

Chapter 3406

Zi Qing's whole body is surrounded by a white light, the irritable white light is like an angry dragon, in her Her body jumped all over the place, and it seemed that it was this white light that made Ziqing's whole body extremely painful.

"Ziqing." George Han shouted in a hurry, and rushed over quickly, wanting to reach out to pull Ziqing.

But the other person felt extremely terrified that when George Han was about to stretch out his hand to help Ziqing, he had no intention of contacting the white light, and when he contacted one of them, it was like touching a ten thousand volts high voltage.

An explosion between the electric light and flint not only directly shook George Han back a few steps, but even George Han felt extreme pain in his hand due to its enormous power.

"It's amazing." George Han was so shocked that he sat on the ground and stared at the white light, and was shocked for a while.

Terrifying, too terrifying, just touch it and there is such a strong anti-swallowing power, if you are in it, it is almost unnecessary to think about what kind of damage will be suffered.

Now, George Han understands and understands even more why Ziqing, who is so reserved, screams so miserably and moves so painfully.

But because of this, George Han was very worried at this time. Under such a fierce white light, Ziqing was in such pain, how could he help her?

Seeing Ziqing still rolling on the ground in pain, George Han was so anxious that he almost attacked his heart. After a while, he gritted his teeth and said, "If you die, you will die." With the energy in his hand, George Han closed his eyes and put his heart into it. With a horizontal, he slapped directly towards Zi Qing.

He knew that just by touching him, he would be knocked back and it would be extremely painful. If he had to pass through these white lights, he would suffer even more pain.

But purple love is also due to

In order to save Amelia Su, she suffered such a predicament, so George Han should definitely try his best to save her.

"Ah!"

As expected by George Han, when his hand with energy touched the white energy again, the pain came directly from the bone marrow, and then frantically hit the whole body.

What is empathy? George Han is now perfectly interpreting the meaning of the word, but if there is a choice, George Han would rather not have this experience.

The pain is really too painful. To a certain extent, it is not bad at all compared to Ye Shijun's black wind. He felt that his whole body was about to be torn apart.

But it is precisely because of this that George Han, who has such experience, seems to be more handy in dealing with it. Under the painful bite, George Han endured and stretched his hand directly to Ziqing's body.

"Get up!"

With a bite of his teeth, George Han finally broke through his hand into the white light. After he lifted Ziqing directly, the big hand with energy immediately patted Ziqing's shoulder. superior.

"Damn it!" The more severe pain struck his forehead again, and George Han even felt the pain to the point that although he endured it, his muscles were twitching subconsciously, but at such a time, he had no reason to give up, so he directly held it up with his hands. The energy also suddenly passed through Zi Qing's back, and one palm directly entered her body.

At the moment when the energy in the body was almost full, George Han was completely dumbfounded.

At this time, Ziqing's body was like a flash flood, and all the energy in the body was completely chaotic. They jumped wildly, and the impact was crazy, as if a person had gone crazy

"How could this be?"

George Han frowned, and at the same time concentrated the energy, forcibly passed through the violent energy in Ziqing's body, and quickly wandered through her meridians, as if looking for something.

Soon, after a circle, George Han was even more confused.

The little Heiren that surrounded the little Qiongqi was gone. Not only was it gone, but even the little Heiren had completely disappeared. If George Han had not seen this kind of thing before, George Han would have thought it seemed There is no general.

Strange, how could this be?

Even if that guy was conscious, he tried to resist his own seal at the beginning, but first of all, even if he wanted to escape, he had to break through his own seal.

And even if it can break through its own seal, it always exists in Ziqing's body.

Where did it go?

Is it...?

Chapter 3407

George Han suddenly came up with a very strange but very terrifying idea.

Damn it, when he was treating Amelia Su earlier, this little thing moved the front along with a lot of white energy and ran to Amelia Su, right?

Although this kind of thinking is very strange and absurd, but in connection with the explosion in the bamboo house of Amelia Su just now, it seems... it seems that this possibility cannot be ruled out.

It entered Amelia Su's body and caused a huge explosion due to incompatibility for a while, but because Amelia Su is its new body, it must ensure Amelia Su's safety, so the strange phenomenon just now appeared in the bamboo house.

This point can be explained.

As for Ziqing, it was very simple. She suddenly broke away from a thing that had followed her for a long time. Although that thing was bad for her but not fatal, it had followed her for a long time, and suddenly she was completely lost. The chaos, so the current appearance is quite normal.

It seems that it is becoming more and more like that.

But George Han did not dare to jump to conclusions, because although these can be explained, there is a question that reduces the possibility a lot.

If this guy is so smart and knows how to switch bodies, then he shouldn't choose a body like Amelia Su's.

It hasn't seen the map, and it doesn't know that Amelia Su can't die. From its point of view, from an intact immortal body to a body that is not as good as an immortal body, and there are dramas in this body. Poison, it seems that if it is not stupid, it should not be able to do such a thing.

Moreover, taking a step back, even if this guy is really stupid, it is absolutely impossible to do such a thing out of instinct.

So, what exactly is going on here?

I can't manage so much, and finally rushed into Bai Neng. The only thing George Han can do now is to use his own power to help Zi Qing re-stabilize the frantic energy in her body, and then help her to repair because Some damaged meridians due to energy shock.

A few minutes later, George Han was already sweating profusely and his face was pale.

It is crazy consumption and endless pain, so even if it is as strong as George Han, it will become more and more unbearable as time goes by.

Simply, the repair work went very smoothly. With the insistence of George Han, the meridians were repaired again, and those abnormally irritable breaths began to stabilize.

Zi Qing's pain began to ease. Although Bai Guang was still in chaos, at least the pain was not enough to make her roll in place, let alone scream.

Seeing that her condition was stable, George Han also prepared to withdraw his strength to rest.

But just when George Han recovered his energy and his hand, he was about to get up, but suddenly stopped, his brows slightly wrinkled, it seemed... as if he had discovered something.

“That’s not right.”

George Han snorted for a long time.

Then, he endured the pain again and hit Ziqing’s back with energy again.

“Strange!”

When he was pulling back his energy just now, he seemed to feel that something had appeared in his meridians. Although it flashed by, what kind of insight did George Han have? How could he not feel it?

But when he injected the energy again, it was exactly the same as before. Except for various energy, there was nothing else in the meridians.

Is it a hallucination?

Maybe George Han doesn’t think much about it in normal times, but now the multiple strange behaviors are more related to the problems of Amelia Su and Ziqing. How could George Han not investigate carefully?

Withdrawing his hand, and entering energy several times in a row, George Han is bound to check it out.

But everything seems to be using nothing to tell George Han that just an illusion.

Taking back his hand again, George Han fell into deep thought. Was it really because he was in too much pain and wasted too much, so he had hallucinations for a while?

It seems likely.

But suddenly, George Han’s eyes narrowed, shouldn’t it be

... !!

Is it...
