

Chapter 3718

Along with two groups of people divided into three groups to support George Han, suddenly, the battle on the spot has also entered a more violent super white-hot.

The people of Demon Cloud Ghost City are always worthy of being the ones who have been licking blood on the tip of the knife. Although they fight in small groups, their fighting skills are exceptionally high.

In the face of those elites, although their numbers are very small, they are familiar with each other who have fought each other for a long time, and the army of strange beasts can always support each other with them. , began to kill the Quartet.

Although the number of the elites of the fallen is extremely large and always has an overwhelming advantage, the roundabout impact of this group of people has always brought opportunities for the army of strange beasts to stabilize their positions.

On the other hand, George Han was even more relaxed.

Almost all of these white-clothed masters are first-class masters, and they are not at all disadvantaged in the face of these masters who should be thrown into the city.

It can even be said that white-clothed masters still have the upper hand when it comes to one-on-one.

In terms of internal strength, or in terms of combat literacy, this group of white-clothed masters far surpassed those who should have fallen into the city.

With their restraint, George Han was finally able to take care of each other, the sound of a Pangu axe waving, accompanied by Fen Ji's mad roar, the more he killed, the more he rose up.

Ming Yu clenched his teeth, and his hatred rose infinitely.

It's a pity that another master in white has been deliberately entangling them, so that they can't escape at all.

"Elder Shenlong, what should we do?" Zhu Yanshuo asked anxiously while resisting.

If you want to break the game of these white-clothed masters, it is not impossible with Mingyu's current strength, but forcibly breaking the game will inevitably hurt yourself. Facing George Han, Mingyu didn't want to be hurt.

Because if he faced George Han in such a manner, Ming Yu was afraid that he would suffer a big loss.

Although the situation is bad, at present, they are not equivalent to failure, so Ming Yu has to wait for the opportunity.

When George Han is almost consumed, he will personally lead someone to attack George Han.

"Roar!"

Suddenly, at this moment, several wild roars descended from the sky.

"What is that?"

“What is that?”

Many people looked up to the sky.

In the night sky lit by the flames of war, nothing seemed to be seen, but it was clearly felt that something was approaching here.

With the passage of time, above the bright edge, a large number of dark shadows have already appeared, and they are flying towards this side at a very fast speed.

Many people murmured and looked, and could not help but feel an unpleasant coolness in their backs.

They were huge in number, and once they reached the bright edge, their figures devoured more than half of them, and the densely packed large area made people feel their scalps tingling just by looking at them.

“That’s a dragon!?” Someone suddenly exclaimed.

When they got closer, many people also opened their eyes wide, and they were horrified to find that those things that were flying fast were none other than dragons!

And, there are hordes of dragons.

“Where did so many dragons appear?”

“Damn, when did the land of the demons have such a large number of dragons?”

Not to mention the land of the demons, even in the current Bafang world, it is obviously impossible to find them all at once. So many dragons.

A rough count, the other party has hundreds of them, where the hell did this come from?

George Han also frowned, and the whole person looked a little incredible.

But when the group of dragons got closer, George Han’s frown suddenly spread, even with a faint smile.

Obviously, George Han didn’t know where these dragons came from, but one thing was certain, they were by no means their own enemies, but their own helpers.

Because the leading dragon of the dragon group is none other than the four dragons!

“Roar!” The

four dragons roared wildly at the same time, with dragon rage, and various spells of wind, fire, thunder and lightning spewed out of the dragon’s mouth.

For a time, like the anger of the sky, it madly vented down.

The dragon’s breath exploded instantly, and the group of dragons also flew down and attacked the elite soldiers who should have fallen into the city.

“Damn, are you here to help George Han again? Besides, it’s still a group of dragons?” Zhu Yanshuo’s eyes widened, and his teeth were clenched: “What is the origin of this bastard George Han?”

Chapter 3719

Dragons are rarely seen. became a rarity.

This would be good, not only did they appear in groups, but they also directly participated in the war.

Are they crazy?

Just for one Han 3000? !

Are they going to sacrifice their few dragons of the same kind? !

Zhu Yanshuo was like this, but the commanders who fought alongside him were even more annoyed.

It was very frustrating to kill George Han to fall into this state, but now the support for George Han is one after another, endless, which is really depressing, and confidence is broken.

Does the ghost know that Daehui will continue to have other people to help?

On the elite soldier’s side, the mentality is also a bit exploded.

First, he was suddenly surrounded and attacked by the army of strange beasts, and finally defeat into victory and came to a counter-encirclement. This is not enough to addicted to, and the thugs of Devil Cloud Ghost City are here again.

Hundreds of giant dragons flew down from the sky before they could get used to the impact of the thugs.

Is this so playful? !

“This George Han is really interesting. There are a group of strange beasts over there to help, and even the dragon group will be dispatched. Just this posture, I will absolutely believe that he is a demon.” Beside the woman in white, the entourage smiled helplessly. road.

“Some people are born different, and they are destined to be different from the moment they are born, and they are protected by all things.” The woman in white said indifferently.

“Although you said it lightly, you must be happy in your heart. This time, it would be a big crime for us to quietly support George Han behind everyone’s back. But if George Han has such a skill, he will be able to give you ruthlessness in the future. The long face

.” The entourage chuckled lightly.

“No one told you that trying to figure out the master’s thoughts is actually a taboo?” The chief woman laughed softly.

The follower heard the words: “The slave should die.”

However, having said that, it is clear that the follower is happy, because it is obvious that although he did commit a major taboo, in fact his own master is happy. How could she pursue herself when she was happy, what she said was what she heard right now.

“It’s interesting.” Sure enough, just as the entourage thought, his master didn’t intend to pursue him at all, but at this moment a pair of eyes looked at George Han in surprise through the bottom edge of the hat.

“Kill!”

George Han was also more confident over there, and slaughtered wildly against the masters surrounding him.

“Roar!”

Ten thousand beasts obey!

“Roar!” The dragons roared in response to his voice

“Kill!”

The thugs responded.

Even the white-clothed masters who were not under the control of George Han were responding to George Han’s roar with a more violent offensive.

Boom! !

boom! !

Huge explosions rolled, roars were everywhere, and the flames of war filled the sky!

Strange beasts, flying dragons, masters in white clothes, George Han, like the god of Shura, harvest wildly.

Mingyu, should be the elite, many masters, like a continuous flood, the sound is endless, continuous and continuous, wave after wave of continuous impact.

Who will kill the deer, who knows? !

“Crush, rush, rush!”

Zhu Yanshuo also roared angrily, giving the soldiers a lot of courage.

The two sides are tit for tat, indistinguishable.

And this battle is also destined from this time, it will be a fierce battle enough to go down in history.

They almost went all the way from midnight to dawn, and from dawn to dawn to the rising sun.

From the beginning of the sun, it was not until noon that the battle began to slowly turn from the white heat to the cooling.

Everyone is sleepy.

Relatively speaking, George Han was more physically exhausted. After all, their total number was always at a disadvantage, and naturally it was a huge waste to deal with.

And all the people who should fall into the city are more spiritual.

The number of people has a huge advantage, but they have been attacking for a long time. What makes them feel most tired and helpless is that George Han, who had said that he would soon decline and exhaust himself, not only did not do this for so long, but instead His mother is killing more and more fiercely now, and it is no exaggeration to say that he is the most active and brave in the audience.

But at this moment, five figures suddenly killed George Han directly...
