

Chapter 453

Next to her was an extremely young looking man, wearing a crimson suit, jeweled earrings, a pair of peach eyes that looked like a smile as he looked at people, and an evil upturning of his lips in a suave dude manner.

Seeming to notice her gaze, he tilted his head slightly and looked over this way.

Along with him, there was Tailor Feng who looked over.

When Tailor Feng saw her, his face visibly flashed with the joy of seeing an old acquaintance.

Nina Hua raised his glass distantly towards him, indicating that he should socialize his and ignore himself.

At that moment, only Gu Xiyue appeared with Chairman Gu Changhai's arm on his arm, suddenly attracting the attention of most people.

Gu Xiyue wore a purple dress tonight, graceful, elegant and generous, led by her father, not humble and not overbearing among a group of dignitaries.

It's not hard to see that Gu Changhai is intentionally nurturing his daughter. The Gu family has a total of three children, the eldest and the oldest are all positive, only the third is an illegitimate son.

But I heard that the bastard son, Gu Siqian, had recently been taken back to China, and there was some discussion about the future direction of the Gu family.

Nina Hua didn't care if he didn't see the legendary Third Young Master on an occasion like today.

I saw Gu Changhai accompany Gu Xiyue around, smiling faintly and exchanging pleasantries with them for a while as he walked over to Tailor Feng's side.

Immediately afterwards, the eyes averted, somewhat unexpectedly.

Then he smiled and walked in the direction of Kepler.

Naturally, Gu Changhai knew Kepler, but because of the age difference, he didn't have much contact with her despite being a peer.

And then there's the fact that because Kepler is so arrogant and withdrawn that he doesn't like to socialize, he seldom shows up on such occasions.

Gu Changhai harrumphed, "Ugh! It's a rare guest to have you here, Ji!"

The corner of Kepler's mouth is slightly hooked, rare humility, "Dong Gu is out of line, Jin Gu and Gu's two families have been taking care of each other for many years, originally they are lips and teeth, Miss Gu's invitation, I naturally want to come."

Gu Xiyue first smiled and nodded with Nina Hua before saying, "I'm really flattered that Ji Shao has given so much face, I'll drink a toast to you."

Just say, and hold the glass.

Kepler didn't say anything, touched her lightly and drank it all.

"And this one is?"

Gu Changhai looked at Nina Hua and asked with a gentle smile.

Shen Mo faintly explained, "My wife, Nina Hua."

He bowed his head and said mildly to Nina Hua, "Yao Yao, call someone."

Nina Hua also nodded politely and smiled slightly, "I've heard of Chairman Gu's name for a long time, I'll toast to you."

Her well-behaved appearance was obviously very much liked by Gu Changhai, so although the other party was surprised that Kepler had taken a wife without a word, he still smiled cheerfully and said, "Good, good!"

Saying two good words in a row, he took a drink of his wine and finished it.

Just then, Guan Ji Ming also came over to say hello.

Guan Ji Ming naturally knew Nina Hua and Kepler, the three of them exchanged pleasantries for a while, Nina Hua remembered that he had heard some time ago that Master Guan's health was not good, so he was concerned for a couple of sentences.

Off Ji Ming sighed and shook his head.

"The old man's health is getting worse and worse, and we've tried many things, but they just don't help."

In the meantime, Nina Hua was not worried at what he heard.

Kepler said in a deep voice: "The old man will have good fortune after a stormy half life.

."

Guan Ji Ming nodded.

He suddenly remembered something and asked, "By the way, have you guys been in contact with Jenny lately?"

Nina Hua and Kepler looked at each other, but neither spoke.

Guan Ji Ming frowned, "Recently I tried to contact her, but I haven't been able to, the old man was so worried about her that he asked the Lu family that she had left the country with Biden Lu, do you know her current situation?"

Kepler thought about it and felt that if he never told the Guan family about it, it would instead make them worry.

So then she said, "She's in F. Lu Jing was deeply injured some time ago, but she's fine now."

Guan Ji Ming's face changed as soon as he heard that Biden Lu was injured.

"How did you get hurt? Didn't you say you were going on a trip abroad? What happened to them?"

Kepler said in a deep voice, "It's not a big deal, if you want to know, you might as well ask them yourself."

He said, and told Guan Ji Ming the contact information of Jenny and Biden Lu abroad.

Only then did Guan Ji Ming feel slightly relieved.

After the banquet, Guan Ji Ming made a phone call to Jenny.

At that moment, Jenny Jing just happened to see off Butler Qin of the Jin family.

Because of Biden Lu's injury, Old Mrs. Jin thought about it, but she never felt comfortable with the two of them staying in the hospital.

Now that Biden Lu's injuries were able to walk around, they tried to persuade them to move to Jin's house, which was not only more convenient, but also safer.

