

Chapter 384

The scene in the hotel just now, although she was half dazed and half awake and didn't really see it, she also knew that it was Tailor Feng who saved her.

Now getting into the car and leaning into his arms, Fang had the strength to say, "Thank you."

Tailor Feng looked down at her.

He was out on business today and had been in a bad mood lately, so he didn't have a woman with him, but he never expected to run into her here.

It still looks like this shit.

Wasn't she filming? How did you end up with this bunch of sc*m?

It wasn't that he didn't know about those subterfuges in the entertainment industry, and he also knew that there was a group of people who loved to play around with some actresses to highlight their presence.

This kind of thing, you and I, is a power deal and he never asks.

There is some of this happening, including at Serenity International, and as long as they are willing to do it to each other, everyone usually turns a blind eye and no one will be bothered.

After all, in this big dye vat, the water is clear, there are no fish, you can not force everyone to be a saint.

But he had never thought that such a thing would happen to her one day.

Looking at the woman in his arms who was flushed and had almost fallen into unconsciousness, he held his fingertips tight, only hating that his heart was too soft just now and didn't scrap that Liu What Heaven on the spot!

But it wasn't scrapped on the spot, you can scrap it afterwards!

No hurry, take your time!

Let's find out what's going on today first.

Thinking so, he patted her face.

"Hey, surnamed Kang, don't play dead with me just yet, get up and tell me what's going on."

But Evelin didn't react at all with her eyes closed.

Tailor Feng quirked his eyebrows in displeasure.

He didn't want to believe that Evelin would be the kind of person who could throw away her dignity and reputation for money, or even sell her s*x and body to drink with that awful old man?

But looking at her now, she probably couldn't ask any answers.

So, this was why Tailor Feng didn't ask too many questions and drove her to the hospital.

Evelin didn't faint for long.

I woke up about two hours later.

She opened her eyes and looked at the white ceiling, and it took a few seconds for her to realize where she was.

Sure enough, when I turned around, I saw the man coming through the doorway.

"Awake?"

Tailor Feng asked with a cold face and a very bad tone.

Evelin blinked and braced herself to sit up.

"Why am I in the hospital? Did you send me here?"

Taylor Feng mocked the corners of his lips, "If I don't send you to the hospital, do I let you pester me to be the antidote for you?"

Evelin was slightly startled and looked at him, a little startled.

"Did I pester you before?"

"What do you think?"

"Uh..."

Honestly, despite being drugged and drinking alcohol, her memory was a little fuzzy but not broken due to the drug's lack of potency.

All she remembers is being saved by Taylor Feng and then seemingly passing out and getting into the car, and the memory is that she wasn't being a rogue to him.

She's confident in her self-control.

And....

She looked at Taylor Feng's boy-girl face, which was so exquisite that it was overdone.

She doesn't like sissy boys.

Taylor Feng saw staring at her the whole time and thought she had a conscience, because she had saved her last night, so she felt guilty for what she had done before.

I was about to accept her wave of apologies plus a heartfelt dissection, but unexpectedly, the girl shook her head.

thus

After a calm spit out three words, "No way."

Tailor Feng: "....."

Evelin said seriously, "What I did on my own, I remember very clearly, at most, I just borrowed your shoulder to lean on, definitely didn't get on to do anything else, don't bluff me."

Tailor Feng was extremely frustrated.

What happened to the feeling that he had saved a white-eyed wolf?

Now I'd like to shove her back in that hotel and watch her fend for herself!

What was he doing yesterday to save her and scrap the entire Ye Sheng Group for her!

Evelin didn't know what was on his mind and looked at the time to see that it was already three in the morning.

She shrieked, "God!It's so late!"

Tomorrow morning, there will be her drama in the crew, Li Yu's director is always strict, these days she is already very guilty for not performing well, if she goes back late and it affects the shooting tomorrow, she will blame herself to death.

Thinking this, she even got out of bed and said to Tailor Feng as she put on her jacket, "No matter what, thank you just now! I'm not without a conscience, and since you saved my life once last night, I'll buy you dinner some other time, and that's it, bye!"

I said, waved at him, and pulled the door open.

Gone.

Gone.

Gone.

Tailor Feng stood there, looking at the empty bed in front of him, thinking back to what he had done a few hours ago, only to feel like a two-bit b*tch!

fu*king hell!

He gritted his teeth and roared, "Evelin, you're a fu*king heartless bastard! If I meddle with you from now on, I won't be surnamed Feng!"

However, Evelin was already far away, where he could still hear his words.

In the end, Tailor Feng could only exhale and sit on his butt in the hospital bed and call Su Leng.

