with, I just like the feeling of freshness! Do you really think I was responsible for you after sleeping a few times with you?"

Eloise burst into tears...

Stop talking, stop talking...

She pushed him to stop him from continuing, but Kenneth reached out and took out a box from the bedside table, with a intention of make it to the end.

She couldn't bear it anymore and slapped him in the face.

After the slap, she buried her head in the quilt and cried sadly.

Kenneth's face was black and blue. He lay dejectedly aside, covering his eyes with his palm.