The Johnsons have their own family doctor and have no problem taking care of the injuries.

But the offer was rejected by Jenny.

She was reluctant to rely on the Jin family, not only because of Jin Hong's relationship with them, but also because of her own special status.

This time over, since she was investigating Old K's death, she would inevitably have to deal with the Dragon Corps and the Zijin family, and she didn't want the people of the Jin family to see it.

When Butler Qin saw this, he could not be forced to leave, so he could only regretfully leave.

As soon as he left on the front foot, Guan Ji Ming's call came in on the back foot.

"Jenny, I heard that Biden Lu was injured?Are you guys okay?"

Jenny Jing was stunned, and when he turned his eyes to think about it, he guessed that this should be what Kepler had told him.

She smiled faintly, "It's fine, don't worry uncle."

Guan Ji Ming's voice was somewhat heavy with anger, "How can I rest assured when you look like this?What's the point of going to F in the first place?You're hurt. How are you?Is there anything wrong?"

Jenny Jing warmly reassured, "I'm fine, it's just a little accident, you don't have to worry too much."

The other side was quiet for a moment.

"Tell me the truth, did you go to check on the Zygons?"

Jenny pursed her lips.

For a moment, with a slight smile, "Uncle, although I did take an interest in the matter concerning my own father before, you should understand that that interest was limited to my asking you about what happened back then.

People die like lanterns go out. Why am I still tracing his family when he's been dead for so many years?Do you want to get a rise out of it?"

Guan Jiming stalled.

He huffed in annoyance, "Who knows what's going on in your girl's head."

Jenny smiled, "I'll take that as a compliment."

"You."

Guan Ji Ming sighed helplessly, "Okay, I can't tell you, but it's good to know that you're fine, it's better to give your grandfather a call when you're free, his health has been bad again lately, so you should be more concerned about him."

Jenny gave a soft "hmm", "I know."

Chapter 454

After hanging up the phone, Jenny called Master Guan.

Master Guan was naturally worried sick, and only after receiving her phone call and learning that everything was safe did he feel slightly relieved.

Jenny was a little more concerned about his health.

The old man is now open to the idea, after all, the most regrettable thing in his life has now been completed, and he has no more worries in the world.

Although Jenny is not well, his mood is much more open than before.

Jenny listened to his cheerful laughter over the phone, and also curled his lips.

"Grandpa, take care of yourself then, I'll see you when I get back."

"Eh, well, you too, take care of yourself, and if that kid surnamed Lu dares to bully you, tell Grandpa, and he'll beat him up for you."

Jenny didn't laugh out loud and nodded, "Yeah, I'll make a note of it."

Just after hanging up the phone, he turned around and saw Biden Lu walking in accompanied by Vicky.

Permission to hear her laugh, he asked, "What are you so happy about?"

Jenny pulled her lip and said, "Grandpa called and said that if you dare to bully me, he'll beat you up for me."

Biden Lu was mute.

In the back, Vicky seized the rare opportunity to be a good boy and said, "How would the president be willing to bully you?It's too late to hurt you, let alone bully you."

Biden Lu's tone was slightly heavy, "Vicky."

Vicky was in awe and shut up, not daring to make any more jokes about Jenny.

Jenny Jing saw the situation and laughed lightly, "How was your inspection?No other questions, right?"

Biden Lu faintly said, "It's fine, it's much better already."

His injury was in a vital area of the chest, which had already injured organs at the time, so now in addition to daily dressing changes, he had to be checked regularly for internal healing.

Jenny nodded at the news, seeing that it was already late, and let Vicky arrange lunch.

After dinner, they took a nap and woke up at three in the afternoon.

Jenny recalled the words that had been handed over to Zhang Quan, and wondered how the progress there was.

It was about really saying Cao Cao, Cao Cao arrived, and she had only just thought of it that way when Zhang Quan called.

Scar will be at Dragon Scramble tomorrow afternoon, so if you want to find him, you can go at that time.

Jenny said he received it, and after hanging up, told Biden Lu the news.

Biden Lu chanted, "I'll go with you tomorrow."

Jenny frowned.

"But your injuries..."

"No problem, after all, we're there to talk, not fight."

Jenny thought about it.

Biden Lu is now able to walk around, even to the Jin family's birthday banquet, a trip to the Dragon and Tiger fight should be no problem.

After all, as he said, they were there to talk calmly about things, not to fight.

And so the matter was finalized.

In the afternoon, Jenny had nothing to do and took Biden Lu downstairs for a walk.

Although Biden Lu is much better now, but after all, it is not a small injury, although the doctor recommended that he walk in moderation, but also can not exercise too much.

