

Chapter 3468

simply!

Just four simple words, seemingly impermanent, but like a heavy hammer slammed on the top of the man's heart, so that his heart stopped suddenly, his blood stopped, and his breathing gradually forgot.

Almost all of them have their own hard-earned but exhausted ancient magical skills or mysterious methods, but in any case, each of them is in a timeline that is unknown how many years ago. Inside.

Naturally, the things they get will only be older than their own age.

So, it's a clear timeline, and it's also a logical line.

But now, this time line and logic line have suddenly started to reverse, and someone who is not known how many years later than them suddenly learns these magical skills and methods that are older than them.

Is this really too much? !

"He's just a young man

." He muttered, his body involuntarily stood up, and looked at George Han in disbelief: "How could he have been."

"Then what if it was reincarnation." The man laughed.

"Reincarnation?" The man was stunned for a moment, suddenly understood what he meant, and frowned, "You mean, the young man in front of you is very likely... the reincarnation of an ancient great god."

"I This possibility is not ruled out, do you still remember what color his breath was when he was lucky when he just played against us?"

The man recalled a little, and it was not difficult to answer this question: "There is a strong black magic energy, But in the demonic energy..."

It was golden energy!

"That means..." The man suddenly stared at George Han even more tightly: "This guy..."

"That's right." The person next to him nodded heavily: "He has gold energy in him, and spirit inside him. Blood, but the two breaths are not necessarily compatible, so these indicate that maybe a certain great god's reincarnation is probably just a small test, I suspect..."

"You suspect, he is more like a certain A gathering of great gods."

"You can also say the same, or call him, the Son of Heaven."

"Of course, this Son of Heaven is not at a certain stage at present, but..."

The man also frowned and caught it. He answered the words of the man next to him: "It's from a long, long time ago to the present, and even in the very distant future, the only one of the Chosen Sons among the Chosen Sons."

Yes, and only this explanation can explain why George Han's body would be so peculiar, and even beneath the peculiar surface, there were hidden secrets of the ancient divine technique.

"If this is the case, then his appearance may also mean that the world is about to change its face." The eight people nodded in unison.

God

arranged for such a master to appear, so it obviously means that there must be a major event in this world, but, what kind of major event is this major event? !

Perhaps, a makeover is the single best adjective.

"In my opinion, it may not be so simple."

At this moment, the crab man stood up.

As soon as these words came out, a group of people looked at him in confusion.

This is already the most reasonable explanation, they really don't understand, what other explanation can the crab people have.

"The ancient god is always ancient, don't forget one thing, who is following him." The crab man snorted coldly.

Evil gluttonous!

"That's right, that's the beast from the ancient legends, remember this key point, the ancients!" As soon as the voice fell, the group of people were also dumbfounded.

Yes, an ancient, an ancient, the gap between the ages is not a little bit.

the ancient times are indeed very far away for their group of people, the things corresponding to those ancient legends are obviously still a little tender.

In this case, it seems a bit unreasonable for an ancient one to follow an ancient one.

"I suspect... he may be the reincarnation of a great god in ancient times."

"Or, according to your so-called son of heaven, the time difference has to be pulled forward."

"He... is very likely to be this world. From the very beginning of its birth, it has been a top priority between heaven and earth."

Hearing this, no one objected, but everyone was seriously thinking about this possibility.

But with such a possibility, there is a question: “If this is the case, what is the meaning of his existence in this world? Or, what is the purpose of the world that has been nurtured from the beginning of the world’s birth?”

Hearing this question , Crab Man smiled...

Chapter 3469

“This question is very interesting, but it is also very simple.”

Crab Man said leisurely, got up slightly: “It’s as if we created A huge and complex thing, it has its independence, but we also know that it has its uncertainties, if one day it is out of balance, should we prepare a restore key.”

“Your It means...”

Crab Man’s eyes narrowed slightly: “George Han, maybe the button that restarts the world.”

Hearing this, a group of people were collectively shocked.

If it was before, when someone said such a thing, even their own friends, they would definitely sneer.

The restart key of a world, what does it mean to anyone, it means that it is the new master of this world, and it is also the supreme emperor of this world.

And these human beings are just the ants in front of him

. As for the so-called true gods, they are just naive existences that the ants play.

This is like a huge humiliation for those who have a very high status among human beings.

But even so, they didn’t want to refute at this moment, because George Han was standing in front of them.

This is a person who not only has their infinite expectations, but also allows them to practice Hu Qi.

“Although it is easy to make people laugh, it seems that it is not impossible.”

“He is holding a Pangu axe, carrying a gluttonous gluttony, a body of gods and demons, and a strange defensive armor on his body, as you can imagine. Who else is the last person who could do this?”

Someone asked with a wry smile when they realized it.

For this question, many people have not answered, this answer is not difficult to form a consensus in their minds.

“Have the answers?” The crab man smiled lightly and looked back at everyone.

Everyone looked back at him with a smile, and everything was silent.

The crab man laughed, and after a while, he straightened up and said, “Although I have the answer, I think you should be the same as me. There are still some doubts in your heart, and I hope it can be proved, right?”

Everyone nodded again, obviously in this way.

“Well, just ask this question clearly, at least, I can leave this world in peace after waiting.”

“Or, if I have a spirit in the future, I can tell future generations in an open and honest way. Descendants, also tell the millions of people in the eight directions in the coming year that my appearance and existence are valuable.” After the words were finished, the crab man glanced at everyone, and everyone nodded in unison again.

A group of people lined and slowly came behind Liang Han.

At this time, Liang Han had just finished reciting all the mental methods that he had memorized. When he saw the crab man waiting for a group of people to arrive, he smiled bitterly: “It seems that you know it too.” The crab man nodded: “Who can get to the position of the true god, except for a few war mad, who has no brains?”

Liang Han said silently, bowing his head and smiling bitterly.

Yeah, who said it wasn't? !

Then, he slowly raised his head and looked at the man who had been beside him the whole time.

The man nodded, and then he also recited what he knew little by little to George Han.

Although there was no movement on George Han's side, he still stood there with his eyes closed, like a standing Buddha, but as the man talked more and more about his thoughts, the blue light and printing on George Han's body disappeared. What came was a burst of fiery red light on the surface of George Han's body, and four strange imprints were like four little dragons, moving slowly on his chest.

Seeing this, the ten people looked at each other again and smiled.

Immediately afterwards, the Crab Man stepped forward and recited a heart sutra to George Han according to the method of the previous two people.

After the red gas was over, Xiaolong walked away, a golden light began to cover George Han, and the shadow of a great god appeared behind him.

After that, the ten people took a few steps back together. Under the leadership of Liang Han, the ten people bowed collectively, bowed respectfully towards George Han's body, and then looked at each other and turned into a light and shadow. Go slowly.

George Han also completed all the operations of the third set of mental methods at this time. He felt that there was no one on his body, and when he opened his eyes, he saw that the lights and shadows were extremely far away from him.

But there is a light spot, but it is coming towards me from a distance...
