

Chapter 3470

When George Han stretched out his hand, the light spot was already in front of George Han. Yes = a wooden tablet about the size of a fist.

After Wei Wei took it, its whole body still exuded a faint golden light.

The slips were made into a book, and between the light and the pull down, a small book formed of dozens of wooden slips was completely displayed in front of George Han's eyes.

"I've waited for my consciousness to reach the last moment, and naturally I can't say goodbye to you again. Maybe, this will be a goodbye forever."

"But at the last moment of life, to be able to meet you at the last moment of life is also regarded as our being in this prison. Tortured for so long, the most comforting one, at least, you let us know that waiting is meaningful."

"You have learned all three types of magic skills, including me and other ten magic skills, you have mastered it very well, in the future, I hope you With diligent practice

, I believe that in the near future, with your strength, you will definitely be able to outshine the blue, and nothing can stop your limit."

"You have been to our cemetery, and after you go out from here, you can go Pay tribute to us in our graves, and then dig our graves. On top of our corpses are seven unknown divine arts of the world's treasures. We don't know how powerful they are, but we believe that we can't see them at all. Understand, the more mysterious spells that you can't even memorize should have their value and meaning."

"Finally, we hope you can get out of here, the two heroes of Yuetan are more terrifying than you think, I suggest you rest for three Day, digest the energy and magical skills we have given you and then challenge, you can go to the cave outside the hill to rest, by the way, remember, there is no water in the Moon Palace in the water."

"Ten who are looking forward to you . left by an unknown person."

After reading these letters on wooden slips, George Han understood that this was the farewell letter left by the ten of them. It not only exhorted, but also encouraged, and also left some valuable wealth for himself.

Thinking of this, George Han looked at the distance where they disappeared, then moved slightly and knelt down: "Although we don't have the title of master and apprentice, but you have taught me your life skills and unique skills, George Han himself Be grateful to each of your seniors." After saying that, Han 3000 bowed down to the place with sincerity.

After a while, he raised his head: "Seniors, you can rest assured. Whether it's for me or for you, George Han will definitely break the jungle." After the words were finished, George Han looked back at the shore and looked up. With his own gluttonous gluttony, a flying body came to its side.

Patting the guy's head, one person and one beast turned and walked towards the other end of the hill.

George Han is a confident person, but he is by no means blindly confident. Since the ten seniors left a letter and specifically told him that it is best to spend three days digesting what he has obtained, then he will obey honestly.

After all, relatively speaking, they know this place far better than they do.

Secondly, although the previous one was more just a test, so it did not cause much damage to George Han's body, but George Han also consumed a lot of strength to resist, and now he really needs to rest.

The most important thing is that George Han is also very strange at this time, why he unconsciously acquires the three secret skills that he has not yet understood.

Human body instinct is a kind of knowledge, but he can't understand it in his mind and always won't. George Han still wants to figure out this.

Therefore, George Han needs time to recover his physical strength, and he also needs to sort out these things and digest them.

And almost immediately after George Han left Moon Lake, in the sky, the light and shadow of the sweeping old man and the Eight Desolate Book of Heaven appeared again, the two of them smiled at each other, and then hid in the layers of white clouds.

Neither of the two said a single word, but it was obvious that there were too many unspeakable things hidden in their eyes and smiles.

At this time, George Han, who was carrying the gluttonous gluttony, also climbed over the low hill. After looking around, he set his eyes on a low shrub in the distance. There, a hidden cave The entrance of the cave is looming..

Chapter 3471

"It should be there." George Han looked over and said softly.

The location of the cave is indeed a bit hidden. If someone had not told him in advance that there was a cave there, George Han probably wouldn't have taken a second look at that place.

Evil Taotie let out a slight breath, which seemed to count as a response.

George Han did not delay, and rushed over with the glutton of evil.

When he reached the entrance of the cave, looking at some distorted plants around the cave, George Han couldn't help shaking his head with a wry smile.

"It's interesting."

Almost all the surrounding plants were crooked, showing a rather strange posture, and finally formed a gate that seemed to be naturally blocked, which almost completely matched the shape of the hole.

Slightly removed these, and the cave entrance suddenly appeared in front of George Han.

It is not big, it is about two meters high, and it is very dark inside . A fireball is supported by George Han's hand, and then he walks into the cave one after another with the glutton of evil.

Although the inside of the cave is very dark, it is very strange that there is no dampness that should exist in this kind of jungle, but it is abnormally dry. More like an artificial one.

However, this hole is extremely deep, at least after winding for tens of meters before turning to a deeper place.

If this is artificially made, I don't know how long it will take to dig it to have such a scale.

Turning the corner, after about seven or eight meters deep inside, a huge space of four or five hundred square meters appeared in front of George Han's eyes.

There is a huge stone in the hole. Although it is very sharp , because of its huge size, in general, there is a flat place about one meter long on the top of it, which seems to be able to lay down a person. .

Not far from the big stone, there are several gravel stones there.

At a glance, it was four stools plus a table. George Han smiled bitterly and patted the evil glutton on the shoulder: "Go out and find some food by yourself, don't go too far, if you have something to call me, I will practice first."

On top of the big stone, he then closed his eyes safely and began to practice meditation again, having digested all the information he had received before.

The first ten magical skills are easy to say, but George Han is nothing more than a reinforcement exercise, forming a kind of muscle memory, which can naturally be remembered very deeply.

This doesn't take much time, and it takes about a day to complete.

George Han wants to spend the next two days mainly on researching the last three mysterious secret techniques. Why is his body able to understand things he can't understand at all.

This is a question, but at the same time, George Han can also use this point of physical experience to try to construct a relatively easy-to-understand blueprint for his brain.

Of course, even if you can't understand it, you can at least conduct an integrated induction and practice based on your body's conscious actions.

Just do it!

And at the other end of the world of the Eight Desolate Books.

In the wooden house, almost all of George Han's friends, including Qinglong and Xiaochunhua, were waiting anxiously in the wooden house.

They were waiting for the order to set off to find George Han.

However, Qin Shuang, Ningyue and others outside the door did not seem to have any tendency to give orders.

How could they issue orders without Amelia Su's words? As a result, the two of them could only keep their eyes on the bamboo house in the distance.

Inside the bamboo house, Amelia Su was so anxious that she kept looking out the window and inside the house, as if hesitating.

"Didn't I tell you not to worry?" A voice came, obviously, it was a strange one.

"I..." Amelia Su hesitated to speak, George Han had been gone for almost a day and still didn't move, how could she not be worried?

"Since you're worried, go out and have a look." Tian Zhiqiong said with a smile.

Hearing this, Amelia Su was obviously stunned, but in the next second, she rushed to the bamboo house.

However, as soon as he arrived in front of the door, Amelia Su's pupils began to expand infinitely. At the same time, her stunning face was also very surprised, and at the same time, it was refracted by the colorful rays of light...

"That...that is..."
