

Chapter 366

"Didn't you hear the doctor say you couldn't move? You won't call Mo Nan in if you need anything?"

Mo Nan kept watch outside the door, in case someone was around and Jenny was uncomfortable sleeping or woke up needing care.

Jenny was slightly embarrassed, "I just hurt my hand, and my feet aren't hurt, so I don't need help with a drink of water."

Biden Lu sneered.

"So you're going to take those invalid palms of yours and serve glasses, huh?"

Jenny looked embarrassed.

There was a pause of several seconds before he said, "Sorry well, I forgot all of a sudden."

The man grunted and placed her on the bed, then turned to pour a glass of warm water and handed it to her.

Jenny took the cup and held it in his hand, taking a small sip, scanning his appearance and asking, "You still haven't answered my question, did you just come back from outside?"

"Well."

The man replied as he caught her hand and ran it up the sleeve of her long nightgown.

Only a thick bandage was wrapped around each of the tender palms, looking particularly harsh.

He frowned slightly and was about to reach out to undo it.

Jenny even stopped him, "Hey, don't relieve it, it's only medicated at night before bedtime."

The man then stopped moving, stroked the wound there, and said in a quiet voice, "Does it still hurt?"

"It's okay, the medication Dr. Amy gave me is pretty good, except for a little pain when I changed it, but I don't feel it anymore."

And two wounds to get her life back, she thought it was worth it.

Biden Lu then stopped talking, only looking at the wounds with heartache in his eyes.

Jenny didn't want him to look any further, pulled his hand back and asked, "Who is the mastermind behind this? Did you find out?"

Lu Jing looked at her deeply, "I thought you could guess."

Wen Miaomiao snorted, "Clara?"

Thin Night Engine nodded.

Wen Miaomiao's mind was probably clear.

There were only a few people who had a grudge against her, but she just couldn't figure out why Clara was still having trouble with her when she was already the second miss of the Guan family.

Couldn't she just get on with her life and not make it unpleasant for herself?

Nothing to look for, and where does it end up?

As if Biden Lu saw the question in her heart, he said in a deep voice, "It's not just Clara, it's also about Ji Li."

Jenny was stunned, a little incredulous, "Uncle Guan?"

"Well."

Biden Lu didn't hide it from her and took out his phone to play out the recording that he had copied from Clara's phone for her to hear.

Jenny was very shocked after hearing that.

Because the recording not only shows that the incident was planned by Guan Ji Li and Clara together, but most importantly, that Clara and Guan Ji Li, are actually father and daughter?

That's...unbelievable too!

She swallowed and took two more sips of water from her glass before eating this melon squarely.

Looking up, he asked with a puzzled face, "Since she's Guan Ji Li's illegitimate daughter, why would she pretend to be Guan Ji Wan's daughter? One is your own granddaughter and the other is your granddaughter, and granddaughters are always closer than granddaughters, right?"

Biden Lu sneered.

"Because before Guan Jiwan died, she left behind 15 percent of Guan's shares, which only her daughter could inherit, and if she were merely Guan Ji Li's daughter, she would get nothing else but a generous dowry and the fictitious name of a great lady when she married."

Jenny: "....."

It really is true that people die for money.

She thought about it, still confused.

"If that's the case, then shouldn't she take advantage of the opportunity she has now, only to inherit billions once Master Guan dies, so why is she still thinking of targeting me?"

Biden Lu's gaze at her was even deeper.

Jenny was numbed by his gaze, always feeling that there were many unexplained complexities in that gaze.

She shrank back and muttered, "Why are you staring at me like that?"

Lu Jing sighed deeply, "Nothing."

In fact, he didn't understand it before.

But just this afternoon, when Master Guan came over in a feverish rush to care for her injuries, he had been vaguely aware of something.

Later, getting this recording again, confirming that Clara was indeed not Guan Jiwan's biological daughter, plus the relationship between Jenny Jing and Clara, it's not hard to deduce that Guan Jiming had already found out about the Jing family in the first place, only to have Kelly Wang and the others make a mess of it and destroy the evidence that could prove Jenny Jing's identity.

Therefore, it was highly likely that that real child was Jenny.

But this was something he decided not to tell Jenny until he was sure.

After all, if his suspicions turned out to be true, then all of her origins would have to be reexamined, and to avoid her imagination, it was better not to say anything yet.

Whoever she was, she was his wife anyway, and that was all that mattered.

He ruffled her hair and said softly, "Don't think about it, just leave it to me and I'll take care of it, eh?"

Jenny nodded.

Since the matter involved Guan Jili, it would certainly involve the Guan family as well, so leaving the matter to Biden Lu was the most appropriate way.

She understood what he was doing anyway, no matter what the outcome was.

