

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3908

Claire asked in surprise: "Dad, why do you dress so formal today?"

Jacob stretched out his hand to adjust his tie, and said with a smile: "After all, I am a Rolls-Royce Cullinan driver. Naturally, I have to be more careful in dressing, otherwise others would think I am a driver."

Claire said helplessly, "Dad, don't forget that the Rolls Royce you drove was given to charlie...Why don't you ask charlie if he needs that car? "

Jacob touched his nose awkwardly, and quickly asked charlie: "Good son-in-law, do you... do you want to use a car? If you want to use it, Dad will leave this car for you..."

As he said, he said again: "Good son-in-law, but if you don't use it for the time being, then dad will drive it temporarily. When you want to use it, tell me in advance, I will leave the car for you, and I will definitely not delay you. use!"

charlie smiled slightly and said casually: "Dad, don't worry about driving. I won't drive that car. If it's convenient, can drive that BMW 530 back and give me occasional walks."

When Jacob heard this, he was overjoyed and blurted out: "Good son-in-law, in this case, dad will drive for you first. If you want to experience a Rolls Royce, dad will be a driver for you!"

After finishing speaking, he hurriedly said: "That BMW 530 is parked downstairs of the Calligraphy and Painting Association. Otherwise, I will arrange for someone from the Calligraphy and Painting Association to send it back to you after a while!"

“Yes.” charlie said with a smile: “It just so happens that I have an appointment for dinner at night, and I need a car.”

Claire asked charlie, “Husband, are you eating out at night?”

“Yes.” charlie nodded and said: “I made an appointment with a friend.”

“Okay.” Claire knew that charlie had many friends now, so he didn’t think much about it.

charlie asked Claire:, have you considered whether to take over that Miss Zhan’s decoration project?”

Claire nodded lightly, and said seriously: “I have considered it, I plan to take this project, and then do my best with my heart and soul! Strive to get a good one in the National Interior Design Competition. Ranking!”

After that, Claire hurriedly said: “Husband, I still decided not to charge that Miss Zhan’s design fee, so that you don’t have to owe her favors.”

charlie nodded and smiled: “It’s okay, you just decide, I support you 100%.”

Claire said, “I plan to meet with that Miss today. It would be better if the design fee can also be converted into the decoration budget!”

charlie knows that his wife has always wanted to do something in the field of design.

Moreover, the achievements in this field are works and awards.

However, the wife has not found a suitable opportunity for her to use her own fists.

Now that she has such an excellent opportunity in front of her, it must be difficult for her to refuse.

At this time, Elaine walked to the table with the soup pot, and asked curiously: "clire, what did you just say that you don't need the design fee?"

Claire hurriedly said, "It's nothing, just chatting with charlie."

Elaine nodded and reminded: "I can tell you that when you come out to do business, don't give any acquaintance's face! Some acquaintances, no matter how you give them face, even if you post money to him, he thinks you have made a profit. He has a lot of money, so no matter who is looking for you, you can earn as much as you should, and you can't make a single cent cheap!"

charlie smiled and said at this time: "Mom, let's not make decisions for her, let her make the decision for herself."

Elaine wanted to say something, but he hesitated for a moment, and swallowed what he said.

She knew in her heart that charlie was the real head of the family in this family. If she didn't want to be as miserable as souna next door, she had to listen to charlie...

So she immediately changed her words and said: "The good son-in-law is right! , you make your own decision, no matter what, mom will support you!"
