

Chapter 348

The old woman realized that she had reacted too much and scared the child.

She even restrained her anger and said softly, "No, Grandma is not angry, Grandma is just distressed for you, our little An'an is so good and lovely, but there are still those evil-hearted people who want to harm you, don't worry, Grandma will help you uncover the murderer, and will never let her go easily."

Ann sounded like she understood, but about as well as she could tell that the old lady wasn't mad at her, which put her mind at ease.

Jenny frowned tightly.

"Ani, are you sure someone just pushed you off?"

Ann opened her eyes blankly and looked at her, then at Biden Lu who was standing beside her, also with a light frown.

Finally, a shake of the head.

"I'm not sure."

She was still young, but she knew that you can't just accuse people of wrongdoing.

So, she just said truthfully, "I just didn't feel steady on my feet, and I forget if I slipped or if there was a force behind me that pushed me down, but I just accidentally fell in anyway."

The old lady saw the situation and said with a sullen face, "It's okay, you don't remember, we can check the surveillance."

Saying that, he turned to look at Master Guan, who was sitting in a wheelchair behind him, and said in a cold voice, "Old Guan, there should be no problem with that, right?"

After what had happened to An An in the Guan family, Master Guan was also very righteous, and certainly wouldn't refuse at this time.

"No problem, it's the right thing to do, I'll send someone to retrieve it right away."

Only then did the old lady nod her head in satisfaction, looking back at Jenny's body was still wet, busy saying: "It will take a while to adjust the monitor, you are wet like this is not the way to do it, be careful that the child is fine, fell cold yourself, let someone take you to change clothes."

Xu Hui who had been standing next to no words at this time even came out and laughed, "Exactly, although it is now spring, but the weather is still cold, just as I also have no new clothes there, I'll take you to change one, stay down later just to watch the monitor."

Jenny Jing didn't have a problem with it, but it was Master Guan, who stopped Xu Hui and said to Guan Xuefei, who was standing not far away, "Xuefei, you take Lu's daughter-in-law with you, you're similar in age, your clothes suit her better."

Xu Hui's face flashed with embarrassment at the sight of this.

But it wouldn't whisk the old man away in front of all these people.

Even with a smooth smile, "That's fine, just a few days ago, I bought a few sets when I was shopping with Xue Fei, Xue Fei, you remember to take them all out and let Jenny pick them out herself."

Guan Xue Fei quirked an eyebrow, a hint of impatience flashing in the depths of her eyes.

But she didn't refuse, just said in a quiet voice, "You come with me."

Then, they took Jenny out.

Biden Lu was a little uneasy about her and originally wanted to accompany her, but was stopped by a look system from Jenny Jing.

After all, Ann was still here, though with the old lady and others, she was still a little uneasy.

Biden Lu was there, she could at least feel more at ease.

And although Guan Xue Fei had been at odds with her, as far as she was concerned, it was Guan Xue Fei who was the least threatening to her than the rest of the Guan family instead.

Jenny followed her into the room she was staying in, Guan Xuefei's room was decorated in a very elegant and minimalist style, the whole thing was in a post-modern minimalist style, it didn't look like a girl's room, but more like a boy's preferred tough style.

As soon as she entered the house, Guan Xue Fei took out all the several sets of clothes and threw them on the bed, casually saying, "Choose for yourself! Change and call me."

When you're done, you're ready to go out.

Jenny took one look at those clothes and suddenly called her to a halt.

"Miss Kwan, there's a question I'd like to ask you."

Michelle Kwan froze in her tracks, stopping to look back at her with a bit of an eye roll.

"What do you want to ask?"

Jenny smiled slightly.

"Where were you when Ann was in trouble earlier?"

Guan Xuefei's face changed.

"What do you mean? Doubt me?"

Jenny didn't say anything.

Guan Xuefei snickered.

"Jenny, I admit, I hate you to death, and if you could die in front of me right now, I'd clap my hands, because not only did you take away Brother Shen, but you also knew the secret I've been trying to hide!

But you have to understand, it's you who has a grudge against me, not Ann, don't look at the fact that she recognizes you as her mommy now, before she met you, she and I weren't that far apart!

So, don't use your villainy to measure people's gentlemanly behavior, not everyone is full of schemes like you, and look at everyone around you like bad guys!"

Guan Xuefei was clearly pissed off, and her chest was still heaving together from the anger as she finished her sentence.

Jenny was secretly relieved.

She smiled, "I'm sorry, I'm just in case, but I don't think you'll be the one to push Ann."

