

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 41

Liam Lu looked at Shiyue abruptly, pulled his collar to the front, Sen Han asked him fiercely with his eyes.

“Zoey Gu went into my room. Did she come to see me?!”

“Lu Shao, calm down, it’s Miss Gu, she has indeed visited you.”

Shiyue took a tight breath and looked at Liam Lu’s face with trepidation, “I know she is worried about you, and deliberately brought people to the deck to chat, leaving time for you.”

“So last night, she did go to your room. And also...”

“Go find her.”

Liam Lu let go of Shiyue, and when he heard that Zoey had come, his expression was a little relieved, “Let her come over, I want to see her. Or, I can see her.”

When the voice fell, Shiyue slightly changed his face by the bed.

“Master Lu, this is not a yacht, we are already returning to the garden.”

Shiyue paused before watching Liam Lu’s face cautiously said.

“Ms. Gu has been in the room since I saw you last night. Today, the yacht docked, I took you to the car, and ordered the two men to pick up Miss Gu. When I went back, she was gone.”

Liam Lu shook suddenly, thinking that she took away his ring, his face instantly became terrifying.

The next second, he suddenly lifted the quilt, stumbled and walked towards the door.

“Liam!”

Shiyue hurriedly stepped forward to support him.

“Miss Gu has returned to Berven City, and Lydia Lin has been exposed and has escaped. She is now not only free, but also safe. You don’t need to worry so much.”

“You do not understand.”

Liam Lu closed his eyes fiercely, "It's the easiest to get into trouble when you are alone and don't care about life or death."

After leaving Liam Lu's yacht, Zoey Gu went directly to the police station.

The two female police officers inside received her.

When she saw that Miss Gu, who had always been stinky in the eyes of the Berven City media, the expression on her face was obviously cool and contemptuous.

"Let's talk about it, what kind of case are you here to report? Could it be that which man abandoned it again and wanted us to help collect a compensation?"

Zoey didn't mind this, looked at the policewoman fixedly, and spoke very calmly.

"I want to report my stepmother Lydia Lin, illegally under house arrest, illegally hurting others, and illegally causing death. Also, I have a way to show her as soon as possible so that she can confess everything to you in person."

From the police station, it was already dark.

The two policewomen had changed their attitudes when they sent her out. Not only did they kindly give her a coat, they also gave her a taxi.

Zoey Gu knew that they were sympathizing with her.

Those filthy, disgusting and terrible pasts, even if they were changed to her, and experienced again, there was really no courage.

She returned to Gu's house.

Lydia Lin lost the bargaining chip in control of her father and younger brother. She had troubles one after another, and Liam Lu must also know the truth.

Lydia Lin will naturally escape.

Because the incident happened suddenly, no matter how good things were in the Gu family, she could only reluctantly leave them behind.

The only money and bank card that Lydia Lin could take away were temporarily frozen at her strong request. Without the money, she won't last long before she will show up.

Zoey Gu turned on all the lights inside and outside of Ma Dagu's house.

I made another call and went out.

But for a long time, a car stopped outside the gate of Gu's old house, and several men jumped out of the car one after another.
