

Chapter 327

By this time, Mama He had come over with the box.

"Old lady, found it."

She handed the box to the old lady with a smile, and Jenny took a look at it, only to see that it was a dark brown ancient sandalwood box with intricate and delicate patterns carved on it, and at a glance it was of the highest quality.

The old lady opened the box, but saw that it was covered with dark red velvet satin, and on the satin lay an antique sapphire necklace.

Jenny's eyelids jumped and his face changed slightly.

For no other reason than that the necklace looks very familiar, it actually looks like...

The old lady took the necklace out and said with emotion, "This was obtained by your grandfather by accident from an antique dealer a long time ago, when I was still young, when we had just met, and he gave it to me as our engagement gift.

Jenny, you are a good child, grandmother has nothing else to give you, so I will give this necklace to you, hoping that you and Ah Shen, like us, can also be harmonious and peaceful for the rest of your life."

In the meantime, Jenny Jing's face wasn't happy, and he was even slightly out of breath.

The old lady noticed her look, was surprised, and shouted, "Jenny."

Jenny came back to his senses.

She was in a trance for a moment before smiling somewhat reluctantly, "Grandma, what did you just say?"

In the meantime, the old lady doesn't even bother.

She didn't continue what she had just said, but was concerned, "Are you okay? Is it somewhere uncomfortable?"

Jenny shook his head.

She pursed her lips and hesitated slightly for a moment before saying, "I'm fine, but at first glance I saw this necklace and remembered something."

The old lady was very surprised.

"Oh? No wonder you've seen it before?"

It was reasonably impossible, after all, the necklace, which had been carefully treasured by her since the old man himself had given it to her decades ago, could not have been seen by an outsider.

However, Jenny nodded.

She reached up, from around her neck, and untied the necklace she'd been wearing.

"Grandma, look at this."

The necklace was similar in shape to the one the old lady had taken out, except that the sapphire on it had been replaced with a ruby.

The old lady was all shocked.

Not only her, but also Mama He, who was watching, was stunned.

"What's, what's going on..."

This necklace is a treasure handed down from the previous dynasty, this is the only one, how could there be another one exactly like it?

Jenny Jing didn't know the history of the necklace, but looking at the two of them's reactions, he also knew that something was just not right about this matter.

The old lady reacted half-heartedly, her face paling, and asked, "Where did you get this necklace?"

Jenny Jing didn't hide anything, so he now told her about his mother's death and the legacy she had left to her.

The old lady was confused even after hearing that.

She frowned, half-heartedly, and held out her hand, "Can you give me a closer look at this necklace of yours?"

Jenny nodded.

After receiving the necklace, the old lady looked at it carefully and her face came down with a relaxed expression.

"This necklace is a fake, although the workmanship is also exquisite and looks ancient and heavy, but if you look closely, you'll see that there are many parts that are new, it would never be something left over from the previous dynasty for so long, rather it looks like it was imitated in recent years."

Jenny was greatly appalled.

By all accounts, this item, which was left to her by her mother, as she had seen her mother wear it when she was a child, and she had purposely kept it for herself before she died, should not have been a copy by any means.

However, the old lady was repeatedly certain, and Jenny couldn't find another better explanation at the moment, so she could only stop.

After she came out of the old lady's room, Jenny took An'an back home with Biden Lu.

Ann had been delighted to learn that there was a little brother in the house, and was making a fuss to play with him.

Jenny handed over to Aunt Liu and Xiao Zhao to watch over them and not play too late, then went upstairs.

Back in the bedroom, after her shower, she took the two necklaces out and placed them side by side, sitting on the bed in contemplation.

Biden Lu came back at an unknown time, and when he saw her sitting there with her hand on her chin and a puzzled expression on her face, he raised his eyebrows slightly.

"What are you looking at?"

He walked over and sat down across from her.

Jenny Jing pushed the two jewellery boxes in front of him and said, "Look at these two necklaces."

Biden Lu's eyebrows rose, a little surprised.

The ruby one that Jenny always wore on his body, of course he had seen it.

Knowing it was a relic her mother had left her, it came as no surprise.

But the one next to it, because it was the old lady's, the old lady has been treasured well, rarely take it out, and Biden Lu a man also does not pay much attention to these, so instead not much seen.

At this point, looking at the two necklaces laid out together, I thought, "Did Grandma give you this one?"

Jenny nodded.

"Grandmother said that it was something left by the former royal family, when grandfather accidentally got it and gave it to her as an engagement gift, and she just passed this necklace on to me, but I didn't realize I already had one beforehand, the one my mother left me, but Grandmother said it was a copy."

She said, picking up the ruby one.

