

Chapter 3394 – 3395 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 3394

Helen Qiu's pretty face blushed slightly, and she shook her head quickly and said, "Auntie, I and Mark are fine, but I have been busy working and have no time to think about it."

"That won't work. It's a big deal to pass on from generation to generation. Besides, when a man has a child, the sense of family responsibility will be stronger, and he won't be away from home all day long."

"Furthermore, you look at your mother-in-law, you are crazy thinking about your grandson."

"If you don't give birth to another one, it is estimated that you will really treat this orphan as your own grandson!"

"When the time comes, you must divide the Ye family's estate into half?"

"Auntie is anxious for you."

Ye Xilan kept urging Helen Qiu.

Helen Qiu didn't speak, just lowered her head.

Ye Xilan frowned when she saw this, "Helen Qiu, tell the truth, what's the matter with you and Mark?"

"Don't you know how to have a baby?"

"Auntie has experience in this matter."

"I'll tell you, men are all visual animals. When you have time, my aunt will take you to the mall, buy more sexy underwear, and then..."

When it comes to this, Ye Xilan seems to be very experienced, and she talks to Helen Qiu endlessly.

"Xilan, you have enough."

"Helen Qiu has let you teach it!"

"The pot is boiling, hurry up and get down the dumplings."

Ye Ximei couldn't listen anymore, and interrupted them.

“Helen Qiu, you can remember what auntie said.”

“When Mark comes back, hurry up and practice.”

“Your mother is still waiting to hold her grandson?”

“Haha...”

Ye Xilan smiled deeply, and then the family began to make dumplings.

In the evening, several of Mark's uncles, as well as cousins and cousins, also came over.

“Haha...”

“Helen Qiu, it depends on your face.”

“Knowing that you have come to Jingzhou, your uncles, who were originally on a business trip, didn't just fly back directly by plane.”

“Mark, that bastard is not there.”

“If he is there, our family can have a reunion dinner in advance.”

“Hahaha...”

In the evening, the Ye family gathered together, pushing cups and changing cups, and had a great time.

Today's Ye family has long become the largest family in Jiangdong Province.

Think about it, Mark is a real dragon born in the Ye family. Not to mention other places, no one in Jiangdong Province alone dared to provoke the Ye family.

Now that the Ye family is under barbaric development, business has begun to spread to other provinces.

That's why, when Helen Qiu came to Jingzhou, his uncles and uncles flew straight for thousands of miles and rushed back overnight.

After all, this is Mark's wife.

The entire Ye family relied on Mark to start their business.

Moreover, not only Ye Tian and Ye Ya brothers who came tonight, but even Lei Sanye, the elder of Jingzhou, came to visit in person after receiving the news.

However, at the climax of the Ye Family's dinner party, outside the Ye Family Manor, suddenly a number of cars came to a halt.

After that, a group of several people knocked on the door of the Ye family.

“Excuse me, this is Wushuang's title, is Markye's titled home?”

The leader asked with a solemn expression.

Helen Qiu and Ye Ximei came out and said in doubt: “I am Mark's mother, are you?”

These people did not answer, but handed a card to Ye Ximei's hand.

“Mrs. Ye, there is a pension of 50 million in this.”

“This is a compassion issued by Yan Xia to commemorate Mr. Mark's contribution to the country.”

“In addition, this document is a guarantee given by the state to Mr. Mark's children and relatives.”

“In the future, if Mr. Mark's children are in politics, they can be hired without exams. If they are studying, they can be selected by the Yanxia High School. If they are in martial arts, they can be directly selected for the Yanxia Wushen “Excellence Project”, and the country will use its resources to train them.”

Chapter 3395

“These are all the feelings of the Martial God Temple, and I ask the lady to accept it.”

The special envoy of Wushen Temple said respectfully.

Hearing these Ye Ximei, her body trembled suddenly.

She looked at the special envoy of the Martial God Temple, and asked in a low voice in fear: “My son, what...what's wrong?”

“No... nothing happened, right?”

Ye Ximei no longer knew what she was feeling when she asked this.

She only remembered how she wished to hear from these people that her son was still alive.

However, she was disappointed after all.

“Madam, I’m sorry to tell you.”

“Mr. Mark, he has almost no possibility of surviving.”

“Furthermore, the Martial God Temple also suggested that Mr. Chu’s funeral should be held as simple as possible.”

“It’s also for the safety of Mr. Mark’s relatives.”

“Of course, after today, we will stay in Jingzhou City and be responsible for the safety of Ye family members.”

.....

Ye Ximei no longer remembered what these envoys said afterwards. She only remembered a tingling pain in her heart, and then her brain was dizzy, and finally the whole person fainted.

“Sister...”

“Sister, cheer up...”

“quick!”

“Hurry up to the hospital!”

Even if the Ye family panicked, Ye Tian and Ye Ya picked up their sister and sent them to the hospital.

“Yuyan, be optimistic about your sister Qiu...”

Many of the Ye family followed to the hospital because of their worries.

But Ye Xilan was a little worried about Helen Qiu, so she let Ye Yuyan and the juniors stay and guard her.

However, after Helen Qiu knew this, she stood there and said nothing.

However, her originally ruddy and pretty face paled at a terrifying speed.

As the saying goes, grief is greater than death.

Ye Yuyan and the others were also a little panicked, and asked Xiang Helen Qiu again and again: “Sister Qiu, don’t scare me, just say something.”

“Sister Qiu...”

Qinglong and others were all panicked.

The child under one year old in the room may have been infected by people's grief, or he may have felt that someone who is important to him has left. The originally stable and stable young man suddenly burst into tears.

A few minutes ago, the family of He Meimei, all the stability and happiness, suddenly shattered.

Sometimes, only when you lose a person will you understand how important he is to the family.

Just like Mark, the pillar of the entire Ye Family.

Now that Mark has fallen, the sky in Helen Qiu and Ye Ximei's hearts has collapsed, and the entire Ye Family's sky has also collapsed.