

Chapter 351

It's not surprising that Master Kwan would make such a big deal out of it.

Now that the relationship between the four great families was at a sensitive time, any slightest stirring of the wind could trigger a series of chain reactions.

Although the Guan family has decided to marry the Gu family, it doesn't mean that they want to completely tear their faces off from the Lu family right now.

If it was possible for both sides not to offend each other, with the Guan family remaining neutral and stable in the middle, that would naturally be the best option.

Everyone saw that they knew in their hearts the seriousness of the matter, so they were fine with it.

There were even a few, who wanted to sell the landlord favors, and were particularly enthusiastic and proactive in assisting with the search.

Soon, half an hour passed.

The search did not turn up any guests with anything like crank toys on them.

Jenny watched the entire time from the sidelines indifferently and did not speak.

She knew that there were things that she could easily say at this point that would make people think she was deliberately targeting.

It's better to wait and see what happens and let nature take its course.

Everyone had been called to the lobby since the incident anyway, and it was impossible to leave, even if you wanted to destroy the evidence.

When Master Guan saw the situation, he said, "I'm offended, since no one has found that toy butterfly on everyone's body, that means that the thing can only be on the mansion's own people, Ji Ming, you ordered to go down and search everyone's room, including the body, and not a corner is to be missed."

Guan Jiming frowned slightly, but still didn't say anything, answered yes and took the man down.

Someone among the guests whispered in discontent, "The child is fine, is it necessary to make such a fuss over such a trivial matter?"

Only to be glared at by the person next to him, who silenced his voice and didn't dare say anything else.

Not far away, Clara was standing in a corner, her face faintly pale at the sight.

Guan Jili looked at her, his face pale.

"Dad, there are so many rooms, Jimin can't keep busy by himself, I'll go help him."

He whispered to Kwan.

Master Kwan nodded.

Sekiyori turned and headed for the room.

Jenny watched his back as he left, eyes narrowed.

It was then that Ann suddenly tugged on her sleeve.

"Mummy."

Jenny turned back to her and looked down at her.

"What's wrong?"

Ann tilted her head slightly, a pair of black crystal-like eyes clear and bright, and muddled, "Mommy, this evening, I heard that aunt and Grandpa Guan talking in the garden at the back."

Jenny was slightly startled.

She turned to look at Clara, only to see her head slightly lowered, perhaps because of a guilty conscience, one of her hands strangling the handbag straps, although she could not see her expression, but could hint at a hint of unease from the movement of her hands.

It was also because she was guilty, so Clara didn't dare to look up this way.

Naturally, they were unaware that An An was talking to Jenny.

Jenny withdrew his gaze and asked in a gentle whisper, "Did you hear what they said?"

Ann frowned and recalled for a few seconds before saying, "I don't remember much, like, Grandpa Kwan told her not to bother you, but that auntie wasn't too happy, and then she said something about it."

Ann was, after all, just under six years old, and it was hard enough to retell the conversation as such.

Jenny thought about it and whispered, "Be good, don't be afraid, no matter what they say, it has nothing to do with AnAn, AnAn is the best child in the world!

, Mummy will protect Ann."

The little gnome opened her big bright eyes and nodded her head heavily.

Only after calming the child did Jenny get up and head over to the check room.

At the same time, Clara just happened to be called to the room to be examined as well.

However, as a result, the butterfly toy was not found on either King's body or in the room.

She came out in a relaxed manner and looked at Jenny provocatively, laughing warmly, "Sister, I'm disappointed that the butterfly isn't here with me."

Jenny narrowed his eyes.

Clara staggered the wrong way, toe-to-toeing in the direction of Master Guan.

Just then, a cry suddenly came from the doorway.

Only Guan Jili pulled a maid who didn't look too old and walked in menacingly, pushing the maid to the ground while, at the same time, throwing down an object.

Heck, it's the same rocker butterfly that was on the surveillance video.

"Dad, the killer's been found, and it's her!"

"No, not me."

The maid looked terrified and explained evenly, "Master, I've never seen this toy butterfly before, it's really not me, and I don't know why it's in my room."

"You're still sophomoric! The stuff was recovered from your room, I just asked the others, and you just happened to be away when the accident happened, no one has seen you at all, so who else would it be if it wasn't you?"

The maid was at a loss for words, so anxious that she was on the verge of tears.

Jenny Jing frowned slightly and stepped forward, asking, "What's your name?"

The maid didn't know Jenny, but she also knew that the one who dared to come out and ask questions at this time must not be an ordinary person.

She replied evenly, "My name is Rain."

