

Chapter 3832

“Yes, dig graves.”

George Han smiled mysteriously, and regardless of Amelia Su’s reaction, he directly hugged her, He went back in the direction of the falling city.

Returning to the city to know the way, the natural speed is also much faster.

After about half a day or so, the two had arrived near the falling city.

Looking from a distance, the city that should fall now is still the city that should fall, calm and peaceful.

Amelia Su let out a sigh of relief, at least the fact that Zhu Yanshuo and others that she was worried about had not happened again.

“Did Zhu Yanshuo and the others just give up and go to the city?” Amelia Su asked.

In Amelia Su’s eyes, although Zhu Yanshuo and others were defeated, they were supported by Hou and stronger forces after all.

If it comes like this, a comeback is inevitable, and before the fall city has stabilized, isn’t it the best time to counterattack?

But unfortunately, why did they not attack at this time.

“Because they have spies.” George Han said.

“Spy?”

George Han nodded. In fact, George Han had already thought of this after winning the city.

Under the control of Zhu Yanshuo, Jiluocheng is actually developing quite well. Naturally, the foundation is absolutely stable. Therefore, even if the fallen city has fallen and the soldiers have surrendered, there will still be people who are loyal to him.

Therefore, George Han believes that no matter how careful he is, he will inevitably leak the news.

That being the case, it would be better to be upright and use it in reverse.

Therefore, George Han held the so-called enthronement ceremony with a very clear purpose, that is, he directly told Zhu Yanshuo and others that he had done so.

“Think about it, they must be shocked and angry when they suddenly get such information. This makes us very happy emotionally.” George Han said.

Amelia Su nodded: “It will indeed make us feel bad about it.”

“If it were Ye Shijun alone, or someone like Ye Gucheng, maybe they would really be overwhelmed with revenge because of this. Brain attack. But Zhu Yanshuo is different from them.”

“Although I don’t have much contact with Zhu Yanshuo, I know that he is a very sophisticated person, and he is quite calm and calm in his actions, with the style of a general.”

“Therefore, he He won’t do this rashly, even if he is angry because of it, he can see in his anger that my trick is very good, and it allows me to stabilize the city as quickly as possible.”

“So, it is not a good idea to fight in time. It’s a good choice. First, our city is fast and stable, and secondly, they are not fully prepared to gather troops in a hurry. In addition, we are prepared to fight against thousands of miles, and the chances of winning are not big.”

“Once we lose, Zhu Yanshuo understands that the military will be motivated by this. Da San, the abandoned generals who should have fallen into the city will become more and more confident in my hands, and at that time the fallen generals who should have fallen into the city will really not be able to be taken back.”

Amelia Su nodded after hearing this, “So what do you mean? , Zhu Yanshuo and others will definitely think twice?”

“Yes, they will definitely attack and fall to the city, but they must have arranged everything, and even admit it. Don’t forget, Zhu Yanshuo is a calm person, and Mingyu is even more. “

Amelia Su nodded: “I found that you are still very smart.”

“Not very smart, but you have always been the best.” George Han smiled.

If you can’t control the spies, it’s better to let the spies pass the news to them in an open and honest way. In this way, they can still achieve their purpose of consuming them and delay their time.

“It’s time for us to settle down.” Amelia Su looked in front of him and reminded.

Han 3000 nodded, and one flew faster and landed in front of the city gate.

Jiluocheng sits on a trade route, and there are so many people in the past. Although George Han is not in the city, the new management team decided to open the city gate halfway, not only to ensure that business and trade are not affected, but also to quickly find out the enemy. Defense behind closed doors.

Seeing George Han, a group of soldiers guarding the gate immediately knelt down: “I have seen the leader of the alliance, the wife of the leader of the alliance. I will go to inform the city lord Fu and tell them that you are back.” After the words were finished, the leading soldier turned and was about to leave. go.

“Wait.” George Han stopped him: “I’ll find him myself. As for you, please help me buy a shovel from the market and bring it to the City Lord’s Mansion.”

“Ah?”

“Go quickly.”