"Go find out for me what happened last night. Find out and tell me."

.....

After Evelin returned to the set, she took a shower and fell back to sleep.

I didn't expect to sleep until nine in the morning.

Because it's a 10 a.m. play, the costume drama has to be styled and made up, and you have to get over two hours just for hair.

So usually everyone arrives a few hours early, and the director didn't see her in person early in the morning, and had someone go to the hotel to find her, knowing she was sleeping in and didn't look too good all morning.

"What did you do last night? Why are you up so late today."

Evelin smiled somewhat embarrassed, "Sorry ah director, I went out to do something yesterday and came back late, sorry for delaying you guys."

"Well, okay. Hurry up and get made up."

"Good."

Evelin went to the dressing room, and Su Qian snorted as she looked at her hurried appearance.

People didn't know what she was doing last night, but she knew exactly.

Because.....

She coldly hooked her lips, thinking of the picture that people had passed to her phone last night, and got in a better mood.

It wasn't urgent, she had to run the operation, it was just a small thing, but if she did it right, it might be a surprise to her.

After all, who would have thought that a second female in the cast would go to a place like that and make a scandal with a man like that, right!

It will be hard to say whether she can still be the second woman or not when the scandal will be all over the place before the drama is even aired.

Thinking so, Su Qin smiled lightly with pride, just then the director asked her to go over to the venue to shoot her next scene.

Evelin went back to the dressing room and started doing her makeup and styling.

Taking advantage of the gap in her makeup, she pulled out her phone and called Su Hong.

Chapter 385

Although something went wrong last night, it is said that the money was uniformly given to Su Hong first, so there should be no problem on the money side.

As for that General Manager Liu, he deserved it!

She didn't really know what Tailor Feng had done to Liu, and at that time last night, although she hadn't completely lost consciousness, she was still a little confused.

So what people were actually saying at the time, she didn't really hear.

As a result, she didn't know that Tailor Feng had already removed the entire Ye Sheng from Kyoto.

Dialing Su Hong's phone, she even smiled, "Sister Su Hong, that... my appearance fee from last night, do you think it would be convenient for you to transfer it to me now?"

On the other side, Su Hong's tone was filled with frustration.

"Sorry Yoyo, that money... might not be available now."

Evelin was stunned.

"What?"

"Alas! Did something happen to you last night? I got a call from there today saying that you've offended a very important client, and now they've withdrawn the investment that was originally given to them, so..."

Evelin: "....."

"How about this! If you really need money urgently, I still have a little spare money on hand, so I'll lend it to you first, and you can pay it back any time you want, there's no hurry."

Evelin said evenly, "No, thank you, Sister Suhong."

After hanging up the phone, Evelin's mood sank.

She didn't think she'd end up getting even this little bit of money last night.

She slumped over her head and sighed.

Just then, the phone rang again.

It was a call from Cai Laoshi.

Evelin quirked her eyebrows and picked up impatiently, "What do you want again?"

"Good girl, you promised me money, in the end when to give me ah, see this is the twenty-fifth, in a few days this month can be over, people on the other side of the child pushing tightly."

Evelin just wanted to rush to the end of the phone and strangle him to death.

She gritted her teeth and said, "I told you I'd give it to you when the play is finished, but isn't the play not finished yet?What's your hurry?"

Cai Lao Si snickered twice.

"Fine, by the end of this month at the latest anyway, if you can't take it out or dare to lie to me, then don't blame me for being rude!"

Only after Cai Laoshi finished speaking did this cut off the phone.

On this day, as soon as Evelin arrived on the set, she heard that a big investor was coming to inspect the set today.

After asking in detail, I realized that it was Tailor Feng.

Although the play is the main investment of Anning International, there are other investors or investment companies.

Tailor Feng is one of them.

Everyone boiled over when they heard the news.

Who's Tailor Feng?He was the second youngest son of one of the four great families, the famous Diamond King's fifth son.

Though usually a regular in the tidbits, the talk of the town, not many people had actually seen him up close, to say the least.

And over the years, Tailor Feng has invested a lot of drama with Biden Lu, but has never actually gone on a site tour himself.

So for a time, the people who got the news were not thrilled.

Some of the field assistant little girls, mostly attracted by the handsome Tailor Feng in the magazine, want to see the real face of the man.

Those who had seen Tailor Feng in a social setting, however, had other plans.

After all, everyone knew that this second young master of the Feng family was the most flirtatious and the most flower-hungry.

Usually it is.

No chance to get close, it was hard to get up close today, so of course I hurriedly used my eighteen martial arts to make him notice me.