And on the other side, the shutters.

Kwan also received that recording.

The recording was exactly what Biden Lu had passed on to him.

After all, since Clara was really the bloodline of the Guan family, in order to dispose of Clara, one must first say hello to Master Guan.

The same or different people have to deal with it, but notice sometimes represents an attitude.

It's only about the attitude of Maya Jing, not the Kwan family.

Kwan received the recording, listened to it, and became furious.

He didn't think that his own son would do such a stupid thing behind his back!

Even if you let your own illegitimate daughter run off to play the role of your own sister's daughter, you still help her persecute your own niece with her!

What a beast!

However, Kwan didn't strike right away.

After all, Guan Ji Li was his own son, and over the years, he had an extremely large number of henchmen and eyes, both in the company and at home.

He is old enough to have let go of many things over the years to let his two sons do.

Because the second one is too smart and excellent, sometimes he feels that the eldest one is a bit weak, so in order to avoid the eldest one having an imbalance in his heart, so sometimes he even favors him more or less.

And because of that, he didn't dare to do anything rash now.

However, just because you don't do anything lightly doesn't mean you don't move.

Master Guan soon gave secret orders to gradually withdraw those rights in Guan Ji Li's hands, including all privileges related to the company and outside the family, which he was no longer allowed to use.

After doing all this, he was trembling and took out a photo from under his pillow, and by the moonlight he could see that it was a young woman, his third daughter, Guan Jiwan.

He smiled sadly, sighed, and eventually, put the picture back.

Chapter 367

How nice it would be if you were here, Wanda?

You've been the sweetest one since you were little, always letting your two older brothers do everything, and more filial to your parents, but unfortunately...

It's a pity that you met him.

But don't worry, even if you're gone, I'll protect that child, and from now on, as long as he's alive, no one will be allowed to touch her again!

It was a bit of a hassle for Guan Ji Li to deal with, but Guan Ji Ming's help wasn't too slow.

The old man didn't hide this matter from Guan Ji Ming.

Including Jenny Jing and Clara's backgrounds, they told him everything.

Guan Ji Ming was also shocked after hearing that.

But when he thought about the familiarity he had vaguely sensed from her brows when he first saw Jenny, he was relieved.

Guan Jili was exiled abroad.

In the end, it was his own son, and although he was ruthless and made a big mistake, but blood was thicker than water, the old man still couldn't bear to deal with it too harshly.

Therefore, after taking all rights back, he was transferred to an overseas branch.

To say that you are the general manager of a branch, in reality, means exile.

Everyone knew that the Guan family's home base was in China, in Kyoto, and the seaside branch office a palm-sized small temple, sending a first-born eldest son to sit in on it was unlikely by any stretch of the imagination.

There was a lot of speculation out there, but none of it got to the truth.

Neither Biden Lu nor Master Guan wanted to make too much noise about this matter.

Biden Lu was considering that Jenny Jing might not be too willing to accept his true origins, and if he made it known, the secret would inevitably be hidden.

Master Kwan, on the other hand, was thinking of the family.

After all, a family wanted to save face, and Guan Jili's behavior like this was so bad that it would affect the family's reputation if word got out.

However, although the people outside didn't guess the truth, there was a voice that said the old man had decided to put his second son in charge of the family, so this was why the oldest son was deliberately transferred away to avoid a fight between the two brothers.

It's already the equivalent of giving up one and keeping the other.

Who let these two brothers fight too much to live in peace.

But whether this speculation was true or not, a month later, Master Guan did formally announce his retirement at the board meeting, leaving the entire company in the hands of Guan Ji Ming.

Over the years, Guan Ji Ming had long since become the heart and soul of the company through his own efforts.

So it's not much of a surprise that this decision was made.

After all, to have a straw man like the boss managing Guan, that future prospect could literally be imagined with your nose.

Except for Guan Jili, who is far away from home, everyone is happy about this.

On the other hand, Master Guan was in deep sorrow.

The reason was that he was torn as to whether or not to recognize Jenny.

He knew that he didn't have much time left.

The doctor told him that his body, at best, would only last another two months.

In his private heart, he certainly wanted to acknowledge Jenny back.

But she also knew that since the last incident with An An, and then this time when Guan Jili had assassinated her, Jenny Jing's impression of the Guan family had deteriorated to the extreme.

And if she knew the truth, she was bound to ask about her mother, and then how was he going to tell her about her true origins?

Kwan has been struggling with a bad mood as a result.

The company has been in the process of developing the new product for the past few years, and the company is now in the process of developing the new product.

The old man knew her filial piety, and did not force her to marry the youngest child, as for the future of the Guan family, children and grandchildren will have their own children and grandchildren, he shrewdly calculated a lifetime, but only to the Guan family to this position, the future of the road is still so long and far, he is tired, can not care and do not want to care.

