

Chapter 3270

As the ceremonial officer and everyone exclaimed, a young man slowly stepped onto the stage.

If the ghost face is a bookish, weak and polite, then the man on stage is exquisite in appearance, quite like a rich man.

“Wow, damn, I’m not dazzling, right? That’s...”

is a numb, isn’t it?” The crowd was shocked and exploded, obviously for this newcomer, it was difficult to accept for a while.

Princess Ruyu!” “The damn son is Young Master Ning, this is not only a wealthy family, but also young and promising. He is the future lord of the Ning family. Even he wants to snatch Miss Zhu with us?

” His mother, based on his looks and abilities, he wants to beckon, not to mention the sister of a city lord who should have fallen. Even the most powerful Pei family in this neighborhood will definitely marry his princess to him.”

“This...”

Many people are very puzzled and surprised at the same time, some even feel sorry for this Lord Yu.

At this time, George Han was very depressed.

With the appearance of Lord Ruyu, the onlookers below were eagerly looking forward to it. Many people even pushed each other to grab a good spot. Those who couldn’t grab a good position also directly padded their toes, and directly took the gap road that could have been walked for a while. It was blocked by George Han.

The seal of the present place also exists, otherwise George Han really wanted to step on these people’s heads and fly over.

“Princess Ruyu, you are really surprising. I didn’t expect you to join in the excitement.” On the stage, the ghost face was also a little surprised at the appearance of Young Master Ruyu.

After all, Young Master Ruyu also has the same reputation, saying that he is not at all afraid of it, it is impossible.

“The so-called slender ladies, gentlemen are so bad, Ms. Zhu Jia, naturally men want to pursue them.” Young Master Ruyu smiled lightly, then glanced at the fan in the hands of the ghost-faced, and said: “I heard that the folding fan in the ghost-faced person’s hands is like the king of Hades. Erotic, fan-out certainly with blood, was wholly unknown to want to experience the next. “ ghost who also refused to yield, cold voice laughed:.” that is just like a son wished “ then down, let alone two in the inferno, even in The people from the Central Plains are also very elegant people, but suddenly they rushed to each other fiercely like two bolts of lightning.

Both of them are extremely fast, and their killer moves are fierce. Although it is best to stop at the ring, it is obvious that for both of them, they both want to kill each other with a single blow.

And because of this, the fight between the two sides naturally appeared extremely fierce, and the flashes between the sparks and sparks made people watch intently.

Even George Han couldn't help stopping at this time and was directly attracted by him.

"It's really a fight between the thunder and the earth, it's too damn exciting."

"It has been rumored that he is not only an excellent family, but the most important thing is that his personal cultivation is also very fierce, saying that he is young and talented. Jun, the future is limitless. Originally, I thought it was someone else's compliment, but when I saw it today, I realized that it was not a vain name, and he could compete with the ghost face so well."

"Indeed, the ghost face crosses the rivers and lakes ." For many years, he has long been famous. For example, Young Master Yu has only been out of the world for three years, but he can fight him so well. The future is really promising. Even if he loses, he will not be ashamed." People around them sighed, but they were the only ones . Du George Han only sneered at this.

It is said that the expert is watching the doorway and the layman is watching the excitement. This is not false.

In the eyes of others, perhaps the two played brilliantly, and even when Young Master Ruyi was able to contend with the ghost face so much at this time, George Han had already begun to prepare to move on.

Because it is very obvious that in the eyes of George Han, the game has basically been announced to end early.

It's like Young Master Jade, it's not at all equal to the ghost face, on the contrary, it can even be said that it is a sure victory.

In the eyes of others, the two want to fight in an instant with only a few tricks, but in George Han's eyes, the two have already fought hundreds of tricks.

This is the difference between the master and the low hand, the analysis of the battle situation.

So instead of wasting time here, it's better to do what you should do.

Almost less than half a minute after George Han left, as Young Master Ruyi smiled lightly, the ghost-faced person had already taken a few steps back, unwilling to admit defeat.

The crowd was in an uproar, and Xiang also rekindled, but no one dared to enter the arena for a long time, and even many people in the crowd did not dare to move, for fear of being mistaken for a challenge.

Except for one person...

Chapter 3271

Not only is the person moving, but the whole process is still moving.

Because the crowd was frightened at this time and did not dare to move at will, when someone did the opposite, it would appear extremely conspicuous.

He almost moved all the way from the back of the crowd, drilled and robbed to the center of the crowd, and was coming all the way towards the ring.

Young Master Ruyu was condescending, so he was naturally easy to notice, and with his attention, the crowds below followed his gaze.

A group of people were completely dumbfounded for a while, bewildered and full of curiosity staring at the guy.

And that guy, besides George Han, who else could he be?

Taking advantage of the effort of this meeting, he naturally rushed to the ring without stopping, not paying attention to his own mistakes, and at this time he became the focus of the audience.

Zhu Yanshuo also frowned slightly, the clothes that moved the figure were so familiar, how could he not be confused?

Many people pointed and pointed and discussed, some of them even looked at each other, and then moved in a hurry.

“Bang!”

George Han, who was busy drilling and “hurrying” all the way, suddenly felt a pain on his forehead, as if he had hit something, but when he raised his eyes, he saw a huge figure standing in front of him. .

It just happened to hit the big belly of this giant man.

However, although the belly seemed to be soft, it still hit George Han in a daze.

“Xiao Hansan, what are you doing?” The head giant stared at George Han without a smile at this time.

George Han frowned, thinking that he didn't seem to provoke these guys, right? “What's the matter? Xiongtai?”

“Xiongtai? Who the hell is Xiongtai with you? Why are you fucking around here?” The giant looked at George Han with disdain.

The young man Ruyu on the stage is his own. Winning the ring should naturally have attracted much attention, but it turned out to be good, but this little Kuzan is crazy to add drama to himself here, attracting a lot of attention.

Naturally, the subordinates had extremely eye-sightedness, and immediately came over to plug this kid.

Once out of breath, secondly, if this kid moves around to make trouble, he will be cleaned up at any time.

Hehe, with this small body, he can slap him back to grandma's house with one slap.

“Is it stipulated that you can’t move around here?” George Han frowned and was a little puzzled. If he wanted to say that he had hit him, he still said that he lost his temper, but it was obvious that he was in front of him, so he couldn’t get him.

As for the collision from the back, it was obviously because this guy deliberately walked in front of him and deliberately blocked the way.

“This is a public place, should you be free to move around?” George Han looked at him in wonder.

The giant sneered: “Who allowed you to move around freely?”

Seeing that he was unreasonable, George Han was too lazy to be as knowledgeable as him, and walked around on his own to prepare to leave.

As a result, the giant man moved a few more steps, once again directly blocking George Han’s path, with a grinning and disdainful smile on his face.

Even though George Han didn’t want to offend people more, he was a little dissatisfied at this time, frowning: “Xiongtai, what does this mean?”

“As you said, this is a public place, free activities are allowed. You go, don’t let me go?” The giant didn’t worry, and laughed coldly.

Hearing this, the unnamed fire in George Han’s heart began to rise continuously. He didn’t want to deceive others, but couldn’t hold back people from constantly making trouble on him.

Right now, once and again, and again and again, how can George Han not be hot?

However, even so, George Han still pressed his temper: “What? Afraid that I will challenge your son? Now playing these tricks underneath?”

As soon as these words came out, it was like a thunderstorm on the ground. When George Han’s words fell, the crowd was stunned, and the next second, the pan was blown up...