Guan Xuefei quirked an eyebrow.

"And you're asking me?"

Jenny raised an eyebrow.

"I told you, just in case, but your eyes tell me you won't."

Guan Xuefei was simply confused by the woman in front of her.

Jenny Jing, however, wasn't going to pay any more attention to her, picking through the sets of clothes on the bed, grabbing a lavender cashmere jumper and a pair of jeans, and not shying away from her, changing right in front of her.

Guan Xue Fei was furious when she saw her like this, not treating herself as an outsider.

I was about to fling the door out, but I was suddenly startled.

Only Jenny had just taken off his wet clothes, and on his perfectly defined spine, there was a winged butterfly presenting itself.

She was not shaken hard!

It's a red birthmark that, because it grows next to the butterfly bone, will appear to flutter with every movement of a person's arm.

That's not...

Her face turned suddenly pale.

Jenny didn't notice her look, after putting on the jumper, because there was a strap that needed to be tied behind her back.

Her arm just to save Ann, a moment too eager careless muscle strain, just now did not pay attention, this time to change clothes only feel, backhand tying the belt inevitably a bit.

So then he asked, "Miss Kwan, would you mind tying it for me?"

Guan Xuefei reacted, and before answering, the man had already stepped forward subconsciously.

Sensing that she had picked up the tape, Jenny Jing curved the corners of her lips and said, "Actually, if you didn't like Biden Lu, I would think that you're not a bad person, and not as bad as you think."

Guan Xuefei's heart was shocked at this point, where there was no mood to fight with her and listen to what she was saying.

It was only a vague response, but in my mind, it was all about that birthmark.

Jenny Jing smiled: "Anyway, that He Chengjun is actually quite nice, although his background is not so good, and his career was thwarted in the end, but his heart is not bad.

Most of those scandals that came out before were also about other female artists trying to use him for speculation, not him intentionally trying to get close, so if you guys do have a child, you could really consider developing it and give it a try."

Chapter 349

Guan Xuefei sank down.

"Are you taking pity on me?"

Jenny raised his eyebrows.

"Would you believe me if I said no?"

"Unbelievable!"

When Guan Xue Fei tied the straps, she quickly took a step back far away from her and said in a cold voice, "I used to be able to say that I was the eldest sister of the Guan family, one person under ten thousand, but now I'm not.

The Guan family originally adopted me only to make up for the loss of their child, but now that she's back, I'm useless, so even I sometimes don't know where I stand in the Guan family now.

I can understand you guys wanting to see me laugh, because if it were me and you were reduced to this, I would just set off firecrackers for a few days to celebrate, but that doesn't mean that everyone can come and laugh at me, or that I can lower my requirements and just find someone I don't like and marry them."

Jenny straightened his clothes and turned to look at her.

"I'm not laughing at you."

She looked slightly serious, and pondered for a few seconds before continuing, "I also mean seriously, actually putting my position aside, I don't hate you, and I won't say anything about you and He Chengjun, even if you don't remind me.

You've said it yourself, you're now in an awkward position in the Guan family, and you know better than me that if Master Guan is gone, this mess in the Guan family isn't something you, an adopted daughter, can touch over, so instead of that, why not find a way out for yourself in advance and find a good home?"

Guan Xuefei sneered.

"You don't think I can touch it? What about her? You don't really believe that she's Guan Ji Wan's biological daughter, do you!"

Jenny pursed her lips.

There was a two-second pause before she said, "She's more qualified than you to be in this mess."

Guan Xuefei was startled.

Jenny Jing explained, "I'm not acknowledging her identity, but I'm saying that she's more skillful, more courageous, and more ruthless than you. The Guan family is now in a messy situation, two tigers fighting, there will be a wound, no one will take you as an adopted daughter seriously, and you do not have any Guan family property rights and shares in your hands.

So, you end up with nothing more than either being used as a pawn or both parties are offended and completely swept away after the death of the old man.

Either one is no better than what you have now. And Clara is different, I heard that her hands pinch Guan Jiwan left the 15% of the shares, Guan also intends to set her up with the youngest child Gu.

If they don't make it, this 15% share is her talisman, and both Uncle Guan and Uncle Guan will be afraid of her.

And if she really becomes the youngest Gu, by then not only the shares, but the entire Gu family will also be her patron, don't look at me with such a skeptical look, believe me, she can do it.

After all, I've known her for more than a decade, much better than you know her, she has a few skills, what kind of skills, I know very well, so what you can't do, she can, you can't get involved in this muddle, she can also get involved! That's why I'm advising you to go back in a hurry."

