

Chapter 387

"Yes, quick! Call the doctor."

Li Yu was also shocked and didn't expect such an accident, so he even asked someone to call a doctor over.

Tailor Feng pulled Evelin over to the chair next to him and sat down, and soon after, the doctor came over.

Only then did Evelin let go of her hand, allowing the doctor to dress her with medicine.

Fortunately, she was quick to dodge, so the wound wasn't too deep.

The doctor was a permanent member of the crew, and since it was a costume drama, there was a lot of martial arts, and there had been two accidents before, so then it was simply a surgeon who was matched with a surgeon, in case of any emergencies, so that it could be dealt with in time.

Tailor Feng stared at her wounds, his face very ugly.

"What the hell just happened?"

His gaze was not kind to Su Qian.

I don't know, we all set up a good move in advance, I don't know why she suddenly did not take the move, when the dagger has been stabbed out, I saw her not move, is also anxious to die, want to collect also can not collect back, fortunately this is nothing, if there is really anything I am a murderer?"

That, with an obvious tone of complaint.

Tailor Feng quirked an eyebrow.

Evelin was cold the entire time and looked coldly at Su Qin at the news.

"Are you sure that the direction you just stabbed is the same direction we set our moves before?"

Everyone in the room was stunned when that was said.

What do you mean?

Su Qin was stunned as well, a flicker of guilt in her eyes, but stalked off to explain, "Of course, did you forget? As we agreed before, I'll jab to the right, you catch it, and then return fire."

Evelin sneered.

"But how do I remember it being left?"

"Left? That's impossible!"

Su Qin shook her head without thinking, "It must be that you're remembering it wrong."

When Li Yu saw this, he also felt that something was wrong, so he frowned and asked, "What's going on? How come you can't tell left from right?"

Su Qin saw this and deflated her mouth in aggravation, "Director, the moves we set before are really stabbing the right side, if you don't believe me, go ask the martial arts director ah."

At this time, the martial arts instructor, who had been standing not far away, also came up, coughed, and nodded, "Yes, the move we had set in advance was indeed stabbed out from the right side, Evelin was probably a little tired from three consecutive shots today, so she remembered it wrongly."

Su Celery answered, "Yeah, see if I'm right."

She also said that she sighed and looked at Evelin as if she was quite helpless.

"But you really are, you made a mistake and no one really blames you, so why are you blaming me for the fault? You can't wrong me like this just because Feng Shao is here today and you want to leave a good impression in his heart, right?"

As soon as this was said, Evelin was going to laugh in anger.

The director is not sure of the details because the martial arts director is in charge of the martial arts aspect of everything.

At this point, hearing Su Qin say this, taking into account Tailor Feng's presence, she could only say, "Evelin, you've filmed so many scenes today, you're probably indeed tired, why don't you take a break and heal up first?"

But Evelin said coldly, "No need."

She turned to Li Yu and said in a deep voice, "Director, even if I was tired, I wouldn't even forget the moves I had set up in advance, I distinctly remember that the moves we had set up were to stab to the left, but she temporarily changed it to the right, I would never remember that wrong."

The director lagged.

Su Qin frowned at the news.

"Evelin, why are you still so stubborn at this point? I've said that even if you were at fault, we wouldn't blame you, but the facts are right in front of you and you're still putting the fault on me, aren't you going a little too far?"

The people around them also felt as if it was a bit too much to whisper.

After all, even people's martial arts instruction has said it's the right side, and Evelin still keeps sticking to the left side, isn't it obvious that this is a dead duck with a tough mouth?

Even if you don't want to admit it because of Feng Shao's presence, you can't put the blame on others to save face!

So for a time, everyone looked at Evelin with some contempt.

I didn't expect this person, who normally looks quite innocent, to be so calculating!

Why did you deliberately pick Feng's day to slander others?

Su Qian obviously noticed the reaction and was not a little proud of herself.

Evelin, Evelin, I'll see how you can still hang around the crew after today.

Don't worry, this is just the beginning, there's a big move coming!

As she was thinking this, she saw Evelin walk up to the martial arts instructor and say in a deep voice, "Instructor Zhang, are you sure that the move you set for us before was a stab to the right?"

Guide Zhang's eyes flickered at the words, but he nodded his head with certainty, "Yes, I'm sure."

"Heh, fine."

She smirked and turned to look at Li Yu.

"Director, if I remember correctly, there should be surveillance on the set, shouldn't there? Since we're all on different sides of the fence now, why don't we bring up the surveillance and take a look at it, so that no one can say that I slandered her!"

As soon as this was said, Su Qian and Guide Zhang both changed their faces.

They never expected that Evelin would offer to check the surveillance.

