

Chapter 3304

After hearing this, a group of people were obviously stunned, and the old horse smiled coldly: "Let me tell you, someone, I'm afraid." The words ended, and a group of people also pointed out point.

The old dwarf was actually a little unsure in his heart. He suppressed the anger in his heart, looked at George Han, and said, "Excuse me, what else is there for this guest?" "

You don't want to take pictures anymore?"

I must."

"However, I want to make a rule."

"Crap, if you don't have money, you have no money. If you put this rule, what are you doing here?" As if stepping on his foot, George Han answered immediately as soon as he finished speaking.

George Han hummed disdainfully and ignored him at all, just looking at the old dwarf.

The old dwarf thought for a moment, then nodded: "Guest please speak."

Even though he said so, the old dwarf had already made up his mind. If George Han's rules were a little excessive, he would definitely not bear it any longer. He will be directly beaten and thrown out of here.

George Han nodded and opened his mouth: "The rules are very simple, since someone said that so that the auction process will not be interrupted, let's have a good time, the top ten items are all at the same price. "The top ten items, all at this price?

Now the unit price has been a full one million.

That is to say, the next nine things, he doesn't even look at it, will give a million?

If the price of photographing a rabbit girl is hard enough to understand, but at least you can find an excuse to make a picture, then the next thing you don't even look at, you can directly bid one million and show it. It's just too much.

No fuckin' local tyrants play like that, do they? !

This motherfucker is simply divine.

Perhaps, ordinary people in the rich world really cannot understand.

"Guest...Guest, I...I heard right? You just said, you will also sell one million for the next nine items?"

After all, although there are transactions every day in the black market, but now the sudden transaction of 9 million directly kills the whole night before, which makes people a little unacceptable for a while.

"Exactly." George Han nodded.

He has calculated that to ensure the top three, he needs to get at least ten items, and he is bound to get this.

“Okay, okay, okay.” When George Han answered in the affirmative, the old dwarf couldn’t even mention how happy he was. He wished he could have hung a banner with George Han I love you on his face.

Under the stage, those who had looked down on George Han before were also full of compliments after being shocked.

As for Zhu Yan’er, she was naturally surprised, but more happy.

Who doesn’t want the person they like to have all kinds of advantages, handsome, capable of fighting, good character, charisma, and more money now, Zhu Yaner even thinks that if she hadn’t met George Han herself, she would really I can’t believe that such a perfect man can exist in the world.

Seeing this, the group of people surnamed Ma couldn’t sit still.

In this place, their group of brothers are all powerful people. When will it be their turn to ride on their heads to make them lose face?

What’s more, today is still in front of this superb beauty?

Unbearable!

However, the sum is now a full 10 million. Even if these 30 brothers are piled together, they will never be able to make up such a large sum.

After thinking about it, the brothers looked at each other, and the surnamed Ma stood first and said coldly, “It’s too early to be happy, you guys?”

“Little dwarf, don’t forget what I said just now. If you say that I was more guessing just now, then now it may really be completely true.”

“Brother Ma is right, little dwarf, a thousand The number of 10,000 is by no means a small number, and it affects a whole ten orders. Hehe, if this kid is bragging here from beginning to end, think about what kind of mess the auction will be turned into tonight. Right.” His brother also got up hastily.

Hearing this, it was obvious that the little dwarf hesitated a bit more, and this thing is indeed saying the same thing. It is a happy event to meet such a god for such a lot of money.

But on the contrary, once as many as ten things are leaked, the loss in the black market is another matter. The most important thing is where to put the face? !

Moreover, George Han is a raw face, which makes the old dwarf a little embarrassed.

“I think you’d better do a body search and let some people prove that you really have that kind of strength.” The surnamed Ma sneered.

Being searched in front of so many people was enough shame, and he was naturally quite satisfied.

“I see who dares to search his body.”

At this moment, a cold shout suddenly came from the door.

Chapter 3305

This violent shout is majestic, powerful, and powerful, and can be heard in the audience.

The entire scene was dumbfounded, and looked towards the door collectively.

