

Chapter 375

When Biden Lu saw this, he told her, "Gu Si Qian, Gu Chang Hai's second son and his only illegitimate son, because he was not accepted by the elders in the family, he was raised abroad for years and could hardly return to the country once every three to five years, and this time he suddenly returned to the country and coincidentally met you, do you think it's a coincidence?"

Jenny Jing was shaken hard again.

Her head was a bit muddled, and it took a long while before she gradually digested the fact that Biden Lu had told her.

"You said...he's a Gu?"

Biden Lu raised his eyebrows, "Yes."

Jenny clenched his fingers.

Biden Lu continued, "So, what did he say to you last night?"

Jenny looked at him, his lips moving, but he didn't make a sound.

She didn't know how to explain to Biden Lu about her relationship with Gu Si Qian, those past years and memories were something she didn't want to bring up, but she didn't want to lie to him!

Jenny struggled for a moment, Biden Lu knew her too well, just a look, and she already understood what she was thinking.

"You've met before?"

Jenny Jing struggled for a long time, but in the end, he nodded his head.

"Yes."

"How do you know each other?"

Jenny didn't say.

It wasn't that she didn't want to say it, she really didn't know how.

The memory was so confusing that she couldn't even remember it, and if she said it, it would be even more unbelievable.

And, that also contains a secret....

Jenny didn't say anything, and Biden Lu waited for a moment, his deep brows gradually getting colder.

"It's okay, I respect your right to privacy, and it's okay to tell me when you feel like it."

He said, getting up, obviously his attitude wasn't strong and his demeanor was as gentle as ever, but Jenny still had the vague feeling that he was a little angry.

After Biden Lu left, Jenny Jing also went to the company.

Starflight issued a statement on her behalf, saying it was just a joke about a chance encounter with a friend and it wasn't some kind of cheating!

At any rate, she is now a married status, not to mention Biden Lu's side, this kind of news is not good for her image if it makes a big noise.

The good thing was that it seemed that Gu Siqian just wanted to warn her and didn't mean to be exhaustive, so as soon as her side of the statement was issued, Gu Siqian's trumpet also made a statement, saying that it was just a joke and that everyone shouldn't take it seriously and they were all good friends.

Kusken's trumpet certainly doesn't have much followers or attention.

But couldn't resist the heat of the news, and he was immediately circled by many people.

This little fracas has kind of died down.

Afterwards, Jenny took the initiative to call Gu Siqian and scolded him badly.

Gu Siqian wasn't angry, laughing idly over there and even occasionally scolding herself for her.

Jenny was completely out of temper with him.

Finally, the man spoke coolly on the phone, "Remember what my brother taught you years ago? There is a price to pay for obedience and disobedience, and little Seven doesn't want what she has now to be messed up, does she?"

Jenny's headache caressed his forehead and gritted his teeth, "What do you want?"

Gu Si Qian laughed lightly, "How dare I tell the truth with that tone of your voice?"

Jenny Jing stalled and gritted his teeth, forcing himself to keep his anger down, softening his voice, "Fine, then spread it out and say it straight, what do you really want?"

"I want you, will you?"

Jenny: "....."

Her face had changed a few times, how could she still not hear him teasing her at this point?

Finally, gritting his teeth and roaring, "Gu Si Qian, go to hell!"

Afterwards, he just cut the phone off.

And now, the other side.

In the film and television city on the outskirts of Kyoto, Evelin got up early in the morning, and after changing into today's costume, she went to the dressing room with a bag of stuff.

"Hey, Evelin's here!"

The make-up artist had gotten to know her well after a while, so he greeted her with a smile as soon as he saw her.

Evelin nodded and took a small gift box from the bag in her hand and handed it over.

"I bought it casually the other day when I went to a show in Milan, it's not anything valuable, never mind."

The makeup artist brightened up and took over.

"Don't mind if you don't mind, after all, you bring us gifts every time you go abroad for an event or walk the red carpet, no one else does."

Evelin smiled and didn't say anything, but turned around and handed the items to the others to follow and distribute.

Only after all this was done did Evelin begin to sit down to do her makeup.

She had good skin, which saved her the trip to the foundation, and her makeup was applied quickly, but in half an hour or so.

Outside, the field notes were telling her to get out of her seat, so she went out.

And then a young woman came in from outside.

"Sister Moon."

"Yue-san, you're here."

Everyone got up and greeted each other respectfully, and the person who came was the newest actress, Leng Xiaolian, who is the leading lady of this drama and has won three trophies last year and is favored by countless big-name directors at home and abroad.