"Where were you when it happened?"

"I... I went to the second lady's room to get her things for her."

"Second Miss?"

Jenny Jing tilted his head slightly and looked at Clara who was standing off to the side.

Clara smiled, "Yes, I just came down just now, and then I suddenly remembered that I forgot to take down a pair of landscape paintings that I originally wanted to give to my grandfather, so I sent Xiaoyu to my room to get them, is there a problem?"

Jenny Jing sneered, "That's a coincidence, you don't send her out sooner or later, but you send her out at this juncture?"

Clara smiled warmly and generously, "Sister shouldn't suspect me based on this, right?"

Master Guan frowned slightly at the news and looked at Jenny.

Jenny Jing restrained his indignation slightly and said in a quiet voice, "That's not so."

She turned to Rain and asked quietly, "You said you went to her room, can anyone prove it?"

Rain looked a bit flustered and fidgeted, "I, no, because there are more guests here tonight, everyone is busy at the front and the back is basically empty."

Jenny Jing nodded slightly, "That means that no one can prove for you that you weren't there when it happened?"

Rain panicked even more when she heard it.

"It really wasn't me who pushed Miss Ann into the water, there was no reason for me to do that at all!! I don't know why it's such a coincidence!"

Where is Master Guan's patience to listen to her arguments and his angry voice:
"Someone, call the police! Get this wolf-hearted thing out of here! Hand it over to the police, and say dispose of it for murder."

"Yes."

Immediately someone stepped forward and dragged Rain out.

Rain was terrified and struggled desperately.

Chapter 352

"Second Miss, help me! I was wrongly accused! Second Miss, help me."

In an emergency, she lunged at Clara, trying to call for her help.

However, before jumping on Clara, he was already being dragged back.

Clara's face showed a look of embarrassment and intolerance.

"Grandpa, maybe Rain is also a momentary ghost..."

"No pleading for her!"

Master Guan interrupted her and said angrily, "The heart of a six year old child who can do such a cruel thing to a six year old child can be punished, our Guan family will never harbor such a sinner!"

Rain cried out in despair at the news.

Clara sighed.

Softly advising, "I'm sorry, I can't help you, you...better fend for yourself."

I said, turning my head to the side unbearably.

Someone in the crowd ridiculed, "What's the point of keeping such a vicious woman with a heart like a snake and scorpion? Second Miss is just too kind to actually plead for such sc*m."

"That's right, even a child can do it, or a daughter of the Lu family, she's trying to break the friendship between the Guan and Lu families, think about it carefully."

"This servant's identity is not simple, isn't it, to be able to do something like this, it's not certain that someone is behind it."

"It's awful! How can this man be so bad."

"I'm glad it was uncovered, but if it hadn't been, just the thought of people like that hanging around would have seeped through."

"It's still Second Miss with a good heart, even this sc*m will sympathize."

Clara's lips curled imperceptibly as she listened to the seven mouths of discussion around her.

Outside the crowd, Guan Xuefei looked at the scene and clenched her fists so hard that she just wanted to rush out immediately.

However, there was a small figure, faster than her, who rushed in front of Rain at once.

Old Mrs. Sham was shocked and called out, "Anon, what are you doing?"

I saw Ann run up to Rain and stop the two security guards who were pulling her out before grabbing Rain's hand again and putting it on her back.

Everyone was stunned and unsure, even Rain was momentarily shocked by her actions and forgot how to react.

Only Clara, who had been standing in the crowd, frowned.

Ann let go of Rain's hand and turned, looking at Kwan.

"Grandpa Kwan, this young lady is not the one who pushed me down."

The audience was in an uproar.

Master Guan slightly restrained his eyebrows, his tone showing some displeasure.

"Ani, do you know what you're talking about?"

Ann's look was so serious that she said word for word, "I know, I said, she's not the one who pushed me into the pool."

That's when everyone reacted.

"Who is this, if this isn't her?"

"Didn't we find all the evidence? The human and physical evidence is there, so how could it not be her?"

"Yeah, and this Miss Ann, she didn't see the murderer, she didn't even get the surveillance, how can she be so sure she didn't push it?"

The crowd was talking again.

Master Lu suddenly spoke.

"All right, everyone, quiet down."

He looked at Ann gently and said softly, "Good granddaughter, tell me well, how did you find out that this young lady is not the one who pushed you down."

Ann turned to re-take Rain's hand and said seriously, "Because I remembered

The way that person's hand felt when she touched my shoulder when she pushed me down, her hand was soft, and although it was strong, it felt more like a more delicate hand.

