

Super Rich Dad Chapter 449-450

Chapter 449

'I don't know, we're communicating with them now, but they seem to be very determined to stop all our projects, I asked them to give a deadline for stopping work, they said they're not sure, what can we do?'

'Not sure?' Hearing these words, Ye Yunjie instantly knew that things had gone horribly wrong.

If the other party could give themselves a clear deadline for stopping work. Then this stoppage of work was understandable.

After all, the other party was suspecting that there was something wrong with the quality of their project, and as long as they checked and verified that there was no problem, the project could also be restarted.

And now the other party is uncertain, which is equivalent to a rod expended eight hundred feet away.

A day of stoppage is also uncertainty, a year is also uncertainty, the water in this, too big.

And what makes Ye Yunjie feel most strange is that the other party has found itself at this point in time. Saying that there is a problem with the quality of your project, obviously there is not only something fishy here, but also something very fishy.

After all, the Chu family's father and son had just come to their door and disgusted themselves a bit on the front foot. The next time, someone from this side came to stop their project temporarily.

To say that there was no connection here, Ye Yunjie would not believe it.

After all, she was still wondering why the Chu family, which was already dead for sure, was now alive again, and had acquired an engineering equipment company that was even bigger than its company.

There must be some mysterious person behind this, and this mysterious person is probably also directly related to this time the quality inspection department let the project stop work temporarily.

Ye Yunjie pondered slightly and returned, 'You stall them first, I'll go back immediately.'

After saying the words, Ye Yunjie hung up the phone.

'What's wrong Sister Ye?' Jiang Hao hurriedly asked.

As soon as Ye Yunjie picked up the phone just now, Jiang Hao had already sensed that something was wrong.

'Something has happened at the south of the city project!' Ye Yunjie hurriedly told Jiang Hao everything that had been said on the phone before.

Immediately afterwards, she also told Jiang Hao her thoughts as well.

‘Young Jiang, behind this matter, I think there must be someone else who is manipulating the situation!’

Jiang Hao couldn’t help but nod, ‘You thought of it together with me, I also think that someone must be planning a big game, wanting to eat us all up in one bite.’

Jiang Hao sighed and continued again, ‘Come on Sister Ye, let’s go and take a look. What kind of jackals and tigers the other side is, we’ll know once we see them.’

After he finished speaking, Jiang Hao took a step and headed outside, while following him, Ye Yunjie and the rest of the group also hurriedly followed him out.

Half an hour later, in a conference room of Ye Yunjie’s company.

At this moment, the conference room was divided into two groups of people, one group was a group of Ye Yunjie’s men, all of them looked solemn, and every now and then there were people who looked at the time and exchanged questions about why Ye Yunjie was not back yet.

Sitting on the other side of these people was a group of people from the quality inspection department.

These people had stern faces the whole time, without the slightest expression to speak of.

All of these people were dressed in grey-brown suits, except for the one person sitting in the middle of the group, who wore a blue suit and looked particularly eye-catching.

‘When is your manager coming back?’ Suddenly, the man in the blue suit spoke up and asked, and gently pushed a folder in front of him to the other side of the negotiation table with a solemn expression, ‘If she doesn’t come back yet, then this notice of temporary suspension of construction. Please accept it for the time being!’

As soon as this man said this, Ye Yunjie’s group of men instantly became ants on a hot pot one by one, scratching their ears and cheeks with a face that was at a loss of what to do.

One man hurriedly got up and said while looking at the time, ‘Wait a bit longer, I think it should be soon, President Ye has just gone to talk about cooperation and is quite far away, so I guess he will be back soon.’

The man in the blue suit couldn’t help but laugh and shook his head as he asked, ‘This isn’t an excuse for you guys to stall for time, is it? Just now you guys said you would wait for a while, but it’s already been half an hour, and our time is also very precious, so this temporary suspension notice is still under your hands first, as to when work can resume. Let’s wait for the notice.’

