

Chapter 456

The woman in front of her was not very old and had a face that up close could be considered clear and pretty, yet the eyes that looked at her at this time were somewhat cold and her face was expressionless.

The little girl next to her tilted her head a little curiously and looked her over, as if she didn't understand what she was trying to do by calling herself in.

Jenny looked at them, only to feel his throat tighten, there were so many things he wanted to ask, but at this point he couldn't ask a single word.

It was half a moment before she asked quietly, "Are you guys K's family?"

The other looked tight, his eyes revealing a few hints of caution.

"You know K?"

"I..."

Jenny paused before saying, "I'm a friend of his, we used to race together..."

However, before she could finish her words, the other party's face suddenly went cold.

"So it's over there, what? You've been chasing me around the country trying to get information out of me, and now you're chasing me abroad? Is the next step going to be to just lock us up and torture the two of us to get a confession?"

Jenny was stunned, not expecting to receive such a reply.

Then she realized something, and her eyes tightened.

"You said someone was hounding you?"

The woman stared at her and smirked, "What are you pretending? The good guys are you, the bad guys are you, and you think I'm going to be stupid enough to trust you to tell you everything you need to tell me that I shouldn't if I don't admit it? Dream on."

Jenny sank down.

“Sister-in-law, perhaps you misunderstand, although K and I used to be friends who fought alongside each other, I have long since left the Dragon Corps, so I don’t know the specifics of what’s going on inside.

His death is sad not only for you guys, but also for me, and this time I came to F to find out the truth about his death, so if you know anything, please make sure to let me know as well.

Don’t worry, I’m in no way with those people you’re talking about, I just don’t want old K to die for no good reason, I’m sure you feel the same way right?”

The woman, Cold Jair, looked at her and did not speak for a moment.

Mo Nan and Vicky saw the situation and came up.

They all know about the old K and how much work Jenny this has put into things.

So when you meet K’s family at this point, you naturally hope that she’ll be able to give some useful clues, so that it’s better for everyone to look into it a little bit more.

Therefore, both of them also helped, “Yes, sister-in-law, you can trust us, we have traveled thousands of miles to find out the truth about your husband’s death, right?As his widow, you’d like to know exactly who killed him, right?”

However, the woman didn’t say anything after all.

She just watched them in silence for a moment, the caution in her gaze falling away, but there just wasn’t much trust in the closeness either.

“No, you don’t have to ask me any more questions, I don’t know anything, he’s dead, and next I just want to live a quiet life with my daughter, I don’t want to be bothered by anyone else, so you can die.”

She said, taking the little girl by the hand and stepping away.

Jenny was busy speaking out.

"If you have any safety concerns, I can assure you of your safety..."

The woman turned back and looked at her with an ironic smile.

"Keep us safe? Do you know who the other guy is? And what makes you think you can keep us safe?"

Vicky saw that Jenny had hit a nail, she couldn't help it, and spoke in a cold tone:
"Since you know who they are, telling us isn't just so we can help you!

Get rid of them? It's much safer than if your mother and daughter had to face it alone."

Opposite silence for an instant.

Followed by a cold smile.

"I won't say anything, if you really want to know, go find out for yourselves, but for the sake of you being his friend, I'll advise you, people die like a lamp, even if you find out the truth, people won't live.

Don't end up getting into trouble instead of accomplishing anything, not everyone you can afford to offend in this world."

She said, never looking at anyone in the room again, and turned to leave.

Vicky and Mo Nanton were both furious.

"Jenny, what kind of person is this, we are helping her with good intentions, her attitude..."

"Don't say it."

Jenny's eyebrows were lightly knitted, but there wasn't much expression on her face, and after seeing the mother and daughter leave, she turned back to Biden Lu.

Everything just now, Biden Lu saw it all in his eyes.

At this point, looking at the look on her face all but lost, there was only a deep sense of gravity and a raised eyebrow asks, "What are you thinking about?"

Jenny Jing said in a deep voice, "I don't know why, but I always feel that this time, things might be a bit more complicated than we thought."

Biden Lu didn't say anything, his eyes were questioning.

Jenny sighed.

"I hope I'm overthinking it, I'm just looking at the tone of her voice just now, if this is really the work of the Zijin family, there's no need for her to be so nervous about hiding it, what I'm afraid of is that there's a chance that K is involved in other forces as well, then the situation will be complicated."

Biden Lu didn't want her to worry too much and reached out to hold her hand.

"Don't think about it too much, go to that underground casino first tomorrow and you'll get the results then."

