

Chapter 3466

“Okay.” The

two nodded.

But new problems have also arisen. Since they are all magical skills that they cannot understand, then naturally they can't, so how can they teach George Han ? !

Seeing George Han 's expression, how could Liang Han and the two not know what he was thinking, Liang Han smiled: “Although I really can't understand it, but this is what it is.”

After speaking, he pointed to own brain.

“Although we don't understand it, we still rote and imprinted those mental methods in our minds.”

The man also nodded: “You must memorize it clearly, if you lose it, you will find a way in the future. If you find it, it may just be empty.” When the words fell, Liang Han spoke first: “Qi attacked Yutian, while the whole body slowly turned eighteen, floated around, and Qi reversed eighteen...”

George Han, He listened carefully, but his brows couldn't help but get tighter and tighter. Listening to Liang Han's thoughts, let alone doing it, even just listening to him felt incredible.

That is to say, Liang Han and others were still helping him just now, otherwise, George Han would even feel that he was being tricked.

The first part of the mental method is almost reversed, and the first sentence of luck alone is full of contradictions. George Han has seen many more practice methods that revolve around the thirty-six weeks of the sky, but this kind of slowness is only eighteen. Rarely, the most ridiculous thing is that he also asked George Han to reverse another eighteen weeks in the second half.

What's the difference between doing it like this and going crazy?

If the first sentence can still be called contradictory and strange, then the next sentence is completely incomprehensible.

However, with the preparations in advance, George Han could still accept it in his heart, so he was not affected too much , and tried to remember every word and every sentence Liang Han said.

The mind is very long.

For more than half an hour, Liang Han kept saying that George Han was also memorizing it seriously. The limbs began to move slightly, doing some movements that were incomprehensible to ordinary people.

More importantly, with more and more of these actions, cyan lights appeared looming over George Han 's body.

That person obviously noticed the change, and the other eight people behind him also saw it, but at this time, none of the nine of them said a word, their mouths wide open, and they were completely shocked and even forgot to breathe.

The glutton of evil on the shore has been observing for a long time. After knowing that George Han is not in danger, the more he looks, the more sleepy he becomes. He is in a drowsy state, but he finds that George Han is different at this time, and he can't help but suddenly. Raising his forelimbs, he looked up in disbelief.

"Bobobo..."

Liang Han, who was reading, suddenly heard bursts of crisp sounds, like the sound of water droplets, and the sound of stone wear, and at the same time, there was a strange force that seemed to be slightly surrounding him.

He was suddenly startled, distracted, and looked around, only to see bursts of blue smoke curling up around him at this time, and George Han was covered in blue light.

What's even more strange is that at this time, George Han's waist, and from head to toe, there are two strings of strange silver and white runes wrapped tightly like two iron chains.

"This..."

Seeing this scene, Liang Han couldn't help but lose his voice.

He stayed, the person next to him also stayed at this time, and the remaining eight people stayed too.

"This...what the hell is going on here?"

Everyone was silent, and they couldn't understand what happened to George Han today.

Could it be that he had an accident in the process of learning? So that some discomfort has begun to appear now?

Or go crazy?

Right now, the latter situation is the most likely, but after thinking about it, George Han closed his eyes slightly, his face was calm, and the strange light around him was relatively stable. This was not a sign of going crazy.

Therefore, this possibility can be basically ruled out.

Just when everyone was at a loss, suddenly someone remembered something, and shouted at Liang Han in a hurry: "Lao Liang, don't stop, don't stop, keep reading, keep reading, he... he is Practice the secret technique you taught him just now."

"What!"

Chapter 3467

Liang Han and others were suddenly shocked, and the eyes of a group of people were all staring, obviously it was difficult to accept this reality for a while.

How is this possible? What they are teaching now is far from what they were just now. They were teaching by words and deeds just now. George Han's quick learning is understandable.

But at the moment, what they are preaching, even they themselves can't understand, but George Han is just being taught, how can it be possible to listen to it once?

But if you observe the series of changes in George Han's body at this time, you have to think carefully and think this is the most appropriate explanation!

The energy in his body, including his expression, everything is explaining, and the fact seems to be like this.

"Ah?"

Under the uproar, Liang Han and the person beside him couldn't help but their feet softened and their faces were cold.

They

didn't understand why George Han could not only understand what they could not even understand half of their entire lives but why he could not only understand it after listening to it once but also practiced directly and smoothly.

At the same time as this kind of regret arose, the two of them still sighed more in their hearts, sighing as they said before, everything in this world has a destiny, and George Han is the one that cannot be broken in their hearts. The best answer to the secret, is they are just passersby after all.

"It's like in this Bafang world, our once-to-the-top summit, perhaps, was just to pave the way for him to appear now." The man smiled wryly and shook his head.

Liang Han was stunned for a moment, thought for a moment, then shook his head helplessly, and said, "Maybe you are right."

After he finished speaking, he raised his eyes and looked at George Han, who was closing his eyes tightly at the moment, and suddenly

Of course, Liang Han smiled: "Since it is fate, let's follow the arrangement of fate." When the words were finished, he hurriedly said and continued to read the second half of the method in his mind to George Han.

Under the attention of everyone else, although George Han hadn't opened his eyes, as Liang Han continued to read, the blue light on George Han's body became more and more huge, making him prevent Buddha from being surrounded by greenery. General in the cloud, misty sky.

And the two silver chains around him are also shining brighter and brighter, and the strange sigils on them are also crazily becoming more divine.

"He...he's really learning, my God, I...what did we meet...who did we meet?"

“Yeah, we’ve all been alive for how many years, the strange people during this period. What kind of genius have we not seen? It is good for the one who has never forgotten it

, or this genius. We dare not say that there are too many, but at least there are too many to enumerate. But what kind of genius can be so talented? We will teach him what we know. It doesn’t matter if you know it, the key is that I can’t understand things that I have been involved in. How did he understand it?”

“I see, he is clearly not a genius.” Someone looked at George Han and frowned. road.

As soon as these words came out, everyone nodded again and again, but one of them didn’t quite understand what those words meant. After all, if George Han’s ability is not a genius, then who else in this world can be called a genius?

Seeing that he was unclear, the person next to him smiled: “A genius is always a genius, isn’t it?”

He nodded, and it was true: “That’s right.”

“But George Han

is a genius. It can be said that it completely broke the upper limit of this kind of genius, do you admit it?”

The man still nodded.

“That’s not right. Since he can break through this upper limit, it is enough to show that he is not a genius at all.” The person next to him laughed.

After asking for a long time, it seemed to be a lonely question, but after taking a closer look, it seemed that he had answered something, and the man was completely in a state of panic: “Can you make it clearer? It’s better if you don’t answer, answer. It left me confused.”

The person next to him chuckled and didn’t say a word.

On the other hand, the person on the other side of him gave a wry smile and slowly stood up: “George Han is not a genius, there is only one reason why he can hear it.

” These!”
