

Chapter 3570

“No...no...no.” A burst of echoes suddenly came from a distant place, but it seemed to have crossed over 3,000 Koreans. After this central point, it quickly spreads to farther places.

“Yes... yes... yes!”

George Han instilled almost all the real energy into his ears, and listened carefully to the spread of these echoes.

“How could this be?”

George Han raised his eyes sharply, his brows furrowed.

How strange.

There is an echo, which is enough to prove that the sound must be generated by touching something, so George Han listened quickly and carefully after hearing the echo for the first time, hoping to use the sound to determine where there is an obstacle and find a corresponding direction. .

But the paradox is that these echoes returned to their side and then released, but suddenly ... they were getting farther and farther...

they didn't hit any so-called obstacles at all. George Han's ears that can really irrigate can't hear.

What is the principle?

The first time I went out and hit the wall, the second time I went straight without any hindrance...

George Han didn't understand, and the whole person was completely stunned.

But right now, what annoys George Han even more is what to do!

Where should he go?

If you don't know how big this place is, you will only lead to more serious consequences.

At that time, I'm really afraid that I haven't seen the sun god, and I have completely lost my way in this dark world first, exhausting my physical strength.

“What about his grandma's?”

George Han frowned, his mind was already spinning rapidly, thinking about countermeasures.

In the middle of his thoughts, he suddenly remembered something, and when he moved his backhand, a burst of energy shot directly at the top of his head.

“Damn it!”

George Han couldn't help but scolded in a low voice, looking at the energy shot out.

He used a little force to push it out, but he could also swear, he just used a little force.

But the real result is that I seem to have used all the energy in my body, and that energy brush will fly far and far away in an instant...

Even, in the end, I just helplessly get farther and farther away from myself. .

"What the hell is this?"

With George Han's naked eye distance, the energy brightness in this darkest place is actually no different from looking at stars.

But everyone knows how far apart the stars are.

However, at such a terrifying distance, the energy of my own energy is still going further and further away, until I can't see it at all...

"Is this Nima really a universe?" Although the brightness should be considered in the middle .

And the size of the volume, so although it is not as far away as the stars, this distance is definitely not short.

Moreover, the most important thing is that the current situation is in line with George Han's conjecture, and it is almost as he thought – although he just fell from above, there is nothing above his head.

This means that George Han should have completely entered an extremely strange space the moment he fell.

Moreover, his position should be at the very center.

"It seems that it is as expected. If you rashly walk around, you will only completely lose yourself in this endless darkness, and then you will be exhausted."

Thinking of this, George Han thought for a while, and his hands burned silently. With the power, eight huge fireballs were directly raised, and after each fireball was at least five meters in diameter, they were shot in eight directions one by one.

In order to see the operation of each fireball clearly, George Han directly pulled out eight golden bodies, each fireball corresponds to a clone, and he never wanted to let go of any details.

As long as any fireball is slightly different from the others, then there must be an important opening that he should break through.

At this time, the eight fireballs quickly passed through the darkness and went all the way into the distance.

However, something unexpected and unexpected happened to George Han...

Almost the same energy as the previous one, but it stayed longer because of the larger fireball, and the eight fireballs disappeared. any other difference.

“This...”

George Han frowned!

Shit, how is this going to work?

Just when George Han was extremely depressed, suddenly, he seemed to think of something...

Chapter 3571

“No way?”

Although George Han said so, but his body was very honest and sat in place.

Immediately afterwards, he quickly cleared up his doubts, put his hands in front of his knees, pinched his finger, and the jade light all over his body began to appear around him with multicolored light.

Just half an hour passed in a blink of an eye, and George Han was still sitting there, motionless.

However, at this time, the light on his body has become extremely strong under his meditation.

Under the bright light, it almost illuminated the tens of meters within and outside of his body. Although the light was still dark and endless, at least the light of George Han had its place at this moment.

George Han still closed his eyes, his expression was indifferent, and he devoted himself to his meditation practice.

Another half an hour has passed...

George Han is still sitting there, and the light on his body is still prosperous, but compared with the skyrocketing trend just now, it tends to be more peaceful and stable.

“Huh!”

George Han suddenly opened his eyes, and then he let out a long sigh of relief.

“Do you think you won’t sell meat without Zhang Fei? Without you, the world won’t turn around? You’re overestimating yourself too.”

After George Han laughed coldly, he suddenly raised his eyes. He said disdainfully: “Living in your own world, you hypocritically compare yourself to a god and think that you are really a god?”

“In the eyes of others, your behavior is just like an idiot, disgusting and perverted.”

When the words fell, George Han suddenly gritted his teeth and his face became condensed: “Break it for me!”

With a loud shout, George Han’s body suddenly exploded with a strange light!

boom!

The strange light exploded, and all kinds of strange light of different colors suddenly flashed towards the surroundings.

At this time, George Han was like the sun, his body exploded and burned with infinite light.

Whoa whoa whoa!

At almost the same time, George Han's body moved frantically and quickly in the darkness.

Its speed is almost jaw-dropping.

However, George Han still just kept his eyes open, watching quietly, supporting the light of his own explosion.

"Huh!"

George Han's body suddenly stopped after moving frantically with all kinds of weird lines in the huge darkness.

Almost at the same time, a faint smile appeared on George Han's mouth.

That's right, George Han didn't move his body from beginning to end. The only thing he did was to use himself for a whole hour to really explode his own light

Something, a force, was moving him.

Moreover, if George Han guessed correctly, the place that this mysterious force brought him to was the place where the formation was broken, that is, the place where the eye of the sun was.

In the realm of darkness, George Han has always been very confused about what kind of space this is.

Even thought of whether it is the underground world.

But even the underground world is definitely not so big.

Therefore, this result can only be ruled out, and there are not many options left, and thinking about it can only be an illusion.

Taking advantage of this, George Han began to wonder what kind of fantasy this was.

Soon, the various energies linked to him disappeared, plus he had previously opened the golden gossip into it, George Han had a very bold guess.

Here, at least it should be an environment similar to gossip, or in other words, jumping into the world of gossip.

If that's the case, then obviously he's on the dark side at this time.

Overcast to black, to dark.

If you want to break the game, what you need to do is to find the yang side of the yin side in the gossip.

Therefore, George Han deliberately released a huge ray of light to form a yang eye.

Once the yang eye is completed, with the trend of gossip, it will inevitably push the balance between yin and yang, and push oneself to the only position that has yang in the yin side.

The so-called yang eye.

Sure enough, as George Han stopped at this place, the light on George Han suddenly became more dazzling, until for a moment, the light spread all over the world, stabbing George Han completely unable to open his eyes. .

Then, Bai Mang dissipated, and George Han slowly reopened his eyes...
