

Chapter 3222

“That guy...”

The man who was supporting the seventh princess who was about to get on the car, suddenly felt a great pressure and was suddenly pressed down. Looking back at George Han, he couldn't help. It is frowned.

The qi of black gold was pulling frantically around him, and George Han at this time was like an incomparable ghost and god wafting in the devil qi, and like an indifferent god in the auspicious light.

Seventh princess was just getting in the car, and couldn't help but look back at the exclamation of her entourage. At this look, she also condensed in place, staring at George Han with a pair of eyes.

What is he going to do? !

“No phase magic!”

roar!

George Han shouted angrily, yelling from the sky, his body suddenly exploded with golden and black energy.

He did it!

He almost opened up all the energy currently available in his body, and frantically blessed him on his own non-phase divine power.

Even though he had already used the formless magic to copy to resist the attacks of others, he had never tried such a large-scale one at the moment.

He had no bottom in his own heart, but he knew very well that he would either succeed in replicating, or take on these ten thousand attacks alone due to failure, and then be completely wiped out without any precautions.

He also suddenly began to understand at this moment, why this magical skill of Wu Wuzong helped Wu Wuzong become famous in the Central Plains realm, and even made Wu Wuzong become a big one. As a result, it was the root cause of mysterious loss.

Perhaps, it was not mysteriously lost at all, but a certain head deliberately hid it.

Although he knows that hiding this trick will bring a great blow to Wu Wuzong, and even sink into a little sect that no one cares about in the future, he still chooses to do so.

The fundamental reason is that this magical skill is too easy to harm people.

It is completely in the gambler's heart. If you bet on the right, it is naturally a blockbuster, but once you lose, in this unsuspecting situation, the end will always be death.

Losing is the norm, but winning will make people fall in love with this sense of coolness. Gambling is even ruinous, and this kind of gambling will obviously make people lose their money.

Take George Han as an example. Even if he has all kinds of abilities now, once he becomes addicted to drugs and relies on non-phase magic all day long to gamble, one day it is very likely that he will overturn the big ship in the gutter and fall into oblivion. The tragic situation.

This, I am afraid, is the real reason for the loss of phaseless magic.

Thinking of this, George Han was not very embarrassed.

In fact, over the years, hasn't it been a factor of gambling?

At least for now, I'm still betting, and moreover, it's a big bet.

"God bless you." With an angry shout, everything is ready, George Han swiped his hands suddenly, turning three huge attacks directly into his hands.

"Om!"

George Han felt a sudden shock in his body on the spot, and his body was suddenly bulged in everywhere, as if he had to break his body directly.

The blood flow in the body is fast, and the heart is violent.

Phaseless magic swallows ten thousand magic powers, but after all, it seems that it is still difficult to stop its power. At this time, part of the energy has even caused George Han's whole body to start to suffer backlash.

Could it be that you really lost the bet?

"Puff!"

Almost at the same time, an uncontrollable blood flowed directly from his mouth, and he was silently telling George Han the answer.

"Bang!" On the arm, the epidermis suddenly exploded, and blood flowed wildly.

Before George Han had any reaction, several loud bangs rang around his body. Looking back, he suddenly discovered that these bursts were all exploded with blood. They were not ordinary points, but George Han's acupuncture points.

"Can't even stand the acupuncture points, have they exploded?" George Han endured the intense pain in his body, a little desperate.

"Bang-bang-bang!" There were a few more muffled noises. Although this time was not as cruel as the explosion of acupuncture points, George Han's heart was more thorough.

Because he knew very well that these few explosions were far more dangerous than the previous ones, so they exploded the internal organs in his body.

More blood flowed down the mouth, which was the best answer to his perception of being correct.

George Han smiled bitterly, lowered his head slightly, and looked at the last place that didn't explode, his heart...

Chapter 3223

It is the last hurdle and the last hope for George Han to live.

If it doesn't even weigh its burden and explodes directly, then this bet has already been announced in advance.

George Han did not speak, but waited quietly.

But almost at this time, several warm rays of light suddenly began to soothe George Han's whole body.

The golden body is shining, the marks of the Sifang Heavenly Beasts are also shining, and the Five Elements Divine Stone is slowly moving. Even the blood of the Devil Dragon is doing its utmost in the body to cross the broken acupuncture points, trying to ensure George Han. Thousands of blood flow in the body.

George Han was moved. He knew that when he was most dangerous, everything in his body was trying his best to maintain his safety with the last energy.

"Thank you." Even though they knew they didn't understand, George Han said sincerely.

"Since you are all helping me like this, I can't resist it, I seem to be sorry to you." George Han smiled slightly, and then, after forcibly enduring the pain in his body, George Han continued to urge the innocent energy in his body to bless it wildly. There is no phase magic in the hands.

"That guy..." At almost the same time, the entourage discovered something incredible.

Behind George Han, the Sifang Heavenly Beasts hovered faintly, and a huge golden body was looming on his body. Behind him, the lights of various gods and demons were faintly looming.

Above the head, the black clouds dispersed, and the stars in the starry sky were visible to the Buddha, and the golden light totem came into being under the feet.

The air around him began to faintly beating, directly under the ground, and even the ground under his feet was trembling slightly.

"What the hell are you doing? Give me strength." Seeing George Han like this, Gui Zun immediately shouted angrily, and then took the lead, directly urging the spell in his hand to maximize.

Jade-faced Shura didn't dare to be big, even though he didn't know what was going on at this time, it was indisputable that although the spell had reached George Han, it did not cause him any substantial harm.

He naturally didn't want to see George Han okay, and immediately increased the energy in his hands.

The tens of thousands of monsters also shouted in unison, expanding their energy collectively.

Suddenly, the light of the magic energy even shone the entire Devil Cloud Ghost City like daylight. George Han's teeth were almost broken, but he still insisted on frantically.

Every inch of his muscles was crumbling tightly, and the meridians under his skin were abruptly visible to the naked eye.

“No-phase magical power.”

Suddenly, George Han, who had been resisting, moved suddenly. Under the swing of his hands, the three huge beams of light were suddenly twisted by the guy’s hands like bamboo poles.

boom!

The people connected with the spell suddenly fell down as if they had lost their center of gravity.

“What?”

Almost at the same time, the man and the seventh princess suddenly opened their eyes wide, and the seventh princess fell directly from the car, showing some instability, but she didn’t care about it at all, just focused her attention. Put it on George Han.

“It’s impossible, isn’t it? He alone blocked the attacks of tens of thousands of people?” Because of surprise, that person even burst into foul language at this time.

The seventh princess didn’t mean to blame her servant for being rude, because even she couldn’t help it at this time.

This is simply too ridiculous. It is impossible for one person to withstand the combined attack of ten thousand people and two masters. It has nothing to do with strength.

Even the true god shouldn’t be able to do it.

However, George Han really used his own actions to break this concept. It is as if someone has common sense and reality to let you know that one plus one equals two, but one person tells you in a straightforward way. One plus one equals three.

How can this not make people feel extremely shocked and unacceptable?

But just when the two were completely stunned by the shock, at this time, something that made them even more dumbfounded happened again.

Because at this time, George Han didn’t mean to stop the movement in his hands, which also meant that what the two of them saw was only half.

When the movement in his hand was completed, George Han moved..
