

Warning My Mommy is A Savage! Chapter 401 – 403 by Seeking A Peaceful

Chapter 401

Charmine stood alone in the room, her existence entirely neglected by the Cabells and Jordans,

During Charmine's engagement party, neither Joey nor Adam came to see her. They did not even bother to partake in the wedding planning either, sending mere staff to take care of everything. To them, their 'actual' daughter Tiffany was the most important child, no matter how many mistakes she had made. Tiffany was still their 'true' daughter while Charmine was just an adopted child, the disobedient child ever since she was a child. Still, Charmine remained calm; she was accustomed to such treatment for as long as she could remember.

Charmine rolled her eyes and walked out calmly. When Adam and Joey saw Charmine, they both jolted slightly.

Since when was Charmine in there? Why did they not realize her presence?

Joey quickly reacted as she beamed, "Glad you're here! You sisters should be kind to each other, especially now that Tiffany's pregnant. You should be even kinder to her."

"The past is in the past, Charmine. Do behave well today," Adam warned Charmine.

Charmine inwardly scoffed. Was Tiffany ever told such words?

She did nothing and yet was told to behave? So they were being so protective of Tiffany, eh? Afraid of her getting harmed?

Hah! One could only wonder how they would feel when Tiffany's true colors would be exposed later on.

Charmine offered a small smile. "Don't worry, I'm aware she's pregnant. I'll be on my best behavior toward her."

Her words had deeper implications. Tiffany was terrified, but thinking of how the wedding was about to happen, what else could Charmine do?

Though, the baby in her stomach was not...

Besides Oliver, nobody else knew about this, and Oliver would not dare to expose her. Tiffany wanted every ounce of happiness ripped right out of Charmine!

At that moment, a mocking voice rang in the air, "Hmph, I thought nobody would attend the wedding of a heartless douche and a fake b*tch, but it surprises me how there are many attending! Why do you all have to make such a big deal out of this? Can't you just get a certificate and call it a day? I'm embarrassed to be related to you!"

Tiffany reeled back in shock. How dare anyone speak to her in such a manner?!

Both the Jordan and Cabell families turned to see a man in black pants and burgundy shirt, looking sloppy and scornful.

It was Rio Young

He was Senior Jordan's fifth daughter's son, the son of the Young family-Tiffany's cousin and the nephew of Adam and Joey.

Joey instantly scowled. "Rio! How could you be so rude? Tiffany is your cousin! You can't listen to the rumors online!"

"I'm sure one knows how to tell the truth from the lies. Charmine had been with Julian for eighteen years, so how is that fake news? And the mean things Tiffany had done, can they be fake?" Rio stated loudly as he scorned everyone in front of him. "If I have a son and daughter like them, I would've beaten them to death out of shame. How could you all make such a big deal out of the wedding? Are you unaware of how foolish this is?" Rio's words were sharp and insulting. The two families glowered in fury, especially Tiffany, whose face turned green.

Chapter 402

Tiffany was well aware that most of the wedding attendees looked down on her, but as long as they did not show it to her face, she could endure it. Once she and Julian would be officiated, she would become Mrs. Cabell, the Mile-End Corporation's president's wife!

Rio just had to run his mouth with such scathing words that irked her so badly! Noticing that Tiffany was on the verge of tears, Joey quickly grasped her hand and hissed at Rio, "What rights have you got to criticize her? Also, who hasn't made any mistakes before? Yes, she had made mistakes, but she has owned them up and promised to never do these again. Why are you still bringing that up?"

"Yes! You called my son a heartless douche, but do you know how hard he tried to chase Charmine and make it up to her? She was the one who rejected him and even posted these rumors online!" Though Madam Cabell was scolding Rio, her glare was fixed on Charmine.

Anyone would assume that Charmine was the one posting the rumors since she did not want them to be happy!

That only made Charmine bitter. Why did they all think she had that much free time? Julian warned her through a text message, and Madam Cabell was mocking her. What made them think she was that carefree?

Before she could speak up, Adam scolded Rio, "Rio, stop messing around! Today is your cousin's wedding. You've accomplished nothing, so what rights have you got to criticize others? Before you judge others, judge yourself first!"

Anyone in Burlington was aware that Rio was a useless rich kid. His parents were admitted to the hospital triggered by his arrogant attitude, and he was eventually kicked out of the Young family.

Thinking of that, Tiffany's eyes twinkled with malice for a brief moment before she turned a pitiful face as she muttered, "Dad, Mum, don't scold my cousin-he's got good intentions. Perhaps it was our fault to have made this wedding such a big deal. I don't have the rights to have such a grand wedding..."