Jenny nodded.

The group came out originally with a very good mood, but now they went back, but all of them were a bit heavy.

It wasn't until after the evening meal and back in the room that the old lady from the inland country sent a video that it was An An missing Jenny and wanted to video call her that Jenny's mood gradually improved.

Ann is now seven years old, and the old lady looks after her so well that she is no longer as feeble as she was before, and is still able to run out every day for a little while to play with her school playmates.

Although the little girl was still very young, there was already a hidden taste of beauty between her brows and eyes, and her features hadn't grown yet, but she had an inexplicable sense of resemblance to Biden Lu.

Jenny couldn't help but smile when she looked at her, the joy and happiness that radiated from the inside out couldn't be replaced by anything.

"Ani, have you been listening to Grandma all this time?"

Ann cocked her lips, "Of course I have, Mommy, when are you coming back, and when you come back, I'll take you to release the lake lights, okay?"

I heard that the school recently held an event where they were asked to write down their wishes and place them on a lake light and let the light float away with the current, which was a way to plant a seed of a wish for a child.

I guess the kid was not having fun at the time, so she wanted to wait for Jenny to return home and drag her to play again.

Jenny Jing smiled, "It should be some time before I return, I'll definitely accompany you, okay?"

"Good."

"And what was the last wish Ann made?"

Ann blinked mysteriously, "Mommy, I can't tell you, willing to say it won't work."

Jenny laughed, not expecting this kid to be quite serious.

Chapter 457

She stroked her belly, thinking that soon she would be able to have another child as cute as Ann, and she couldn't help but pick up her lips sweetly.

"Ani, did Grandma tell you that you're about to have a brother or sister already?"

The mention of this made Anton perk up.

"I know, Grandma said that Mommy and Daddy went out this time to choose my siblings for me, and when you come back again, I'll have a real brother or sister!"

She said, and she was a little curious.

"Mummy, where did you choose this brother or sister from, can I come over here and choose one of my own?"

Jenny was dumbfounded when she heard her words, but didn't know how to reply.

She couldn't help but laugh and said softly, "Ann, we don't get to pick and choose this, it's all God's plan, and in fact, no matter what kind of brother or sister comes, you'll actually love them right?"

"Of course."

Ann made a face like a little adult, "I'm but a sister, I'll definitely take good care of them from now on and make them all listen to me, I'll take them out and I'll buy them lots and lots of delicious food."

Jenny listened to the child's innocent and adorable voice, his heart warm and soft.

Just then, in the video, the old land lady comes from behind.

"Ani, it's late, don't disturb your mommy's rest, we'll talk next time, okay?"

Ann was still a little reluctant, but thinking that Jenny still had to rest, she could only nod.

"Good."

She turned back to the camera and waved her hand.

"Mommy, I'm going to bed, and you should get some rest too."

Jenny pulled her lips together, "Okay, good night."

"Goodnight Mummy."

Ann pouted and k*ssed the camera before hanging up the communication.

After the video was over, Mo Nan came from behind.

She handed Jenny a glass of milk and smiled, "How about a video call with Miss An'an? I see Miss Ann Ann is missing you."

Jenny smiled, in fact, she did not know how much An'an missed her, but the child in the end there is still the old lady and their company, this side of things if you do not come, there is no one to help do.

Mo Nan's eyes turned slightly, as if thinking of something.

"Jenny, do you have the feeling that Miss Anan's facial features actually look quite similar to yours."

Jenny Jing was stunned and laughed, "Mo Nan, when did you learn to k*ss this kind of ass?"

Mo Nan shook her head innocently.

"Jenny, I'm not flattering, I'm serious, Miss An'an used to be young and didn't feel much, but now that she's getting older and her features have grown open, she's really three or four points similar to you when you look closely."

Jenny lost his laugh.

"If you want to look like it, it's also like Biden Lu, I'm her mother, but after all, I'm not biological, so how can I look like me?"

Mo Nan opened her mouth and wanted to say more, but Jenny Jing interrupted.

"Where's Biden Lu? Where did he go?"

"Oh, the gentleman went out with Sumer and said he had some business to attend to."

Jenny frowned.

"He's been out most of the day, why is he still out at night? Although the doctor said he can walk around properly now, but in the end the injury is still fresh and his body is weak, and it's so cold outside, what if he lets the wound worsen?"

Mo Nan didn't make a sound for a moment, and Jenny Jing knew that she couldn't be blamed for this, so she frowned and stood up, going to the window to wait.

