

Chapter 3696

No one knows what he is laughing at.

Even Ming Yu, who was attacking, found out about him.

However, Ming Yu also didn't quite understand what George Han was laughing at.

Is it because he feels that he has come here and the plan has been successful?

However, anyone with a discerning eye can see how difficult his predicament will be at this time.

Or is he smiling and going to die calmly?

This is impossible, his goal is to rescue Amelia Su, will he be willing to die if he fails to accomplish this goal?

So what is he laughing at?

Psychological warfare? Or are there other calculations? !

Mingyu is puzzled.

But no matter what, the arrow was on the string and had to be sent. At this time, it was no longer time to think about other things. Ming Yu shook his head and devoted his whole body and mind to the battle with George Han.

The outer firepower was covered, and the masters inside attacked in groups, accompanied by strange and light crazy attacks in the rain circle.

If you want to be an ordinary person, don't say dazzled and chaotic, even if you simply want to muster the courage to stand there, it is completely bullshit, but George Han at this time, not only stood there safely, but even leaned against the back. His hands were not raised either.

Calm and safe, but in fact it is more arrogant and arrogant.

"Emperor You!"

"Wuxiang Divine Art!"

However, when he was very close to George Han, he suddenly moved.

The emperor moved, directly temporarily resisting the attacks of the masters on the inside, and called out the magical power without phase, and directly swallowed and consumed the peripheral spells of the opposite group attack.

"Disperse."

Ming Yu drank softly.

In an instant, the surrounding troops were ready to guard against Buddha. While quickly dispersing the formation, they also directly turned up the energy cover in their hands.

boom!

Under the power of Wuxiang, all the techniques of attack have all returned.

However, for a well-prepared army, although the threat is sufficient, the kills are really average.

After the brief resistance of the Emperor You disappeared, a new round of attacks came from the sky.

George Han's smile disappeared, and his face was very righteous, and he glared at Mingyu fiercely.

George Han knew that she was playing tricks. She knew a lot about herself, and some conventional methods were naturally prepared.

"You're really attentive." George Han sarcastically said in a cold voice, and stabbed Mingyu directly with his sword.

But it seemed like an inevitable blow, but it was suddenly lost under the final blow. Those water circles could be regenerated and destroyed anytime, anywhere, and Mingyu completely relied on this to disappear from time to time.

If he couldn't beat him, he was always sneak attacked by him. Even if he was as strong as George Han, he was quite annoyed at this time.

"It's been a long time, your cultivation level has risen very quickly."

Ming Yu smiled lightly: "How can you be careless if you want to deal with George Han? As for my cultivation level, not to mention, you think that all cats and dogs can be challenged. Are you George Han?"

George Han smiled coldly: "So, if I don't play a bit, it seems that I'm sorry for your concern."

When the words fell, George Han made a sudden movement, lifted the power of yin and yang with one hand, and knocked over several masters who were close to him, and his body accelerated towards the water circle of Mingyu.

As soon as he saw Ming Yu's figure, George Han would directly slam into a large area, not playing cards according to the routine at all.

Therefore, the dark rain for a while can only shuttle quickly in the water circle to avoid its edge.

And as soon as Mingyu hides, the one who can restrain George Han the most will not exist at all.

Whenever George Han seizes this opportunity, he will chase and beat the masters who are entangled in him

Moreover, this kind of pursuit is extremely distorted and perverted.

George Han is almost completely disregarding whether Mingyu will suddenly appear in the back, let alone what kind of sneak attack will be launched on him and how he should defend himself. Anyway, I will beat them up if you are not there.

This operation directly defeated a group of masters, even though George Han also injured himself constantly because of such a mindless and crazy attack.

But the situation was surprisingly tilted towards George Han for a while.

Can this be tolerated?

With Ming Yu letting Ye Shijun lead the four super-machine masters such as the Black Mountain Demon Girl as the second set of strong attack points and sneak attack points, this trend of inclination was completely stopped, and it was biased towards the side that should fall.