Soldier Zhang Er and monk were at a loss, but he still went to work as instructed, and George Hanliang and his wife also strode into the falling city...

Chapter 3833

Even though the city is now stable, he is still busy planning some future city affairs in front of the palace.

At this time, the soldier came to report, saying that George Han had returned to the city with his wife.

Hearing this, he got up immediately, and hurriedly walked out of the hall with a group of people around him, wanting to meet George Hanliang and his wife.

However, when he first arrived at the gate of the City Lord's Mansion, he did not see George Han approaching. Instead, the leader of the soldiers guarding the city was walking slowly over with a shovel.

"Where's my brother-in-law?" Fulin asked.

The soldier leader was also at a loss: "Report to the city lord, I don't know either. I originally wanted to inform you, but the alliance lord just asked me to go to the market to buy a shovel." After he finished speaking, he gave the shovel to Fu for a purpose. Look at Lin et al.

Fulin's group of executives looked completely dumbfounded.

What is this shovel for?

You don't have to use this for murder.

"Did he say what he was buying this for?" Fulin asked.

The little soldier leader shook his head: "The old man didn't say this, and I don't know what it's used for."

"Isn't the leader of the Korean alliance wanting to buy this stuff to farm?"

"It looks like a shovel for digging the ground. , what is he doing? Could it be that he wants to have some pastoral life with the wife of the alliance leader?"

"Although what you said is a bit ridiculous, contacting this shovel seems to be the biggest possibility right now."

Just as a group of people were talking, George Han walked over slowly with Amelia Su under the warm greetings of the townspeople.

A group of people immediately stopped talking and stood at attention, with smiles on their faces, and greeted them respectfully.

"Brother-in-law, Sister Amelia Su, why didn't you send someone to speak in advance when you came back? I also sent someone to pick you up." Fu Lin took the lead to greet you, and said enthusiastically.

"It's not like we can't walk anymore. Who else do we need to pick us up? Just walk in by yourself. It's good to see the scenery along the way." George Han smiled politely.

"What the alliance leader said is very true."

"Yes, yes."

Behind Fu Lin, a group of executives couldn't help but flatter.

"It's not bad that the city should be managed. Keep going." George Han patted Fu Lin on the shoulder, and then walked towards the soldier's little leader.

With George Han's approval, Fulin was naturally very happy, he turned around and followed George Han and walked over.

The leader of the soldiers, who had never seen such a formation, was immediately a little uneasy, and subconsciously took out the shovel in his hand.

George Han took the shovel and looked at it. The condition was not bad: "How much?" The soldier's little leader quickly shook his head: "Hey... it's an honor to be able to serve the leader of the alliance, this little money Don't."

"The leader doesn't mean you have privileges, you can pay as much as you want." After that, George Han took out a piece of jewelry from the space ring and threw it to the little leader: "The extra is counted as your hard work. "

A shovel, at most two amethysts. On the other hand, the jewelry that George Han gave is worth at least tens of thousands, which made the little leader a little hot for a while.

"The leader of the alliance gave you a reward, you should just accept it." Fulin said with a smile.

After hearing this, the little leader nodded, knelt on the ground, and said gratefully, "Thank you, Alliance Lord."

"The reward for taking money is to encourage you. Don't get carried away with joy. The defense of the city gate is the first step in a city, and the safety of the whole city is tied to you." George Han Thousands.

"Don't worry, the lord, the subordinates will definitely do their best, and never fail the trust of the lord and the city lord."

"Okay, if the city lord doesn't need you to do anything else, you can go and do your business." George Han nodded.

He could completely prevent him from going down, but George Han insisted on pulling Fu Lin down, but he was actually taking care of Fu Lin's face.

Of course, Fulin understood George Han's intentions. Looking at the little leader, he also gave George Han enough face: "I have nothing else to do. The leader asked you to do something, so you can go." The little leader nodded . , and went down with the jewels.

George Han turned to look at Fu Lin at this time: "I'm going to dig graves. By the way, I will bring you a group of people to get some wages. You arrange for some staff."

"Dug graves? Wages?"

" looking at each other..."