As long as one can climb the high branch that is Tailor Feng, not to mention marrying into a noble family as a young lady, even if one is only a confidante or something, it's enough to make one envious to death.

So the actresses were not fazed.

All of them can be vigorously dressed, even the cold s*x Leng Xiaolian, today also extra half an hour of makeup.

The only person present was Evelin, who was very disdainful of Tailor Feng's arrival.

She poked her head in the sand and thought, Patrol? To put it nicely, it's an inspection, but to put it bluntly, it's just a supervisor, right?

Just that and still so happy, do these people really think they can fly up the branch and be a phoenix or something?

Evelin shook her head helplessly, ignoring those people, and after putting on her makeup, she went straight to the set to shoot the scene.

There are a total of three scenes she will be shooting today, a fight scene, a literary scene, and an emotional scene.

The emotional scenes were filmed first, but the process went smoothly.

The second scene is a literary play.

Taylor Feng, on the other hand, arrived just as she was beginning to make her literary films.

This literary drama is about her willingness to recognize a traitorous official of the dynasty as her godfather in order to find out the truth and take revenge.

Evelin didn't notice Taylor Feng's arrival and was immersed in the scene, but the actor, who played the traitor, noticed the boss's presence and was in a bit of a state of flux, and the director shouted "cut" several times before passing.

And while Evelin was acting out this scene, it just so happened that Su Qin was also here.

She was wearing a big red costume today and was standing not far from Taylor Feng, quietly watching him.

Her play will have to wait until the next one, so it's kind of a waiting game at this point.

Just how did she not expect Taylor Feng to be there today, it was the first time she had seen him in person so close, and she did not expect the man to be so handsome.

The handsome features, the noble temperament, and the reserved atmosphere emanating from the body are simply as enchanting as good wine.

God! How could there be such a perfect man in this world!

Handsome, powerful, and most importantly, rich!

Although from the rumors out there, it seems like a bit of a flirt.

But rich men are all philanderers!

In her opinion, Tailor Feng doesn't have a girlfriend, so it's inevitable for him to be a womanizer. If he had a woman to hold his heart, he wouldn't be fooling around.

Thinking like this, Su Qin's gaze at Tailor Feng again couldn't help but grow hotter.

Tailor Feng is here, and naturally he's the boss on the set.

Even the director, who was respectful of him, kept whispering something to him.

Halfway through the scene, the assistant director, who was temporarily controlling the camera over there, suddenly shouted "Cut!"

Then he ran over and cursed at the actor playing the boy behind Evelin.

It turns out that the boy should have taken a stool to Evelin's sedan chair just now, but unexpectedly took the wrong one and turned it into a cushion.

It's clear that not only are the actresses nervous about Tailor Feng's arrival, but the men are actually nervous as well.

Su Qin saw the situation and snickered beside her, "Actually, it's not that actor's fault, it's mainly because the main actor doesn't carry the pace, of course he's prone to nervous mistakes."

Both Tailor Feng and the director looked up at her unexpectedly.

Su Celery saw that she was noticed, and with a glint of pride in her eyes, she continued, "Of course, if the lead actor is an experienced veteran actor, she should know that this time, she must use her own aura to bring the companions around her into that scenario and act to her rhythm, that way, they won't be easily distracted by things outside the scenario."

Chapter 386

Tailor Feng raised his eyebrows, thoughtful.

Su Qin saw the situation and only took it as if his words had been heard by him, and the smile on her face became even more smug.

Evelin, on the other hand, had no idea what was happening over here.

It was a vicious cycle watching the boy behind him make frequent mistakes because he was nervous, get scolded by the assistant director, and get even more nervous.

She paused and smiled, "Assistant Director, I don't think it's the acting, he's probably a little tired and nervous at the moment, so why don't we take a five minute break and adjust before we come back?"

The assistant director frowned in dissatisfaction at the news.

But in the end, not much more was promised.

"Okay, so take a five-minute break before we continue!"

Evelin smiled at him gratefully when she saw his promise, then walked back to the actor.

She advised in a low voice, "Take it easy, don't be nervous, really go get a drink of water, investors are human too, they can't eat you, so you don't have to be so scared."

The actor didn't look very old, probably a newcomer to the industry, and had a hard time getting a role with such slightly more lines.

I didn't think any investors would come over to see the site, but I guess I had more on my mind and that's why I was nervous about the mistake.

He looked at her gratefully at the news and nodded, "Thank you Miss Evelin, I'll adjust myself."

Only then did Evelin nod her head.

For the rest of the time, in order to relax him, Evelin talked to him some more.

The actor actually knew that he had made a little too many mistakes today.

