

Chapter 3748

George Han smiled slightly: "I don't know." The words ended, seeing no one around, and then looking at the sky in the night. With four dragon shadows, George Han put his arms around Amelia Su's waist, and flew directly to the east wall.

Above the city wall, several long dragons circled slightly.

Most of them did not participate in the banquet, but instead guarded the surrounding city walls and the air to prevent accidents.

"Go down first, my wife and I will stay for a while." George Han ordered.

When the dragons saw that it was George Han, they lowered their heads slightly, and in the next second, their bodies flew away.

"Why did you send them away? Do you want the two of us to guard the city tonight?" Amelia Su asked suspiciously.

George Han shook his head and said with a smile: "If the city owner and the city owner's wife should guard the city in person, then this city is probably an empty city, right?"

"Then why are we here? And what did you just say to watch?" Amelia Su asked road.

"Wait." George Han glanced at the night sky, hugged Amelia Su gently, and stared into the distance slightly.

Although I don't understand why George Han is so, it is actually a good choice to have such an opportunity to spend the two worlds with George Han and enjoy the tranquility of the night breeze.

Thinking of this, Amelia Su didn't say any more, and took advantage of the situation to gently rest her head on George Han's shoulder.

The two couples sat on the city wall like this, leaning against the night sky, cuddling with each other, and enjoying a rare time.

Suddenly, a faint cold wind blew, and George Han couldn't help feeling a little cold. After holding Amelia Su in his arms tightly, George Han suddenly looked at the night sky: "Here it is."

Hearing this, Amelia Su Shunsheng looked away, but could not see the night sky. If there was anything in it, he couldn't help but wonder: "

What's coming?"

George Han smiled and took Amelia Su's hand and couldn't help but pour in a little real qi. Suddenly, a large amount of real qi entered Amelia Su's body. At the same time, Amelia Su also Only then did they suddenly realize that in the night sky, four dragon shadows were flying towards them quickly.

No, to be precise, it should be five.

It's just that the figure in the middle is extremely small and blurry, making it difficult for people to perceive it.

"The one in the middle is actually the biggest." George Han smiled. Seeing Amelia Su puzzled, he continued to explain with a smile: "He is just faster and more able to control his breath.

" In the middle of the fall, five dragon shadows have approached the two of them, accompanied by a faint flash of golden light. Five figures appeared in front of George Hanliang and his wife.

The four dragons are still casually transformed into human figures, and it is impossible to describe the appearance of the human beings they transformed into . Anyway, they are quite casual.

And the one among them is somewhat interesting. They are dressed in silver soft silk clothes, with silver white beards

"Mr. Han?" The old man asked George Han and bowed his hands.

The voice is loud, but the tone is neither humble nor arrogant, which makes people extremely comfortable to listen to.

George Han nodded slightly, and after returning a salute, he looked at Silong: "Who is this?" The four dragons looked at each other and hesitated.

On the other hand, the old man smiled slightly: "Me? I'm ashamed to say, I am famous, but it's just a name of shame, and I regret it. However, when I meet people, I have to show a thing or two, otherwise, there is no sincerity at all. ."

After the words fell, the old man's body turned slightly, a ray of light flashed from his body, and a silver dragon suddenly appeared in front of everyone

The dragon is more than 30 meters long, the whole body is silver and white, and the dragon scales are shining. Anti-Buddha is a huge dragon with silver armor, and with the silver dragon beard, the whole dragon is extremely mighty and extraordinary.

In the next second, his body was changing, and he turned into that old man standing in front of George Han.

Amelia Su frowned, looked at George Han, and said: "This dragon is in the five directions, so its color depends on the five elements, namely red, white, blue, black, gold, and this silver..."

George Han Nodding, yes, almost unheard of, unseen.

However, taking a closer look at the complexion of the four dragons at this time, the status of this silver dragon seems to be unusual.

“Mr. Han, can you spot one or two?” He asked lightly with a smile.

George Han frowned, and while looking back at him, his mind moved quickly. Suddenly, George Han seemed to think of something...

Chapter 3749

But just when George Han was about to speak, the old man suddenly raised his hand and blocked George Han’s mouth.