The other party spoke without the slightest hint of delay, and was very clean and concise.

After speaking, he stood up from his chair and prepared to leave. The few people beside him also hurriedly got up at the same time, ready to stride away.

This was something that made Ye Yunjie's men desperate.

After all, they were just a bunch of subordinates who could not make decisions for Ye Yunjie.

If they accepted the notice, they would be agreeing to the temporary suspension of work, and even if Ye Yunjie used her connections to resume work later, it would add to the trouble.

And if they could not resume work. If they could not resume work, they would be even more guilty, and almost all the black pots would be put on their heads.

Therefore, although they were also suffering from the anger of both sides, they had no choice but to work around the situation and try to delay for Ye Yunjie for as long as possible. So that Ye Yunjie could deal with this matter on her own when she returned.

But right now, it seems that they can no longer wait for Ye Yunjie's return, as she is already taking steps to leave.

The blue-suited man at the head of the group had already left his seat and was ready to walk outside the conference room.

And almost at that moment, the door of the conference room was suddenly pushed open.

Then a voice came over coldly and arrogantly, 'Wait for me first!'

The person who spoke was none other than Ye Yunjie, who quickly pushed her way in from outside the conference room, while Jiang Hao followed closely behind her.

Once they saw that Ye Yunjie had returned, her subordinates all seemed like they had seen their backbone, and were all excited.

'Sister Ye, you've finally come back.' A young man let out a long sigh of relief, his eyes gesturing for Ye Yunjie to look at those people opposite him and said, 'If you don't come back we really can't hold it off anymore.'

As this man said that, he hurriedly gave up his seat, 'Sister Ye, you sit down.'

And at this time, the other people sitting on the chairs, after seeing this youth's action. They also got up one after another and walked to the back.

After all, behind Ye Yunjie was Jiang Hao, and of course they were clear about their status, with Jiang Hao sitting, where were they qualified to sit on the side?

Ye Yunjie also hurriedly gestured for Jiang Hao to sit down. She then hurriedly looked at the few people opposite her who were already preparing to leave and spoke, 'Sorry, there was a slight traffic jam just now and I'm late. May I ask what the problem is? Why did you guys want to stop our project?'

Ye Yunjie didn't mean to ask in a nice voice. It was like a questioning tone.

After all, Ye Yunjie knew very well that these people were probably just clerks, and it was not their turn to treat them with respect.

When these few people saw this, they also seemed to be a bit upset. So they didn't even sit back down in their seats.

The blue-suited man at the head of the group spoke directly, 'Heh, what's the problem, don't you know it clearly in your own hearts?'

'Nonsense, if I knew, why would I need to ask you guys?' Ye Yunjie immediately disliked back in a cold tone and said, 'I hope the explanation you give me today is reasonable, or at least something that I can't pick out, otherwise, don't let this matter rest in peace today!'

Hearing Ye Yunjie's tough attitude, those few people couldn't help but whispered and combined their thoughts, and then they all sat back in their seats.

The last one to speak was the man in the blue suit, who looked at Ye Yunjie with a cold expression and said, 'Fine, since you say so, then I will let you be convinced!'

As he spoke, that man pulled out a paper document from the folder he carried with him and pushed it directly in front of Ye Yunjie who was across the negotiation table.

'Read it yourself!'

Chapter 450

Ye Yunjie took the document and glanced at it, then frowned, then her face had a slight rise and fall, and finally handed it to Jiang Hao.

'Impossible, this is a fake!' Ye Yunjie said firmly, 'All of our engineering materials are chosen to be of the highest grade, there would never be such a problem!'

Ye Yunjie's brows were locked, the document that the other party handed her, she categorically did not believe it.

What the other party handed over was an engineering quality appraisal assessment certificate.

And most of the data on it showed that it was all qualified. But according to normal practice, all the options on this form should be qualified, but what surprised Ye Yunjie was that there was one item on it that was assessed as unqualified!