Since the scene had been rehearsed by everyone for a long time beforehand, and surveillance on set is a must, it must have been filmed.

What do we do now?

Su Qin barely smiled, "Evelin, I've told you we don't care anymore, why are you still watching the surveillance? Okay, okay, no matter what, I'm the one who stabbed you, so forget about it, I'll make it up to you, I'm sorry okay!"

Li Yu saw the situation and also felt that watching the surveillance was unnecessary.

We're all on the same crew, and a little thing that makes too much noise will affect the crew's reputation, and when it gets out that Evelin and her crew colleagues don't get along, it will affect her as well.

The most important thing was that Tailor Feng was here, and he didn't want Tailor Feng to think that he had brought out a crew with a hook in the middle that would affect his image.

Therefore, Li Yu then also rounded up and said, "Evelin, I think we should forget about it."

Unexpectedly, Evelin was adamant.

"Director, I think it's better to look at it, after all, it's a big deal, not a small deal, and we're all comfortable when something is cleared up.

It's not that I want to blame anyone, it's just that whoever's responsibility it is, if it's lumped in, I'm afraid that in the end, no one's heart is convinced, but instead it affects everyone getting along.

And it doesn't take much time to watch a monitor left or right, doesn't it, director?"

Li Yu was still hesitant, but beside him, Tailor Feng had already spoken.

"Bring me the surveillance."

This time, even Li Yu couldn't say anything else, so he had to get the surveillance.

The waiting time was not too good for Su Qian and Guide Zhang.

Chapter 388

Because they knew that as soon as they brought in the surveillance, the two would be dead by then.

It's fine if the mistake is just Su Qin, but then you can just say she remembered it wrong and apologize.

But it was partial that Director Zhang was also on her side just now, he was the martial arts director and he designed all the moves, it would be simply unreasonable for him to say that he had forgotten as well.

Thinking of this, Guide Zhang looked at Su Qian reproachfully.

It was all because of this woman, who wanted to outshine Evelin in order to make a fool of herself in front of Feng Shao, and came up with such a temporary method.

Now that the limelight is out of the way, what to do back there?

Su Qian was also a bit panicked at this point.

If Tailor Feng knew that she was deliberately smearing Evelin, then it was uncertain whether she would be able to keep her current number three female position, not to mention her number two female position.

Just then, Guide Zhang suddenly stepped back a bit.

Immediately someone asked, "Guide Zhang, where are you going?"

Guide Zhang chuckled, "My stomach is a bit uncomfortable, I'm going to the bathroom."

"Oh, well, get going then, the surveillance will be here soon, so get going and get back."

"Eh, good."

Guide Zhang hurriedly left.

And Evelin looked in the direction of his departure and coldly hooked her lips.

.....

Two minutes later, the control room came out on a corner.

Director Zhang hurriedly stopped an assistant who had just gotten the surveillance tapes.

"Little Chen, give me the tape."

"Guide Zhang, this..."

"Do you want to be on the crew anymore? You know how much seniority I have, and which director in this circle won't give me a little face? If you want to still be in this business, you better not offend me, you know?"

The assistant was stunned, momentarily embarrassed.

Just then, a cold voice sounded.

"Instructor Zhang, did you excuse yourself to go to the bathroom to come here and threaten Xiao Li and try to destroy the evidence?"

Zhang guided a fierce shock.

When I turned around, I saw Evelin standing there with Tailor Feng and Li Yu and a group of them.

He paled.

When Li Yu saw this scene, he was already furious.

Pointing at Guide Zhang, he cursed, "Zhang Xiaoguang, you actually did such a thing! Just now when Evelin said you might get the surveillance, I defended you, but I didn't expect you to actually...you! You're just mad at me!"

Li Yu and Zhang Xiaoguang's relationship has always been good, although his private life is not very agreeable, but men, to make friends has always only pay attention to the battle, never look at the private life aspect.

But I never thought it would happen today.

Guide Zhang's face was a bit pale, but at this time, even though he still wanted to argue, he was already indefensible.

And Su Qin, who was following behind the crowd, was already ashen.

Evelin turned to Li Yu and asked, "Director, can I prove my innocence now?"

Li Yu nodded as his chest rose and fell in anger.

"This isn't your fault, don't worry, I'll give you justice for today."

These words were not only for her, but also for Tailor Feng.

Tailor Feng's face was indifferent, and he looked at the two men as if he had seen some kind of trash.

"From now on, don't let me see those two in the circle again."

Afterwards, turn around and leave.

Guide Zhang and Su Qin both turned pale at the news.

The message...is to banish them from the entertainment industry altogether!Is it to shut them down?

Su Qin was busy explaining, "Feng Shao, please listen to my explanation, I, I didn't mean to frame Evelin Kang, everything is Guiding Zhang's fault, he ordered me..."