Therefore, he went out in a wheelchair, with Sumer pushing him from behind.

Mo Nan naturally followed along, and the four of them went downstairs and took a turn on the lawn.

Jenny was too bored to remember that when he was in F country, the Dragon Corps' flying car headquarters was not far from here, and he was momentarily itchy.

She suggested, "Biden Lu, no.

Such as we go out for a walk, right?"

Biden Lu looked at her with a raised eyebrow and a smile on his lips, "Where do you want to go?"

"There's a place nearby I know well, let's go there for a spin."

Seeing the anticipation in her eyes, and the fact that she was hurting herself during this time, she had to stay in the hospital with her, and wanted to be bored.

So Biden Lu nodded his head to her.

Jenny was happy to see them, and now greeted Mo Nan and Vicky to accompany them out.

Not far from the hospital was an old depot.

The factory was large, with a large open space at the back, connected to a well-developed mountain, all very remote, with few people nearby.

She still remembered that there were more people over here when she was with the Flying Squad, but she didn't realize how much had changed after only a few years.

Since the split within the dragon group, the flying car group has also gradually dispersed, and now there is no one on this side, all vacant.

Jenny took Biden Lu along the familiar road, looking at the runway on the hill and narrowing his eyes.

"King Deep, guess what this place is."

Biden Lu looked at the iron-gray building in front of him, as well as the criss-crossing runway behind it, and said indifferently, "Dragon Corps Flying Car Department."

Jenny snapped his fingers.

"Guess so."

Her previous identity was already known to Biden Lu, and Mo Nan was now her trusted advisor, so naturally there was no need to hide it.

And Vicky was the most competent assistant by Biden Lu's side, so he also knew something about it.

This way, no one was even surprised to hear her words.

Jenny led them inside and entered the gate, which was a large playground with a row of iron-gray houses in front of it.

The icy buildings towered over the flat earth, giving an icy, oppressive feeling for no apparent reason.

Jenny sighed, "I had only recently arrived in F, I was alone and had no relatives, and I also happened to have a major event that caused me to lose my memory for a period of time.

If the Dragon Mission hadn't taken me in, I'm afraid that I would have been desperate by then, and naturally I wouldn't be where I am today."

Here, she was in a slight trance.

Lu Jing looked at her with deep eyes and held her hand without moving a muscle.

"Now you have me."

Jenny came back to his senses.

She tilted her head to look at him, the afternoon sun was a little thin and shone on the man, giving him a reassuring warmth for no reason.

She smiled and nodded heavily.

"Well, I'm glad you're here."

A few people continued to walk inside together, and although Mo Nan and Vicky were generally aware of her experience, it was after all the first time they had come to such a place, and their eyes were somewhat new.

The Dragon Corps has moved away, but the place used to be remodeled, so there's a lot of stuff that still hasn't moved.

Jenny Jing introduced them one by one, the meeting area, the rest area, the training area, and the entertainment area and so on....

The Dragon Corps is huge, and the flying car department is just one of the halls, the rest they don't participate in.

Because of this, it was only when the Dragon Corps began to split within itself that the Flying Car Department was able to pluck itself out of it, and it was easily out of the hands of the headquarters.

Vicky looked at the traces of previous training there and sighed, "I've long heard that although the third son of the Gu family is an illegitimate son, he's also a dragon and phoenix among men, and has been developing well abroad, but I didn't expect that he was actually doing something like this, so it's true that people can't look like that."

Jenny smiled.

"What is he that can't look good? With ambition and shrewdness written all over his face, where can't you look good?"

Chapter 455

Biden Lu paused.

He looked at her faintly and asked seriously, "You know each other well?"

Jenny stalled slightly.

Remembering how jealous this man had been of Gu Siqian's business before, he immediately laughed twice in a very knowing manner.

"Not familiar, not familiar at all."

Biden Lu faintly said, "Didn't he still save you?"

"Well...though, he's actually trying to use me to do things for her, huh, who let me be so talented at racing?"

Jenny smiled awkwardly, having the foresight to feel that this topic couldn't continue any further.

She looked at a modified car parked a short distance away and said, "There's a car over there, I'm going to see if it's still available, and if I can just borrow it for the fun of it."

I said, and walked to the car there.

It was probably moved out in a hurry in the first place, and a lot of stuff was left over here, along with some abandoned vehicles.

It's a remote location, and everyone knows it's the Dragon Corps' territory, so it's just there, but no one will steal it.

Jenny easily pried open the car door, and first checked inside the car, and was surprised to find that this abandoned racing car assembled here was not broken to the point of being unusable.

She repaired several parts herself before she got into the car and fired up the engine.

The sound of the car's engine buzzed, and Jenny's face blossomed into a joyful smile, waving at Biden Lu, who was sitting in a wheelchair not far away.