Leng Xiaoyue is not very young, but in her early twenties, but because of her talent, plus indeed has the talent, so debut that is the peak, but acting in three movies, won three trophies, and the camera performance sense is very good, so it is a small number of the circle screaming and seated actress.

This time it's a big-budget puppet show, albeit an ancient one, because the script itself is of excellent quality and the director is a famous director with whom I've been very close before.

So even a movie curmudgeon like Leng Xiaolian, who had previously stated that he would only make movies and not the small screen, made an exception this time and took on this drama.

Since it's an exception, it's naturally the meat and potatoes of the crew, the kind that everyone has to offer up and dare not offend.

At this point, Leng Xiaolian probably hadn't slept well and was yawning as she sat in her seat.

Chess, the makeup artist who was usually in charge of her makeup, even walked over to her and asked with a smile, "Is today the scene with the injury?"

Leng Xiaolian nodded faintly, "Mm."

Next to him, someone had the audacity to say, "Sister Xiao Yue, today Evelin gave us all gifts as soon as she came back, you also had a part, and that pink one right there on the table is yours."

Leng Xiaolian looked askance at it and reached out to open it, only to see an Eiffel Tower pendant inside.

She smiled extremely shallowly and placed the thing there, not judging whether it was good or bad, but there was quite a bit of disdain between her eyebrows.

Just then, another woman walked in.

This person's name is Su Qian, who plays the third female in this drama, and her family is richer, but she's not a good actress, and the reason she got the role this time is that she brought money into the group.

Because the family is good, they are not without arrogance and domineering. When they saw Leng Xiaolian, they greeted him respectfully.

Then a snort of laughter at the sound of a gift, and then at the gift box on the table.

"Yo, who sent this?"

Chapter 376

The make-up artist who helped her said evenly, "Evelin gave it to her, almost everyone in the crew has it, but the style is different, look, mine is Notre Dame de Paris."

She said, and made a point of showing her the trinket she had already attached to her keychain.

Su Qin's eyes flashed with a touch of contempt, sneering, "This kind of junk is only something you guys hold as a treasure, I thought it was no good! A keychain? Do we all use fingerprint locks now? Country bumpkin hats only use keys to open doors!"

Make-up Artist: "..."

The whole dressing room fell into a moment of awkwardness.

Leng Xiaolian had already put on her makeup and got up and coldly walked out.

Everyone couldn't help but look at each other for a moment, and no one dared to say anything more.

Just then, Evelin came in.

"I'm sorry Sister Lee, I just messed up my eye makeup, can you fix it for me?"

Because of the limited staffing, everyone except the lead actress, Leng Xiao Yue, shared a makeup artist among several people.

The person Evelin calls Sister Li helps her with both her makeup and Su Qian's.

At this point, I heard her voice and said, "Oh, well, you sit here and I'll fill you in right away."

"Good."

However, as soon as Evelin settled into her seat, Su Qin's mean voice rang out next to her.

"Sister Li, how do I remember the crew arranging for you to specifically have you do my makeup, why are you still doing her makeup?"

Sister Li sniffed, embarrassed, "I'm sorry Celery, because there are only five makeup artists in the crew right now, but there are more than a dozen that need makeup at the same time, so except for Leng Xiaolian's, the others are all shared."

Su Qin stared at the news like she was hearing something unbelievable.

"What did you say? Shared?"

Sister Li nodded her head in embarrassment.

"Then why didn't I see you chemize them before?"

"That's because they all came early, only you came last, and they were all done melting when you arrived..."

As soon as this was said, Su Qian's face changed.

Because it's a costume drama, it's a complex look, so it's a bit harder than a modern drama.

Every day the actresses would get up very early to line up their makeup, after all, it would take at least an hour or so for the hair to be coiffed and styled, and all the miscellaneous things to add up.

And this time around, director Li Yu is again a director who is all about acting, not identity, and no film under his belt has ever failed to be a hit.

That's why Su Qin, at any rate, not only brought in her own capital, but also promised never to play big to make it special, which is how she got into the group.

If Li Yu knew now that she arrived every day at the last minute, he would definitely have a problem with himself.

Su Qian's face suddenly became particularly unpleasant.

Evelin saw the situation beside her, so she smiled and said, "It's okay, Sister Li, you can draw her first, I'll just wait beside her."

Sister Li could only helplessly say, "Alright then."

After Evelin finished speaking, she also smiled a friendly smile at Su Qian.

But Su Qin thought she was afraid of herself and snorted, "Count you as being smart."

