

Chapter 3220-3221

“For these people, if you can persist for fifty rounds without losing, you will be considered a winner, if not, you will lose. What do you think?” Seven princesses said.

Hearing this, not only Yumian Shura and others were stunned on the spot, even George Han at this time couldn't help being stupid.

For Yumian Shura and Ghost Venerable, doing so is tantamount to reducing the pressure on George Han. After all, they have a great advantage at this time, and Rangli will only benefit George Han.

As for George Han, in the case of self-interest, George Han originally thought how difficult and tricky her so-called condition would be, but in the end, she never thought that this condition was not tricky in the end, on the contrary. It's even very beneficial to myself.

“It's that simple?” George Han frowned in disbelief.

When the seventh princess heard this question, she was stunned. In fact, for her, this condition should not be considered simple. Although it is indeed better than ten thousand people attacking him, it is actually not much better.

With absolute advantage, there is actually no difference between two strokes and fifty strokes, because the ones that cannot be defeated are always those that cannot be defeated, and the results of several moves are the same.

It's just that she puts on such a harsh condition because the seventh princess believes that she can last for so long under the siege of so many people and two masters, then this excuse and ability are enough to persuade them. Anyone including the father.

“If you think it's simple, then it's that simple.” The Seventh Princess smiled reluctantly.

“Let's do it, you gave me a profit. I have to challenge you with such a simple challenge. It really takes you too much. I suffer a bit. Just these guys, make up a whole, within a hundred rounds, how about?” George Han smiled.

“A hundred rounds? Are you sure?” The seventh princess was obviously taken aback when she heard George Han's request.

She has seen lower requirements, but she hasn't seen any initiative to raise requirements.

“Fuck, brat, you are so arrogant, let me put it here, don't talk about fifty rounds, I will take your dog's life within ten rounds.” Yumian Shura roared angrily.

Ghost Zun also clenched his teeth. Although his undead body was broken and his vitality was somewhat severely injured at this time, the thin and dead camel was also bigger than the horse. This son was so arrogant that he would not vent his hatred if he didn't kill him.

“Very sure.” George Han smiled calmly.

“Okay.” The seventh princess looked at George Han with some appreciation. Then, she glanced at the jade-faced Shura next to her: “Pass on my words.”

“Yes!” Jade-faced Shura nodded. , Then, looked at the ghost respect.

“Brothers, have you all heard it?” Gui Zun longed to call all the brothers, and he got up and shouted angrily at everyone: “There is a human kid who looks down on us, saying that we are such a large group of people, and he has not been taken in a hundred rounds. Way.”

“You said, can you bear this tone?”

“Can’t bear it.” The crowd was passionate, and the monsters roared angrily.

“Okay, it’s my brother, brothers, listen to the order.”

“Yes.” They shouted again in unison, shaking the sky, with a magnificent momentum.

“Arrange the formation. Today, we will kill the dog with one move to let him know how powerful my Devil Cloud Ghost City is.” When the words fell, the tens of thousands of people brigade that had been somewhat disintegrated suddenly regrouped in order. It was because of George Han. Some of them, who had been beaten by thousands of magical operations, were insecure, and at this time they also restored their original self-confidence.

The man smiled helplessly: “Seventh princess, it seems that you are misleading, but you are just a brash man. You give him a good opportunity, but he doesn’t know how to cherish it. Instead, he brags and becomes crazy. outrage, as well as the NPC magic cloud ghost town of unity, now the King, not to mention a hundred strokes of his mouth, I look at him, a move can not take. “ if before, seven princess bound to direct anti-hate, but at this time, The seventh princess chose to be silent, for no other reason, and she also thought the same as her entourage.

She didn’t understand that even if George Han really had the ability and confidence to block a hundred moves, he shouldn’t have said so to provoke public anger.

Under sluggishness, the tricks of stealing students may be able to barely hold on for a while, if you do this, you may really not be able to take any of the tricks.

Because everyone will never show mercy on the first move, and even use their best.

And sure enough, at this time, everyone had lined up, with anger in their eyes and vigor in their hands.

But she raised her eyes to look at George Han, but George Han not only didn’t panic at all, but there was even a slight smile on his face.

