

Chapter 3674

soldier came in, then knelt down proficiently, and said: "According to the leadership's instructions, the entire elite force has already implemented a containment of George Han. The tactics of guerrilla, guerrilla, and procrastination are well executed, and George Han has been trapped in place for two hours." After hearing the first half, the group of people were still quite satisfied, even exceeding their psychological expectations. of.

The establishment of the second battlefield takes about an hour, and as long as it can be dragged on, it will be an acceptable ideal result for them.

Because of this, this group of people will have enough time and mood to come here to drink tea and wait at this moment.

"Hehe, George Han is just like that. To be honest, I thought that based on the current situation, it might be somewhat difficult for us to delay him for an hour.

" That's it."

An executive laughed softly, with disdain in his words.

Another executive also echoed: "He is 3,000 mighty, but our soldiers are by no means cowards, so the situation is actually reasonable."

"Yes, especially now that we have prepared the second On the battlefield, I think that George Han can grow wings and fly this time. This should be the place where George Han lost his life." After speaking, all the people in the hall were in high spirits and beamed with joy.

Yes, judging from the current situation, everything was within their expectations, and it was even much better than they imagined.

So naturally, everything is within their control, and it is naturally worth their laughter at this time.

"Elder Shenlong, since the situation has been set, the situation is even better. Why don't we ask the front line to open the gate and let George Han, the dog thief, come and die quickly." Someone suggested.

"I agree. That kid is so arrogant, it's time to let him know what humility is."

"That's right, Elder Shenlong, you can give an order. As long as you speak, I will take George Han's dog head back."

A group of people are invincible, and the anti-Buddha will completely smash George Han in an instant.

According to the general situation, the battle situation outside is so good, and the generals under him are so full of blood, as their leader, he naturally trusts them, and he is very active at this time.

However, Mingyu is different from ordinary people, and she also understands that the opponents they face are completely different. At this time, she is not affected by the passion of any court, but instead looks at Xiaobing: "How is George Han being consumed now?"

For two hours, even a normal person, at this time, is afraid of being a strong arrow, but as I said before, George Han is not a normal person, so Ming Yu naturally asked more.

"Come on, this George Han is like a lost dog. Yes, this kid is really difficult to deal with, and a large number of soldiers are blocked in waving his hands, killing people like playing. But he ignored one point, such a large-scale killing, consumption His true energy is also huge."

"After two full hours of delay, this kid probably has already emptied his dantian."

"Yes, this is the so-called pros and cons, such as George Han. How can the kid understand this?"

Hearing the chatter around, Ming Yu glanced at the group of guys with a bit of annoyance. When there is a conflict, this group of people runs the fastest, but when the situation is favorable, and each one is like a fierce man.

In front of the masters, they will do their best, and in the face of the weak, they will strike hard.

"Am I asking you?" Ming Yu was dissatisfied and said coldly.

With such a remark, a group of executives suddenly asked themselves for no fun.

, Zhu Yanshuo quickly got up, played a rounder, looked at the soldier kneeling on the ground, and said, "Report the truth."

"Yes." The soldier nodded, but after hesitating for a moment, he looked at Ming Yu with some fear: "This point, actually... we don't know."

Hearing this, Ming Yu couldn't help frowning.

A bunch of executives were also completely shocked.

What kind of bullshit is this?

Not sure?

The soldiers on the front line and George Han were directly consumed by sawing. What is the situation of George Han, they don't know?

Seeing that everyone became angry after being surprised, the soldier simply kowtowed: "Everything my subordinate said is true, this George Han he..."

"He didn't conflict with us, but... but always... Lying on the ground to sleep...sleeping, so..."

"So the subordinates really don't know what his specific situation is..."

What! ?

Chapter 3675

He... he is wrong, right? !

“He’s sleeping?”

Zhu Yanshuo stood up immediately, his face full of disbelief.

A group of executives were still chatting and laughing while still being domineering, but now they are collectively stunned after hearing this answer.

“What is he, George Han, doing? In front of the enemy, it’s okay for him to not defend himself. He actually fell asleep?”

“He George Han has some kind of brain disease? He has Are you sick? Go and treat it if you are sick.” A bunch of people don’t understand what this guy is doing at all.

This is just too much bullshit, too playful.

Suddenly, someone turned his head and said, “Maybe, it’s not that he is sick at all, but that he may have given up his resistance.” “ Oh ?

He can still be powerful in a group, but once we have a long tug-of-war with him, he is completely over. So, obviously, this kid gave up early.”

Some people nodded again and again, this possibility is true great.

“It’s also possible that he is recharging his energy, but it’s just a fight between beasts.” A group of people expressed their opinions and chatted happily.

What they said was indeed reasonable, but Zhu Yanshuo always felt that this matter was not so simple, so he did not draw a conclusion, but instead looked at Ming Yu, hoping to get some real answers from the special envoy of the Shenlong.

But not only was he suspicious of what Han

George Han was doing at this time, but Ming Yu himself was also very confused.

In general, a smart person like George Han should know better than anyone else that the longer he stays in this kind of place, the more unfavorable the situation will be for him.

What he should think about is to quickly break through to achieve his goal.

What’s more, he was still trapped in the tug-of-war and the war of attrition at this time, so naturally, he should escape there quickly.

However, George Han is completely the opposite!

This is simply amazing.

She set her eyes on Zhu Yanshuo, obviously, she wanted to hear Zhu Yanshuo’s opinion on the matter.

Zhu Yanshuo lowered his head: “Elder Shenlong, is there a fraud in this matter?”

Right now, this possibility is indeed the highest.

“George Han deliberately uses

this situation to paralyze our side, so that we can attack or slaughter him carelessly. When our crowd gathers, he will resume the large-scale slaughter before?”

Nodding heavily, I have to say that this possibility may be the real intention of George Han.

“What about your opinion?” Ming Yu said softly.

“According to my subordinate’s humble opinion, my subordinate thinks that George Han’s behavior is weird. Although we may not be able to determine his true intentions, one thing is certain.”

“Oh?”

“George Han should be afraid or say Resisting our current tactics against him also shows that our tactical effect has been achieved. Therefore, my subordinates believe that we should continue the tactics and consume them.”

“This city is our territory. Playing consumption at our doorstep will not cost him 3,000. At the same time, we can also use this opportunity to develop the second battlefield stronger. The situation is up to us. Saying it, there is no harm to all.” When the words fell, Zhu Yanshuo bowed his head slightly, with a smile on the corner of his mouth.

Ming Yu nodded, looked at Ye Shijun who was on the side, and said, “Young Master Ye, what do you think?”

Ye Shijun doesn’t know as much about tactics as Zhu Yanshuo. Seriously injured in bed, he could only nod his head: “It’s possible, but the harassment and harassment can’t be stopped, and it has to be added.”

Ming Yu nodded, looking helplessly outside the hall with a wry smile: “This George Han... what the hell is playing? What the hell is this trick?”