Then, they turned around and began to let Lee help her with her makeup.

However, this scene fell into the eyes of the others in the dressing room, and everyone scowled inwardly.

Tsk, a third-rate star who got into the group by bringing in money, what's all the fuss about?

You know, Evelin is the second female in this drama, she has a heavy role to play, besides the first female

, is the biggest highlight of the show.

If this drama goes viral, Evelin will basically be among the top tier, and will we need to see her again then?

Besides, people Evelin at least had a few good works to her name before and so many fans, she's a person who just relies on her family's money to smash a few roles out, so she doesn't know what she's fooling around with.

Although everyone was very dissatisfied with Su Qin's bullying behavior, they didn't show it on their faces, and still respectfully helped her with her make-up and styling.

It just added to his heart's fondness for Evelin.

The morning's drama was a bittersweet one in the rain.

Evelin's first few parts were all with famous directors like Yan Sihua and Lu Yanzhi, and her acting was naturally well-trained.

As a result, her acting was so explosive that she was able to outmaneuver Su Qin, who also acted opposite her.

After one scene, the director yells "cut"!

Only he frowned tightly and said to Su Qian, "This is the place to take in your expression, you look like you're gnashing your teeth when you don't even know she's your enemy yet, it's too out of place for the current mood, start over."

Su Qin's expression went cold at the news, but she didn't say anything.

Next, four more takes were taken, and that was just barely enough to get by.

Soon, it was noon.

Evelin only had one morning scene today, there was none in the afternoon, so she could take a break in the afternoon for a while.

Just then, her phone rang.

It was agent Su Hong who called her.

Evelin is signed at Starlite, but Jenny is not in charge there now, leaving it all to Xiao He.

And now He has to control everything in the company, so there's no time to take her, so now everyone is assigned to different agents.

Her agent, on the other hand, was a new agent who had joined the company not long ago, named Su Hong.

Evelin was busy connecting and smiled, "Sister Su Hong, what can I do for you?"

On the other side, Su Hong's voice was neither cold nor indifferent, as usual, "Are you free this afternoon? Go for an audition."

Evelin was stunned and agreed without thinking, "Yes, but I'm shooting Director Li's film on my hands right now, I don't want to roll the scene, when will it be shot over there ah."

"It's not clear yet, you try it out, and if you pass the audition we'll talk about the schedule."

When Evelin heard that, she did not refuse and agreed.

After hanging up the phone, Su Hong quickly sent over the audition address.

Evelin took a look and found that it was actually a hotel, not frowning slightly.

But thinking that since it was Su Hong who told her to go, it should be right, that way, she changed her clothes, greeted Li Yu and left the crew.

The address Su Hong gave her was a luxury hotel.

At the hotel, Evelin found the room number and rang the doorbell.

Soon, a man's voice was heard inside.

"Come in!"

She pushed the door in to find an obese, middle-aged man sitting inside with a face full of cross flesh, while a photographer stood next to him, along with two girls about her age, all of whom were supposed to be here for an audition.

Evelin was secretly relieved.

In fact, she was a little hesitant at first when she found out the audition address was at the hotel.

After all, it's not the first day in the business, and I've heard more or less dirty things, but for now, with a director, a photographer, and other actresses auditioning, it's fine.

Chapter 377

Thinking so, she politely said, "Hello, I'm here to audition, my name is Evelin."

Evelin's fame in the industry today is not too big, but not too small, and is generally considered to be an actress between second and third tier.

It's just that she's a low-key person, and most of the scenes she usually receives are from the internal resources of Anning International, so people from outside the circle don't know much about her.

The obese man sitting in the chair looked up slightly, tilted his head at her, and nodded vaguely.

"Well, have a seat! It's your turn right away."

"Okay."

Evelin took a chair beside her and saw the two girls follow the director to the inside bedroom, leaving her and the photographer alone in the living room.

The atmosphere seemed awkward.

I don't know why, but ever since the moment Evelin entered this room, she felt something wrong all over her body.

There's always an odd feeling.

She looked over at the cameraman, who was smoking, and they spat out a smoke ring and smiled at her.

"Scared?"

Evelin was stunned, "Huh?"

The photographer laughed, "I know you, you're pretty good in all your plays."

"Oh, oh, thanks for the compliment."

Evelin didn't know what to say, and even her smile was a little unnatural, before she paused and asked curiously, "Are they auditioning inside?"

"Well."

"Why don't you go inside! Don't you need to shoot?"

"No need."

The other side was concise and appeared to have no intention of saying more.