Without waiting for Tailor Feng to open his mouth, Guide Zhang was already furiously red in the face.

"What do you mean, Suqin?You're going to put all the blame on me if it gets out?Obviously, you're jealous of someone's beautiful family resources and want to take them away, so you do it on purpose.

You also used beauty, tempted me, and promised to sleep with me tonight, why else would I help you do such a nasty thing!"

There was an uproar over that.

Although we all know that money and s*x deals are not uncommon in this circle, we haven't really heard anyone put on the table to talk about it.

Su Qin was embarrassed at being exposed.

Tailor Feng fell in a bit of a mood and looked at him with a seeming smile.

"Oh?She said she'd stay with you once tonight?"

"Yes."

Instructor Zhang pleaded, "Feng Shao, I was also compelled by her momentarily to help her lie, please give me a chance, I have studied kung fu for more than ten years, if I can't be a martial arts instructor, then my life will be completely hopeless, and this body of kung fu will have been learned in vain."

Li Yu listened, somewhat unable to bear the thought.

But when I think about what happened, I think he deserved it for ending up in this mess!

He looked up at Tailor Feng.

Only the corner of Tailor Feng's mouth contained a hint of mockery as he indifferently said, "You're right, it would indeed be a pity if your kung fu were to be ruined like this, how about this, I know of a ring that happens to be short of a boxer recently, if you can survive three days there, I'll spare you, how about it?"

He finished with a smirk on his lips, as if he was trying to find a way out.

Guide Zhang listened, but he stared in horror.

People don't know what's going on in that underground ring, would he not?

If he goes there, not to mention his future, it's questionable whether he'll make it out alive!

His lips moved and trembled, "Feng Shao, I can't go to that kind of place, please be kind and let me go, I can stop being a martial arts instructor, don't ever let me go there."

However, Tailor Feng was already too lazy to listen to him anymore.

"Su Leng."

"on."

"Take him over there."

"Yes."

Guide Zhang was eventually taken away by Su Leng.

The people in the crew, they all looked at each other.

And at this point, Su Qin was so scared that she couldn't speak, she was afraid that Tailor Feng would treat her like he had treated Guide Zhang.

But fortunately, she is a woman, Tailor Feng did not do anything to her, just the entertainment industry she definitely do not want to hang around anymore, as for the other, Tailor Feng is really too lazy to bother too much with a woman.

But even expulsion from the entertainment industry was already a very serious punishment for Su Qian.

After all, she was twenty-eight years old, and her family had spent so much money and she had worked so hard to climb to where she was today.

It's been a full ten years since her debut at the age of eighteen, and she would have done nothing else long ago.

Now, however, Tailor Feng drove her out of the entertainment industry, which was tantamount to cutting off her future.

All of this is thanks to Evelin!

Thinking of this, she gave Evelin a cold glance.

She will not make it easy for her if she is offended.

Since she can't make it in the entertainment industry, she's not going to make it in this world anymore either!

Chapter 389

The storm quickly died down as things were resolved perfectly.

When Su Qin was driven away, the play that was about to be finished naturally could not be finished as planned.

The third woman's position will need to be filled later, and it's not as if the candidate will be decided at once or delayed for long.

Thinking of this, Evelin frowned, somewhat preoccupied.

She didn't have much time to think about it, though, because once the matter was resolved, Tailor Feng took her away.

As Tailor Feng pulled her away, everyone could see the fire of gossip in those eyes, and Evelin felt like she was about to be burned.

But helplessly her hand was held by the man and she couldn't get it free.

It was hard to be dragged into the car by him, Evelin was already a bit out of breath and broke away from his hand and asked in a bad mood, "What are you doing?"

Tailor Feng snorted and ordered the driver, "Drive, to the hospital."

Evelin was stunned.

"What's going on at the hospital? My hand is all bandaged up, a little bruise is no problem."

However, no one was listening to her, and the driver soon drove to a nearby private hospital.

Evelin was dragged off the car by the man and thrown straight to the doctor.

"Show her the wound on her arm and give her a tetanus shot."

This hospital was owned by Feng's, and the doctor naturally recognized Tailor Feng.

At this point, he nodded his head, "Yes, Er Shao, don't worry, I'll take her there."

After saying that, he took Evelin away.

Before Evelin could react, the person had been dragged into a room and pressed into a chair.

Immediately afterwards, two doctors began nimbly removing the gauze from her arm and reapplying the medication, while another nurse went to prepare the tetanus shot.

Her skinny little body was surrounded by people, and for the first time she felt like a star.

It's just a bit of a weird environment that's all.

