

Chapter 3440

water snake is twisted. In the jungle, this is the center. Within a radius of several miles, countless rivers and streams have all turned into ten thousand water points. It slowly lifted into the air from above the ground, and after a moment of sluggishness in the air, it struck this direction at a rapid rate.

Thousands of waters are like rain, surging, and they are rushing like arrows.

As the water snake rushed towards George Han, the water droplets in all directions also shrunk crazily in the direction of George Han.

Da...

A drop of water gently landed on George Han's body and touched his skin. Suddenly, George Han felt a tingling pain in his skin. He lowered his eyes and saw that the drop of water in his hand was not. It didn't slip off, but solidified on his skin like glue. After that, it seemed to be shrinking forcefully, causing George Han's skin to shrink together.

Another drop of water fell on George Han's body, not far from the drop of water. It almost repeated the steps of the previous drop of water, but at the same time, there was one more movement.

They are getting close to each other!

George Han suddenly frowned, and the whole person suddenly woke up.

He understood that once all the water surrounded him, they would completely trap him in a water polo, and at that time, although he was in water, he should be more like embedded in cement.

Not only could they not move, but they also made themselves extremely uncomfortable because of their pulling force.

The most important thing is that George Han also found an unusually small but extremely delicate place at this time. The water droplets that fell on him were actually extremely small, but after they touched his skin, they were very short. expanded several times over time.

They are getting bigger!

George Han can be sure that every drop of water does not touch other water after it falls on his skin, so the mystery of its enlargement can also make George Han terrified in an instant, and it is connected to the surrounding water at this time. They were all madly attacking from all sides, and George Han had a very bold guess.

It is not because of foreign matter that the water becomes larger, but they are madly absorbing the water in their body through their own skin in a certain way.

In such a scene, how could George Han not panic?

If he is entangled by more water, then waiting for George Han will not only be as simple as he thought before, he will even be sucked into a mummy by the water!

Must get rid of, or defend.

The little black stick is the best choice, but it is unable to fight at all now, but George Han has already chosen to take the initiative to attack, and there is no way to retreat at this time.

It is easy to be surrounded by these waters from the other side, while retreating may be entangled by branches, and it will also face defeat at that time

. It seems that it is the best adjective for George Han's predicament.

How to be good? !

George Han frowned, his offensive still unabated, but his mind was spinning rapidly, trying to figure out how to deal with it.

All of a sudden, George Han grinned and smiled. Obviously, for this guy, he had already thought of a countermeasure in a one-sided manner.

Moreover, for George Han, this countermeasure was unexpected and interesting.

Thinking of this, George Han directly ignored any defenses on his body. Instead, he concentrated all the energy on his body, and then his body suddenly accelerated faster, rushing directly towards the tree man like a light and shadow.

Seeing this, the worm stood up and shouted at the water man, "Stop him, stop him." The water man frowned, how could he not see a tactic that even the worm could understand Understand?

This guy is chasing and blocking,

The only option left now is to attack the Treant, trying to completely knock the Treant across before his own attack, and then turn to face him.

This method is a very common way to break the flanking attack, but unfortunately, this kid made the wrong wishful thinking.

How fast is he, and how defensive is the tree man?

Wanting to break the pinch attack before this is simply a fool's dream!

So the chickens are always chickens, they can't understand what real power is, so until now, they are still using some old-fashioned moves that seem to make people laugh.

Thinking of this, the water man snorted coldly, and at the same time increased the strength in his hand!

boom! !

Water droplets hit the sky! !

At the same time, the tree man over there also noticed this point of George Han. The branches gathered faster, but George Han suddenly stopped, with a smile on his face, glanced at the tree man, and then looked back again. Water Man...

Chapter 3441

“What do you mean?” The tree and the water man were surprised at the same time, but the arrow had to be sent!

The tree man’s ten thousand branches shrink, and the water man is flooded with water droplets!

boom! !

The momentum of the sky! !

George Han did not move, but stood indifferently.

“Stinky boy, now you know the power of the two of them, do you choose to wait to die?” Flying Insect still sneered softly while looking at the battle situation over there.