Time drifted by in such a quiet way.

It took another month before Jenny's injuries were completely healed and he officially returned to work.

The two old men of the Lu family naturally didn't hide it in the end, after all, the injury was too serious, and in an obvious place, Biden Lu usually doesn't even let her serve a cup of water, the two old men naturally didn't find it difficult to find out.

The good news was that the wound was gradually healing, and although the two old men were distressed, they couldn't say much more.

The crew side has been shut down waiting for her because of her injury.

Anyway, it's the investment of Serenity International, and with Big Boss there, no amount of funding is out of the question.

On the day Jenny returned to work, the crew held a special reception for her.

She's afraid to drink alcohol now for fear of inflammation in her wounds, so she only drinks juice the entire time.

Instead, it was Zhou Article, who drank quite a bit and drunkenly put his hand on Jenny's shoulder and drunkenly said, "Jenny, I really have to thank you this time, if you hadn't spoken for us, with you being so badly injured, General Manager Lu would have had to slaughter me!"

Jenny couldn't help but laugh.

"How is it as serious as you say?"

"Yes there is." The colleague from the props team said evenly, "You don't know, at that time, I was so scared looking at that look in his eyes that I was about to pee my trousers, fortunately, it really wasn't my doing, and then I even recalled carefully and provided clues to Suthesuke, which is how I caught that do-it-yourselfer, otherwise the two lives of Tooth and I would really be lost."

Jenny smiled at their post-fear expressions, but her heart was slightly hot.

Oh that man....

How could it be so good!

She suddenly and incomparably trusts Biden Lu, obviously only in the morning, or he personally sent her to the crew, this is only a few hours apart, how come she misses it so much?

Jenny had never been a particularly reserved nature, and since she had thought about it, it was natural to send a message to tell him.

Across the street, Biden Lu looked at her message, his face dark for two months, and finally put his eyes on it.

Only on the phone screen, Jenny sent the message, "Honey, do you know what I want to be the most?"

Biden Lu thought about it and replied, "Queen of Shadows?"

"No, most of your people."

Biden Lu: "....."

After a few seconds, Jenny sent another one over.

"Darling, you know what I'm missing most right now?"

"What is it?"

"You, by my side."

"....."

"Hahahahahahaha..."

Jenny played a series of hahaha, and Biden Lu looked at that passage and carefully recalled it without losing a smile.

Just then, Jenny sent another message.

"Do you know what the difference is between you and the stars, my dear?"

"I shine like a star, no difference."

Jenny: "....."

This time it was her turn to be tongue-tied.

Why didn't I expect this man to be so narcissistic.

But with the principle of respecting earthy sentiments, she or Ling didn't see his words and continued to send out the results.

"The truth is, the heart is in heaven, and you are in my heart."

Biden Lu: "....."

Jenny could feel through the phone screen that a certain man was probably in a dark and somewhat helpless state at this time.

Enough teasing, she put her phone away contentedly, then went back to eating.

Just then, the phone suddenly rang.

She picked it up and saw that it was a message from Biden Lu.

"What do you belong to?"

Jenny was stunned and subconsciously replied, "Genus Exempt ah."

"No, you belong to me."

Chapter 368

Jenny looked at the simple words on the screen, but in the end, she couldn't hold back and puffed out a laugh.

Everyone in the gallery sniffed and looked at her, a little stunned.

She even waved her hand, "Sorry, you guys keep eating, I'll call back."

I said, and took the phone and walked out into the hallway.

I was about to call Biden Lu, when suddenly, the phone rang and a call came in.

She froze slightly, frowning at the strange caller ID.

Then, press on.

"Hello?Which one?"

"Seven, long time no see, I'm back."

.....

The people in the crew were keenly aware that Jenny hadn't been in a good mood ever since that night's dinner.

Always distracted when filming, I don't talk about it, and I don't always get together with everyone to talk and play when I'm closing up in private like I used to.

At the end of each day, she always took Mo Nan with her and went back to the hotel early.

Even though there are occasional little breaks to take during filming, she doesn't really like to get together with people to tell jokes anymore, but sits alone and does her own thing.

At first, people thought she was still mindful of the injury.

Yet she was seen to be very friendly and polite to her two prop crew colleagues, and usually didn't mention that incident anymore.

Everyone was momentarily confused.

This change was noticed not only by the crew, but also by the always thick-skinned Mo Nan.

Mo Nan was naturally worried about her, so, finding an opportunity, she asked her.

"Jenny, what's going on with you these days? Why are you always distracted?"

Jenny was stunned, coming back to his senses, and shook his head incessantly.