Biden Lu returned half an hour later.

Now it is.

November has been cold in the city of Forest, as F is located in the north.

In the distance, she saw a black car pull up downstairs.

The man, dressed in a black coat, got out of the car with Summers and entered the door downstairs.

Only then did Jenny let out a small sigh of relief and folded back into the house.

Soon, Biden Lu and Vicky returned.

As soon as they entered the door, Jenny felt the chill that the two carried with them.

She even let Mo Nan take the other's clothes and asked, "Where did it go? It's so cold out so late."

Biden Lu looked at her and didn't rush to say anything, but first let Vicky and Mo Nan go back to rest, waiting until only the two of them were left in the room before saying, "I sent someone to check the background of the woman I met today during the day."

Jenny was stunned.

Biden Lu looked at her and smiled gently, pulling her to sit down on the sofa.

"You're not worried? It's better to find out than to keep worrying about it in your mind."

The house was heated, but the man's hand holding hers was still somewhat cold, and Jenny's heart was inexplicably filled with a sour feeling of emotion.

She was too busy sniffing her nose to push the emotion down.

"So what did you find out?"

"It's true that a group of people have been following her, but those people aren't from the Zijin family, and it's still unclear exactly where they came from, but we can roughly guess that it must have something to do with the death of that friend of yours, Old K."

Jenny shook fiercely.

She didn't know what the result meant, but a sudden feeling of unease came over her.

Right at this moment, Biden Lu suddenly sneezed.

Jenny's eyelids jumped, and he even smoothed his back and got up to pour a cup of hot water for him.

"What's wrong with you? Is it somewhere uncomfortable?"

Biden Lu shook his head.

"It's fine, it's probably windy out and I caught a chill for a while."

I said, taking a few sips of water.

Jenny, however, felt that he was unusually pale, worse than this afternoon, so he reached out and touched his forehead.

It was good not to touch it, but when he did, he realized that he had developed a fever and his forehead was burning hot.

Jenny's face immediately changed.

"Why didn't you tell me you had a fever? I'll get the doctor here right away."

I said, and got up to call the doctor.

Before he moved, however, the man took his wrist and, with just a slight push, was brought into his arms.

Jennyton was in a hurry.

"Biden Lu, stop it, you're still badly injured and have a fever, are you not going to take this life of yours?"

Biden Lu smiled lowly.

He held her so that she was sitting on his lap, his head lowered slightly to be closer to her, while his warm palm covered her stomach.

"There's no rush, the doctor can see whenever he wants, let me see our baby first."

I said, when I actually leaned down and put my ear to her belly.

Jenny was momentarily made to laugh and cry by his actions like this, but in this position, she couldn't resist, so she could only hold his head along with him.

Biden Lu listened for a moment, not hearing anything, and frowned.

"Why aren't our kids moving?"

Jenny couldn't help but roll her eyes.

"Do you think children move when they just have them? It's only two months old, and there's not even a fetal heart, so if you want to hear movement, you'll have to wait at least five or six months."

Chapter 458

Biden Lu nodded thoughtfully.

Jenny was anxious about his body and didn't want to get into more trouble with him, standing up.

"You sit still and don't move, and I'll go get the doctor."

This time, Biden Lu didn't refuse.

The doctor came quickly and after looking him over, it was determined that he had a fever from the cold air, but thankfully, the temperature wasn't too high, 38.5 degrees.

Since he was currently carrying injuries, he couldn't take any medication, so he was only given some mild fever-reducing medication, and then explained that Jenny would alternately use a cold towel to compress his body and do some physical cooling in the middle of the night, and then left.

So, that night, Jenny kept changing towels to cool him down.

Biden Lu's heart ached for her, afraid that she would be hard on her, holding her hand and saying, "Let Vicky come, you rest for a while."

Jenny, however, shook his head.

Vicky, no matter how careful, after all, is also a man, some things are not his expertise, not to mention this period of time, she and Biden Lu at least have time to rest, but Vicky is running around all day, also very hard.

But she didn't say any of this, just smiled, "What? Don't you think I've served you well enough?"

Biden Lu knew that she was joking, so she wasn't nervous, and only laughed lightly, "I prefer you to come to the bed and serve."

Jenny stalled.

Stared at him hard.

"Don't even think about it!"

This man, really bad nature will not change, are wounded like this, there are hollow thought those things.

Biden Lu was so coquettishly stared at by her like that, originally it was just a joke, but now he really felt something.

He narrowed his eyes, his voice low and soft.

"Wife."