Biden Lu picked it up and took a closer look at it.

Before, he didn't relate much to the jewellery these women used, so he didn't pay attention to it.

At this time, a closer look revealed that the necklace was very new in colour, not to mention that it was from a previous dynasty, and even if Mo Caiwei had worn it for decades, it wasn't very trustworthy.

In the meantime, he couldn't help but frown.

Jenny sighed in annoyance.

"I don't think my mum would lie to me, and I never really understood the significance of the reason she left me this necklace, do you think this necklace, could there really be a connection to Grandma's one?"

Biden Lu looked at her.

The gaze, obscure and uncertain, seemed thoughtful.

Jenny was a little confused by what he was looking at, and didn't know what he meant.

For a moment, Biden Lu put the necklace down before saying, "I remember that this item was being held by the old lady of the Jing family at first, so she might not know anything about the inside story."

Jenny was stunned, then his face darkened.

"Forget it, she wouldn't tell me even if she knew."

Biden Lu was nonplussed by her words.

He was silent, helping her put both necklaces away, and said quietly, "In that case, there's no need to think about it so much, it's nothing more than a necklace left or right, and it won't affect anything, so let's just consider it a coincidence."

Jenny thought about it and felt that it was, so he let him clean up as well.

After settling down, she went back downstairs to check on Ann and Happy, and settled the two little ones back to their respective rooms to sleep.

Chapter 328

A few days later, it was New Year's Eve.

This holiday of national celebration.

Since they were both in Kyoto, it was natural to spend New Year's together, so that afternoon, Jenny Jing took An'an and Lele back to the old house.

Even though it was during the New Year, Biden Lu still had some business to take care of and was still in the office, so he wouldn't be back until later.

Jenny Jing had called him in advance and told him to go straight back to the old mansion after his business, so he wouldn't have to return to Villa Maple Bridge.

The Lu family's old house was very lively for a time, and it was a very rare family reunion.

The old lady was so happy recently, it's no wonder, before the New Year, either Biden Lu in the field, or Lu Lanzhi something is not in, even if back, but also the grandparents four, always feel a bit lonely.

This year will be different, looking at the children and grandchildren around the knee, the old lady also only feel heart warming, the whole person is a few years younger.

After all, it was New Year's Eve, and as a member of the land family, Lanzie had to come back on such an important day.

But perhaps mindful of Jenny's feelings, the old lady side-stepped her in advance and asked her about it.

Jenny Jing originally had no ill will towards Lu Lanzhi, before Lu Lanzhi left the country, also because of the matter of the gambling quarry, and she originally had little to do with it.

Now that the matter of the gambling quarry was almost settled, it was only natural that she should return.

Jenny smiled and advised the old lady, who saw that she didn't look displeased, which put her mind at ease.

That afternoon, Lu Lanzhi returned to the old mansion right after Jenny's hind feet.

The two just happened to hit it off when they entered, and Lu Lanzhi still had that high-minded and arrogant look, but after all, having suffered this setback, her temper was not as arrogant as usual, and even if she was no longer happy to see her, she only snorted and walked inside without saying anything.

Jenny didn't bother with her.

She felt that Lu Lanzhi was almost forty years old, and it was quite hard to live her heart out like a teenager.

It's a good thing that you've got a lot of people in your life who are interested in you, because you've got a lot of people in your life who are interested in you.

Being angry with such a person simply does not do half the good except to make you feel uncomfortable.

Jenny Jing had always been a person who would never treat himself badly, and since it was something that didn't benefit him, he naturally didn't bother doing it.

The old house was decorated with many New Year's decorations and looked festive.

After entering the house, Jenny let An An play by herself, while Xiao Zhao and the other maid from the old mansion looked after Le Le, and she went to the back kitchen to find the old lady.

On the 30th day of the Lunar New Year, the most important festival of the year, the old lady likes to cook delicious food for her family herself, which is a habit and tradition left over from decades.

Kyoto, however, is part of northern China and the weather is cold, so dumplings are most popular on New Year's Eve.

The old lady and Lu Lanzhi both grew up in the north, so naturally they were no strangers to this.

But Jenny grew up in Visterdem, which is in the south and rarely eats dumplings or noodles.

So the whole family becomes the only handicapped party where she can't, and the rest of us can.

She was embarrassed for a moment, but the old lady smiled and said, "If you want to learn, come here and I'll teach you."

Lucian looked at her and was going to sour her a little, but paused and didn't say anything, not knowing what came to mind.

Jenny didn't notice her look, and when she saw the old lady say that, although her heart was still unsure, she could only finish washing her hands and scalp her.

The dumpling maker, besides the maid, was the three of them.

