

Chapter 37: She Held Another Position?

Regarding Shen Qianrou's presence in the conference room, everyone felt surprised.

They had some knowledge of her.

She had been in the entertainment industry for five years. Though that was not long, she was already one of the most famous celebrities under Lan Yun Entertainment Media.

She was unwilling to be the cream of the top in the industry?

Since Lan Yun Entertainment Media was under the Shen Company, it was natural for the company to nurture Shen Qianrou. What could an unwilling soul do?

She was indeed pretty with her hourglass body and delicate make-up, emitting a unique elegance.

She had been the popular girl in school, with good grades and multiple talents.

Even they would have supported her.

The others focused their attention on Shen Qianrou again, with various compliments regarding her looks, status et cetera coming up.

The voices of whispers reached Shen Qianrou, deepening her smugness. Her sweet smile became sweeter as well.

Shen Fanxing lowered her head and opened the notebook that was given to her by Liu Qi where she started doodling on it emotionlessly, unaffected by her surroundings.

"Alright, it's time to start the conference," said Su Heng's secretary Shen Nan, quieting the conference room immediately.

Su Heng sat on the master seat without any emotions, his eyes landing on Shen Fanxing once in a while, showing a complicated gaze.

Su Heng did not speak even after a long while, inviting whispers.

"Mr Su..."

Chen Nan bent his body and spoke softly to Su Heng.

Su Heng lowered his gaze and went silent for a while more before standing up.

Everyone stared at him, even Shen Fanxing looked up.

Su Heng walked to Shen Qianrou's side and said,

"Let me introduce, she's Shen Qianrou. I'm sure everyone knows her."

The masses nodded their heads, in agreement with his words.

A few suck-ups answered immediately,

“You’re the hottest hit now. Who would not have known you.”

“Yes, we can only see you through a screen last time. Being able to see you in real-life is a blessing.”

“So Mr Su, is Ms Shen’s presence here indicative of her role in advertising for our products?”

It was then that Su Heng calmed down.

“You’re not wrong to say that, but she also has an important position.”

Shen Fanxing’s cool gaze travelled to the two people at the front.

She did not know about Shen Qianrou being an advertiser for the products; that was unquestionable.

After all, Shen Qianrou was the hit of the time under Lan Yun Company.

She was indeed a good choice to be the advertiser of the product.

She was more curious about the other position.

Su Heng went silent for a while, nodded his head and said,

“I announce that Ms Shen Qianrou will be the head perfumer and chief executive director for the R&D Department. Besides me, nobody can manage that.”