The stone man also made a roar of excitement in the confrontation with the glutton of evil.

But just when Wan Yu was about to wrap George Han, George Han moved again.

With a slight turn in his hand, a small stone was immediately sacrificed by him. After a chaotic force was shot into it, the small divine stone instantly lit up with four colors of light.

“Wow!”

Immediately afterwards, the little divine stone turned, and between the four lights rotating, those water spots that were incomparably huge and ranged from the aurora not only did not envelop , but with the rotation of the four lights, those water spots The dots also began to rotate slightly, and after that, they slowly turned around the sacred stone in a rotating posture, and something incredible happened to the water people...

Those water dots unexpectedly slowly entered the sacred stone. In...

“ ... what is that?” The water man looked at the stone in shock, and was obviously deeply shocked by the scene at this time.

The teasing on the insect man’s face immediately turned into unease: “What the hell is that kid doing, that stone... what is the stone? Why... why can’t the water drop damage it at all, instead... it’s still being assimilated. “

Yes, of course being assimilated!

But apart from George Han, only the tree people at this moment understand what the reason is!

“Five Elements Divine Stone!”

That’s right, it is the sacred object that can only be brought with him when he sees the Book of Heaven after passing the previous five elements trial. He is the only person here who has entered the Linglong Tower. Naturally, before entering the Linglong Tower, Like George Han, he once received the Five Elements Divine Stone as a reward.

It’s just a pity that the Linglong Pagoda after him was completely defeated. He was dead, and the Five Elements Divine Stone was naturally taken back and no longer owned.

But not owning it does not mean that he has not seen it. He still clearly remembers the appearance of the Five Elements Divine Stone.

Although it is now beginning to emit four kinds of strange light, far from being comparable to the normal color when I took it, its appearance has always been engraved in my mind and has not changed.

“Five Elements Divine Stone?”

Although the water man and the insect man were in different places, they looked at the tree man almost at the same time by coincidence and sighed in amazement.

What disturbed the two of them the most was that the tree man’s face was revealing the slightest panic.

“Yes, it is the Five Elements Divine Stone!” George Han smiled coldly.

Between the words, the Five Elements Divine Stone stopped running slightly, and a large number of water spots disappeared completely, and those water spots that were not assimilated, although they were separated by a long distance, still remained as the Five Elements Divine Stone stopped running.

“It’s up to me.”

George Han said as soon as he finished speaking, a piece of energy in his hand shot into the Five Elements Divine Stone again, and then, the Five Elements Divine Stone that had stopped spinning began to spin quickly again.

But in this rotation, the four colors began to return to one color, and it was only for a moment, and suddenly, an incomparably powerful force quietly spread out in silence.

Before the front, the tree man was suddenly shocked, and he could obviously feel an incomparably powerful coercion forming in front of him.

“That’s...” He suddenly shrank his pupils.

Following his gaze, the Five Elements Divine Stone at this time has already started from one color from the inside to the outside, and gradually exudes a fiery red light.

The tree man’s pupils became bigger and bigger.

“Fire...is fire!”

Yes

, water can make wood, and wood can make fire. Using the technique of the Five Elements, George Han can use the Five Elements Divine Stone to change the power of the Five Elements.

In the past, Shuiren might have been able to help Shuren become more powerful, but today in front of George Han and the Five Elements Divine Stone, it must be that water can carry a boat and capsize it!

Although George Han couldn’t turn it into Jinneng due to the current inadequacy of the Five Elements Divine Stone to perform the most direct five-element restraint on the tree people, but he could use the wood energy to create fire to frantically suppress it.

Moreover, the most important point is also the point that makes the tree people the most desperate. If George Han passed the trial and they could use various excuses to deny it, then with the appearance and activation of the Five Elements Divine Stone, everything seems to be covered. Coffin concluded.

No matter what, he really passed the Linglong Tower! !

And in such fear, with the explosion of the Five Elements Divine Stone, a huge flame drilled directly from the Divine Stone, madly pounced on himself..