And that item indicated the concrete, which was the most important item of the project.

Normally, concrete strength grades are divided into 14 levels: c15, c20, c25, c30, c35, c40, c45, c50, c55, c60, c65, c70, c75 and c80.

c20 is used for flooring, c25 for multi-storey reinforced concrete structures, c30-c35 are mostly used for small high-rise reinforced concrete structures; c40 and above are mostly used for high-rise reinforced concrete structures. Pipe pile concrete is generally c60 and above.

Normally, most of the projects in the south of the city. However, at the beginning of the City South project, Ye Yunjie had already informed Liu Guohao to upgrade the concrete grade to c75 in order to make the project quality reach the top level.

Ye Yunjie did this for fear that there would be problems with the quality of the project.

But she didn't expect it after all. In the end, what she was afraid of came to pass, and in the quality appraisal certificate, it turned out that the grade of the concrete did not even reach c40.

That's why Ye Yunjie bit the bullet and concluded that the appraisal was a fake.

The company's main business is to provide a wide range of products and services to its customers.

He hurriedly whispered to Ye Yunjie and asked, 'Sister Ye, is there a big problem?'

Ye Yunjie nodded slightly and briefly explained the problem to Jiang Hao.

Jiang Hao also paled at the smell, pondered slightly, and said, 'It seems that this is a combination of people's fists, huh?'

'Yeah, and it's still trying to kill us all at once!' Ye Yunjie glanced at the man in the blue suit sitting opposite her and said indifferently, 'But he's also underestimating me too much!'

After she finished speaking, Ye Yunjie raised her head and looked at the man across from herself in a condescending and unyielding manner, saying, 'Don't think I don't know the foul play here, we don't approve of the appraisal you gave, we will find a professional third party organization to conduct the test ourselves, and if something goes wrong, we will deal with it ourselves, now you can go!'

Facing each other. Ye Yunjie had no intention of giving in, her attitude was too tough.

The other party could not help but frown at his words, surprised, 'What are you saying? You don't approve of our appraisal? Let us go?'

The other party couldn't help but laugh and suddenly slapped the table violently, got up and shouted violently, 'I'm afraid you don't know who you are anymore, do you? Do you know who you're talking to?'

The blue-suited man was furious and thunderstruck, clearly enraged by Ye Yunjie's words.

Your own job is to manage the City South project, and if you have problems with the quality, I naturally have the right to give you a determination letter to stop work.

But Ye Yunjie didn't seem to care about herself at all, she simply treated herself as if she was air, and this really made the man in the blue suit a bit upset!

You know, in the past, wherever you went, the other party would always treat you with respect and respect, practically wanting to offer yourself up as an ancestor.

But this was the first time he had ever seen someone like Ye Yunjie.

Not only was her attitude foul and hard, she didn't take herself seriously at all.

He was a little angry and finally said loudly again, 'Humph, I think giving you guys a temporary suspension notice is too much to let you off the hook, you should be made to stop work completely, so that you uncaring things can reflect on yourselves properly and see if you dare to be so arrogant again in the future!'

As soon as the man in the blue suit said this, a killing intent instantly sprang up on all sides of this conference room.

I could only see the several sturdy young men in suits who had been standing behind Ye Yunjie. Almost all of them took a step forward in an instant, and a strong aura of fury appeared on their faces.

One of them even extended his hand and pointed at the blue-suited man, saying coldly, 'What did you say? Try saying that again!'

These people, almost every one of them, were underlings who had been with Ye Yunjie for many years.

Although they were not as strong and elite as those of the Lei Group, each of them were also of extraordinary strength.

Especially since almost every one of them was subservient to Ye Yunjie, now that someone dared to say such words to Ye Yunjie, the fact that they could hold back from making a move in the first place was already a great deal of restraint.

It was also clear that the actions of these few people instantly caused the few people sitting across the negotiation table to tighten up a little, and a touch of fear even appeared on the faces of two of them.

