

Chapter 3318

George Han is not attacking, and even put away the jade sword in his hand.

But what is outrageous is that there are thousands of swords hanging above his head. Although he does not have enough momentum and abnormal sense of being in the air, but precisely because he is so close, he is slowly and urgently everywhere. sense and threat.

A sword is already outrageous enough, and this time there are still a lot of them, isn't this goddamn hopeless? !

However, the movements in George Han's hands were not finished. As soon as his hands melted, a huge axe appeared directly in his hands, and the one who directly covered his face turned towards the white-faced jade demon.

Even a person like the white-faced jade demon who has experienced countless battles, facing this situation at this time, has the feeling that my mother's mentality has collapsed.

"What the hell are you still doing?" The white-faced jade demon subconsciously blocked, he no longer knew which one to block, so he could only do it casually, shouting at the three bastards.

The three of them looked at each other, although it did make Han Sanqianzhen forget it for a while, but after all, he was in the same group with the white-faced jade demon.

Reversely, someone blocked the front.

Thinking of this, the three nodded to each other and wanted to join.

But at this time, there was a loud bang, and the three of them were about to take off, but all of them stopped in place abruptly.

Although Wan Jian blocked, and even the energy was against the Skyfire Moon Wheel behind him, but because of this resistance, the white-faced jade demon was unable to resist George Han's giant axe at all, and could only symbolically quickly withdraw to avoid being hit. key point.

Simply, everything is within the calculation of the white-faced jade demon. Although the attack of the giant axe still hit him a little, but generally

The danger is gone.

He has weighed it, the sword is fierce, and the fire and electricity behind him are obviously not easy. Only the axe that is not sharp in George Han's hand is the weakest link in the attack.

Therefore, as long as he is not completely hit by the giant axe, judging from the sharpness of the giant axe, it is not enough to cause serious damage to himself.

The fact is also true, although the giant axe fell, it missed his body perfectly, just dragged his long nails and chopped it on the open space of ****.

This is not affected in any way, on the contrary, it is an opportunity for him.

The weapon of the white-faced jade demon is the ten incomparably slender nails between his fingers, but although it is a nail, it is far harder and sharper than many magic weapons, not to mention a mere nail that is not very sharp, even if it is a famous one The Purple Gold Divine Soldier is definitely not false.

Therefore, as long as he lifts his fingernails, he will definitely blow the giant axe that is on top of it, and attack George Han with gravity. Before he can react, he can launch a counterattack, and he will definitely lose.

Thinking of this, the white-faced Jade Demon gave a gloomy smile, but... sometimes, when he smiled, he laughed, and then there was no more.

The ideal is plump, but the reality is sometimes skinny.

When the white-faced jade demon tried to lift his nails, he didn't feel any resistance. He tried too hard but still pulled the axe. Instead, he lost his center of gravity and stumbled.

But he didn't have time to think about it, because the empty nails on his hands had made him fall into sluggishness.

The nails were broken by the roots, and the fractures were crisp and neat, which meant that the indestructible nails on his hands were not only not what he imagined, but they were broken directly and easily like someone chopped melons and vegetables.

How the f is this possible? !

His fingernails are close to those of the Purple-Gold Divine Soldier. What the hell is this broken bronze axe in front of him? !

The white-faced jade demon was stupid, so why didn't the other three people suddenly stand in place because they saw this situation?

They are all top masters, how can they not be familiar with each other?

The ten nails of the white-faced jade demon are equivalent to carrying ten purple-gold daggers, which can kill people, but...

However, at this moment, George Han suddenly looked back at the three of them, and said coldly Said: "Aren't you going to go? Why did you stop?" The three of them looked at each other for a while, and then an incredible scene happened...

Chapter 3319

I saw that almost all of the three subconsciously not only did not move forward, but each took three steps back.

This is the top super master, and it is three at a time!

Only others have always run back when they see their legs are weak. When is it their turn to run back when they see others?

If you say this, no one will believe it.

Therefore, a bunch of elites were dumbfounded, and the white-faced jade demon was also dumbfounded, but no matter how dumbfounded, whoever was dumbfounded, their movements were surprisingly consistent and kept stepping back.

Although the white-faced jade demon sat on the ground, he still twisted his butt and rubbed his legs and kept retreating.

Seeing this situation, George Han smiled lightly. He knew that his ferocious operation had successfully deterred everyone present.

Less is more, and the only way to win is to make the party with more fear.

Because whether it is a wheel battle or something else, the one who suffers will always be the side with the smaller number of people.

When the so-called heart is in harmony, one moves forward bravely; if the heart is not in harmony, it is like a pot of porridge, like scattered sand, which is the sign of a defeated army.

This was George Han's only choice, but it didn't mean that George Han would relax his vigilance. The four great masters and the skinny camels were bigger than horses. Besides, this was the City Lord's Mansion, their territory.

This alone, naturally, can't scare them.

Unless...

George Han sneered: "Then if you don't come, I will." As soon as he finished speaking, George Han picked up his axe and rushed over.

"Whoa!"

The axe went away and chopped directly into the air, but after the huge and sharp axe fell on the ground, there was still a loud noise, and a ravine that was half a meter deep was cut directly on the floor.

Although Kong Shane was empty, the Black Mountain Demon Girl and the others were stunned and dumbfounded. What the hell is this axe? Two pieces?

Thinking of this, the three of them have lingering fears and dare not go forward at will, so they can only fight and retreat.

But George Han didn't care about that. According to the Venerable Bigfoot, he was attacking more and more fiercely. At the same time, the sky fire and the moon wheel turned into two light knives, attacking from the left and right, and their potential even had the intention of not caring about the black mountain demon girl and the old phoenix immortal. , only hit the Venerable Bigfoot.

Venerable Bigfoot is bitter, what the hell is this grudge, why do you have to beat me alone? !

However, this guy is indeed quite capable.

Between , he stomps his left big foot when he lifts it. The ground that was originally huge and hard was just like the surface of the waves under his feet, ups and downs. , wave after wave towards George Han.

The two sides were fighting fiercely. The Black Mountain Demon Girl and Fengji Lao Xian glanced at each other. Although they quickly leaned to George Han's side, seeing George Han attacking so fiercely, the two never dared to make a rash move, especially Montenegro. enchantress.

She can now almost confirm that this is George Han who she faced in the morning. After all, she can have contact with the four of them, and how many people can she find? Darling, in the morning, George Han could defeat at least 70% of her own attack without making a move. Now that everyone is about to fight back, how can she not be afraid at all?

It is precisely because she is the one who knows George Han the most, so she does not dare to mess around at such a time. Seeing her like this, the old immortal Fengji is naturally more cautious. The two of you will grind me like this, and I will see you, for fear that this sneak attack will cause George Han's anger to shift and attack him.

These two people are still like this, let alone the white-faced jade demon. He just wants to take a breath at this time. As for the three old guys who were attacked, hmph, f, let them suffer by themselves. Bar.

I just pushed myself out, if it wasn't for my f cleverness, I'm afraid I would have died under that giant axe long ago.

With these three ghosts with different hearts, although Venerable Bigfoot resisted with all his might, he was facing George Han, who had the same terrifying cultivation. After only a few dozen rounds, he suddenly raised his big foot: " Wait...wait a minute, I...I have something to say..."
