

Chapter 3844

few disciples are laughing at the door. After all, George Han is their leader, although they have received professional training I can't help it.

The alchemist of his own alliance blew up the house, and the more he thought about it, the more laughable it became.

But the five people didn't notice that the door opened gently at this time, and then closed again with lightning speed.

However, in this very short process, there was already one more person at the door.

It was George Han!

The five people were laughing happily, and suddenly the extra figure shivered in fright, and hurriedly put away their smiles.

"Alliance... Alliance Leader!"

George Han nodded slightly, but his eyes stayed on the stack of bamboos behind the five people.

Too much, really too much, this is clearly the humiliation of the ** fruit.

"Cough. This alchemy actually has many levels. There are low-level ones and high-level ones. The low-level ones can only produce some low-level medicines that look good in appearance but have average effects. There is a magical elixir that can help."

"But you must also know that the more advanced this is, the more complicated its methods will be. I mean, this may be a bit strange in the eyes of ordinary people."

"Yes yes yes!" The five people lowered their heads, nodding like garlic.

But it is obvious that you can clearly see their slightly raised corners of their mouths through their faces.

George Han was a little embarrassed, he took out the egg-shaped little golden pill and placed it in front of the five.

Only then did the five stop giggling, and they all held back their smiles and looked at George Han.

"Black smoke, that's because there are some unnecessary impurities in the ingredients for refining the medicine pill. I trained it out, so it's naturally pitch black."

"Look, isn't this the final result

?" George Han straightened his back, obviously talking nonsense in that serious manner.

"This golden elixir is indeed very beautiful, but didn't you just say that only low-level elixir would be flashy? This..."

George Han was stunned for a moment, never expecting that his disciple would suddenly react like this. military.

"I also said that those are made by ordinary people. Am I an ordinary person, your leader?" George Han insisted.

"The leader of the alliance is unparalleled in cultivation, like a dragon descending into the world, how can he be an ordinary person?"

"That's right, who is the leader of the alliance, that's a god-man, this will definitely guarantee the color, fragrance, no, appearance and inner coexistence. ."

The other people quickly flattered, but George Han clearly saw the mockery in their eyes.

Although they are disciples, they are obviously not fools. Looking at the egg-sized pills in front of them, and contacting so many new people this time, it is clear that the leader is preparing to make a lot of pills...

This A small one...

Obviously it goes without saying.

How could a person like George Han not notice this, but the bull has already blown it out, and this will continue to blow even if he bites the bullet.

"Don't be flattering, what I said is true, don't look at it as such a small piece, in fact... hum!" George Han said this, deliberately putting on an arrogant look.

The five looked at George Han eagerly, obviously wanting to know how powerful this medicinal pill was.

This finally made George Han's face regain a little bit, and also made George Han's vanity so lost.

"Tell you, it's amazing, it can be said to be a super work that I worked hard for. Just a little bit, hehe, you can greatly increase your cultivation base."

Hearing this, the five people even more eyes . Looking at George Han with begging.

However, it was obvious that George Han couldn't satisfy them. It wasn't that George Han was stingy, but it was clear that the cow could boast, but if they really ate it, the cow would be broken.

"Don't even think about it, this medicine pill is my treasure, and I can't bear to eat it. You should go back and rest, and tell them by the way, so that they can wait a little longer. I only started to concoct pills for them today."

Han After 3000 words, I couldn't help but sighed secretly about my cleverness. I just turned around this matter, how could I do it without a brain? !

But just when George Han was secretly happy and the five disciples were about to leave, a nice voice interrupted everything: "What are you talking about? You look happy?"

Chapter 3845

Six people looked up, but saw Amelia Su walking slowly.

"See the lord's wife." The five immediately respectfully said.

Amelia Su smiled and nodded.

George Han glanced at Amelia Su, also smiled, and then started to cry: "Nian'er."

"This girl likes the little dragon ants very much after seeing the little dragon ants. She is playing outside with her younger brother, and Shi Yu stares at them. ." Amelia Su finished her words and looked at George Han: "I wanted to accompany that girl, but it's not that the whole house where my husband made alchemy is full of black smoke, I'm worried."

George Han scratched embarrassedly. The head is really embarrassing, it seems that everyone knows this.

Fortunately, I have quibbled, at least I can pull back a game.

"Don't worry about the wife of the alliance leader. In fact, the leader of the alliance has already explained the situation to us."

"Yes, the wife of the alliance leader, in fact, the black smoke this time is not an accident, but the leader of the alliance when he concocted alchemy to get rid of the impurities in the medicinal materials. Produced."

"Really?" Amelia Su obviously did not believe this theory, and glanced at George Han.

George Han's head was covered in waterfall sweat. This kind of poor flickering is nothing more than fooling ordinary people. Trying to pass the test in front of Amelia Su is almost like bullshit.

Not to mention that as his wife, he knows a lot about himself. Just relying on Amelia Su's intelligence, George Han also knows that it is absolutely impossible to fool her.

"Yes!" But in front of the five subordinates, the cow that had just been blown out had not yet taken off. Even if George Han knew that he couldn't do it, he had to bite the bullet.

Amelia Su really smiled, her eyes lowered, and she placed the golden pill in George Han's hand.

She suddenly became interested, and then walked a few steps to George Han: "This is your achievement?" Before

Han

George Han could speak, the disciple said excitedly in advance: "Yes, Mrs. Alliance Leader, Don't underestimate it, although it is small, it actually has a huge effect."

"Yeah, the leader just said that just by deducting a small piece of it, it can directly make people's cultivation progress by leaps and bounds. Leaping thousands of miles." The group of people blew it to the point of being a god, making George Han speechless.

How did he expect the news to come so quickly? The cow that just went out was returned so quickly.

When Amelia Su heard the words, she was quite interested and looked at George Han: "Is it really so amazing?"

" I... Who am I, am I?"

Amelia Su nodded, with George Han's ability, it seems that it is not too surprising that a Qidan has been cultivated.

"Then since the medicinal herbs have been refined, why don't they let them bring them to share?" Amelia Su asked strangely.

"Mrs. Alliance Lord, these pill pill alliance leaders said that we made a mistake. The pill he made was his own. He said that it was his treasure. He would only concoct those pills for us to eat later."

"Yeah, looking at the slander of that medicine pill, especially since the leader said it is so amazing, we really want to take a bite .

The five of them looked somewhat lost. Amelia Su turned around, looked at George Han, and said, "It's really what they said, this medicine pill is amazing?"

Damn, it's amazing or not, George Han really doesn't know, but it's all here, what can he say?

Could it be that you are bragging?

Then if he wants to say this, he can almost believe that his dignified alliance leader will be laughed even more by his own brothers.

The leader of the alchemy exploded, and he turned back to brag after the end...

Just thinking about this, George Han's scalp is numb...

No wonder there is a good saying, when you tell a lie, you have to use a hundred lies to go. Yuan, honestly don't deceive me.

At this point, George Han had no choice but to bite the bullet and act like a natural and even smug look: "Of course."

"Can I take a look?" Amelia Su asked.

George Han flashed a bit of embarrassment, and continued: "Of course."

After taking Jindan, Amelia Su took a look around: "It's really good-looking and smells good, it seems to be extraordinary."

Hehe, George Han is very happy .

"Then I'll eat half of it!" Amelia Su put it in his mouth when he finished speaking..
