

Chapter 3296

Immediately after, she turned around slightly, and with a movement of her jade hand, her coat slipped off.

With the soft sound of her clothes falling to the ground, George Han didn't know that she was suddenly like this. When he subconsciously looked back, he saw a smooth and white back like jade reflected in front of him.

George Han was a little panicked and wanted to look back, but at this moment, his eyes were deeply attracted by a rose mark in the center of her back.

"This is?" George Han asked slightly.

"The birthmark, the birthmark of the Zhu family." She turned her back to George Han and spoke indifferently.

George Han didn't speak, his eyes were fixed on the seal of the rose.

He is distinguishing the true from the false, but when he looks closely, he can hardly help frowning. You say it is false, but from the streamline and the whole point of view, it does not seem to be that kind of deliberate, many places. Although there are flaws, it is precisely because of such flaws that it can better prove that it is not fake but real.

But you say it's real, but it's hard to believe that a birthmark can be born into a lifelike rose, which is really magical.

"Can I touch it?" George Han asked.

She hesitated for a moment, then nodded.

George Han didn't have the slightest distraction in his heart, he just stretched out a finger and touched the mark slightly.

Although it was just a touch of the water out of the courtesy of a gentleman, George Han was very clear about the feeling at that moment.

The rose mark is indeed a real birthmark, not a deliberate forgery, which shows that Zhu Yan'er did not lie to herself, she is really not the Xia Wei she said.

As for why he was so sure, it was because George Han had healed Xia Wei's injuries when he first met Xia Wei. Naturally, he had also seen Xia Wei's back.

Xia Wei's back is as smooth as jade and has never had any birthmarks.

The most important thing is the touch.

George Han is definitely not that kind of rogue, but because Xia Wei is from the Phoenix clan, her body is different from others. George Han has touched her back, and her silky back is truly a gift to anyone. Leaving an indelible impression, in terms of touch, George Han can also be sure.

"I'm sorry, Miss Zhu." George Han hurriedly turned around, walked to the other side of the house, gave her enough space, and turned her face away.

Feeling that George Han was far away, Zhu Yan'er didn't know why she was still a little unhappy in her heart, but now she suddenly felt lost and reluctant.

Putting on her clothes again, Zhu Yan'er sat beside the bed, so she was a little gloomy.

George Han thought that his rudeness had hurt her. He just wanted to find out the truth. At this time, he felt guilty after the truth came out. He turned around and apologized: "My friend is exactly the same as you. I am eager to find people, so there are many offenses."

"George Han is here, I apologize again to Miss Zhu." After speaking, George Han bowed with both hands and bent thirty degrees, with a very humble attitude.

"George Han?" Zhu Yan'er actually didn't blame George Han at all, so when George Han apologized, she quickly grasped the most attractive point for her.

full name.

George Han was stunned for a moment, and felt guilty for a while, but it didn't matter, he nodded: "Exactly."

"What an old-fashioned name." Zhu Yan'er couldn't help covering her mouth and smiled: "Are you? And the eldest brother is called Han Qianqian, the second brother is Han Erqian, what is the fourth sister's name? Qian did not care.

"By the way, who is that Xia Wei? You have been mentioning her all the time, and you also said that I am very similar to her. Is she your wife?" Zhu Yan'er asked.

George Han shook his head: "Is it my younger sister?"

"Sister?" Zhu Yan'er's eyes lit up when she heard this, and she asked eagerly, "Really...just my younger sister?"

"You seem very happy?" George Han asked.

Zhu Yan'er showed a smile, and then she concealed her inferior self and changed the topic: "Will you go somewhere with me?"

"Where?" George Han frowned.

Zhu Yan'er smiled mysteriously, jumped from the bed excitedly and stood on the ground, looking at George Han, and said, "I won't tell you, I'll know when I go."

After speaking, she rushed to the door with a few steps. But he didn't go out, but looked back at George Han: "If you want to find your sister..."