The man in the blue suit had something to say, but was instantly subdued by the aura of these people, and could only swallow back the more unpleasant words he was about to say.

Seeing the other party's wretched appearance of wanting to say something, Ye Yunjie couldn't help but laugh in contempt. She raised her hand and raised it back, saying in a low voice, 'Stand down!'

There was still a trace of reluctance on the faces of those few people, and the youth at the head of the group was even more stubborn, 'Sister Ye, they

Ye Yunjie looked back at the man, who immediately collected his expression. He bowed and took a step backwards, no longer daring to say another word.

Ye Yunjie turned her head again to look at the blue-suited man sitting across from her and said, 'If you are smart, please leave quickly before you suffer yourselves. As for this appraisal letter. And whatever bullshit notice of suspension, I advise you to take it back yourself, don't treat me like a three-year-old child, really, I know better than you whether you are being set up or whether you really have problems, believe it or not I can take care of you all with just one phone call?’

Ye Yunjie gave a final snort, still not meaning to put the other party in her eyes.

Moreover, her words were not exaggerated at all, with her own connections. What stop-work notice, just one phone call from herself could make the other party withdraw this thing.

Ye Yunjie laughed disdainfully and continued: ‘And you people, you’d better stop jumping around here, what favours have others given you and you’re just embarrassing yourselves here? Isn’t that funny? Believe it or not, I only need to make one phone call, your superiors will have to give me face and turn around and investigate you guys thoroughly, by then I guess you guys will lose your so-called engineering appraisal engineer hats, and your superiors will kick you out!’

Ye Yunjie actually didn’t want to make things so absolute. After all, she would have to deal with these people in the future, so it would be good to let them learn a lesson and not be too self-righteous in the future, and she didn’t bother to use her connections because of a few of them.

After all, it was not worth it.

She thought that if the other party was wise enough, they would have been able to stop and get out of the way.

But the other party’s attitude was a bit surprising to her.

The other party only smiled faintly, completely scoffing at Ye Yunjie’s warning just now.

He raised his head to look at Ye Yunjie and laughed: ‘Oh, listen, listen, she thinks of herself as society, huh? Fine, since you’re so powerful, then just make a phone call and ask, you ask if this temporary suspension notice can be withdrawn or not, and you ask again, if he dares to fire me!’

The other party was completely provoking himself. Ye Yunjie’s face suddenly changed as she looked at the other party indifferently and directly slapped her phone on the table.

‘Fine, then we’ll see!’

After saying the words, Ye Yunjie directly looked for a number in her phone. Directly dialed it.

But to people’s surprise, the phone Ye Yunjie dialed rang for a long time, but no one picked up.

With such a result, Ye Yunjie’s face couldn’t help but slightly undulate as she looked at the man in the blue suit opposite her. Decisively, she dialed the number once again.

Seeing this situation, the blue-suited man sitting opposite Ye Yunjie was full of smiles, looking like he was watching a hilarious scene, and opened his mouth to laugh sarcastically, ‘Don’t stop, call a few more times!’

Just as the other party finished saying this. Ye Yunjie had already finished calling for the second time, but the result was still no one got through.

This time, Ye Yunjie did feel that something was wrong.

Because every time she called this person, the other party would either pick up immediately or wait for a moment before picking up.

Even if the other party was in a meeting, they would tell themselves directly and call them back later.

But this was the first time that someone had called twice in a row and not picked up.

'Is it hard to believe that something is really wrong?' Ye Yunjie frowned slightly, she raised her eyebrows and looked at the blue-suited man opposite herself, at this time, the other party's face was getting brighter and brighter, and he seemed to have a good idea of everything.

Ye Yunjie hesitated for a moment and couldn't help but call the number again.

One sound, two sounds, three sounds

The phone rang several times, and finally Ye Yunjie seemed to be a little disappointed and ready to hang up the phone.

But just at that moment, the phone was suddenly answered on the other end!