Tiffany brought her hand up to wipe her tears.

Her act broke the hearts of those around her. Joey rubbed her hand and comforted, "Don't be silly! Even those who came out of jail could start over, so what does that mean for you? Don't think too much."

"No, Mum, my cousin is right. We should make it less festive." Tiffany then turned to Rio and said, "Thank you for pointing this out for us, I totally agree with you, but... As you can see, the guests are already here, and everything is already set. It can't be canceled. If you have anything, please tell me earlier, and I'll take note of it."

'You're too late, so stop messing around,' was what Tiffany meant.

Rio nearly combusted out of anger; Tiffany was the true definition of fraud.

Meanwhile, Tiffany continued, “No matter what, I’m truly grateful for your concern. Please tell me if you’re in need of help, be it about your life, career, or if you need a place to live. I can help you.”

Tiffany was basically mocking Rio for not having a job or house.

Joey glared at Tiffany. “Tiffany, are you silly? He’s kicked out from the Young family, being the useless man that he is! Why would you help him?”

“That’s right. He’s already twenty-five years old and yet hangs out with his useless friends every day! However much money you give to this kind of man, he’d spend it all! And he was criticizing you! Why would you be kind to him?” Adam was frustrated as well.

Tiffany shook her head. “No, please don’t say that. I’m sure Rio is gifted in his own way. What about this, Dad, Mum: Didn’t you give me a factory for my birthday last year? Let Rio manage it for us. Although he’s incapable of doing so, we can help him out. We’re a family, after all.” She sounded so considerate and thoughtful, yet no one knew about the factory’s condition...

Chapter 403

The factory was the Jordans’ lowest-valued factory, responsible for making various real estate models for the Monique Group. Back then, Adam gave this factory to Tiffany as a challenge. Tiffany spent half a year there learning, withstanding all the hardships. Since they only produced real estate models, the dividends were extremely low, being less than 200,000 per year.

Tiffany no longer wanted it for a long time, and yet she pretended to be generous to give it away.

Rio’s eyes twitched. Did he seem poor to her? Did he need her charity?

“That was your gift!” Adam spoke before Rio could even get a word out. “How could you give it away? Especially to this useless trash who never sides with his own cousin... He even tried to ruin the wedding! He doesn’t deserve your kindness!”

“Dad, I just want Rio to get back on his feet and have a career...” Tiffany begged.

“No! You’re too kind! You can’t give the factory away!” Joey objected.

Finally, Rio ran out of patience and he scoffed, “Hold right there; hold your tongue.

Which eye of yours see that I need your charity? Which ear of yours heard that I want your factory? That factory’s dividend is less than three hundred thousand per year.

How’re you not ashamed about it and even make such a big fuss out of it?”

He scorned with a mocking tone.

Tiffany lowered her head and said pitifully, “Rio, I... I’m only trying to help. I only have this factory with me...”

Julian, seeing everything unfolding, embraced Tiffany comfortingly. “Tiffany, there are always ungrateful people in the world. You want to help them, and they’d criticize you for not helping enough. Don’t waste your time with this kind of person.”

“What an ungrateful person!” Madam Cabell agreed.

Adam said directly, “You’re just a useless and unsuccessful man with no job. How dare you look down on a factory that generates at least two hundred thousand bucks per year?”

Tiffany lowered her head as if she was hurt, but the truth was that she enjoyed the leverage she had.

Hah! Trying to insult her, was he? The tables have turned in her favor!
That was the cost of offending her!

However...

Rio met the eyes of everyone and gave a cold smirk. "Who said I'm an unsuccessful man without a job? President of the RisingHawk Entertainment-nice to meet you."

With that, he took out a few name cards from his pocket and tossed them in the air for them. Instantly, countless cards flew in the air, falling onto the ground with a clear print:
(President of RisingHawk – Rio Young]

The name cards were in gold!

Everyone gaped at the sight. The once-useless and jobless Rio Young had become RisingHawk's president?

How...how could it be?!

RisingHawk had signed with many artists with a market cap of at least one billion, and Rio was the president?

So his net worth would be at least...

Tiffany felt as if she was slapped in the face. She tried to 'gift' this highly-valued man her small factory worth only 200,000?

How embarrassing!

Everyone else looked funny as well, as if they had eaten the poop of a fly.

Julian's eyes narrowed. "Doesn't RisingHawk belong to Charmine?"

Charmine?

Oh, right!

Everyone snapped back to reality. Who would not know that RisingHawk belonged to Charmine? She kept such a high-profile about it, tossing out money as if they were free on Twitter for the whole world to know!