Hearing this, George Han was stunned...

it.” In the next second, George Han followed directly without thinking.

It wasn't just Xia Wei, in fact, what was more important to George Han was the pangolin, and even more important than the pangolin was the book from heaven in his hand.

Amelia Su and Han Nian are both in the Book of Eight Desolations, how could he not be impatient?

Seeing George Han following, Zhu Yan'er smiled lightly, quickened her pace and walked downstairs.

The two quickly walked out of the restaurant one after the other. Although it was almost dusk at this time, the town street outside the restaurant was still lively.

Even if the location of the two of them at this time, compared to the deserted place in the fallen city, it is a new area created when the fall city is expanding. Although Zhu Yanshuo did his best to make the new area extremely complete, it is still a little far from the old city. The distance, and the new construction is not long, the liveliness naturally cannot be compared with the old city.

But this deserted place is also relatively speaking. In fact, if it is compared with other places, it can still be said to be very prosperous.

Especially with the coming of night, the stalls on the street not only did not decrease in the slightest, but more and more vendors began to set up new stalls.

There are more and more people in the street market, which makes George Han a little helpless.

After all, he knew that there was going to be trouble in the matter of the City Lord's Mansion, so he took Zhu Yan'er to run to the less crowded side at the first time, and lived in this restaurant.

But now, the plan is not as good as change, it is too late to hide, but Zhu Yan'er took the initiative to pull herself out.

But it turns out that George Han thinks a little too much, because even though many people in the new district did not join in the excitement of recruiting relatives, they knew that the goddess was in the city but did not recognize him as a goddess, but...

light Based on Zhu Yan'er's appearance, it is already doomed that no matter where she is, there will always be a focus.

The point is, as dusk approaches and night falls, more and more stalls and more and more people gather here, and this bustling street is becoming more and more sensational.

It is true that Hongyan is a disaster. While she caused a sensation, she was also forced to become a thorn in the eyes of many men.

However, Zhu Yan'er didn't care about this, and didn't even see it. She looked like a bird that had been locked in a cage for a long time. As soon as she went out, she looked like she had never seen the world before. Look right, that one wants to touch, this one wants to eat, and she doesn't even have the basic concept of paying.

If George Han hadn't wiped her ass all the way, she would have been stopped by the merchant to settle the money when she was on the street.

George Han insisted on patience, but his patience was limited. He walked to Zhu Yan'er's side in a few steps and sighed helplessly: "I said Miss Zhu, aren't you going to take me to find someone?"

"It's almost an hour and a half by the end of the street." George Han glanced behind him as he spoke.

Zhu Yan'er also followed George Han's gaze. At this glance, she immediately stuck out her tongue embarrassed. Although it was only a street, this street was a famous night market.

In order to quickly gather popularity in the new district, Zhu Yanshuo moved this most prosperous street here.

This street is several kilometers long, and the stalls on the roadside are basically overwhelmed. Zhu Yan'er just looks at it like this, picks and chooses, not to mention the time can't stand it, even the amethyst flowers can't stand it.

Fortunately, George Han is not bad for this amount of money. If it is replaced by someone else, it is estimated that he will go bankrupt halfway.

George Han reminded Zhu Yan'er a little too embarrassed, hey hey, the big beauty can instantly become extremely cute: "Hey hey, I'm sorry, I have always lived in the city lord's mansion and it's hard to come out, so I was a little excited for a while. The transition is over."

"Just as thanking me for the advance payment, how about that?"

George Han smiled bitterly: "As long as you can help me find someone, don't talk about it, I don't care if I buy this street for you."

Oh, I can't see that you are rich, you don't have to spend a lot of money to buy this street?" Zhu Yan'er teased.

"Okay, I'm not joking with you, don't worry, I'll be there soon." After the words were finished, Zhu Yan'er pointed deeper at the end of the street.

George Han looked at his eyes, and couldn't help frowning...