Therefore, I was already guilty, but now that I was so enlightened by Evelin, I was so grateful.

After all, a newcomer like them was basically no one to look up to, and usually served as a bully in most of the roles in the cast.

It's fine if you can't yell back, it's fine if you can't fight back, it's fine if you encounter a good idea, and if you encounter a bad one, you're often used as a punching bag.

They are a very unstatus group of people in the crew, and because anyone can replace them, they are tight-lipped and careful in everything they do, not knowing that the more they are, the more likely they actually are to go wrong.

He had almost thought just now that the director was going to replace him, but it was only a five-minute break.

These are all thanks to Evelin.

Thinking of this, he looked at Evelin gratefully and said sincerely, "Sister Luoyao, I really thank you this time."

Evelin smiled at him, "You're welcome, I'm also from a newcomer, I know how hard it is when you're just starting out, just adjust your state later and don't make any mistakes."

The other nodded heavily.

Evelin smiled and patted him on the shoulder as encouragement.

And now, the other side.

Tailor Feng's face, however, sank.

He lightened his thin lips and snorted, "Li Yu, did I invest so much money in this movie just to see them actors flirting on set?"

Li Yu was stunned.

Flirting?

No!

He's always been very strict on the set, not even allowed to flirt, so who would dare to flirt here?

And he doesn't remember any couples in his crew!

Seeing his dazed face, Tailor Feng laughed with a very cold smile.

"Are the actresses in the cast free to plead for other actors? Li Yu, I'm paying you to hire these losers to act?"

He suddenly got angry, causing Li Yu to be confused, too, after a good

It took a half-hearted response.

His face turned pale and he said, "Feng Shao, don't be angry, isn't it because everyone is nervous because you're here? Oh, I'll go and talk about it right away, and I promise I won't make any mistakes next time."

As for Evelin's comforting people, he didn't dare to mention a single word about it.

Only pretend to understand.

Tailor Feng's face sank and he snorted coldly.

It's a good thing that actor took Kang Loyao's words to heart, and after the break, he passed without taking two shots.

The last scene is a fight.

Coincidentally, this fight scene is the same one between female #3 Su Qin and female #2 Evelin.

Evelin's female disguise as a man is crashed by Concubine Liu, played by Su Qin, who threatens her with this to use her position to usurp the late emperor's edict and appoint her son, the third prince, as the crown prince.

Female number two is reluctant, Liu chat was about to go out to tell on her, she stopped her, the two is the closed secret room fight, in the end, Evelin Kang as female number two won.

The fight scene is a kind of heavy-handed, sort of a turning point in the play.

Therefore, this play is very important.

The moves of the fight were all set by the martial arts instructor beforehand, and the two only needed to break down and defuse the moves one by one according to their memories.

The scene is set up, and as the director shouts "Action", shooting begins!

Taylor Feng had been sitting on the director's chair, quietly watching Evelin act.

This was the first time he had watched her act live, and the girl was dressed in men's clothing, but she looked handsome and heroic, indeed a bit of a heroine.

His mouth quirked up in amusement.

Evelin and Su Qin also acted very seriously, until Concubine was slapped away by Evelin, her mouth bloodied and laughing.

"b*tch!If you don't let my son become an emperor, I'll drag you along with me, even if I go to hell!"

After saying that, he didn't even want to die and jumped at her in the same position.

She has a dagger hidden in her sleeve, which the script arranges for her to use to stab Kang Loyao, but ends with Kang Loyao kicking her away.

But unexpectedly, at that moment, a sudden change occurred.

The original set move should have been her stabbing the dagger out from the left, and Evelin caught it on the way out and then backhanded it.

But unexpectedly, the dagger came out to stab the right side.

At that moment, almost unexpectedly, Evelin stared at him.

It was too late to dodge, and eventually, there was only time to step back sideways, but the dagger still grazed her arm, bringing up a blood trail.

There were people screaming instantly.

"Ah!Someone's hurt!"

The first person to react was Tailor Feng, who almost instantly jumped up from his chair and said angrily, "What's going on?"

Su Qin also turned pale and hurriedly walked over to Evelin.

"Evelin, how are you?All right?"

I said, to check on her injuries.

But Evelin lowered her eyebrows coldly and took a step back, avoiding her hand.

Su Celery moved stiffly.

At this time, Tailor Feng also came over and pulled her arm over.

Because Evelin was subconsciously covering the wound, she couldn't see how badly it was hurt, but seeing that blood kept spilling out from her fingertips, she could also see that it was hurt quite badly.

One of his handsome faces became even darker.

"What are you staring at?Don't call a doctor yet!"