The battle continued, and the fire of war lit up the entire night sky of the fallen city.

This, until the middle of the night, everything was quiet...

Chapter 3697

the fall, the fire has dissipated, and the battle has come to an end.

On the playground in front of the hall, there were densely packed corpses at this time.

Although Mingyu is well-planned, no matter what unconventional attack George Han launches, she can quickly find a way to deal with the loss, and at the same time make George Han pay the corresponding price.

But George Han is still George Han, the unstoppable super fierce man.

A large number of soldiers and many masters died in the attack on him, and even several super masters fell from it.

To sum it up in one sentence, the people who should fall into the city will have to pay far more than originally imagined in this battle.

Maybe, at least ten times.

Thousands of people were killed, thousands of people were injured, and several formations were completely washed away. It can be said that the comprehensive siege, although the foundation was not broken, was not injured except for the foundation. Other places were hit hard.

Of course, George Han paid a great price.

The body is still full of blood. Maybe the blood before is not clear to be the enemy or the enemy, but it is possible to guess that most of the blood is the enemy. So now, it is still unclear whether the blood of the enemy is from the enemy, but there is a high probability that it belongs to George Han.

Because of his collapse, George Han was already trembling slightly all over his body at this time, and his legs had long been unable to support him, so that he was leaning and half sitting next to a pile of corpses.

The sword was also placed slightly at his feet. Although he was holding it in his hand, it was obvious that his palm could hardly hold the hilt of the sword.

And these are only external injuries that can be seen from the outside. Although the actual internal injuries are invisible to everyone, they can already be guessed one or two very heavy.

Moreover, for George Han, the saddest thing is that his real energy is exhausted.

This meant that George Han could not launch any more attacks at all, and even his own injuries could no longer be used to really repair them.

He has completely lost.

However, even so, George Han is currently more than ten meters away, and no one is approaching, just far away, each picking up weapons and carefully surrounding him.

“You lost.” Ming Yu’s mouth also had traces of blood, and his jade-like right arm was also cut several times by George Han’s jade sword. Looking at George Han’s failure, he was different from the others. , her face did not have the slightest joy, only a touch of sadness.

Although she is an opponent, George Han can still cause such huge damage under her sophisticated defense. This alone is enough to make anyone awe .

Therefore, she is more looking at George Han with the emotion of watching Ragnarok.

George Han smiled slightly, just opened his mouth, and a large amount of blood flowed directly from his mouth. He didn’t even wipe his mouth: “Yes, I lost.”

“Although you lost, Han Three thousand, based on this battle, although you and I had hatred before, but all hatred is written off here. To be able to fight from the beginning of the night to the middle of the night in such a tight siege, no matter from the point of view of combat effectiveness, it is also from your unyielding Spiritually, you are an opponent worthy of respect by anyone.” After the words were finished, the Black Mountain Demon Girl turned to look at Ming Yu, saluted, and said, “The Black Mountain Demon Girl asks Elder Shenlong to give Yu George Han a decent one. How to die.”

Venerable Bigfoot and other three super masters also saluted at the same time: “I agree with the Black Mountain Demon Girl, Han George Han can die, but I ask to keep his last dignity.”

When the words fell, many soldiers who were besieged from all sides bowed their heads and knelt, begging in unison.

“I’ll wait, and ask Elder Shenlong for mercy.”

Ye Shijun gritted his teeth, how could the deep hatred between him and George Han be resolved by George Han’s death: “George Han hurt my soldiers and humiliated my executives. , people and gods are outraged about this matter, and it is not enough to kill a thousand knives and ten thousand cuts, so how can a decent death come?”

Futian also hurriedly said: "Yes, George Han deserves to be tortured to death, it is absolutely impossible to just let it go. , otherwise, how can we comfort those heroic souls who died tragically in his hands? How can we comfort our executives who were insulted by him? Kill, must be tortured and killed!"

Seeing the opinions on both sides, Ming Yu was a little embarrassed for a while.

However, at this moment, bursts of laughter suddenly came from George Han's direction...
