

Chapter 3550

“Phew.” When he opened his eyes, he spit out a mouthful of turbid air. After a night of practice, George Han’s mental state was very good, and his body was in good shape. The energy is also more calm and abundant.

Coming out of the cave, George Han looked around.

In the end, his eyes were fixed on a jungle not far ahead, and the corner of his mouth smiled slightly.

Obviously, George Han already knew that someone had been here last night.

“Very good, at least you let me know that you and I are thinking the same thing.”

“Evil gluttonous, since someone is taking care of you, you should rest well.” After the words were finished, George Han moved towards Suntan . Hurry up in the direction.

This jungle is huge. If everything goes well on the road, George Han initially estimates that it will take at least about the afternoon, and it will be close to dusk to arrive.

At this time, when the sun sets and the moon rises, it may be the best time for George Han.

After all, the moon rises and the yin is strong. This guy is also called the sun god. George Han must guard against his connection with the sun.

What’s more, there was no sudden accident in the morning, and the road in Suntan was far easier than that in Moon Lake. By noon, George Han was basically quite close to Suntan.

Seeing the person suffering from the hot sun above his head, George Han didn’t plan to continue on his way. He found a cool place, closed his eyes slightly, and rested a little.

When George Han rested for about ten minutes, there was suddenly a slight noise in the jungle.

“Is this kid weak, or did he suffer internal injuries when he fought us? Why can’t he go for a long time, this guy has to rest?” In the jungle-covered area, there seems to be a small piece of land in the area. The soil moved slightly, and the slightest sound followed.

Next to the soil, there is a low-lying depression, and there is a little muddy water in the depression.

At this moment, the ripples in the water swayed slightly, and then, a voice came out leisurely:

“Impossible.”

“Although I don’t know why this kid walks and rests for a while, he is definitely not what you said. So, have you looked carefully? He walks smoothly and vigorously, which shows that this guy is full of energy, how could he be weak and suffer internal injuries?”

“Then what is he doing?” Mud Block was puzzled. road.

Shuidou was silent for a moment: "There are two possibilities."

"Which two possibilities?"

"He has either been here before and knows some of the situation here, so he has already prepared in advance to avoid the most intensified enemy. Or..." Shuidou There was some silence here, and after a while, some disbelievers said: "Either this guy is extremely smart, extremely vigilant, and made a prediction in advance."

"You mean, this guy George Han often knows that Sheng Yuan can only Killing in the early morning and at dusk?"

Shuikeng thought for a while and nodded: "Although this is indeed a bit evil, but if you think about it, it is actually very possible. This guy, Shengyuan, gathers yin and yang, and yin at night. When qi is in full swing, yin qi is used for its own use, and it can destroy dry and rotten rot

. At dusk and morning alone, yin qi and yang qi go up and down with each other, and both qi are at their weakest, and it is also the time when Sheng Yuan's power is at its weakest."

"Grandma, why don't I believe it? Young man It's okay to think fast

Yes, but it seems unlikely to have such an old-fashioned vigilance. Mud still shook his head unacceptably.

"Oh, theoretically it is not possible, but some people always have some tempering that very people have. Naturally, their mood is far superior to others." Isn't there a saying that is particularly good. When the heavens give a general a great responsibility, they must first suffer their will, work their muscles and bones, and starve their body and skin. Just because they have endured what ordinary people can't bear, their preparation and growth are far stronger than what others have to come. "Shuokeng said indifferently.

With these words, Mud Block seems to understand a lot. Just as he was about to speak, a voice suddenly interrupted him.

"It's quite interesting, this Mud can talk to Shuideng ." God, I don't know if other people can chat? " When the words fell, a figure suddenly bent down beside the small quagmire...

Chapter 3551

sudden voice is scary enough, and suddenly there is a face that shrinks directly, which makes it even more terrifying.

I saw that the mud puddle trembled, and the water puddle trembled, as if the Buddha had encountered some small earthquake.

Immediately afterwards, the two quickly returned to normal, and there was no difference between the ordinary pit and the ordinary pit.

"Didn't you have a good time chatting just now? Why, you're acting stupid again?"

“Let’s chat, continue chatting.”

Obviously, the figure who crouched down was none other than George Han.

Looking at this small puddle, George Han smiled slightly.

The puddle and the ground next to it still didn’t move at all...

“Hehe, it’s quite similar, if I hadn’t heard your conversation just now, to be honest, I might have been deceived by your current appearance. “

Come out. Anyway, what you guys said are all my kind words, and I’m in a good mood, so I won’t do anything to you.” After that, George Han took another look at the puddle and the mud next to him.

“It seems that you are planning to let me use force to deal with it? This is not good? After all, you are all four famous heavenly kings. It would be too embarrassing to talk about it here. .” When the words fell, George Han still moved his hand, the jade energy condensed, and when the right hand burned and moved, the flames burst out instantly.

There is almost no doubt that if George Han punches directly, the land in front of him will be knocked out of the sky in an instant.

“Okay, okay, come out and come out, are you afraid that you won’t succeed?” As soon as the voice fell, the soil suddenly moved, and then a figure appeared.

It was the monster of the day.

Immediately afterwards, there was a movement in the puddle, and a water shadow came out immediately. Who else could it be besides the water monster.

Seeing George Han, the two monsters were very depressed. It was clear that George Han was far away from them, and they also confirmed that George Han had fallen asleep.

But...

but I don’t know what’s going on, this guy suddenly appeared in front of the two of them.

This is really unbelievable. After all, the voices of the two of them are very small, and even if George Han is accidentally woken up, when he comes over, they should be able to easily perceive and detect them with their abilities.

“Aren’t you already asleep? Why are you...” Looking at George Han, the water monster said a little puzzled.

“To judge whether a person is asleep only two points. Look at the appearance and listen to the breathing. So, this is very simple.” George Han smiled.

The water monster was speechless. He understood that George Han was just pretending to be asleep.

“You know we’re following you?” the water monster asked suspiciously.

George Han nodded: “I’m not sure, but if you think about it carefully, you should follow me.”

“Why?”

“You can’t beat me, so of course you can’t come out and take it with me, but this is your territory. And you are also considered the famous Four Heavenly Kings. You can’t just let me go, right? So, do you have more choices?”

“Secondly, if you don’t dare to kill my beast, then you must not follow me. Let’s see what happens next

What about the game? Hearing George Han ‘s words, the water monster kept silent, because George Han really said everything. The atmosphere was awkward for a while.

After asking for a long time, it was me who was embarrassed

. , the water monster is still doing the last struggle: “What bet, I don’t know what you are talking about.”

George Han smiled slightly: “Everyone was caught by me here, so what are you quibbling about?” If you didn’t bet, how could I have guessed all of them. ” Although the water monster didn’t say a word, its eyes clearly explained all the problems.

“Okay, what do you want?” Looking at George Han, the water monster asked a little uneasy.

George Han smiled evilly: “I don’t want to, I want to play with the two of you...”