But this lady's hands are too big and too thick, and when you press on your shoulders, they're all hard bones and not comfortable at all, so I don't think she's even the one who pushed me down there before."

That was another full outburst.

Rain stayed there for a moment, reacting and looking at Ann incredulously.

Because she was a maid, Rain would often do some rough work, and being from the north, she was born with a large bone structure and bigger hands than the average girl.

Coupled with the fact that Rain herself was relatively skinny, there was little meat on her hands, just by virtue of her natural skeletal advantage alone, a pair of hands that at first glance didn't look like a woman's, but rather like a man's, full of power.

Therefore, such a pair of hands, touching the body, naturally would not be a soft feeling.

In the meantime, a few of the old men knitted their brows at this analysis by Ann.

Rain, on the other hand, was so grateful that she was almost kneeling to Ann.

"Miss Ann Ann is right, I really didn't push her, and I'm just a maid, I have no quarrel with Miss Ann Ann, it's not my fault to harm her at all! That butterfly toy must have been put in my room on purpose by someone who framed me!"

Xiao Yu shouted hoarsely, and Clara's face changed.

She sighed and said softly, "But it turns out that no one else has a motive or a chance but you."

After a pause, he added, "Xiao Yu, I know you are scared in your heart right now, although I don't know why you want to harm An An, but I'm sure you have your own reasons, don't worry, as long as you are willing to tell the truth and admit your mistakes in time, Grandpa will definitely forgive you."

Rain shook her head incessantly.

"No, it really wasn't me, Second Miss, please believe me, I really didn't harm Miss Ann Ann."

Clara's brow furrowed even deeper, and a trace of impatience flashed rapidly under her eyes.

"I'd like to believe you, but... Miss Ann is only a six-year-old after all, and perceptions can be faulty, so how can you prove that you're not the murderer?"

Rain was stunned.

Completely unexpected that Clara would say that.

A great sense of despair and panic swept over her, and she shook her head nervously, losing her voice, "I... I don't know."

Clara sighed helplessly.

The picture is like that of a deadbeat prisoner who can't argue when confronted with a good man who is bitter and kind.

Just at this moment, Jenny suddenly spoke up.

"It's not that hard to find the real killer."

The crowd stared at her in amazement.

Only Jenny didn't know what time it was, but he already had the toy butterfly in his hand.

The pollen-colored butterfly turned gently on her delicate, pretty fingertips as if it were alive, and just looking at it that way, one could imagine how Ann had chased it out as a real butterfly in the dimly lit conditions.

Master Guan frowned and asked patiently, "What do you say to that?"

Jenny Jing raised his eyes slightly and smiled, "As An'an just said, this Miss Xiaoyu is indeed not the one who pushed her into the water, and the proof is on this toy butterfly."

Everyone was startled.

I don't understand what Jenny's gourd is selling.

Not only those people beside her, but now even Master Lu and Old Lady Cen were confused by her.

Only Biden Lu, as he looked at the butterfly toy, his eyes dimmed slightly, and his eyes were crossed.

Chapter 353

Master Guan said in a deep voice, "Daughter-in-law Lu, this butterfly toy was found in her room, doesn't it just prove that the murderer is her? As for the motive, it doesn't matter if she won't say anything now, she'll naturally be willing to talk when she's suffered a bit and knows that it's useless to argue."

Jenny frowned.

She didn't think that Master Guan would be such an arbitrary person.

She shook her head and said in a deep voice, "No, the old man is wrong, this butterfly toy, although it was found from Xiao Yu's room, it doesn't mean it's hers."

The words were confusing to everyone.

One by one, they looked at her, puzzled as to what she meant.

Guan Jili sneered, "If that doesn't explain it, what else does it take to explain it?"

"Of course it's about the more detailed evidence!"

Jenny Jing picked up the butterfly toy and displayed it in front of everyone, saying aloud, "Everyone, please look, this toy is very ordinary, but if you look closely, you will see that there is a spot on its wings that is wet. I just smelled it carefully and there was perfume on it, and I didn't remember what it was, but someone just walked by me and accidentally made me smell this perfume, and I remembered that it was Armani's latest theone.

Everyone knew that this perfume was very popular when it came out, and naturally the price wasn't cheap either, Xiao Yu was just a maid, and her yearly salary probably wasn't enough to buy a bottle, so if the stuff was hers, how could it smell so strong? So, I think it's probably just that someone noticed that things were about to be exposed and threw something into her room, thereby planting evidence!"

The crowd was filled with shock at the news, how could they have never thought that such a simple little incident would actually pull out such a complicated truth behind it.