At this time, I saw a young man standing at the door, followed by a middle-aged man, a giant man, and several small followers.

In this kind of place, such a roar, according to common sense, is naturally indispensable, and the serious ones will even be beaten and thrown out by the people here.

However, when everyone saw the young man, their anger disappeared, and at the same time, there was even a trace of respect in their eyes.

George Han also frowned, looking at the person who was coming, incredulously, he couldn't help but whisper softly: "It's him?" "

If you want to search his body, it's better to search for someone in Ning first."

It is the young master Ruyu, the young master of the Ning family.

Seeing George Han looking at him, Young Master Ruyu immediately smiled and gestured, and Master Lu and the giant pig San behind him also rushed to George Han and smiled guiltily. How could there still be the kind of arrogance and arrogance that George Han looked at before? Disdain.

"Ah? Young Master Ruyu?" "My God, what kind of wind blows the old man here? It's really a small temple to welcome the great god, and it is full of brilliance."

, and even a lot of girls in the field whistled at Young Master Ruyu, trying to attract his attention.

A few bold ones even took the initiative to greet Young Master Ruyu with wine, hoping to have some contact with such a young, talented and rich son.

The old dwarf laughed: "Since Young Master Ruyu has opened the mouth, who else in the black market dares to search? No search, no search."

The brother surnamed Ma became even more uneasy when he heard this. A few people looked at each other, the surnamed Ma bit his teeth slightly, and said solemnly, "Young Master Ruyu is right, he is dismounting the fourth child."

"There are only thirty kings in the black market, headed by Ma Laosi, but I have heard of it and admired it for a long time." Young Master Ruyu smiled lightly, raised his hand slightly, and saluted slightly.

Seeing that Young Master Ruyu was so humble and polite, Ma Laosi and others were quite happy, thinking that the Thirty Kings of the Black Market were extremely prestigious.

That being the case, things would be much easier to do.

"Ma Laosi has also heard about the fate of Young Master Ruyu for a long time, and it is polite." Ma Laosi also politely folded his fist in return, and continued: "However, Young Master Ruyu, there is a saying, but Ma Laosi has to remind you. "

Brother Ma, what advice do you have?" Young Master Ruyu smiled softly.

"The underground black market has the rules of the underground black market. Even after City Lord Zhu came to the city, it would still be the case. I believe this, Master Ruyu should be very clear." Ma Laosi sneered.

Mr. Ruyu nodded: "Brother Ma said yes."

"Since Mr. Ruyu knows, it should be more clear that there is a special order for him here. Besides, Mr. Ruyu keeps saying that he wants to protect this person. Does Young Master Yu know, what price did this person just bid?" Ma Laosi snorted coldly.

Young Master Ruyu shook his head: "Ning came a little late, I don't know."

"Haha, although the Ning family is big, as the saying goes, strong dragons don't overwhelm the snakes, this kid just called a full 10 million Amethyst, Young Master Ruyu, are you sure you won't search him?" Ma Laodie sneered.

The meaning of his words is actually very clear. It is not only to warn Mr. Ruyu that he is a local snake here, so that he does not need to cause more troubles, but also to tell Mr. Ruyu that if he wants to meddle in his own business, he will not only bear it, but also have to bear a full 10 million amethyst damage compensation.

When Young Master Ruyu heard the ten million amethyst, he was indeed stunned.

Although his family is everyone, and some have money, 10 million amethyst is obviously not a small sum.

To put it uglier, it is impossible for a person of his identity to spend 10 million at a time. Thinking of this, he can't help but look at George Han strangely.

Although he knew his extraordinary status as a deity at this time, to say that he was rich, judging from his dress, it didn't look like it.

Seeing Young Master Ruyu's eyes, Ma Laosi thought that his plan had succeeded, and walked gently to Young Master Ruyu's side, patted his shoulder, and said with a smile, "Young Master Ruyu, why do you want to be a pig and a dog? You take such a big risk, don't you think?"

Young Master Ruyu returned to his senses and looked at the old death of Ma in shock: "Pig Peng Gouyou, him?"
