

Chapter 3836

“The dog thief, let go of our leader immediately, otherwise, don’t blame me for being ruthless under the sword.” The leader is naturally Congealing the moon.

Since the last incident, even though there is a serious shortage of manpower in the Book of Eight Desolations, Ningyue still regards it as a key defense for the guarding of the teleportation port.

She will never allow the same tragedy to happen a second time.

George Han smiled slightly and looked at Ningyue: “Put the sword away, they are not our enemies now, but have joined us.”

“Joined us?” Ningyue frowned, rather puzzled: “ Why? They are...”

“I’ll explain this to you later.”

After saying this, George Han looked at the others, and they put down the swords in their hands, but when they looked at Fu Lin and the other group, their eyes There is also a clear sense of cold hostility.

When going to the wooden house, Amelia Su did not accompany George Han, but pulled Ningyue aside. Obviously, Amelia Su took Ningyue alone to explain all the ins and outs on behalf of George Han.

After Ningyue understood, she instructed a subordinate to go back to the wooden house to tell everyone about the general situation, and then she returned to the team.

Although Ningyue’s face was still full of icy coldness, at least compared to her previous murderous aura, it was already much more amicable.

After returning to the wooden house, the people who stayed behind in the world of heavenly books had already arrived here, and Han Nian ran over when he saw his parents excitedly.

“Dad, Mom!”

Nothing is more important than a family reunion, and nothing is the happiest than a family of three.

The three hugged each other tightly for a long time.

“Mother mother, is she my sister?”

At this moment, Xiaolongyi jumped off Amelia Su’s shoulder and observed

Han Nian: “My sister is also very beautiful.”

Xiaolongyi said aloud and took the family of three Pulling back to reality, at the same time, it also completely attracted Han Nian’s attention to the past.

Amelia Su nodded: “Yes, she is your sister, Han Nian.”

“Mom, what is this?” Han Nian also looked at Xiaolong Ant, full of curiosity for a while.

“He’s your younger brother, his name is Han Si.” Amelia Su smiled.

“My name is Han Nian, and my mother said that Nian means that my mother misses my father. His name is Han Si. That’s...”

“That’s why my father misses my mother.” George Han replied with a smile.

Amelia Su smiled warmly and patted Han Nian’s head: “In the future, you will be your elder sister. Do you need to learn to take care of your younger brother?”

“Understood, can I touch it?” Han Nian said obediently.

Amelia Su hadn’t spoken yet, but the little dragon ant jumped directly to Han Nian’s hand, hehe smiled and said, “Sister, touch it, you can touch it as you want.” After the words were finished, the guy simply lay down . , gave out his belly.

Han Nian was not polite, his little finger lightly tapped his belly, and the itchy little dragon ant giggled.

Such a picture also made everyone smile involuntarily.

Sure enough, the child is the pistachio to eliminate all troubles and grievances, especially, the two children.

Seeing that Han Nian was having a good time and Amelia Su was staring at him, George Han looked up at Ningyue: “Fulin is my newly appointed Lord of the Fallen City. He has a high position and needs to be taught patiently.”

“Hongluan even helped me at a critical juncture, and the reward is the first thing to do.”

“So, Ningyue, please help me guide the two of them.” After the words were finished, George Han looked at Fulin and the others and said. : “Ningyue is one of the two leaders in the alliance, and the Jianghu Bai Xiaosheng is your deputy leader. You should learn from them first, and I will practice pills for you.”

“I have seen Leader Ningyue, see you. The deputy leader.” Fulin and the others said respectfully in unison.

Ningyue glanced at Fulin and others, and nodded at George Han: “I know what to do.”

George Han looked back at Amelia Su, Amelia Su nodded at him, indicating that she would take care of Han Nian herself , George Han then kissed Han Nian’s face, and walked straight to the bamboo house.

After George Han left, Amelia Su also took Han Nian out of the bamboo house to play outside. Ningyue glanced at everyone and said, “Then let’s start too.”

And George Han on the other end had already restarted at this time. Set up his own double dragon tripod.

