

Chapter 3290

“Cough...”

“It seems that I don’t hate it that much, are you applauding me to stand up?” The voice was very subtle, but it must be admitted that it was unusually harsh , when a group of people on the stage heard it, they could not help frowning.

whose voice is this?

Who said that?

What is he talking about? !

A series of questions filled their minds, and at the same time, the smiles on their faces began to freeze.

City Lord Zhu suddenly raised his hand and signaled everyone on the scene to be quiet. The scene was suddenly dumbfounded. Although they didn’t hear the slightly sarcastic words just now, they saw that everyone on the stage was dignified at this time, even mixed with incredible He looked at the place where George Han lay down.

Is something wrong? !

Just when everyone was extremely puzzled, at this time, the Rites suddenly ran to George Han’s side, lowering his body and seemed to check George Han’s situation.

“What’s the matter?”

“Damn, that grandson won’t be alive, right?”

“It’s impossible, with that kid’s thin body, he can completely eat the blow that runs through the whole body of the Black Mountain Demon Girl. impossible to have any possibility of survival ah. ” “

even a small break his body so his mother is iron to build, it would also special What was labeled iron mud fishes ah. “ gang looked at each other for such The unexpected situation is obviously not the slightest preparation.

But just as they were discussing, the Ritual Officer next to George Han stood up gently, and then, George Han next to the Rites Officer suddenly moved.

Everyone’s eyes widened for a while, and they looked at each other as if they had stopped breathing.

George Han, who was on the move, moved even more violently. He even raised his hand slightly, and even supported his body with both hands and sat down slowly.

Immediately afterwards, something even more terrifying happened...

Although George Han was extremely difficult, he still stood up little by little under the crowd.

“Wow!”

When George Han stood up, the extremely quiet crowd exploded!

“Stand up, stand up, that guy actually stood up.” A group of people held their heads, preventing Buddha from seeing the most incredible thing in the world. Their eyes were horrified, or they petrified in situ and completely fell into crazy.

“Ah!” The

Black Mountain Demon Girl was also shocked, and she stepped back a little staggeringly. Her arrogant habit even had a trace of fear in her eyes at this time.

This... is this also possible? !

Although she did not use her full strength because of hesitation and worry, she basically covered 70% of her strength.

In the face of such power, not to mention a small Central Plains human race in front of her, she is absolutely confident that this blow can easily kill them even if there are many extremely strong masters of the Demon Race.

Especially under the same resistance as George Han.

Since ancient times, there has been an attack and a defense. The two sides are basically at the same time. Even if the defense is slow, it is often not a few beats behind.

This kind of pure George Han is not only slow, but even slow can be called unguarded! !

How did he not die?

And can you stand up unbelievably? !

The Black Mountain Demon Girl couldn't understand, and even she didn't dare to think about it, she just looked at George Han in a daze.

Zhu Yanshuo was also dumbfounded, he even forgot to breathe, he stood there straight, motionless.

Zhu Yan'er, who was wearing a hijab, also got up, and even lifted the hijab on her head because she was afraid of her dazzling eyes, but the iron truth told her that she had no dazzling eyes, and George Han stood there, motionless. Not shaking, even with a slight smile on his face.

“It's interesting.” George Han grinned and looked at the Black Mountain Demon Girl with admiration.

Then, he glanced back at the audience around him and smiled: “Thank you for your applause. If it wasn't for your encouragement, I would have almost couldn't stand up.” In one sentence, it seems to be thanking everyone, but everyone They all understood that the actual George Han was just mocking them. If George Han dared to provoke them like this before, they would definitely fight back viciously one by one.

But now, everyone at the scene just stared at him stupidly, completely shocked by him...

“Now, who wins?”

George Han turned his eyes to the Rites.

Chapter 3291

official was stunned on the spot, and was about to announce, but at this time City Lord Zhu suddenly coughed.

The ritual official hurriedly shut up, and he, who was good at observing words and expressions, immediately stepped aside, lowered his head, and obediently waited for City Lord Zhu to speak.

Seeing this situation, George Han understood for a few seconds, and he was not angry. He smiled and looked at Zhu Yanshuo. He wanted to see if this guy had any new things to mess with.

The Black Mountain Demon Girl didn't speak either. According to the rules, she knew that she had lost the game. After all, it was an indisputable fact that Han Sanqianli was here.

But she will not prevent City Lord Zhu from wanting to change the result. Although she has no interest in the "prize" for winning the game, after all, it is not a matter of face for a master like her to admit to losing.

Seeing this on the stage, the people who were shocked under the stage also reflected again.

"Hehe, how can this be considered his win? Although there are rules just now, but you have also seen that this kid was knocked to the ground at the first blow, so according to the rules, he also lost."

"That's not true, This one who stands up again is naturally not standing up, because there is a time limit, otherwise I can go up, and now I get knocked down, if I stand up tomorrow, will it count as my win?"

"That's right. , City Lord Zhu, you have to act according to the rules, it is obvious that the Black Mountain Demon Girl is the winner."

With the seam, naturally this group of people will go to drill, although they can't talk about how much they like the Black Mountain Demon Girl, but they definitely won't. Of course, they don't want someone they hate or even despise to win the game.

What's more, the Black Mountain Demon Girl is also a super expert, and taking this opportunity to flatter her is considered a two birds with one stone plan.

Therefore, a few people shouted like this, and more and more people began to join in.

They shouted wildly, and even got emotional, the purpose was to support City Lord Zhu's actions.

George Han smiled helplessly, not showing any anger at all.

Some people are just like that, so why bother.

This one, there are two other people, this will be a bit dumbfounded.

Naturally, it was the gambler and the banker.

Although there is no roller coaster in Bafang World, and the two have never played or even seen such a thing, at least at this moment, the two of them have not only played, but also played on a spiritual level. It's wave after wave.

What is life's ups and downs, this is it.

If there is a heaven and a hell in this world, the two of them would just be like riding a rotating train leading to these two places, not going in and out.

Winning or not winning money is important, but more importantly, the thrill is really fucking exciting.

This one looked like he was going to lose, but suddenly his mother won, and that one looked like he was going to win, but lost unbelievably.

The point is, it doesn't matter once, how many times in a row, who can stand it?

Anyway, at this moment, neither the Zhuang people nor the gambling dog are arguing about winning.

If you have to make a comparison, of course, the player who sits in the banker is the one who can't stand the best, because at least in terms of the cards, he is now the winner.

As long as City Lord Zhu announces, the entire gambling contract will be completely ended. After all, everything depends on what the official said.

"Everyone, be quiet."

At this time, City Lord Zhu stepped into the ring with a faint smile on his face, and then he raised his hand slightly to signal everyone to be quiet.

As soon as he spoke, the excited crowd was immediately suppressed, and everyone shut up and looked at the stage.

City Lord Zhu smiled, and then, he looked at the Black Mountain Enchantress beside him. George Han couldn't see Zhu Cheng's expression because of the direction, but he nodded when he saw the Black Mountain Enchantress.

City Lord Zhu also turned his head and looked at George Han.

George Han smiled bitterly: "So, did I lose?"

City Lord Zhu smiled: "The Black Mountain Demon Girl is indeed brave, which is obvious to all, but..."

"She was convinced that she lost, who made her in the ring today. Did you meet someone from the heavens?" After the words fell, the smiling faces of the crowd suddenly froze together...