Evelin was a bit cryptic, looking up at the man across the room holding his arm against the doorframe and laughing, "You're making too much of a fuss, I'm really not that serious, and there's no need for a tetanus shot, besides, the wound has just been treated by the doctors in the crew, isn't it asking for trouble to treat it again?"

Tailor Feng sneered, "Don't make a fool of yourself, I'm just having that arm rechecked for you out of humanitarian reasons, in case it's ruined."

After all, the doctors on the crew don't know how good the medical skills are, okay, so if it's a half-barrel, isn't that a mistake?

But he didn't say these words to Evelin.

Evelin sighed helplessly and could only let them torment her.

It took about half an hour to get everything back together and she asked the doctor, "How's it going? Am I okay?"

The doctor smiled, "It's okay this lady, although the wound looks rather exaggerated, it's actually just a flesh wound, pay attention not to touch the water in the near future, rest for a period of time will be fine."

Evelin nodded.

Then, turning to the man standing in the doorway, he gave him a you-see, I-said-it's-okay look.

Tailor Feng turned his head to the side, not looking at her.

But my mind cursed several times.

Damn woman, you don't know what's good for you!

Soon, Evelin's wounds were re-treated, and she stood up rubbing her arm, thinking to herself that although Tailor Feng was a man with a bad mouth, his heart was actually quite good.

At least it was quite caring about her.

A warmth was crossing his heart, but he unexpectedly pulled her right to the checkout window just then.

"Checkout."

"What?"

Evelin was stunned.

Tailor Feng raised an eyebrow, and there was a clear taste of derision in his eyes

“Medicine, bandages, injections, no money? Don’t pay yet.”

Evelin: “.....”

So it’s not like he’s concerned about her, he’s forcibly dragging her here to generate revenue for his own hospital?

Heh...heh....

Evelin almost laughed right out of anger.

The little warmth and gratitude in his heart for what he had just done evaporated!

Evelin said with a cold face, “I don’t have any money.”

Taylor Feng raised an eyebrow, “I don’t have one, so what should we do?”

Evelin was dying of anger.

She sneered, “Taylor Feng, you can’t be so stingy! Forget the fact that you’re the one who dragged me here today, this injury was at least caused by filming. Do you want me to pay if you’re a boss who doesn’t help pay the medical bills?”

Taylor Feng looked at her with a smile, “Are you sure this is a work injury? And not deliberately targeting you because of that woman’s personal vendetta against you?”

Evelin stalled.

Gritting his teeth, he said, “Taylor Feng! You want to die, don’t you?”

Taylor Feng saw her blowing up, and knew that she couldn’t be teased anymore to this extent, so he even laughed: “Eh, I’m just joking with you, you’re not so serious! Tsk, look when I, Taylor Feng, have ever let a woman spend money?”

Besides, he owns the hospital. He doesn’t have to pay for it.

Evelin saw him finish his explanation with the cashier, then hugged his arm and walked out.

Tailor Feng was busy following up.

"Eh, where are you going?"

Evelin said coldly, "Where else can you go? Back to the set! Shoot!"

"What else are you filming now? I've taken leave for you, don't worry, I'm still a very humane person, although because you're injured to delay the construction period, I don't know how much investment I'm going to waste again, but I still told Li Yu to let you rest for a few days to recuperate from your injuries."

Evelin paused in her tracks.

Turning to look at him, his eyes were cold as hell.

"Tailor Feng, just tell the truth, what do you really want? Why do I always feel like you're deliberately trying to get on my bad side?"

God knows she was going crazy in her desperation for money, and this product drove Su Qin away at this point, making it so that now the play can't be killed and she can't get the money.

Just the thought of that filled Evelin with fire.

Although she also knew that Tailor Feng was doing this to help her out.

But she always felt that the man's intentions were not so simple.

Tailor Feng raised his eyebrows, and a guilty conscience flashed across his eyes.

"I didn't mean to get on your bad side! You...you're so well-meaning...I'm just helping you out because of our childhood love, and I'm really treating you as if you're anyone's favorite."

He's clearly not saying this in the right words.

Evelin, however, had no desire to dwell with him any longer.

"Okay, whatever your intentions are, please stay out of my life, I'm going back to the set, bye!"

There was a pause, and a vicious correction: "No, never again!"

Afterwards, that's when I turned around and hitched a cab, and just walked away.

Tailor Feng looked at the back of the car leaving and puffed up his gills in anger.

Kicked a pebble from the road into the grass with a raised foot and gritted his teeth, "Heartless dead girl!"

Because Evelin was injured and the third woman had to pick a new candidate, the crew had to suspend filming and take a few days off.

But then, on the first day of vacation, something happened.

Some unknown V on the internet has suddenly popped up with a few photos.

The picture was a picture of a pooped man with his arms around a young girl in the hallway of some large entertainment venue.