"Let's go to the back of the hill and I'll drive a circle to show you."

Biden Lu is not opposed to it, although he has never seen Jenny racing with his own eyes, but he knows that she is familiar with it, and has always done things in a measured manner.

This time has been detained at home, I guess my heart is also suffocated, if I can take this opportunity to relax a little, not a bad thing.

So, the group went to the back of the track.

Jenny Jing let the car warm up for a moment before putting on his helmet and passing a smug wink to the three people standing around watching, then, he stepped on the accelerator.

The car buzzed away like an arrow off a string.

Having practiced for several years in the Dragon Corps Flying Car Department, Jenny's driving skills were naturally not bad.

Ever since she won the last race against Lu Yanzhi, she has been going to his team to coach for her from time to time as promised.

This was a secret between her and Lu Yan, and even when Lu Yanzhi later learned that she was Biden Lu's wife, he had kept his promise and did not reveal the secret.

In this, he admired and respected her with all his heart.

I saw the wide driveway, the blue car like the wind in the air across a smooth line, galloping, exciting and pleasing to the eye.

The driveway is huge, spreading from one side of the mountain to the other.

It could be said that the Dragon Corps had bought almost the entire mountain in the first place to facilitate training.

Jenny ran a whole lap around the outermost part of the room before he felt slightly more comfortable.

In the end, the car drifted beautifully and came to a steady stop in front of Biden Lu.

The woman got out of the car and removed her helmet, her long, slightly curly chestnut hair raising a pretty arc in the air, her red lips smiling and her eyes glowing.

"Well? Is the technology still watchable?"

Without waiting for Biden Lu to speak, Mo Nan and Vicky were already applauding excitedly.

"Too

Awesome, the wife is just fabulous, I've never seen anyone play racing so beautifully, it's awesome!"

Mo Nan chimed in, "Yeah, I only thought Jenny was good at business before, but I didn't know racing was so great, I was almost dumbfounded just now."

Jenny Jing raised his eyebrows and looked at them with a seeming smile, "You two just keep on blowing, no one will laugh at you if your cowhide is flying in the sky anyway."

Vicky and Mo Nan touched their noses in embarrassment when they saw that their flattery was recognized by the other party.

Just then, Biden Lu clapped his hands.

He smiled imploringly, "Good indeed. This kind of skill is top 5 material even in international events."

Jenny raised an eyebrow proudly, "Of course, without looking at who I am."

Her haughty little look drew a chuckle from the man.

Vicky and Mo Nan were usually used to seeing her steady and calm appearance, and this was the first time they saw her still have such an arrogant look, and they couldn't help but laugh.

After Jenny had finished his addiction, he felt that it was almost time, so he took them around to the front again.

She pointed in the direction of the cafeteria and said, "That place is where we used to eat, and at that time, the daily training was very heavy and hard, so every time we put out food, we all rushed there like our lives depended on it.

Because I started late in the industry, I was older than them but the youngest in my generation, so I was too embarrassed to compete with them at first, but then I gradually realized that something was wrong.

If you don't grab it, you won't have enough to eat at noon, and if you don't have food to eat, you won't have the strength to train in the afternoon, and if you do something wrong, you'll be punished, and a vicious cycle will come down, and people won't die and they'll have to shed their skin.

So at the end of the day I stopped being polite to them, and I remember when I could run first every time I put food on the table.”

She said, walking to the cafeteria and picking up a bowl, “Here, look at this bowl, I could eat two bowls in a row.”

Both Mo Nan and Vicky couldn’t help but laugh at the news, it was impossible to imagine how this gentle and elegant Jenny of today was able to grab a meal with a group of half-grown little girl lads back then.

They joked and laughed together, but none of them noticed that Biden Lu, who had been silent beside them, had a dark glint in his eyes.

After Jenny finished showing them around, he realized that it was getting late and it was time for dinner.

So, a group of people were ready to hit the road.

Just then, however, they saw a young woman, about 30 years old, holding a little girl of six or seven years old in her hands, coming out of an empty house.

The four of them were stunned, after all, this place had been deserted for a long time, so how could a woman with a child in tow show up here?

Jenny was stunned for a moment, her eyes narrowing abruptly as she gazed down at a suitcase she was dragging in her hands.

The case she recognized, it was one that K used to use.

He has a hobby of doodling, whether it’s on the walls of his house, or on the things he normally uses, all of them are covered with different colours and patterns.

And because of this, there is only one such box in the world, and there will never be another exactly like it.

Jenny’s fingers tightened slightly, and his entire body was stunned.

She didn't even make a sound until the moment the mother and daughter reached them and were about to pass each other by.

"Wait."

The other stopped and looked back at her puzzled.
