

Chapter 3656

“Wow!

” “Woo!” At the same time, the horn sounded, and at the very center of the city, the stunning beauty and the others had already set up a net like George Han had expected. Just waiting for George Han to come out.

The entire Heavenly Book was suspended by a mahogany tower at a distance of about two meters, and there were countless weapons waiting high all around. Obviously, if anything came out from here, it would definitely be attacked by random knives and spears. They also know that George Han is very capable, and ordinary weapons can't help him at all, so all the weapons around this day book are high-quality goods, and there is no need to say more about Lidu and Jiandu.

Afterwards, above the outer perimeter, there are still a group of masters leading nearly ten thousand elite soldiers on standby at any time. If there is any trouble, they will be directly besieged in an instant.

This is obviously a net and earth, and it has been waiting here for its prey. However, these are not the end of it.

For a group of people such as the special envoy of Shenlong, these things may be more than enough to deal with anyone. But among these people, only George Han was not included.

He is a pervert, and naturally, he must be dealt with in a perverted way. Under the double-layer siege, there are nearly 20,000 elite soldiers hiding around at any time at the outer periphery.

Once they hear the movement, they will form an extremely strong outer defense and a flexible mobile force, which can be used to replenish at any time. gaps and needs anywhere. Of course, that's not all.

Around the periphery, there are also eight towers nearly ten meters high.

The area of the tower is not large, about one square meter. It rushes straight up from the ground. There is a tower room on the top. The roof is in the shape of a cone, and at the top
, a flag is hung.

There are eight flags in each of the eight directions, and each flag is a different color.

There is only one exit right in front of the tower room. It looks like a window but not a window, like a door but not a door. There is a curtain hanging on it, hanging from top to bottom.

From the outside, it seemed impossible to see what was going on inside.

And with the sound of the horn just now, at this time, the most inner layer of chaotic knives and guns has already been thrown.

Accompanied by the sound of the knife entering the flesh, the two figures also came out one after the other from the book of heaven.

The other party seems to have already expected, the first black shadow that rushed out, the sword and gun actually slashed not fiercely but aimed at the second figure and it was a mess.

I don't know if this group of people had been deployed long ago, or if they faced something that suddenly appeared for a while until it was reflected at this moment.

Although there are two possibilities, it is obviously more likely to be the former, because the other party is clearly prepared and has a posture, and it is absolutely impossible to stay alone for a long time, but at a critical moment, the chain is lost.

Coincidentally, Linlong was the one who walked at the forefront.

Therefore, the people who have been hit with the most knives and guns can only be the gluttons of evil. Linlong is agile, and as soon as it rushes out, it immediately hovers and flies.

The second layer of encirclement was also made up in time, and thousands of magic energy were immediately bombarded directly.

Fortunately, Linlong had no plans to break out of the encirclement, so he escaped this usual attack by accident.

Instead, it pounced on the swordsman and axemen around Tianshu, not only to help the glutton of evil to clear the siege, but also to help George Han clear some unnecessary obstacles as planned. Although Evil Taotie was wounded, these sword and spear wounds were not even farts for a thick-skinned and tough-skinned person like him . If it weren't for its weak state now, I'm afraid these knives and spears would not even be able to cut his skin, let alone other things.

The thin and dead camel is bigger than the horse.

With the gluttonous gluttony in it, the elite knives and pistols were a bit unstoppable. Now facing Linlong's attack from the back, they were in a hurry for a while, and the one who was killed was Ooh barking.

"Stabilize the formation." Among the team in the second row, a commander did not find George Han at this time, and shouted anxiously at this time, trying to make the team not panic.

"All on alert, the enemy is just..." Bang! There was a muffled sound, and the guy was only halfway out of his words. With a muffled sound, there was a red dot the size of a pinhole between his eyebrows.

In the next second, his head shattered like a watermelon. And a black shadow rushed out of the book at this time. "Han...George Han!"

Chapter 3657

Yes, it is George Han here.

As the last attack, George Han was late, but he arrived.