Clara's face, on the other hand, changed slightly, and a flash of panic flashed across her eyes.

Someone asked, "So who's the real killer?"

Jenny Jing slightly hooked her lips, looking towards Clara with a partial smile, "What an unfortunate coincidence, I just passed by this lady's side and smelled this smell, Miss Jing Er, shouldn't you come out and explain at this time?"

Clara swished and completely changed colour, her eyes flickering as she stammered, "Sister, I don't understand what you're saying!"

"Oh?It doesn't matter if you don't admit it, the butterfly's wings are so wet, I don't think it's because the perfume was accidentally broken or spilled on the wings.Is it convenient for Miss Jing Er to lend me your handbag?"

Clara was in a panic and wanted to refuse, but Old Mrs. Cen had already given a wink to Mo Nan who was next to her, who immediately stepped forward and snatched her handbag off.

"What are you doing?Sister, it's not that I-"

Before Clara could finish her words, Jenny Jing had already opened her handbag.

As it turned out, only the inside of the handbag, there is also a wet mark, which is a strong aroma, and is obviously the result of perfume spilled.

Clara looked at her, her face quickly paling.

Jenny Jing turned around, handed the bag to the old man, and sneered, "As expected, if anyone doesn't believe me, you can come over and take a look at it yourself, smell it, and see if I've wronged her!"

The change came so quickly that everyone was a little unaware of it.

When the reactions came, they all looked incredulously at Clara, and the crowd erupted in a shocked discussion.

"How

Is that so? It was actually Clara who did it!"

"That's unbelievable, I just saw her plead for that maid, I thought she was some nice person! I didn't realize she was the real culprit!"

"This thief is too good at backstabbing a thief!"

"If she hadn't been caught out now, I'd have thought she was a good person from start to finish!"

"It's terrible to think about it in detail!"

The low discussion quickly and quickly grew into a cacophony of mockery of Clara.

Master Guan took his handbag and looked at the clear traces of perfume spilled on it, his entire face as black as the bottom of a pot.

Even Guan Jiming, unhappily lifted his eyebrows.

"Maya, how do you explain this?"

"I..."

Clara was speechless for a moment, she had never thought that Jenny Jing would be so thoughtful that even the evidence she had concealed so well would be discovered.

Therefore, no words were thought out at all.

She fidgeted for a moment, Jenny saw that she had nothing to say and sneered, "You put this butterfly toy in your bag, always looking for an opportunity to make a move on An An, but you never thought that you would accidentally spill the perfume, resulting in the smell of the scent staining the top.

After the incident, you were afraid that we would find out, so you threw the butterfly into Xiaoyu's room, trying to frame her, in order to wash away your own guilt, but did not think that the evidence was already left on it, not at all you can casually wash away.

What else do you have to say about it now that it's over?"

Clara's face was pale.

She looked at Jenny and then at Master Guan and explained in a trembling voice, "Grandfather, I, I didn't harm An'an, I have no grudge against her, why would I harm her?"

Her faintly trembling voice, her white face, and her soft, pitiful appearance suddenly caused Master Guan to frown, his face flashing.

Old Mrs. Cen knew that Master Guan would definitely be partial to Clara.

So immediately he said, "So how do you explain this butterfly and the pushing of Ann into the water?"

Clara hesitated for a moment before whispering, "I admit, this butterfly, I did bring it here, ready to tease An An, but I swear, I have absolutely no malice!"

Someone said sarcastically, "Why is it so contradictory to say there's no malice when you've already admitted it?"

Xu Hui barely smiled and said helpfully beside her, "Maybe Clara really does have some compelling reason to bite the bullet, and I hope you all won't speculate until you've heard what she has to say."

The man saw that Xu Hui had opened her mouth, so it was hard to say anything else and could only shut up.

Only then did Clara continue: "At that time, I took the butterfly over there, originally wanted to tease her a bit, and then gave her the toy. I didn't think Ann would accidentally fall in after chasing her to the pool and I was so scared that I subconsciously tried to reach out and pull her in, but in the end it was too late and I couldn't hold her.

When I saw Ann fall into the water, I was shocked and scared, and I was going to go down and save her, but those people outside heard the noise and all of a sudden they came around.

I was afraid that you would say that I pushed her down on purpose and got carried away in a moment of confusion, but then I was afraid that you would misunderstand me and blame me, so I put the butterfly toy in Rainy's room.

I'm sorry, I was wrong, I know I shouldn't have done it, I really did it because I was scared and I didn't mean to hurt Ann."