Biden Lu returned at 5:30 with the old man at the Playing chess in the chess room.

The old lady slowed down the movement of her hands and said, "Look, put this meat in, and then just squeeze this skin, hold the centre still with your left hand, like a central axis, and follow it with your right hand in a circle and squeeze a little flower, this will make it beautiful and delicious, try it."

Jenny stared at the old lady's movements without turning away, and had an idea of what to expect.

She nodded, "Okay, I'll try."

However, there are some things that just seem so simple that it's harder than it is to do.

She never knew that it was so hard to wrap a dumpling.

The dumpling skin, in the old lady's hands, was as alive as she could squeeze it as she wanted.

But in her hands, she either couldn't turn it or pinched it out so crooked and ugly that she couldn't bear to look at it herself.

Put too little meat in and the centre deflates, put too much and it pops out again.

It made her momentarily confused.

The old lady couldn't help but laugh when she saw this.

"There's no rush, take your time to learn, this stuff is ah simple! You squeeze a few more and find the knack."

Jenny blushed a little, feeling for the first time that his hands were so stupid.

When Lu Lanzhi saw the old lady turn her neck, she put down the dumpling skin in her hand and said, "Mom, you must be tired! Let me help you up for a while."

The old lady is happy today, up early, and has been working all day.

Nodded at the sight.

"All right then! After wrapping the dumplings, you take An'an to the square over there to watch the fireworks for a while, tell Shen to stop playing chess and take Jenny with you, there are a bunch of kids who grew up in Kyoto over there, it's lively, don't detain a bunch of young people at home."

Lucian took off his gloves and nodded.

Only then did the old lady, with her assistance, go upstairs to rest.

Jenny continued to fight with the dumpling skins on her hands there, but actually had already wrapped enough for the night, but she just wasn't happy.

She had always been very handy, and it was easy to learn how to do everything, but she didn't expect to lose today to a small dumpling skin.

No, she had to pinch it out.

As we were comparing notes, a soft laugh suddenly rang out behind us.

She froze and turned back, and saw Biden Lu standing behind her, looking at the movement of her hands, holding a smile at the corners of her mouth, as if she had been holding it for a long time.

Jennyton blushed a small blush and turned back to mumble, "How long have you been over here? Why don't you all make a sound?"

"But I made a noise, it's just that you wrapped the dumplings so intently that you didn't notice."

The man said, stepping forward, looking at the work on her hand that failed once again, he couldn't help but smile, "You're using too much strength, in fact, as long as you master the method, you don't need to use so much strength, look, it's all squeezed and deformed."

Jenny had just been mocked by the old lady and was already frustrated, but now even he was laughing at her.

In a moment of shame, he snarled, "You'll you come!"

The man quirked an eyebrow, when really without saying a word, went to wash his hands, put on his gloves and started to wrap them up.

Jenny was startled.

Just seeing the snowy white dumpling skin in his broad hands was like living.

Very quickly they made a very nice dumpling.

She paused to even look straight.

Biden Lu lifted his eyelids and looked at her askance.

Jenny's frustration increased and he lost his way, "How come you guys make it up so easy and I just can't learn?"

Chapter 329

The man quirked his lips, "I told you to master the method."

Seeing that she was still frowning and looking annoyed, the man simply put down the dumpling skin in his hands and walked behind her.

Then wrapped her arms around her body, took a piece of dumpling skin and gave it to her, holding her hand like that.

"See, don't press too hard here or you won't be able to turn it, this hand, bring it gently and a flower will come out, then press this feeling, turn it, squeeze it, isn't it easy?"

Jenny was amazed to find that it was really easy to wrap it up again after being taught by this man's hands.

Biden Lu held her hand again, this way teaching her to wrap a few.

When the fifth one was ready, Jenny couldn't resist and said, "I'll try one myself."

The man's eyes darkened and he nodded, "Okay, try one yourself."

She carefully took the dumpling skin and gently squeezed it according to the kind of feeling he had just taught her.

Soon, a dumpling was kneaded.

It wasn't as perfect as what he'd done when he'd just taught her, but it could be called a normal dumpling.

She was so happy that she took that dumpling and browbeat him, saying, "Look, I've learned!"

Seeing the simple happy smile on the little woman's face, the man was infected by it as well, his eyes thickening as a few smiles overflowed.

He nodded, "Well, my wife is smart."

Jenny was embarrassed by this sudden compliment from him.

Gathering the shredded hair by her cheeks, she smiled apologetically and said, "You taught me well."

However, she forgot that she had been wrapping dumplings all morning, and her hands were all covered with grey flour, so that when she gathered her hair together, her cheeks were suddenly smeared with two white marks.