"I'm fine."

Mo Nan frowned, clearly disbelieving.

Jenny Jing pursed her lips and said softly, "It's really fine, just a little uncomfortable for the past two days, I'll be fine after a while."

Mo Nan subconsciously thought that the old wound on her hand was hurting again, and although the wound was now completely healed, it still ached faintly whenever it rained or was wet and cold.

"I'll call the doctor for you."

Jenny was busy stopping her.

"No." She laughed cryptically, "I don't mean that my hand isn't feeling well, er... just assume I'm in a bad mood, it's fine, really, don't worry."

When Mo Nan saw her say that, she had no choice but to listen.

On this day, the crew finally finished filming the exterior scenes, and then it was all filler scenes for the interior scenes.

Since it's an inside job, naturally, you won't be roaming all over the place, and the entire crew has moved back to Kyoto Film and Television City.

The first day of filming went well, and early the next morning, a flower delivery crew member suddenly stepped onto the set with a bouquet of flowers in his hand, indicating that he wanted Jenny to sign for it.

Everyone thought that it was from Biden Lu, after all, ever since the relationship between these two had been completely public, Biden Lu had always sent people over every now and then.

We've all seen enough of this kind of dog food.

Jenny didn't notice at first that there was no card on the flowers, so after she received them, she put them aside.

When I spoke to the man on the phone at noon, I talked about it, but unexpectedly, Biden Lu did not acknowledge it.

Jenny was stunned.

It's not from him?

Lu Jing-Shen is interested in someone giving Jenny

Things like sending flowers were rather open-ended, after all, she was an actress now and it was normal for her to have fans or suitors.

No matter what they gave him, the woman was his anyway, and no one was going to take it away from him.

As for the rest, Biden Lu wasn't worried at all.

He was occasionally jealous, but Jenny had a good way of calming him down and would basically report anything to him, lest he get upset or misunderstood.

This, Biden Lu was simply extremely satisfied, so that the more people pursuing Jenny Jing, the more it appeared that Jenny Jing cared about him.

Some man felt the satisfaction of the little woman's care.

On the other hand, Jenny was in a state of wonder.

Honestly though, she's got a certain amount of fame now, and her looks and body are often taken to the internet to talk about her, calling her the most standard beauty in the entertainment industry today.

But because she herself is too Buddhist, except for acting, basically will rarely take part in other programs, the exposure rate is not high, coupled with her own low-key life, so the presence is not very high.

And she was married, to the same man who was so remarkable that he dared not provoke, and everyone knew it.

So, in fact, although there are many men who greatly appreciate her, not many actually send flowers and things to court her.

At least, she was significantly quieter here than the other actresses in her group, surrounded by warblers.

But Jenny didn't think much of it.

Less doesn't mean none, and since it wasn't from Biden Lu, then maybe it was some other fan!

She thought this and didn't go any further into the matter.

Unsurprisingly, the next day, an even bigger bouquet of roses was sent to the set.

After yesterday, everyone also knew that the bouquet of flowers wasn't from Biden Lu anymore.

When I saw that there were flowers again today, I couldn't help but ridicule Jenny, "Jenny, can ah, this flower collection is not afraid of Mr. Lu know ah? Don't let Lu go home jealous and make you kneel on a scrub board."

Jenny was embarrassed by the other party's poking fun at her and spitefully said, "Go! Don't be ridiculous, it's just normal interaction between fans and idols, where were you thinking?"

"Geez, normal interactions should send flowers like tulips, look, it's a red rose, it symbolizes fiery love, Jenny, I have a feeling that people are chasing you!"

Jenny was also not amused by her.

"Oh, according to you, a few bouquets of roses caught up with me? That's bullshit! I'm warning you, I'm a married man, so don't go out and talk nonsense, and if I hear anything, I'll be back to take care of you."

She feigned anger to scare the others, and everyone laughed at that and wasn't afraid of her, still poking fun.

"Tsk ts, people are all wives and husbands, you are husband and wife, afraid that our Lu knows, Jenny, although we are not as good as others in our family, our waist can be upright, never to submit to others' suits and trousers ah."

Jenny was laughing and crying at her words and was a little embarrassed, so she pushed her a little.

The group burst into laughter.

Actually, the other party was right, for these things, Jenny had always been very careful.

For one thing, because of her status as a married woman, whether things are true or not, if word gets out that she has an ambiguous relationship with another man, it will have an impact on her image.

Public opinion is always scary, today the whole internet is praising you, maybe tomorrow the whole internet will black you spray you.

Having been in PR for so many years, Jenny knows how to care for his feathers, so he's always been careful in this regard.

And the second one was that she really didn't want to let this kind of nonsense affect her land-viewing feelings.