The blue dragons gathered and the double cauldrons were operating, but at this moment, a strange smile appeared on the corner of George Han's mouth...

Chapter 3837

This is the most powerful cauldron, the most fierce fire, hehe, who is strong and who is weak?

Anyway, it's all your own things. Anyway, alchemy needs to do the same, so why don't you just give it a try?

It's like a direct fryer.

Anyway, Shuanglong Cauldron is not afraid of being bombed, and this bamboo house is not afraid of being bombed. If it is bombed, it will be rebuilt. The only thing I worry about is myself.

But...

George Han doesn't know how many times he's been bombed, it seems... it's not bad this time.

Thinking of this, the strange smile on George Han's face became more and more hideous.

This guy is calm sometimes, but when it comes to tossing himself, this guy is a crazy gambler.

Think of it and do it. After activating the double dragon cauldron, the gods directly bless the sky fire with burning silence, and directly facing the double dragon cauldron is a frenzy.

So that at night, the people in the wooden house saw that the bamboo house was full of fire all the time, and tried to rush over to put out the fire several times.

"Is this alliance leader practicing alchemy, or is he forging iron in the house? The fire is burning too fiercely, right?"

A disciple who had finished practicing Qigong was sitting under the eaves of the wooden house and looking at the bamboo house from a distance. He said softly.

"I'm thinking, we'll cut bamboo and rebuild the house before tomorrow. Why don't you guys rest earlier? Let's get up early in the morning and go straight to the bamboo forest."

"It makes sense. With this fire, even if the leader of the alliance is able to take good care of the fire and not burn the house, the high temperature generated by such a fierce fire is enough to completely roast the bamboo house."

"Sleep, sleep, sleep ." !" When the words fell, a group of disciples got up from under the eaves and walked towards their dormitory.

They are very sensible, and they have stayed with their leader for a long time, and fully understand the characteristics of their leader.

But obviously, even the most sensible person, some things are always better than the gods.

For example, they want to rest early and go to chop bamboo tomorrow, but the problem is, they are destined to sleep well... in the middle of the night.

Everything is safe.

Even the people guarding the teleportation port could finally not need to be on guard for the time being because they should be in peace now, and the night watchmen, who had been nervous for a long time, finally fell asleep peacefully.

But ...

“Crack, snap!”

“Boom, boom!”

Although the strange sound was unusually subtle, it was still particularly harsh in this quiet night.

In the wooden house, the ladies in Ningyue’s house were the first to wake up.

“What sound?” someone asked.

With a move of Ningyue’s hand, she lit the candle in the house, sat on the bed with her clothes on, frowning and listening carefully

“It’s like someone is knocking on something.” Ningyue said.

Poetry also listened to a general idea: “It seems to come from the forest over there. Could it be a strange beast?”

” It is far away, and the three thousand have deliberately divided the area, it is unlikely that they will come to our side under such a ban.” Ningyue shook her head.

“What if there are one or two mischievous people?” Shane said.

“You have lived here for so long, if they are really naughty, have you seen them again?”

Shane Yu shook his head, and what he said seemed to make sense.

In this place for so long, the strange beasts have never disturbed their lives.

But if it weren’t for them, who would it be?

Suddenly, Shane Yu frowned and whispered: “Could it be those people who should fall into the city?”

As soon as these words came out,

Ningyue alert.

Although Amelia Su had already told Ningyue all about the falling city, Ningyue slowly accepted this group of people.

But who can guarantee that this group of people will honestly surrender to George Han?

If there is a traitor in it, then this night is also the best time to act secretly.

Thinking of this, Ningyue directly held it in her hand, and the long sword hanging by the bed was already flying into her hand.

She glanced again, and the candle flame went out instantly, she whispered: "Don't sleep, everyone bring weapons and go out with me." When the words fell, under the leadership of Ningyue, a group of women took the lead in whispering. out of the cabin.

As soon as they arrived outside the wooden house, those male disciples, including Fu Lin and others, happened to all walk out of the room with doubts.

At this time, the distant thumping and thumping sound suddenly stopped...