Guan Xuefei froze there.

She never expected that Jenny would tell her so much.

It's not that she doesn't understand some of this, but sometimes she just doesn't want to face it.

Because the slightest bit of reluctance made her think that she was the only daughter of the Guan family who had obviously come to the house first, from the time she was adopted at the age of five, she thought that she was the only daughter of the Guan family.

But now, Clara was here!

It would be fine if Clara was really a genuine daughter, but she always hinted that

Well, she's not.

What interests Clara had with Guan Ji Ming and Guan Ji Li, she was not sure.

But always thought that sooner or later the truth would be unraveled and she'd have to go!

However, after hearing what Jenny had just said, she realized.

She's not going anywhere!

From the day Guan Ji Ming brought Clara back to the Jing family, from the time when Guan truly believed that Clara was the granddaughter he had been searching for for over twenty years.

There's no turning back!

No one would want to take on the charge of cheating the old man.

Because that would be too much to associate with, even if the first intentions were good, and in the end the forced guilt would be enough to get him thrown out of the mantry with nothing.

So, Guan Jiaming would not allow her to say it.

And Guan Ji Li, from the time he had spent with her, also seemed to have a remarkable relationship with Clara.

Therefore, this truth is just going to be buried forever, and no one will ever bring it up again.

Guan Xue Fei's face completely changed, from the initial shock, to the struggle behind it, and then finally that remaining hint of reluctance also completely disappeared.

She had to admit that Jenny's words were reasonable.

She was no match for Clara.

All these years, she seems to be noble and flamboyant, but is actually a pawn in the hands of the old man.

The old man wants to use her to marry the Gu family, and she refuses.

Therefore, the old man was disappointed in her as well.

And now that what he thought was "the real deal" is back, where is she going to fit in?

Even if she came forward now and told him that Clara was fake.

Under the escort of both Guan Ji Ming and Guan Ji Li, and with the old man's almost paranoid trust in Clara, no one would trust her either.

Who is she going to expect to help her then?

And who is willing to help her?

The first thing you need to know is how to get rid of it, and how to get rid of it," she said.

She looked at Jenny for a moment before she struggled to open her lips.

"Why are you telling me this?"

She didn't believe that Jenny was saying this to her for her own good.

Jenny smiled faintly.

"Because I don't want to see her get away with this any more than you do."

Guan Xuefei's face was slightly pale.

"I thought that by not telling the truth, you had tacitly agreed that you would not countenance what happened in Visterdem."

Jenny Jing coolly lifted the corner of his lips.

"Once I decided the same thing. But she should never, ever, ever have touched someone I care about."

Tonight, Ann was pushed out of the pool, and although the surveillance hadn't seen it yet, she actually had a vague candidate in mind.

Not many people had a grudge against her in this Noble Guan family, and An'an was still a child, so who would be sick to death to do something to a child?

She originally thought it would be Guan Xue Fei, after all, she liked Biden Lu so much, if she couldn't get it, she would have to destroy it, and if she couldn't destroy Biden Lu could destroy his only child, which was also good.

So, she tested Kwan Suet Faye, but Kwan's eyes and the intuition she was given told her that she wasn't the one who did it.

Since it wasn't her, it would have to be that person.

Chapter 350

Jenny had once read a quote in a certain book.

Everything in the world, when you eliminate all the impossible situations, the rest, no matter how unbelievable, is a fact.

Therefore, the real murderer can only be her!

Jenny Jing though didn't understand why Clara would go out of her way to take action against a child at such a crucial juncture.

But she understood that there was no second person besides her, of all people today, who had any ill will toward her and toward Ann.

Besides, if she remembered correctly, it was after seeing Clara that An An suddenly became nervous in the first place, and then said she needed to go to the bathroom.

All of which, in the end, summed up to the only possibility that she had moved.

Jenny Jing didn't really care what Clara did to her.

After all, they're all feuds between adults, you and I. You take a stand, not right or wrong.

But Ann is different.

She was just a child, and Clara was so deranged that she would never tolerate a child!

Michelle Kwan looked at her, her eyes a bit torn.

"So what do you want? If this is really Clara's doing, Grandfather will definitely keep her, today is nominally a birthday banquet, but in reality it's to announce Clara's identity, as well as to announce her and Youngest Gu's affair, Guan Gu marriage, Grandfather can't let anyone ruin it."

Jenny laughed.

"Yeah? If that's the case...then we'll just have to tear it up and make it easy on no one."

Guan Xuefei shook fiercely.