"Well?"

"I want it."

Jenny: "....."

When she didn't say anything, Biden Lu took hold of her hand and brought her palm under his own.

"Wife..."

Jenny's face was instantly scalding hot, red as a crayfish.

The hot temperature coming from the source of her palm annoyed her and made her a little weak.

He could only stare at him with his eyes.

"Biden Lu, stop it."

Let alone the fact that his body couldn't handle that much right now and she was still pregnant.

The first few months are the most important time, and you can't let anything like this go wrong.

Naturally, Biden Lu also knew this, and only laughed lightly, "Where have you been thinking? I just wanted you to come up here and lie down with me, it's not like I was trying to do anything, and you're reacting in such a way that would give me the wrong impression that you actually wanted to."

Jenny stared at him, unable to believe that such shameless words could actually come out of his mouth.

She was so angry that she threw the towel heavily at him, annoyed, "Biden Lu, if you keep messing around I won't help you apply it!"

Lu Jing laughed deeply, his deep eyes almost smiling to the point of squinting into two crescent moons, but he still had no shame or skin to pull her to the bed.

"Then come up here, come up here and I'll stop it."

Jenny was extremely depressed.

I thought of the man's pitiful face and couldn't bring myself to ask.

Biden Lu looked at her in aggravation, "Honey, I just want to hug you, can't you even satisfy me with this request?"

I said, and blinked pitifully.

Jenny: "....."

Forget about it, this man is a powerful and domineering president outside, in front of her, sometimes he really is like a child, she and a child what to care about.

What?

Jenny threw away his hand and gave him a blank look, "Wait."

I said, taking the basin of water and getting up to change it, returning to set it beside him before following and laying down beside him, leaning against the bed and continuing to apply a cold compress to him.

Biden Lu also knew that the current situation between the two of them was not suitable for certain things that were not suitable for children, so he was already satisfied that Jenny Jing was willing to concede to this point.

So hugging her waist, and no longer talking, just put his head on her body, smelling the familiar and fresh light aroma, only to feel relaxed.

Yet this way he was comfortable, but Jenny was not.

She pushed his head, "Biden Lu, don't lie here, it's not going to work for me."

Yet the man didn't move.

A half-hearted, muffled voice came out, "That's not enough."

Jenny frowned.

"No, you still have a fever, and you have to keep applying it until the fever goes down."

I said, pushing him away.

Biden Lu frowned, a little unhappy, but in the end, he let go of her, only to look at her with some petulant grumbling.

Jenny was laughing directly at him.

"Who told you to run out and blow without a word? You don't know what you're doing? Now you're not happy about it? Who are you to be displeased?"

As he said that, he nudged his nose gently.

The man's features were good-looking and his nose was tall and straight, which Jenny had never found before, but it was interesting to see it lit up like this.

It was just that, at some point, the man's eyes grew a little more dangerous.

"Jenny."

"Well?"

"I've suddenly discovered a way to get down to business without delaying your cold compress for me."

Jenny was stunned, and before he knew what "business" he was talking about, he suddenly felt something against his thigh.

She stared in shock and subconsciously tried to push the man away, but there was a s*xy muffled hum in her ears.

"Don't move, sweetie, Honey will be quick."

Jenny: "....."

She should never have agreed to lie on his back!

After a mess, Xu is really uncomfortable, or perhaps because after getting his way, his mind and body are also relaxed, the man finally fell asleep.

Jenny came out of the bathroom, the skin on the inside of both legs still aching a little, and looked at the sleeping man on the bed, thinking of his bad behavior just now, and became angry.

I grabbed up a pillow and tried to throw it away, but my eyes softened beneath his peaceful and serene sleeping face.

The bedroom was dimly lit, with orange light spilling down from a short distance, drawing the contours of his face as deep and beautiful as possible, the other half of his face half hidden in the darkness.

Jenny nuzzled his mouth in dissatisfaction.

The evil one knows how to charm her with his beauty.

But in the end, still can't bear to wake him up again, Jenny reached out and touched his forehead, but miraculously found that after all the nonsense, his body temperature actually dropped quite a bit.

She was momentarily dumbfounded and a little crowded.

But thinking that the man had just been sweating, maybe there was a reason for that.

It's just as well that I'm not very sleepy, so I wrung out a hot towel and wiped him off, which is why I went to bed and fell asleep.

That night, Jenny had a dream.

In her dream, she was standing on a boat blowing in the wind, and the setting sun's rays were casting a huge golden disk on the surface of the sea.