Like a shy kitten.

The man's eyes darkened even more at the sight, and suddenly pressed the back of her head and k*ssed her hard right on the lips.

Jenny was caught off guard by his k*ss and froze for a moment before looking around in panic.

Bumping his waist with his elbow, he griped, "What?It's in the old house!Grandma and my aunt are still out there!"

Biden Lu laughed lightly, "So what?"

Jenny stared at him.

"Don't you dare say that!What if someone sees us?"

"Jenny, we're legally married, it's okay to k*ss and be seen."

Jenny: "....."

That said, after all, the old lady and Lu Lanzhi and the others were there, and while the old man hadn't shown up, there was no telling when he would suddenly come over.

to, then wouldn't she be ashamed to death.

The man also knew that she was easily shy, and seeing that she was even red at the roots of her ears, he quirked his lips in pleasure and stopped teasing her.

Taking the gloves off, he said, "It's still early before dinner, so I'll take you out for a walk?"

Jenny looked at the time, it wasn't even six o'clock, it was indeed still early.

So nod your head, "Good."

They took their gloves and cleaned up, then went out together, holding hands.

Most of the villa areas near the Lu family's old house were inhabited by the sons and daughters of the four great families.

More than a decade ago, after the compound where they used to live started to be demolished, 80 percent of the people moved here, so in fact, this neighborhood is like another compound.

As they walked out, they often met the occasional person who passed by and greeted Biden Lu.

"Hello, Lu Er!"

"Hello Ergo!"

"Where's Ergo going?"

"Second brother, take your sister-in-law out for a walk!"

Various greetings were exchanged, but you could tell that the people here were more familiar with him and addressed him differently than the people outside.

Biden Lu basically just nodded and left it at that, and didn't answer, being so high and cold.

But for these people, while his face remained expressionless, there was warmth in his eyes, not as cold as when he faced others.

Just then, a young boy walked up to us.

It's called a boy because the other guy has a dyed yellow inch head and is adorned in a metal punk outfit that at a glance belongs to that teenage rebellious period look.

With a skateboard under his feet, he rushed over with wind-like speed, and his eyes lit up when he saw the land.

With a push of his foot, he stopped and shouted in a flourish, "Second Brother! You're back!"

Biden Lu looked at him, and his cold eyes seemed to have softened considerably.

"Well, what for?"

"Get ready to go out and play."

The boy's gaze landed on Jenny, and he was astonished again.

Then ambiguously winked at Biden Lu.

"Second Brother, this must be my second sister-in-law. When's the wedding? And let your brother rub up against a wedding banquet and dip into the festivities."

Biden Lu smiled slightly, "Soon."

Jenny was stunned, and before she could react, she was pulled forward by Biden Lu.

Behind him, the young boy and the laughing boy yelled, "Yes! Be sure to let me know when it's time, and I'll be the best man for you!"

They had already walked out a distance, Jenny was a bit confused, looked back at the boy and asked Biden Lu, "Who is he?"

"The youngest of the Gu."

"Huh?"

Truth be told, for the Gu family, Jenny had indeed heard a lot and seen very little.

The four big families in Kyoto, the Guan family, needless to say, were already considered to be quite familiar, and the Feng family, because of the presence of Tailor Feng, was also familiar to a fault.

Only this Gu family, until now, she hadn't seen much of the Gu family's generation of children.

Last time at the Guan family's party, she had only met the head of the Gu family, Gu Changhai.

It is said that Gu Changhai has three sons, the eldest in the army and the second in business, both of whom are among the best of the younger generation, except for the youngest, who has very little news from the outside world and doesn't seem to be much valued by his family.

Now it seems that the one I just saw must be the rumored youngest Gu.

Jenny was thoughtful, but didn't think much of it, and the two of them soon arrived at a nearby square.

The square was very crowded.

It's New Year's Eve, and there's a place where fireworks are set off, and even though it's daytime and the fireworks aren't as effective as they are at night, there are a lot of people there because of the lively atmosphere.

Jenny's hands were warm from the man's pocket in his coat.

She saw a fried chestnut for sale up ahead and said, "Let's go get some snacks."

Biden Lu nodded, took her over, bought some, and was checking out when Jenny Jing's phone suddenly rang.

She picked up the phone and saw Nina Hua.

With a smile on his lips, he greeted Biden Lu and walked away to answer the phone.

The purpose of Nina Hua's call was simple, nothing more than to tell her about the situation in Visterdem and to ask about Le Le.

Jenny told her all about it.

Le Le has Xiao Zhao to take care of her, the old mansion, the old lady and Mama He are all from the mother, so they are very good at taking care of children, there is no need to worry.