It made Evelin feel uneasy and curious, feeling that something was wrong, but she was too embarrassed to ask more.

After about ten minutes, the two girls finally came out.

Since it was summer, they were all wearing only simple t-shirts or shirts, and they were all a little underdressed when they came out now.

One of the girls, her face flushed red, hurried away as she walked out, her hands and feet tidying up her clothes, both of them looking shy and hammy.

Evelin was looking puzzled when the director's voice came from the bedroom.

"You, get in here!"

Evelin looked at the photographer, and after making sure from the other man's eyes that he was calling himself, that's when he oh-so-slightly walked in.

The bedroom was dimly lit, the curtains drawn tightly, and only a dim lamp on.

The director was slumped on a sofa chair in the corner with his legs crossed and a cigarette in his mouth being swallowed.

When he saw her come in, he waved his hand, narrowed his eyes and said, "Take it off."

"Huh?"

Evelin was startled.

The director frowned in displeasure at the sight.

"What are you staring at? Take it off! How do I know if your body is up to par if you don't take it off? The actress auditioning for this role is a lot of swimsuit-only scenes, and her body is the most important thing."

Evelin reacted, instantly understanding why those two girls were red-faced when they went out just now.

She blushed and fidgeted as well, "Can I, can I not..."

The director's frown deepened.

Evelin felt a little embarrassed, not for the fact that the hostess needed to wear a swimsuit, but it was something that Su Hong hadn't mentioned to her before.

And usually, if the crew has an audition for such a scene, there are usually several people auditioning together to avoid embarrassment and also to protect the actress

The security.

But now, other than the photographer outside, the director is the only one in the house.

The director saw her standing there without moving and said in dissatisfaction, "Will you take it off or not? Don't try it if you don't take it off, there's someone behind it."

Evelin bit her lip, not wanting to embarrass the company, or biting her teeth, "Can I change into a set of tights? You can actually see your body in a leotard."

The director was laughing directly at her.

"Why didn't you tell me you were wearing thermals for the shoot? Is this your first day in the business? If you can't let go of that, how can you be an actor in the future? Don't waste my time if you don't want to try, just get out!"

Afterwards, he looked over the roster in his hands and called, "Next."

Soon, another beautiful young girl walked in.

Evelin was squeezed to the side, and the girl simply stripped off her clothes, fully clothed only in intimate underwear, and spun around a few times in front of the director with a smile on her face the whole time, seemingly treating both her and the director in front of her as if they were nothing.

Evelin was blushing even as she stood beside her, and the director was even squinting his eyes, his eyes lusting after the girl's body, nodding frequently.

"Not bad, you stay! Enter the group in three days."

"Really? Thank you, director!"

The girl cheerfully agreed, and the director beckoned to her, "Come here!"

She even walked over to the director, who squeezed her chest and said with satisfaction, "Well, it's true, it's okay, you can go."

The girl seemed to think that even this was nothing, and after dressing, she left happily.

Evelin clearly saw the director's fingertips pinch after she left and said to herself, "Tsk, it feels so good."

She was in shock!

Feeling challenged in all three senses!

That dirty look and tone of voice, as if she didn't exist when she was standing next to it.

Evelin turned pale, only to feel nausea in her stomach.

"I'm sorry about that, I'm not going to try, I'll leave."

She said hello and hurried off, and the director didn't stop her, just snorted a dismissive snort through his nose.

These days, do you really think you can stay clean just because you have some fame?

It's luck now, but when she runs into a lot of walls sometime, she'll know what reality is.

And with so many pretty girls in the entertainment industry trying to squeeze in, there was no shortage of her, so he never liked to use force.

He already has countless girls trying to climb into his bed for a chance without using tactics, not to mention him showing interest in each other.

Here, with a gleam in his eye, he looked at the profile of the girl on the roster from earlier and made a call to his assistant.

"Hey, there's a Lulu in the audition today, you tell her to meet me in my room tonight."

After Evelin left the hotel, he went straight back to the set.

When Su Hong called her in the afternoon to ask about the situation, she just told her the truth.

Su Hong didn't know it would be like this.

She said a little apologetically, "Sry, this job was also introduced to me by a friend of mine, I didn't know that was the case, I heard that you were in desperate need of money so I wanted you to try it out, at least the other party is paying a good amount of money for the film, in that case then I won't go."

Evelin nodded, suddenly remembered something and quickly said, "You didn't tell anyone about my lack of money, did you!"

Su Hong was obviously busy and her voice was faint, "I'm not a big mouth, so why tell anyone?"

Evelin was only relieved by this.