"You want to reveal the truth?"

Jenny Jing said in a soft voice, "I can ignore everything, only I can't hurt the people around me, this is my bottom line, unfortunately, Clara stepped on this bottom line, so today I don't care if she's married to the Gu family or if there's something else, I won't let it go easily."

"But... I thought you said Grandpa wouldn't believe it?"

"Believe it or not it's his business, I just have to do what I want to do."

Guan Xuefei frowned, Jenny looked at her as if she was struggling and smiled, "There's no need to think too much about it, there are some things that have different effects if you say them and if I say them, and I wouldn't do it if it wasn't a matter of necessity, after all, I wouldn't want the old man to have to suffer such a big blow in his last days."

After she finished speaking, she turned around and walked out without any further stopping in front of Guan Xuefei's shocked gaze.

At this point, downstairs in the hall.

Ann has been treated by the doctor and is doing much better.

The rest of the guests, by this time, had basically heard about what had happened tonight, and all of them gathered curiously.

It was a good birthday party, and no one expected this to happen.

One is curious to know who the real killer is.

So at this time, apart from the Lu family, the Guan family actually didn't look much better.

The butler quickly fetched the surveillance at Master Guan's command.

Jenny and Guan Xuefei, at this time, also duly descended the stairs and returned to the hall.

Master Guan asked the housekeeper to hand over the surveillance to a secretary nearby, who had already gone to the nearest study to get the computer over and would soon be able to see the results on it.

There was silence in the hall.

Everyone watched as the secretary inserted the flash drive with the surveillance footage into the computer.

Since the footage was only pulled from that one time period of the incident, it was quick to see the image they wanted to see.

On the screen, a dancing butterfly was dancing under the dim light.

Ann soon appeared in the picture, looking happy and chasing butterflies out of the house.

Within a few steps, however, the butterfly was gone.

I saw the child stand still, scratching his head in wonder, and after two seconds, not seeing the butterfly, he seemed to want to turn around.

However, at this time, I don't know whether it was slippery underfoot or what happened, suddenly the body stumbled, and at the same time, a dark shadow stretched out in the darkness, in the shape of a person's hand, "poof", and pushed the child down.

This is followed by the image of Ann screaming for help in the water, everyone coming around, and finally Jenny rushing over and jumping into the water to save the child.

The video played out and everyone fell silent.

Lu Jing's face was sunken, and the faces of Master Lu and Old Lady Cen didn't look too good either.

Someone whispered, "This surveillance didn't take anything down ah, just a dark shadow, who recognizes who that is?"

"But it's always found out that someone did push Miss Ann off, and not just slip and fall."

"Who's so cruel? Not even a child?"

"Who knows? There's probably some kind of vendetta!"

Everyone was whispering in seven different voices, and Master Guan's face was as black as the bottom of a pot.

Today was his birthday banquet, and the fact that something like this would happen at the old family home would offend not only the Lu family, but he himself could almost be said to have lost face.

If this matter is not investigated, the relationship between Guan and Lu may be greatly affected in the future.

Who the hell is that?

Master Guan's face was cold and sullen as he said, "Where were you all tonight, when Ann fell into the water?"

A female guest teased softly, "Is this Master Guan checking on each of us?"

"What are we doing targeting a child when we have no quarrel with Miss Ann Ann?"

"Yes, and who doesn't know that Miss Ann is the jewel of the Lu family's heart, everyone holds it up, so how could they hurt her?"

In the meantime, Guan Ji Ming said to Master Guan in a low voice, "Dad, almost everyone was playing in the garden or front hall, and even if someone was near the pool, they wouldn't have walked to the end near the back door of the bathroom, so it shouldn't have been any guest."

The old man Guan knew that the people who came here today were either rich or famous, and there was no motive for anyone to go and do anything to a small child.

Just at this time, Jenny suddenly sneered, "It doesn't matter who can't be seen on the monitor, isn't there still that butterfly? I don't think the butterflies are real either, so if we check who has them in their room, won't that prove that person is the killer?"

Everyone froze, and Kwan frowned and ordered his secretary, "You rewind that video and play it again."

The secretary even agreed, and after the video was played, it was indeed confirmed that the butterfly, although it looked extremely like the real thing, was probably something like a remote-controllable motorized toy, judging from the flight traces and its eventual disappearance.

Who would take one of these to a party like this?

Master Guan said in a deep voice, "I'm sorry, everyone, although I also know that you have no motive to harm Ann, but in order to do justice to the child, I'll have to offend you and check your belongings."