"Kill him, kill him!" In the crowd, the captains of each detachment in the elite team pointed at George Han and shouted excitedly and nervously.

But these guys were only excited for less than a second, and in the next second, several explosions sounded directly around them.

For a while, there were repeated explosions, and they didn't even know what was going on, and they were completely wiped out.

"Earth Fire!"

"Thunder Dragon!"

"Sky Fire!"

"Moon Wheel!"

Boom!

The fire broke out, and the Thunder Dragon roared wildly!

The Skyfire Moon Wheel even turned into an electric phoenix, swept away frantically. Wherever it went, it was nothing but wailing and screaming.

On the other side of George Han's body, it was even more terrifying at this time.

George Han had already tried the bull's knife for the first time when the ten gods taught him. He didn't choose to use it against the god of the sun and the moon, because these methods did not have an advantage against them.

After all, if they were truly transcendent beings, it would be impossible for the ten gods to have a lower status than the sun gods and moon gods.

But that is against them, if it is used to deal with the group of people in front of him, it is another matter.

No matter what effect, no matter what kind of attack, George Han smashed towards the ground frantically as if he didn't want money.

Didn't you set a net of heaven and earth? Don't you want to be surrounded by a sea of tactics?

That's fine, at least, I, George Han, don't need to find the target, just come to the sky full of scattered stars.

Anyway, the ones who smashed to death are the opposite.

While the field was so chaotic, there was no idle time outside the field.

The peripheral mobile troops frantically began to reinforce towards the center, and a small group of soldiers quickly shuttled and killed towards the city lord's mansion.

"Report!"

Inside the city lord's mansion, above the hall, all the senior executives who should fall into the city, as well as the Shenlong special envoy and the senior executives of the Fuye family, all gathered here. Zhu Yanshuo was also present in person. Outside the hall, there were several commanders waiting for dispatch at any time.

They were not idle, and a group of people have been waiting here since they came back.

Because they knew that George Han might come at any time.

As soon as they heard the screeching "report", a group of people immediately stood up in a hurry, and almost at the same time, the servant who reported the message rushed in all the way.

The man wanted to speak, but with his mouth open for a long time, he could only pant and couldn't say a word at all.

Zhu Yanshuo frowned and said in a hurry: "But that George Han is here?" The servant nodded desperately, and at this time he recovered a little: "Yes...Yes, Han...George Han is here."

Hearing this, a group of people were suddenly shocked. After looking at each other, they collectively looked at the stunning beauty.

The stunning beauty's face was frosty, and her eyes were filled with cold viciousness, but only she herself knew that her heart was more troubled than anyone else's.

Weird and complicated.

Of course, she expected that George Han would definitely appear, otherwise he wouldn't be so defensive in the city, leaving a net.

But she was also afraid of seeing George Han, and she believed it was not because of cowardice, but more of a reason she couldn't tell.

Perhaps there is guilt.

However, this emotion only lasted for a moment. Under the eyes of everyone, she quickly adjusted and smiled coldly: "It seems that the real big fish is here."

Zhu Yanshuo hurriedly turned around, looked at the servant, and said: "How is the situation outside?"

"George Han's offensive is fierce, like the death of the god of death, and many elites are killed in the shot. To be honest, although there are not many of them, our morale is still greatly reduced. However, , after all, our deployment is strict, and George Han is still trapped by the second layer, and the reserve team on the third floor is constantly being reinforced."

"Okay, good, good!" Zhu Yanshuo said three good words in a row , I don't need to say much about the speed in my heart.

"The special envoy of Shenlong is indeed the special envoy of Shenlong, and the situation is as stable as a rock." Ye Shijun also smiled proudly.

"George Han is known as Xiaoqiang who can't be beaten to death. This time it falls into our hands. I see how he can't die." Futian also smiled coldly.

Obviously, they are quite satisfied with the current war situation.

The stunning beauty smiled slightly, glanced at the people present, and walked out first.

“Let’s go, let’s also go and see how George Han is struggling so hard.” Ye Shijun laughed.

After the words fell, a group of people laughed leisurely, followed the stunning beauty, and walked outside the mansion...
