

Chapter 3462

Liang Han finished speaking, the other nine people also laughed, but this kind of laughter is very happy, and there is no other meaning.

George Han was stunned for a moment, and people reflected it, but it was obviously difficult to accept such a result for a while.

But at this moment, Liang Han moved his hand, and a burst of energy shot directly on George Han's knee, causing the unsuspecting George Han to kneel immediately.

At this time, one of the ten people flew directly to the center of the water pool, and snorted softly: "Look, this is my life-long stunt.

"One point is to use the tail finger to instantly release all the energy in one force, and naturally, it can break through thousands of balances."

"I am the art of penetrating the sun, using the power of breaking the courage, killing the Quartet, and sacrificing oneself to seek justice, Immortality, there is no way to rest!

After the first one made a move, it was amazing, and the other person quickly made up for it. The technique of penetrating the sun is almost like its name, breaking the sky and breaking the sun. obvious.

George Han murmured and knelt on the ground, watching the two people walking like dragons and showing their stunts like gods, the whole person was simply amazed.

The skinny camels are indeed bigger than the horses. Even these "old people" who have no body can still play their own tricks when they really need their performance.

"Don't just watch it, remember it."

Seeing that George Han's eyes were completely fixed, Liang Han smiled slightly and reminded him appropriately.

George Han did not speak. Of course, such a surprised performance made people call it terrible, but in addition to being terrible, George Han naturally knew it because he knew it.

Terrible will do everything possible to learn.

These things, George Han basically dare not say that he remembers that the water is not exposed, but at least it is clear.

Facing Liang Han's kind reminder, all George Han could do was to smile slightly in response.

"They also wanted to do it a second time, but unfortunately, they lost the strength, so it's up to you." Liang Han smiled.

George Han froze for a moment, and looked at Liang Han with some doubts, but he just smiled very indifferently. At this time, the third person had already rushed out.

It's the crab without its claws.

He didn't rush to perform his stunt, but instead looked at George Han first and said with a smile, "You knocked out all my crab claws, remember to burn it to me in the future to compensate Lao Tzu, but don't think about renegeing on the debt.

" He softly smiled disdainfully: "I see clearly ." After the words were finished, this guy flew straight into the sky, and in the next second, it struck down on the spot with the momentum of thunder, like a depth bomb.

"The world is one."

"How?"

George Han nodded involuntarily. This move is indeed very overbearing, somewhat similar to the Tathagata's palm that he knew when he was on Earth, so the sky falls and combines his own power with the power of thunder. The only difference between leading and descending is that the Tathagata's palm is the palm of the wind.

And this guy's is to make the whole body into one body, which is naturally extraordinary.

"Interesting." George Han nodded lightly.

"Then you are optimistic about all the basic exercises, and listen to the secret formula." As the words fell, the crab began to make various guiding movements while reciting. His movements were so strange and strange that George Han himself I couldn't help but stand up and follow his movements, repeating what he said, and practiced disciplinedly.

The remaining nine looked at each other and laughed softly.

"He is smarter than we thought, and has a very good memory." Someone laughed.

Liang Han nodded: "It's the best, I was worried that this guy would miss something, but now I'm relieved."

"Would you like to give him some more information?" The man continued to laugh.

Hearing this, Liang Han frowned: "Is this necessary?"

"Why keep it, can it be brought into the coffin or what? It's better to leave it to him, what is the so-called sending Buddha to the West." the man asked.

Liang Han thought about it for a while, and it seemed to make sense, and suddenly smiled: "Then give him some more material."

Chapter 3463

"As you said, we can't take these things with us, although he may not have the ability, but in case One day he suddenly opens up, it is a great help to him, and it is also a kind of comfort to us." When the words were finished, Liang Hanchong nodded, and in an instant, the three of them flew straight away. past.

The three people shouted softly, took over the job of the crab man that had just ended, and continued to show their own stunts.

Although in their hands at this time, those magical skills that were enough to destroy the world and the world in the past are almost only skins, lacking core energy and losing their souls, but these things used to be their special skills after all, and they taught George Han. At the same time, you can still teach the essence of it.

George Han’s comprehension is also quite astonishing

. Although he was a little dazzled when he saw it, and a large area of high-level methods rushed in like a tide, his thoughts were chaotic, but for him, he can still stabilize his mind. , One by one to organize and digest quickly.

In fact, George Han has always known that he is very smart, but he is by no means blindly confident, so when facing the mission of the top ten true gods, it is complete and pure bragging to say that he is not worried about not being able to remember all the movements.

After all, although they taught with great care, they were able to tell the essence so that George Han could comprehend it faster, but after all, it was a stunt of a true god, and its technical complexity was far from ordinary.

But the strange thing is, I don’t know why, as George Han learns more and more, not only does he not have any memory, but even the basic nervousness of a beginner does not exist

, on the contrary...

On the contrary, what made him feel a little terrifying was that now not only has he even begun to become very indifferent, but his body seems to be strangely familiar with those movements.

That feeling is like something that he has forgotten for a long time, suddenly awakened by something, and then subconsciously comes out automatically.

But these things are obviously created by these great gods, relying on different personal physiques, different exercises, and different experiences.

Don’t say that George Han knows this subconsciously, but he has never even seen it before.

After all, there is a huge time difference between them.

Not only George Han was surprised, but even Liang Han frowned.

As a true god, and even a leader how could he not see George Han’s abnormality at this time?

This guy looks like he knows these things. When he connected three people just now, he already noticed something was wrong, so he sent two more people directly.

Now George Han is facing five people.

Don't say George Han is smart, even if this kid has the ability to remember, it is impossible to complete all the movements with the same body when five people teach at the same time.

He looked suspiciously at the person next to him who was talking to him just now, the whole person was full of puzzlement.

That person, like him, is the only one who hasn't shot yet.

The man was also very confused and asked, "He seems to know these magical skills." A sentence almost reached Liang Han's heart, and he nodded heavily: "Yes, but these things, don't say that he is no match for us. It's just the first time we met, even if you and I have been together for so many years, we only know what each other's skills are, not like him, it seems to be extremely skilled."

The man also nodded: "It's really strange, no matter from which aspect, he has no reason to know about it."

"However, it's not a good thing, at least the addition of the meeting may really be like this. I was just joking just now, and maybe there will be some surprises."

Hearing this, Liang Han was obviously stunned for a moment, but the next second, he suddenly understood, and patted the man on the shoulder. , suddenly laughed: "**, why am I confused for a while, I didn't expect this?"

"Damn, I originally said that we would wait until the ten of us finished teaching, but now it seems, what the fuck am I waiting for? "