“Since Mr. Han has guessed the identity of the subordinate, I would trouble Mr. Han to keep it a secret for the subordinate, but this matter, you know it, heaven knows it, no one knows it anymore.” He smiled bitterly.

“But this is my wife.” George Han didn’t want to hide something from Amelia Su.

It was Amelia Su, who laughed softly and shook his head at George Han: “Since the old gentleman has requested, it should be out of courtesy and respect for his decision.”

“Besides, the old gentleman is here for you to involve me. , what is it?” The old man heard the words, hehe smiled, and said: “Having a wife like this, Mr. Han really makes people both envy and admire.”

Seeing that Amelia Su had said so, the old man quickly brought her to wear it. After taking the big hat, George Han didn’t really want to say anything, and nodded, “Okay, I promise you.

“Now that you know my identity, can you spare some time to chat with me?” he asked.

George Han frowned slightly: “If you have something to say, feel free to speak.”

“I can only talk to you about this matter, and no one else will know, including Silong and Madam Zun.” He smiled.

George Han frowned, a little impatient on his face.

George Han had already made a compromise before keeping it a secret and not talking to others, but compromise does not mean blind tolerance, much less cowardice.

“It seems that you are looking for me, not me, right?” George Han said coldly: “My wife is the person I trust most in my life, you tell me, I tell her the same, if it is because you want What I said to her caused me and her to have real words that couldn’t be communicated, so it doesn’t matter if you don’t stop.” After the words were finished, George Han took Amelia Su’s hand and turned around to leave.

Silong

was a little anxious, but before they could make a move, at this time, the silver dragon had already transformed, blocking George Han and Amelia Su.

“Mr. Han, why get angry.” He smiled bitterly, and then he glanced at Amelia Su and said, “I understand Mr. Han’s heart, and I don’t want to make a gap between Mr. Han and Mrs. Zun, but it really is, It’s a secret, the more people you know, the more danger you have.”

“Mr. is willing to meet with me, how can I harm you?”

Hearing this, George Han’s expression improved a little, and Amelia Su also understood. He nodded, comforted George Han softly, and said, “I believe this old gentleman must have his own difficulties, George Han, don’t affect others because of us, let alone affect major events.”

George Han hesitated for a while. In the end, when Amelia Su kept nodding her head, she thought for a while: “What are you going to say?” “Silong, keep Madam Han safe, before handing over to Mr. Han, if she has any mistakes, the four of you will take care of her.

He has been ordered to apologize, and since then he has become a sin dragon of the dragon clan, and will be permanently removed from the clan.” Although the four dragons were shocked, they nodded in unison, and said, “Yes.” After the words were finished, the old man bowed slightly: “Mr. Han, please .”

George Han glanced at Amelia Su, and after her continuous nodding confirmation, he sighed and turned around to follow the old man and fly slowly.

The two of them walked as if they were leveling in the blue clouds, and they went higher and higher into the sky until a few minutes later, the two of them had reached the altitude of 10,000 meters.

George Han looked around, stopped, and said softly, “It’s almost nine days away when we go up. Haven’t you heard that there is a god who raises his head three feet? “

Although it is a joke, it is also the meaning of George Han expressing his opinion.

The old man stopped and smiled in embarrassment. He also looked around and made sure that there was no one around. Then, instead of looking directly at George Han, he looked in front of him with a sigh: “Is he okay?”

“Not bad.” George Han replied.

He nodded: “It’s good if he can be well, and it’s good if he can be well.”

“Why don’t you go to see him in person, but you have to ask me?” George Han said: “Don’t you dare to see him?”

The old man was slightly taken aback when he heard the sound, and then smiled bitterly: “What’s the trouble of seeing someone who doesn’t want to see you? I’m sad, and he’s not happy, but it’s not against the original intention of seeing him? So, it’s better not to see each other. “

George Han was also stunned for a while, and then smiled, his opinion is unique, but there is something right.

“Okay, let’s not talk about him, but talk about business. After all, this is the fundamental reason why I am looking for you this time.” He looked back at George Han..