This guy...what the hell is going to do?

Chapter 3221

“Seventh Princess, please get out of the way.” Yumian Shura also saw the smile on George Han’s face and it didn’t matter, and he snorted to remind the Seventh Princess to leave first.

The seventh princess looked back, and everyone’s anger was basically similar to that of Jade Face Shura.

“Hey.” After sighing, Princess Seven nodded, and slowly retreated from the scene under the wait of her entourage.

“Everyone.” Gui Zun shouted in time.

“Yes!” Wan Jun responded together.

” Follow me to charge.”

soon as the words fell, Gui Zun and Yumian Shura charged first, and then an army of tens of thousands of people followed.

“Kill!” The

momentum is like Changhong!

“The jade ruler breaks the thousand army.”

ghosts cry and roar.” The jade-faced Shura and the ghost who rushed in the front, had already suffocated a huge resentment. At this time, Fang once made a move, it was the strongest killer in each hand. , Absolutely does not give George Han any hope.

And as these two people took action, the heavens and the earth suddenly changed, the sun and the moon were dull, the jade face Xiu Luo and the jade ruler were flowing light, as if they were in the vast universe, and the ghost was surrounded by black energy, defending against the Buddha. Surround yourself with ghosts.

Bring it to me!” As the two yelled at the same time, the vast Xingyu and the spirit of thousands of ghosts suddenly attacked George Han frantically.

At almost the same time, on the ground, all monsters showed no mercy at all, offering their strongest killer moves one after another, and suddenly headed towards George Han Jihuo.

The gathering of thousands of people, an extremely thick beam of light with a lot of colors, and full of huge pressure, which almost occupies half of the sky, also condensed, and quickly blasted towards George Han.

After the man held the seventh princess aside, he looked at the sky and couldn't help but sneer.

The seventh princess also sighed, not knowing what to say.

“Princess Seven, it seems that you are going to work in vain.” The man saw the depression of Princess Seven and said helplessly.

The seventh princess smiled reluctantly and did not reply, but said indifferently: “Help me back to the car.”

The person responded, but a small smile appeared at the corner of his mouth. It was obvious that the seventh princess chose to return to the car at this time. It has already shown that she also knows that under such a fierce blow, there is no such thing as a hundred moves.

Because, there will be no more battles next.

But almost at the same time they were walking towards the car, George Han over there began to move.

I saw that the black air ring in his hand moved slightly, facing these three extremely strong offensives, there was no such indifferent and smile on his face, on the contrary, the whole face was unusually serious.

How could he not know the ferocity of these three attacks, and he knew that any attack was almost a ruthless move that killed his own life, but did George Han have a choice?

no.

Even he must do this.

There are many enemies and we are few, how can George Han have the advantage in the war of attrition?

There is a saying, two fists are hard to beat four hands, let alone tens of thousands of hands at the scene? Moreover, the war of attrition cannot be defeated by George Han. One is that the seal of the earth that was previously worried will recur at any time, and the other is that these tens of thousands of people, let alone one person make a hundred moves, or one person spit ten saliva, also Enough to cause a huge flood to drown George Han alive.

The seesaw of time will only drag George Han to death.

Therefore, for George Han, the only way to survive this predicament is to make a quick fight.

Throughout the ages, people have won with less and more with no danger to defend. Most of the classic cases are blitz and assault warfare initiated by a few people, not wars of attrition.

For this, the ancestors have already summed up the experience and lessons with flesh and blood, and George Han will naturally respect it.

And to achieve this goal, it is to arouse the anger of this group of people, so that they can't wait to kill themselves quickly, this is the root reason why George Han deliberately seeks words to stimulate them.

Of course, there is another very important reason for this reason.

That is the problem of attack.

Arousing the anger of the other party, if it can't be extinguished, it is also looking for death, and George Han alone, wanting to extinguish the anger of so many people is obviously a foolish dream.

Therefore, George Han's choice is to pay back his body.

Your anger will be extinguished by you.

Thinking of this, the black energy in George Han's hands began to expand indefinitely, and the air around him began to be constantly pulled and beating...
