

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 4060

However, dhilon's three words of lightness were equal to all the cash he prepared.

This also means that Jian has already sold out and can no longer continue the game.

However, the unwilling Jian Center thought: "The payment time for the auction is half an hour. If you think of a way in this half hour, you should be able to raise some funds from other places!"

Thinking of this, Jian raised his hand again and blurted out, "I will pay 210 billion!"

Jian Center knew very well that this was his last bid tonight.

If dhilon continues to increase the price, then he can only admit defeat, and he will start preparing for the aftermath when he goes back.

Although the granddaughter Fei Kexin has established a certain relationship with the owner of Huichundan, but now that Huichundan has reached this price, Jian no longer has any hope for Fei Kexin, because he knows that the granddaughter can never do it for himself. to a rejuvenation pill.

Unexpectedly, dhilon said immediately without any hesitation: "220 billion!"

At this moment, Jian's expression instantly froze, and his body movements also stagnated at this moment.

He finally realized why this auction was so crazy.

Because it is really about human life.

You win, and life can be extended.

If you lose, even if you are worth hundreds of billions or trillions, if you get out of this door, you have to wait for death.

If the physical condition is not so bad and can continue for another year, there may be a chance to come back and compete for the rejuvenation pill.

Otherwise, if you are like Jian, you can basically go back and prepare for the funeral.

Jasmine moore looked at Jian at this time and asked, "No. 035, do you want to continue to bid?"

Jian suddenly came back to his senses, and immediately looked at Jasmine moore with a dead face, and shook his head dejectedly.

He knew that he had lost.

Even if he continued to bid, and he couldn't pay by then, he would only be able to draw water from a bamboo basket.

Moreover, when the time comes, he will be ridiculed by the audience.

And he, at this moment, also knows that his life is not long, and continuing to struggle will only be in vain, but will lose the last trace of dignity.

Frustrated, he waved his hand and did not continue to ask for the price.

Immediately, he buried his head and forced himself to accept the reality of the imminent end.

Jay on the side was also full of emotion. He wanted to comfort Jian, but he didn't know how to comfort him for a while.

So, he could only pat Jian on the back lightly, and said in a low voice, "Jian, don't get emotional about your current physical condition!"

Jian nodded slightly, but his heart was still in pain.

Dhilon looked at Jian's back, sighed, and whispered, "Uncle Jian, I'm sorry..."

In the box on the second floor, Fei Kexin was already in tears, and the makeup that had been slightly powdered on her face had been turned into tears by her.

At this time, she deeply knew how desperate her grandfather was.

That kind of despair, I am afraid, is more desperate than falling into an ice cave in the twelfth lunar month of winter when water is dripping into ice.

And she herself, while feeling sorry for her grandfather, can't help but be full of sadness.

Because, she also knows that Huichundan is so expensive now that even the entire Fei family's cash reserves are not enough to buy it. In this case, what kind of favor is she giving to Charlie?

So, what do you want to ask Charlie, ask him to give Grandpa one, or even half a rejuvenation pill?

charlie made 300 billion US dollars in an auction, and if he took out 100 million US dollars at random, he could repay all his favors dozens of times...

And charlie, who was in the monitoring room at this time, was also a little horrified.

220 billion US dollars, this is a shocking wealth, but this dhilon, the declared capital is only 100 billion US dollars, who is his real identity? !

At this time, Jasmine moore at the scene started the last three inquiries as usual.

After no one raised the price for the last three times, she dropped the hammer excitedly and announced loudly, "Congratulations to No. 099, who successfully won the only rejuvenation pill in this auction at a price of 220 billion US dollars!"

As soon as he finished speaking, No. 099 dhilon stood up slowly, looked at Jasmine moore, and said loudly, "Miss moore, I know the owner of Huichundan, and I must be watching everything happening here from somewhere at this moment. I want to take this opportunity to discuss a business with him!"

Facing dhilon's behavior of not playing cards according to the routine, Jasmine moore didn't know how to answer.

After all, this is the owner of the 220 billion US dollars, and he certainly can't just drive him out just because he doesn't obey the discipline?

Just when Jasmine moore was hesitating, dhilon looked at one of the surveillance probes and said loudly, "As long as you let me take this Huichundan away, I can pay you $300 billion!"
