

Chapter 3816

“Two, please.” Queen Ant said politely.

The couple nodded, followed behind the ant, and walked all the way towards the city again.

In less than a moment, the group returned to the center of the square again.

George Han and Amelia Su didn't know what this was for, but as soon as they settled down, they saw all kinds of ant-men gathered from all directions.

Looking at it, it is densely packed, and it is simply a large area.

George Han smiled awkwardly, and whispered to Amelia Su: “It's only about 70 people saved, as for how to thank me for such a big battle?”

Amelia Su bumped into George Han lightly, and scolded with a smile, “You are the only fan. Your self-confidence, maybe, people don't thank you. Do you know about aliens? Don't there are legends on Earth that they have super powers?”

“Some people are very different from them, you say, you have There is no possibility that they are aliens ?” Han George Han said helplessly: “Meaning that I have become a monkey? To watch a play for them? ” After taking a look around the crowd, the attendant also ran over respectfully at this time, half-kneeling and said:

“City Lord, there are about 81,200 people in the City of Earth Fire, and there are actually 81,200 people.

” Okay.” The Queen ant nodded and looked around, the feeling of being king over the world instantly disappeared without anger.

“Before the banquet, I want everyone to be grateful for the temperature control of the city of fire and the incubation of my ant eggs. I don't need to say more about this,” said the queen ant.

George Han whispered to Amelia Su: “Look, I'll say thank you.”

Amelia Su pouted: “Smelly beautiful.”

All the ants nodded in unison.

However, there is an old saying that there are frogs at the bottom of a well, and today, there are also our ants in a well.”

“I never imagined that George Han could not only go up to the sky, complete the impossible feat, but also The most important thing is that he still entered the hall.”

“Previously, a group of seventy patients who were about to be taken away by incurable diseases were urgently summoned in the city, and they have successfully recovered.”

“What?”

“I'm going, why is this? Possibly?”

“Those people are about to die. It’s useless to take any medicine or see a doctor. This... this family has even started to prepare for the funeral, and suddenly they are alive?”

A group of Ant-Man was surprised and disbelieving.

The queen ant smiled softly: “Seven and seven, what are you waiting for? Right now, your benefactor is being questioned by everyone! Although the people who are questioning are your clansmen, it is your benefactor who is being slandered.”

As soon as the words fell, the seven people who were previously deliberately arranged by George Han stood up first, and then, dozens of people who had been treated before also stood up together.

“Mr. Han is unparalleled in the world. He can fly up to the sky and enter the ground below. Is there a god under the yellow sky, how can you guys question it?”

” He no longer needs a myth and is a myth.”

“We are all dying, but now we, you can all see, not only are we alive again, we are younger, healthier, and most of all. The important thing is that our cultivation is even more ferocious.”

“These are all given by Mr. Han. For us, he is the most important benefactor in our lives. Anyone who questions him will be against the seventy of us.”

“Yes, even if it is Don’t blame us for turning our face on our clansmen.” The seventy or so people held their heads high, and said Qi Yu Xuan An. This is a great confidence and respect for George Han.

Seeing these seventy people stand up, among the ants there are their relatives or friends, they recognize them at a glance, and they whisper to the people around them for a while.

In the end, the whispering became louder and louder, and even slowly began to cause a sensation among the ants.

More and more people are beginning to believe this fact, although it is a little hard for them to accept.

“Everyone, this ant queen can personally prove that this matter can’t be false, but a fact.” The queen ant finished speaking, took a slight step forward and smiled, but when she was about to speak, she accidentally discovered it.

Suddenly, she fainted to the ground...

Chapter 3817

sudden change not only made all the Ant-Man present tense, even George Han and Amelia Su were also anxious on the spot.

Some attendants quickly supported the fainted queen, but the height of the queen was too huge for them, and the ant colony was quite flustered for a while.

Fortunately, Amelia Su and George Han responded in time. Amelia Su hugged the fainted queen ant, and George Han immediately grabbed one step forward, and a burst of energy shot directly into the queen ant's hand.

"How is she?" Amelia Su asked anxiously.

George Han frowned slightly, and the energy was carefully detected in his body.

But before George Han could detect why, suddenly, something more terrifying happened.

The entourage around the ant queen was almost the same as before. Suddenly, the group fainted, and in turn, the ants began to fall one after another.

That was a total of 80,000 people, and it was shocking just by the collective movement, not to mention that at this moment, they still fell collectively.

"This... what's going on?" Amelia Su was anxious.

Although there is not much contact, but there has always been an intersection, and people's hearts are made of flesh, how can Amelia Su not be in a hurry?

Moreover, even if there is no intersection, more than 80,000 lives are enough to make anyone worry.

George Han was also at a loss. He glanced at everyone at the scene, and for a while he didn't know what happened.

"One person fainting may be due to his own problems, but so many people faint, will it be... what's the matter?" Amelia Su asked George Han.

George Han frowned slightly: "If this is the case collectively, there is only one possibility."

Amelia Su said: "You mean collective poisoning?"

George Han nodded, and only this possibility would lead to the current situation.

"Then what to do, think of a way, this... this is the life of a city." Amelia Su said anxiously.

George Han did not speak, instilled his true energy, and went more seriously to investigate the situation in the queen ant's body.

At the end, George Han withdrew his hand, and Amelia Su asked nervously, "How is it, have you been poisoned?"

George Han frowned and nodded heavily: "From the perspective of its context, it is indeed the case. Poison, and it should not be shallow."

"Ah? She... how could she be poisoned?"

"I think the things at the banquet may not be clean."

"Then why are we okay, but they..."

"Our body is more than ten times theirs, and the poison that may be lethal to them is only a tiny amount, and it won't even cause any disease in us." George Han explained.

Amelia Su nodded: "Then... can you save them?"

Hearing this, George Han gave the queen a meaningful look, and said bitterly, "This is a total of 80,000 people, although I can save people, but it's not a machine."

"You really want to exhaust me to death?"

Amelia Su shook her head desperately: "Of course I don't want to, but... but you can see it, after all, it's so many lives."

George Han smiled and sighed: "People say that people's hearts are greedy, but I didn't expect..."

George Han didn't say anything, but patted Amelia Su on the shoulder: "Put the queen ant here temporarily. Well, let's go back to her palace for a drink first, I'm a little tired and want to rest."

"Ah? Put it here?" Amelia Su was taken aback: "But they...their situation."

"Don't worry."

Han

George Han finished, helping Amelia Su put the queen ant on the ground, and then dragged Amelia Su, who was worried, and headed towards the palace again.

When the couple returned to the palace, Amelia Su couldn't help it. She handed the unfinished water to George Han and said, "They are all poisoned, so let's just leave them like that. "Do n't worry, it's alright. Instead of worrying about them, you might as well worry about me." George Han said.

Amelia Su looked at George Han strangely: "Worrying about you? Didn't you say that even if you and I were poisoned, it would have no effect because of the small amount?"

George Han smiled bitterly: "Of course you have to worry about me. "

How do you say this?"

George Han shook his head, then, slightly leaning into Amelia Su's ear, he whispered a few words.

Hearing George Han's words, Amelia Su was stunned...
